Santa is discovering that inflation is hitting mechanical toys. Many of them are "Dollars" today where they were "cents" two years ago.

Parents are also discovering that shoes and other clothing are unduly wrecking the family budget. One parent told us this week, "the cost of family living is becoming a factor in family planning." Perhaps Uncle Sam could start a subsidy program for the benefit of "surplus" families.

There never was a time when we have received so many requests for contributions. Many of them are worthy, but we suspect that some of them are being triggered by professional promoters who will receive a commission for their mailing lists and promotional efforts.

If you do a good job of budgeting your contributions, your conscience will not be troubled when you are compelled to say "no."

Here is an example of the mailing list racket. We are not an investor in stocks, but the past month we have been flooded with letters offering expert advice on the smart way to buy stocks.

We remember back in 1928 when a lot of people lost everything they had because they followed such advice.

This is the first year that our Christmas cards were ready for mailing on December 1. Time now hangs heavy on our hands.

We feel we are missing something.

A friend reports that he drove his car down State street so they could see the window displays. They were probably there but the sidewalk crowds obscured the view. He has decided that going to see these windows will call for a walking tour.

We were among several thousands who were onlookers at a Czechoslovakian Christmas celebration at the Museum of Science and Industry.

Attired in picturesque costumes, those participating sang, danced, and showed their enjoyment of the Christmas season in the manner that Americans did 50 and 60 years ago before Christmas became commercialized.

It was part of the 20th annual Yuletide Festival. There were large trees decorated showing national Christmas customs contributing to American traditions.

There is an important election in Arlington Heights Saturday — worth over $3,000,000. A similar election for the same purpose — sewer system changes — was defeated two years ago. If it is again defeated, the serious problems of flooding and inadequate sewers will continue to plague area homeowners — perhaps for years. A solution to the growing crisis is already overdue.

We can understand why religion is kept out of our public schools, but we think it is going too far when a group which does not believe in Christ seeks to ban public display of Nativity scenes.

Religious faiths are free in this country. Curbing the display of any religious faith is what a man named Hitler attempted to do, in the 1940's, and Khrushchev is attempting to do today.

APPREHEND TEEN BURGLAR SUSPECT

Youth Admits Offenses

A youthful admitted burglar and would-be safecracker was traced and apprehended by Arlington Heights police this week.

Chief of Police L. W. Calderwood said Thomas Dixon, 17, of 805 E. Algonquin, has admitted the recent burglary of Four Seasons sporting goods store, and the attempt last weekend to break into a safe at Arlington high school.

Dixon admitted the offenses, as well as several gas station burglaries and vehicle thefts when brought in for questioning Monday, after police traced him through material left at the scene of the attempted saftcracking early Saturday morning at Arlington high.

Stolen property recovered from Dixon's home, where he lived with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Dixon, included many pistols, knives, bayonets, watches and ammunition taken in the Four Seasons break-in, as well as two types of premium stamps, U.S. postage stamps and other items.

DIXON WAS traced by Calderwood and Detectives Clint Hefferin and Phillip Olszewski through a "safe men's guide," a manual for professional locksmiths, and a drill guide, which tells how to drill into safes to get them open. Both manuals were left at the high school when Dixon fled to escape capture.

He was surprised in his burglary of the high school by Lt. Jack Aldrich who was making a check of the high school premises. When Aldrich entered he heard hammering noises, evidently Dixon's attempts to chisel and drill open the safe.

Dixon told officers later that he heard the portable police radio Aldrich was carrying and fled out a window, leaving tools, assrted keys adn the manuals behind.

OFFICERS SAID Dixon told them that about 2 a.m. Saturday he had stolen a pickup truck at Golf and Busse (owner: Salvatore Genualdi), put his bicycle in the truck and drove to near the high school. When he fled, he left the truck and went home on his bicycle.

Dixon had gained entry to the school with keys previously stolen, and took some tools from the machine shop to use on the safe, which he had not succeeded in opening when police arrived.

Checking the registration number on the drill guide manual with the publishers in the East, Calderwood succeeded in learning the identity of the purchaser, and Dixon and his father were brought to the station for questioning.

Dixon at first denied the offenses, telling Calderwood he had lost the book some time ago. Later, when Calderwood told Dixon his father had approved giving the slightly built youth a lie detector test, police said Dixon admitted his guilt before Calderwood, Hefferin and Olszewski.

THE YOUTH, a quiet, calm type described as a kind of "loner," said he had committed the crimes by himeslf, and had no accomplices.

Calderwood said Dixon's father has retained a lawyer for the youth, but wants the youth to receive whatever corrective treatment is necessary.

PISTOLS, KNIVES, automatics, derringers, bayonets, ammunition, premium stamps, bar bells, power tools — all were included in loot recovered this week by Arlington Heights police when they traced and apprehended a 17-year-old youth who is charged with the recent burglary of the Four Seasons sporting goods store, and attempted safecracking, among other things. Surveying part of the loot are Detectives Clint Hefferin (left) and Phillip Olszewski.

Village Board Meets Monday

The next meeting of the Arlington Heights village board will be at 8 p.m. Monday, Dec. 11, in the village hall at the corner of Wing and Davis sts.

Letters Pour In

Santa Is Perplexed, But Pleased, By Mail

With Christmas only about two weeks away, the mail to Santa Claus is getting steadily heavier, and Santa told the Herald this week that he wants to thank all the youngsters who have taken the time to write him.

Santa also said some children are asking for so much that if he gave them everything they wanted, he wouldn't have anything left for the other children all over the world who will be expecting presents from Santa under their trees on Christmas morning.

SANTA SAID he didn't see how he could possibly get Gail all the things she wanted, all the dolls and fish and water color set and blackboard (king size) and a sewing machine and "a start a collection of exciting film cards."

But Santa promised to do the best he could, and said he might have an esier time giving Gail's brother, Harry, what he wanted — a bow and arrow set, fishing kit, junior doctor set and Coca-Cola dispenser, but that he'd have to see how many toys he had in his bag before he could guarantee everyone would get what he asked for.

Santa also said he was very pleased with the pretty letter he got from Stevie in Elk Grove Village. It had red candy canes on it and green Christmas trees, and red and green decorations.

BUT SANTA said that Stevie, too, had pretty big eyes and wanted quite a bit — trumpet, farm set, rifle, wood set, transistor radio, flashlight, airplane, put-together globe and other things.

A neat, nicely-printed letter from Paul in Rolling Meadows began, "I am a little boy 7½ years old." Santa said to tell Paul that he will do the best he can since Paul didn't ask for an awful lot of things — cowboy suit, jumping jack, U-haul truck and a couple of other toys.

Santa said some youngsters tried to "butter him up" a little, like Sue, who asked for a set of guns, a monkey and a "wach" (watch) and added, concerning the watch, "Sugar please, I know how to tell time." Santa said he'd see what he could do about the watch, and also about the lambchop toy, table and tub that Bobbie wanted.

To Craig and Co-Co and Cherl in Arlington Heights, Santa said he would try and find the presents they asked for (which shouldn't be too hard since the letter included the price of the articles and where they could be purchased) and said he was happy to see that Cherl is being a very good girl.

TO THE OTHER youngsters who wrote him, Karen and Johnny and Gene and Beth and all the rest, Santa promised to do his best, but said they shouldn't be disappointed if they don't get everything they asked for since he had to save some toys for other boys and girls.

Area youngsters can see Santa Claus in person Saturday, Dec. 16, at the Arlington Heights theatre where three free shows will be presented by 24 cooperating village merchants.

Parents can pick up tickets for the shows beginning today at the shops of cooperating merchants, listed in an advertisement elsewhere in this newspaper.

Here Are Arguments For Sewer Proposal

by JIM DAVIES
(Third of Three Articles)

When a proposal to build a library or a swimming pool is put before the people, the issues are fairly simple: The majority wants the facility and is willing to pay for it, or it doesn't. When a proposal to construct a sewer system to relieve flooding is put before the people, the issues are not so simple.

Such a proposal will be voted on this Saturday in Arlington Heights. The second village board in almost as many years has devoted careful and time-consuming study to the flooding problem in the village, and unanimously endorsed construction of a comprehensive relief storm sewer system. It will cost $3.3 million.

Two weeks ago the Herald outlined the problem and its proposed solution; last week the dominant arguments against the proposal were detailed. This article, the final in the series, will present the response to the objections, and the arguments in favor of the project.

ONE OF THE principal objections concerns the amount of people affected. Some people criticize the figures contained in the 45-page report of the sewer engineering firm of Suhr, Peterson, Peterson and Suhr, which indicate 12 per cent of the homes, based on a 1958 post card survey, have a repetitive basement or street flooding problem.

But consider: Of the 5,700 cards sent out, replies included 679 who reported repetitive flooding either in their basement, in front of their home, or both. This is about 12 per cent of the total cards sent out, but it is about 23 per cent of the cards returned.

In order to determine the percentage on an unassailable, conservative basis, it was assumed that none of the persons who did not return cards had a flooding problem. In actuality, there undoubtedly are some people who have a problem but did not return a card.

THIS MEANS that the 12 per cent figure can be regarded as a rock bottom minimum, and the actual percentage somewhere between 12 per cent and 23 per cent. Stated in another

The Sewer Issue

This Saturday, voters in Arlington Heights will be asked to take a stand on an issue which can affect their health, safety, comfort, property values and pocketbook.

They will be asked to approve bonds to help finance a major relief sewer construction project. Overriding all other considerations, it seems to us, are two facts:

1. Arlington Heights has a widespread street and basement flooding problem which does not lend itself to a piece-meal solution.

2. Something must be done, and soon.

If these two premises are acceptable, then the question resolves itself to a choice between this solution, and an alternative solution. We believe the alternatives which have been put forth are impractical and in the case of special assessments, undesirable.

We have faith in the integrity of the village board and know its members and their predecessors spent long hours studying the problem. Two village boards now have come up with almost identical solutions.

The engineering and municipal bonding firms whose services have been utilized by the present village board are respected in their fields, have the confidence of the board, and place their professional reputation on the block when they stand squarely behind their findings.

Although we are not certain in our own minds that an increase in water rates will not come next year, and we know our taxes will go up somewhat, the cost will be small compared with the benefit each of us and the village as a whole will receive from the project.

And the cost will be much smaller, we believe, than it would be under any feasible, if impractical, alternate solution.

Our own investigations support many of the conclusions reached by the village board and other groups, and for the more complex and technical findings we must depend on the experts and their supporters, and will hold them accountable.

In view of these and other considerations, when we go to the polls Saturday we will vote "Yes" on the referendum, believing this to be in the best interests of the village and of all its residents.

We urge you to do the same.

Post Office Hours Told

Virginia F. Dodge, Arlington Heights postmaster, this week released a schedule of post office hours for the Christmas season. The schedule is as follows:

Weekdays, December 11 through 22, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Saturday, Dec. 16, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, Dec. 17, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Regular post office hours will be resumed beginning December 23. The post office will be closed Christmas Day, Monday, Dec. 25.

Free Concert

Arlington high school's music department will present its annual Christmas concert Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. in the boys' gym. The concert is free and the public invited.

Supporters of Sewer Issue Outline Their Arguments

way, this means that if the estimated current population of 33,000 can be analyzed on the basis of the survey, between 3,960 and 7,590 people live in houses which have a basement or street flooding problem.

One of the more difficult points to consider is the value of the proposed system to a person who doesn't have a flooding problem. Yet if a home owner seriously considers the damage to his property value when his town gets a reputation for flooding, he will realize that flooding is truly a community-wide problem.

This is only one of the reasons why a person who doesn't have a flooding problem (but who could in the future) should share the cost of the project. Some say it isn't fair to ask a person to help pay to solve a problem he doesn't have. But it must be remembered that his runoff storm water is contributing to his neighbors' flood problem.

EVEN PEOPLE whose homes have overhead sewers, which eliminate the basement flooding problem, are aggravating the street flooding problem. And not even overhead sewers can prevent seepage, or water ponding outside and running in basement window wells.

If the project were undertaken through special assessment, which would appear to be the only other solution, everyone in the village would be assessed a portion of the cost based on the proportionate amount of runoff his property contributed. And the project would cost about 30 per cent more.

But ask the oldtimers in the village about special assessment bonds on a project of this type. Many of them lost their homes the last time it was tried here.

Even more fundamentally, it doesn't appear remotely practical to tackle the problem on a piece-meal basis through special assessments. The difficulty is not caused primarily by isolated inadequate sewers. It is caused by the inability of the main trunk lines to carry the water fed to them through the lateral sewers.

This means, then, that a major trunk line must be laid from the northwest part of the village down to Weller Creek in the southeast part of the village. This is a major project, will benefit the town as a whole, and its cost should be borne by the town as a whole.

IN RELATION to street flooding, it has been argued that we have purposely caused streets to flood by blocking up part of the sewer intakes in order to keep the water out of the sewer system so basements don't flood. This is true. But it was done as a temporary emergency measure and is in no way a solution.

Aside from the superficial disadvantages of having a street in front of your home flooded for an indefinite period—hazard to travel, seepage and possible damage to a home's foundation—it should be noted that in Arlington Heights the storm and sanitary sewers are combined in older parts of the system. So in some cases, that pond is not only composed of storm water, but of raw sewage which has been pushed back up the manhole. This is the water your children wade in.

There has been tentative criticism of the fact that the project is based on a five-year rainfall—once in five years a storm could be expected to come along which would fill the system. Why not a 10-year rainfall? This would double the system and only cost about 20 per cent more.

But in point of fact it wouldn't. Doubling the storm period from five years to ten years wouldn't double the capacity of the system. For example, a particular storm sewer built on a basis of a five-year storm, has a rainfall intensity of 1.12 inches per hour for a certain period. On a ten-year basis it would have an intensity of 1.28. For this particular duration and example, capacity would be increased about 11 per cent, not doubled, and the increased cost would be about 20 per cent.

OBVIOUSLY, if cost isn't a consideration, you can't build a storm sewer too big. But just as obviously, cost is a consideration and a line has to be drawn somewhere. Suhr, Peterson states flatly that a five-year storm is quite commonly used for a large relief sewer and is perfectly sound.

An additional safety factor is the fact that in even a more severe storm, water can back up in sewers to a certain height before any flooding is experienced.

In this matter of capacity, the argument that Weller Creek will not be able to handle the maximum output of the proposed sewer is weakened.

What the figures quoted mean is that during a five-year storm, water in the manholes connected to the large concrete box culvert emptying into Weller Creek would back up to a height of two and one-half feet. No lateral sewers will be connected to this culvert, so there really is no problem.

IN ADDITION, more than $1 million has been appropriated by the legislature to clear and widen Weller Creek and provide a supplementary channel to the Des Plaines river, which will increase the creek's ability to drain the area.

Perhaps one of the most misunderstood questions concerning the project involves the financing — splitting the cost up between general obligation bonds, which the voters will be asked to approve Saturday, and water and sewer bonds.

For the project, $1.7 million in water and sewer bonds will be issued, and if approved, $1.6 million in general obligation bonds. The latter are an obligation of the village as a whole, the water and sewer bonds are backed solely by water and sewer system revenue.

THOSE WHO would have the whole project financed by water and sewer bonds can be answered briefly. It couldn't be done because the legal limit on the amount of such bonds the village can issue is $1.9 million. This wouldn't pay for the project.

As to why the project isn't financed solely by general obligation bonds, the answer is more complex but again involves legal limitations.

The village is limited by the municipal code to a maximum bonded indebtedness of 2½ per cent of the value of the taxable property in the village. Certain types of bonds, including revenue bonds such as sewer and water, are excluded from this provision.

HOWEVER, the constitution further limits the bonded indebtedness of the village to an absolute maximum of 5 per cent of the valuation. Revenue bonds are not included in this limitation either, but other types of bonds excluded from the 2½ per cent limitation are included in the 5 per cent limitation. These include the $350,000 for the village hall.

Briefly, then, the 5 per cent limit allows us a bonded indebtedness of $4.5 million. If the $1.6 million in general obligation bonds are authorized Saturday, this would put our effective indebtedness to about half of that allowed, since the $1.9 million in sewer and water bonds do not have to be included.

If these were issued as general obligation bonds, however, they would be included in the 5 per cent limitation, along with the village hall bonds and others, raising our indebtedness under this provision to $4 million, perilously close to the limit.

Thus, if some emergency should come up at some future date, we would have only a very small margin to work with. Under the proposed financing, this would not be the case.

In addition, the per capita debt under such alternate financing would be so high, considering obligations to overlapping governmental units in our area, that it might jeopardize the marketability of all securities issued in the area, and certainly all securities the village might seek to market.

THE PRESENT method of financing and rate of repayment is designed to equalize the payments of all existing and proposed general obligation issues of the village so taxpayers are not faced with high payments this year, low the next.

Too, extending the schedule of repayment is equitable because people will pay for the system according to the length of time they benefit from it. Those who move away will not be penalized.

Any possible savings of interest through issuing all general obligation bonds, and the apparent saving would be small, is offset by the fact that the resulting general financial picture would be clouded to the extent that the issues would not be as attractive to investors, resulting in a higher interest than normally might be expected.

One other minor matter remains to be cleared up. Included in the sewer and water bond issue is $200,000 earmarked for a new well which is expected to be needed in the near future. This raises the total issue to $1.9 million. It is argued there is a surplus of funds now which could be used for this purpose.

ACTUALLY, the apparent surplus is not a surplus. When the Metropolitan Sanitary District in effect bought our sewage treatment plant, it paid us for the value of the bonds outstanding against the plant. These fall due in 1965.

Since there is a penalty for payment, $315,000 is being reserved for payment of those bonds, and cannot be used for other purposes. Also, we are required to maintain $85,000 as a guarantee for the revenue bonds. Thus the apparent surplus vanished.

In the manner above, questions concerning the project are answered. Two village boards, citizens committees, the Chamber of Commerce all have looked deeply into the problem. They ask voters to consider the issue realistically, then vote "Yes" on Saturday. (AF

GEORGE HARRIS

'Tis now the season that one begins to get mellow, and feelings towards one's fellow man becomes a little less harsh. This is the way it should be all the year 'round — but we forget and this is understandable.

Why can't we be more understanding about each other, about the country in which we live — these questions are easily asked, but no one seems to have an answer. Planning our future is a wonderful thing, but let us live each day as it is our last, and then I think we'd find that each day would be just a little bit better. I'm waxing a little on the psychological side, but maybe it will help someone.

Incidentally, it will help Harris Pharmacy a lot if you do some of your Christmas shopping at our store. You'll find many, many gift items. Hasta luega, amigos.

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY

I practice hard every single day, because some day I hope to be an accomplished pianist. And it is all possible because Mommy read an ad which said "Want Ads Are For Everybody." I wanted a piano for a long, long time, but there were so many other things the family needed I was told I would just have to await my turn. Then Mommy started reading Paddock Publications Want Ads and it wasn't long until she found a fine used piano at a price we could afford. That's how I got my wish, and that's why I say that when Want Ads can do so much for a little girl like me, they surely are for everybody!

Auto, Dog Tag Forms Mailed

Vehicle and dog license applications for 1962 will be mailed to all residential water customers in Arlington Heights next Monday, it was announced this week by Tom DeRiemer, village finance director.

The new vehicle fee, or village "wheel tax," is $7 per car, an increase of $1 from the 1961 fee. The dog license fee is $3.

The vehicle license application forms differ from last year's forms in that they require the applicant to state his previous village vehicle license number.

DeRIEMER said this should reduce the number of persons who do not pay the required fee for their autos, since if they get by with it one year, they likely will be caught the next year and charged the penalty rate for the previous year's license.

Fees are due January 1 and will remain at $7 for autos throughout the month. If not purchased until February they will cost $8 and will increase $1 a month through April.

DeRiemer said 15 per cent more autos were licensed in 1961 than in the preceding year (about 1,100 more). He attributed the increase to three factors:

(1) About 400 to 500 of the increase was accounted for by introduction of the "escalator clause" into the licensing program, whereby the fee is increased each month the purchase is delayed.

(2) Some 300 of the increase can be accounted for by the normal population growth.

(3) The remainder of the increase is due to the follow-up program of the department—checking state auto registrations against village licensees, then notifying auto owners not licensed with the village that the village intends to prosecute them if they do not buy a village license.

DeRiemer said applicants should allow about ten days from the time they mail in the form for return of license and receipt.

Beginning Friday, Dec. 15, licenses will be sold at the village hall. (AF

APPLICATIONS FOR VILLAGE auto and dog licenses for 1962 will be mailed out to Arlington Heights residential water users next week. This is a reproduction of the 1962 decal for a cigarette machine. The decals for other machines and for autos are similar except for the bottom line which will be changed as necessary.

Blame Clogged Chimney for Store Smoke

A plugged chimney filled the Ben Franklin store in downtown Arlington Heights with smoke about 10 p.m. Monday night.

Village fire fighters were called to what appeared to be a substantial fire, but investigation showed that refuse thrown down a chute from upper floors of the building had plugged the chimney, causing smoke from the fire in the incinerator to seep out into the first floor of the structure.

Firemen unplugged the chimney and set up smoke ejectors building. There was no esti- to clear the fumes from the mate of damage. (AF

Savings Interest Increased

The Bank of Arlington Heights, 900 Kensington rd., this week announced that interest rates on savings accounts will be increased to 4 per cent, effective January 1, 1962.

The rate change applies to savings accounts of a year or more. An interest rate of 3½ per cent will apply on accounts of at least six months.

The bank's announcement followed immediately after the Federal Reserve bank had authorized such action by the 13,000 banks under its jurisdiction. The Federal Reserve system explained its action was to provide individual banks with more effectively for savings de- the opportunity to compete posits. (AF

Move to Cut Service to Scarsdale

Scarsdale Estates, a residential area bordering Arlington Heights, is no longer eligible to receive police and fire protection from the village. Scarsdale Estates residents had been given a Dec. 1 deadline for either annexing to the village, or securing other police and fire protection, and have not annexed.

There is reason to believe Estates residents will not annex unless they are guaranteed the essential character of their development will not be changed, i.e., sidewalks will not be installed and other changes of a similar nature made. The village board does not want to make this commitment.

For Adopted Village

Peru Appeal Funds Sought

This is the final week of the drive to collect money to provide a Christmas tree and Christmas candy for impoverished children in Pampa de Comas, Peru, Arlington Heights' adopted suburb.

Mrs. Patricia Gardner, chairman, suggested village residents model their actions on those of a group of children in our village who have exhibited the true Christmas spirit.

The youngsters, children of members of the Greenview Estates civic association, have given up their own Christmas party this year so that the $50 which would have been spent on it can be contributed to the Pampa de Comas Christmas Fund.

So far, a total of $71 has been donated by village residents, including Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bone, Mr. and Mrs. John White, Miss Lucile Paddock, Esther M. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hawley, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schick.

If you want to help provide a happy Christmas for destitute children in Pampa de Comas, send your contribution — "dimes or dollars" — to the Pampa de Comas Christmas Fund, P.O. Box 6, Arlington Heights. (AF

European Schools Changing; Move Toward U. S. System

Education in Europe, long designed to benefit the mentally elite and ignore the less intellectually endowed, is moving in the direction of the American system of universal and compulsory education, with this philosophy destined to be the "wave of the future."

This was one of the major impressions gained by Ralph E. Clabaugh, super-intendent of Arlington Heights elementary school District 25 during a 17-day tour of five European cities last month, including Moscow.

R. E. CLABAUGH

CLABAUGH reported on his trip at a meeting Monday of elementary teachers in the village school system, prefacing his more serious remarks with general impressions of the cities he visited as a member of the group studying "Reforms and Policy Making in European Education."

He emphasized that his impressions in non-professional areas were subjective, and his generalizations 'might not hold water" if put to a severe test.

The superintendent found London, his first stop, a city of contradictions and the people likewise in many respects. One Englishman verified this impression when he told Clabaugh that "there's really no explanation for the way we do things here."

"England slayed me, really," Clabaugh said with controlled humor.

OTHER general impressions: Paris— "The French to us were avolatile and pretty confused people." Hamburg— "We were more at home there than in either Paris or London." Stockholm— "This is where we had our first rooms with private baths, — and where we saw the prettiest girls."

Moscow loomed on the horizon in a completely different light than had the other cities.

"There was a new seriousness in the group when we realized we were going to step off the plane behind the Iron Curtain," Clabaugh said, adding that there was a distinct sense of relief when the visit to Russia was behind the group.

He said he did not notice anything particularly unusual about the educational system, and as a "risky generalization," placed it somewhere between the American system and the European system.

Clabaugh said the Russian children and teachers were very friendly toward his group, but that he couldn't say the same for the average man he met on the street—"they're a strange people."

HE DESCRIBED the European educational system as perpetuating the class society, but changing toward democratization.

In England, for instance, Clabaugh said, one examination was given school children at an early age which determined whether or not they would be allowed to get an advanced education. Those with high marks could go on to college later, but those with lower marks were forgotten about.

The middle and lower classes were not deemed particularly worthy of an education, Clabaugh said, and this philosophy was carried through in the training of teachers. The best-educated teachers taught in the schools for the elite. This type of educational system and teacher training perpetuated the class society, and the school curriculum was composed of primarily intellectual and non-practical studies.

BUT CLABAUGH said it was apparent during his visit that there is a lessening of faith in the highly intellectual curriculum which turned out graduates well-versed in cultural areas, "but nobody to fix the plumbing."

Currently in England, in Germany, in France, more emphasis is being placed on technical schools and technical subjects, as the need for persons thus trained becomes more and more apparent.

Reforms are taking place throughout Europe, he said, which eventually will allow, and even require, universal education as we do in the United States. On the other hand, he said our system is drifting slightly toward the European system by our placing more stress on intellectual excellence.

Clabaugh noted no significant difference from our system in the teacher-pupil relationship in Europe which he said has been democracized to a considerable extent.

IN ONE area however, he noted a marked contrast between our system and the European system, and that area was in the relationship between the state and the schools.

In our country, of course, every effort is made to keep education out of politics and politics out of education, Clabaugh said. But in Europe, the universities particularly are closely associated with the government and this is perfectly acceptable there.

Clabaugh said there is no counterpart in Europe for the local board of education, and no counterpart, in fact, for the local superintendent of schools. Curriculum of the schools is largely decided by the government or by the universities which are almost synonymous with government.

"Parents don't have much to say about the curriculum," Clabaugh said, contrasting this to the situation here in the United States.

IN GENERAL, the superintendent of District 25 said school children in Europe go to school for a longer period each year, and most go six days a week, although in Russia two of these days are spent in productive labor, and in Germany the students go only until noon each day. Courses are tougher in Europe, too, and foreign languages are universally taught.

"We came back convinced that every American ought to be familiar with one language other than English," Clabaugh said."

Commenting of the trip as a whole, Clabaugh said he thought of it as a kind of peace mission. If teachers of children in various countries come to know each other better, he said this can provide a basis for future peace and friendship.

Grand Championship Won by Suburb Teen

Jim Hallett, 726 N. Chicago, Arlington high school freshman, and the 1961 National and Illinois Junior Boys Baton Champion, captured seven more twirling honors at the NBTA National Open held Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 2 and 3, at the Sheraton hotel in Chicago.

The 14-year-old youth, now the recipient of 325 trophies, was awarded first place in his age division on both days, as well as the Cook county competition over all girls and boys in the county's closed competition.

Together with his duet partner, Carol Strack of Sycamore, Ill., first place honors were awarded the pair in the duet competition on both Saturday and Sunday. Sunday's finale found Jim accepting the two-day King trophy as he was crowned Illinois Boys Grand Champion.

AMONG his twirling memories are Hallett's oft-repeated performances at veterans hospitals and old peoples homes. For the past four years he has performed for the men at Vaughan and Hines hospitals Christmas shows. December 13 marks his fifth appearance as a member of the show's cast.

Another thrill came to the Arlington Heights newcomer when he performed for Gov. Otto Kerner on Nov. 16 at McCormick Place.

Jim is featured twirler with the Arlington High School Concert and Marching Band and will perform during halftime at Friday night's Marshall - Arlington basketball game.

Jim, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hallett, and a sister Ruthann, moved here recently from Chicago where Jim attended McPherson scholl. (A

Unusual Tree

A $10,000 Christmas tree is not unheard of, but when it's a tree in the living room of an ordinary home, it has to be quite unusual. The story of this tree is in Paddock Publications' December issue of Suburbia Today.

Delay Report On Street Move

The committee report on a petition for vacation of a portion of Davis st. in the downtown Arlington Heights area was delayed Monday night until the first meeting in January of the village board of trustees.

The petitioner, Douglas Dodds, asked the delay so he could study the report, and in anticipation of a development which might shed new light on the proposal.

Set Annexation Of Keck Land

The Elmer Keck property at 1320 N. Wilke, Arlington Heights, which has been receiving village water since 1956, soon will be annexed to the village.

An ordinance to this effect was prepared in January, 1957, but never passed. Later one was prepared by the next village attorney, but never passed. The current village attorney, Jack M. Siegel, has prepared another one. It was passed Monday night.

First Meeting Is Held by New Area Hike, Camp Group

Safety Pins
Safety pins have been in use for more than a thousand years.

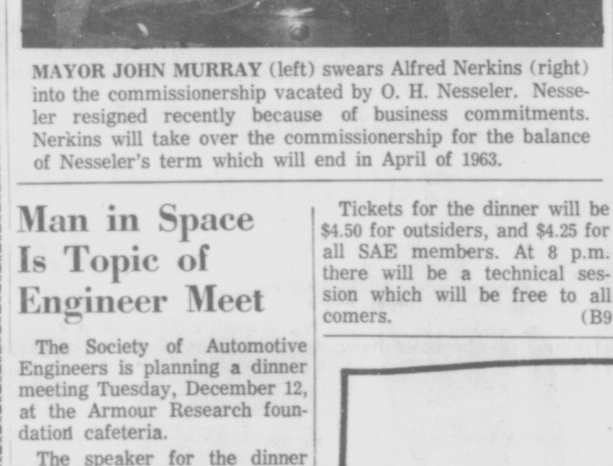
The first meeting of the Palatine chapter of the National Campers and Hikers association was held November 24 at the home of the James Ralph family, 246 S. Roberts rd., Palatine.

The club is being organized to promote communication between camping families in the Barrington - Palatine - Arlington Heights areas, and to enable camping enthusiasts to follow their interest during the winter months by attending regular meetings to exchange camping ideas, see travel films, participate in conservation programs, and further nature hobbies. The group also plans to organize weekend campouts and other activities for the summer months.

Present at the pre-organization meeting were Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison of Des Plaines. Mr. Morrison is regional director and executive vice president of NCHA.

PENDING A regular election, temporary officers were selected to help organize the group, as follows: Presidents: Mr. and Mrs. James Ralph; vice presidents: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Odell and son Norman; secretary-treasurers: Mr. and Mrs. Norman Zilmer; directors: Mr. and Mrs. Harold English, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith.

The second meeting of the group will be held at the Pure Oil Company, Meacham and Golf rds., Palatine, January 14, 1962 at 2 p.m. A program will be presented including two short films on camping subjects. Business to be undertaken will include adoption of a constitution and application for charter affiliation with the national organization. All interested camping families or individuals, are cordially invited to attend. For further information, please call Mr. or Mrs. James Ralph at FL 8-2146.



MAYOR JOHN MURRAY (left) swears Alfred Nerkins (right) into the commissionership vacated by O. H. Nesseler. Nesseler resigned recently because of business commitments. Nerkins will take over the commissionership for the balance of Nesseler's term which will end in April of 1963.

Man in Space Is Topic of Engineer Meet

The Society of Automotive Engineers is planning a dinner meeting Tuesday, December 12, at the Armour Research foundation cafeteria.

The speaker for the dinner will be Arthur Pedersen who will speak on "Project Mercury — Man In Space."

The dinner will start promptly at the foundation at 6:45 p.m. at 35th and Dearborn in Chicago.

Tickets for the dinner will be $4.50 for outsiders, and $4.25 for all SAE members. At 8 p.m. there will be a technical session which will be free to all comers. (B9

Editor Hits Shocking Ignorance of Defense

Reporters, editors and broadcasters must share blame with the Federal Government for "shocking public ignorance of the most vitally important project for self preservation any nation has ever tackled."

This "Why This Anti-Missile Missile Ignorance?" indictment is made by Walter Burroughs, California editor, in the December issue of The Quill, publication of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society.

Telling the story of the Army's Nike - Zeus, Burroughs—publisher and editorial director of the Orange Coast Daily Pilot, who just recently sold his interests to the Los Angeles Times—declares that on the prompt operational development of this protective weapon rests the greatest hope for survival of millions of citizens who live in the Russians' prime target areas.

Says Burroughs: "For six years, instead of having the cost-be-damned crash development program the situation calls for, we have had a budget-starved activity nicely calculated to make us too late with too little when all our lives are at stake."

THIS COULD never have continued had there been an aroused public opinion asserts Burroughs in castigation of the Federal government as well as fellow editors and broadcasters. He says:

"That the print and electronic news media have not done this job of arousal is likely a reflection of editorial ignorance of the situation. And that ignorance can be traced only to a failure of Washington reporting, probably the old story of too much dependence on government handouts, not enough digging.

"First test of a Nike-Zeus against an Atlas ballistic missile, both with nuclear warheads, is scheduled for February, 1962.

"A BUDGET item of $100 million will be asked of Congress in January for the production of Nike-Zeus parts, and another $200 million will be asked by the Defense Department for further research and development."

Is this enough to get the job done in the fastest possible way? asks Burroughs. He continues:

"Are we doing all that can be done now, this minute, to be ready for immediate production on a massive scale the moment the last 'bugs' are out of the anti-missile missile? I don't know, but I do know our Washington reporters and broadcasters ought to be finding out.

"AND THEY should be reporting the facts over and over again until our citizens fully understand what this defensive weapon is all about, why it is vital to our survival as a nation, and what is or is not being done to develop the weapon on a crash basis."

In concluding that the real hope is an immediate awakening of the news media and vigorous reporting, Burroughs says, "There is real hope — hope for those who live in big cities with defense plants all around them as well as for those who live far from primary targets.

"The anti-missile missile can make the fallout shelter as obsolete as the pup tent in the nuclear age." (B8

Youth Musicale to Feature the Roes

Ted and Gloria Roe will be the special guests of the Northwest Suburban Youth for Christ's December musicale to be held this Saturday night in Miner Junior high school in Arlington Heights.

Gloria Roe's musical career began when she won the Los Angeles Herald Express musical scholarship. She was offered a contract by the Screen guild of Hollywood and later studied for the concert stage in New York City with Dr. Frederick Stern of the New York Philharmonic.

SHE WAS associated with Eddie Cantor and the late Al Jolson. She has won many musical honors, including the NBC Network Young American award, the Horace Heidt Youth Opportunity award, and the Bank of America fine arts award.

Ted Roe has conducted special meetings in 37 countries. He is also an accomplished musician, and joins his wife in singing. The Roes are also recording artists for the RCA recording company.

They have also appeared with the President of the United States in the pageant for peace in Washington.

Joining the Roes will be the Michigan Lansing quartet; Marion Joransen , marimbist; YFC's trumpet champion Bill Stover; Ed and Elenor Sherry, pianists; and Sonny Fleming of Captain Stubby and the Buccaneers fame.

Also included in the program will be the 70-voice teen chorale and orchestra of the suburban Youth for Christ movement.

AN ADDED EVENT will be the black light artistry of Clare and Bruce Newton. Newton is the audio-visual director for WBKB television.

Tickets can be purchased at the door or can be obtained at the YFC office at 24 E. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

The program will start promptly at 7:30 p.m. (B8

Young Adults Plan Play Reading

Haltenhoff Family Attends

Musical Benefit to Assist Brain Research

The Ray Haltenhoff family of 708 Lynden ln., Arlington Heights — with the exception of one member — will be present when the curtain rises Friday at the Shubetr Theater to signal the start of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Sound of Music."

But it is because of the absence of this member of the family and others like her that the musical is being staged.

It is because of this absent audience that the theater will be filled to near capacity. It is being presented because of 22-year-old Judy Haltenhoff, who lives in a twilight world in Elgin state hospital, the victim of a brain disease.

It would not be produced without countless sufferers of cerebral palsy and multiple sclerosis; without the presence of those who have retreated into the psychotic shadows; without those who are seized in the vise of epilepsy.

THIS IS the Brain Research Foundation's first big benefit, and it is hoped that enough money will be raised to open the foundation's Brain Research Center located in the former Chicago Memorial hospital.

The musical benefit caps the efforts of Mrs. Haltenhoff and scores of other volunteers who have given their time and directed their energies toward seeing the opening of the brain research center realized.

Judy Haltenhoff was a sophomore at Beloit College, Wis., in 1958 when she was stricken by encephalitis, an infection of the brain caused by a virus, bacteria or fungus and characterized by the common symptoms of a headache or sore throat.

FOR SEVEN months the illness ran a relentless course, checked only occasionally by available medical knowledge. By the time the attack was arrested, the illness had inflicted too much brain damage. Judy's parents were told that she required "long-term institutional care."

Judy had been a swimming instructor and lifeguard at Recreation park one summer, and when her illness was first described in these pages, there were many inquiries as to her identity.

It was not because her family despaired or wished to hide the fact of her illness that she was not fully identified. But they did not care to capitalize on a personal sense of pity.

"WE FEEL no despondency in seeing Judy. We've accepted her illness; it's something we have to live with," says her mother.

Mrs. Haltenhoff has personally sold over 100 tickets to "Sound of Music." Judy's sister, Joan, a 17-year-old senior at Arlington high school, has sold 16 out of 32 tickets to fellow students who will reach the Shubert Theater via a chartered bus.

The Arlington high students will be joined by students from New Trier Township high school and Highland Park high school. A group of Arlington Heights adults have also engaged a bus for the evening, Mrs. Haltenhoff related.

UPON THEIR return, birthday parties will be held for Dr. B. J. Moore, 620 Newbury, and Mrs. Richard Drolet, 709 W. Rockwell, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Walsh, 618 Lynden ln.

A grant of $75,000 from the Charles F. Kettering foundation for the brain research center is conditional on the Brain Research foundation raising an additional $250,000 to make the center operative.

One means of securing financing has been through the sale of Halloween candy, which was started by Dr. Frederic Gibbs, Illinois neurologist, who first recognized the need for such a center and began campaigning for its establishment.

THE RESEARCH center would be inter-disciplinary in nature, relying on the services of the various sciences.

It would treat such brain disorders as epilepsy, cerebral palsy, encephalitis, multiple sclerosis, cerebral arteriosclerosis, Parkinsonism, drug addiction, alcoholism, mental retardation, migraine, psychosis and neurosis.

There are still some tickets left for the musical which concludes the fund-raising activities this year. They may be obtained by calling CE 6-9291 or from Mrs. Haltenhoff at CL 5-1565.

"SOUND OF MUSIC" relates the story of the Trapp family of Austria, all of whom were musicians. The most popular song from this Rodgers and Hammerstein production is appropriate to the occasion. It is "Climb Every Mountain."

While this optimism cannot be indulged by Judy, bedridden at Elgin, and others like her whose presence will be felt if not seen at the Shubert, it does seem to set the tone for the hopes of those in attendance.

SELLING A TICKET to the "Sound of Music" Brain Research foundation benefit to Barb Bartels is Joan Haltenhoff, 708 Lynden ln., Arlington Heights, a high school senior whose older sister, Judy, is a victim of a brain disease. A busload of Arlington High school students will attend the benefit. (B-8

Exciting Hawaiian Holiday Tour to Depart on March 9

Anticipation is almost half the fun of taking a trip. Particularly anticipation of a trip to beautiful Hawaii. This feeling of wonderful things to come will run high March 9 as members of Paddock's Hawaiian Holiday pack for a two week tour of the islands.

While the snow swirls outside, travelers will be putting such unlikely things as swim suits, shorts, cotton dresses, summer sport coats and shirts into suitcases. In mid-morning on the 9th, Mary and Stu Paddock, host and hostess for the trip, will greet them at the special check-in counter at O'Hare field.

LEAVING THE cold and snow behind, they will jet away to San Francisco. Arriving about noon, they will transfer to the new Hilton Inn where accommodations await them. Then for a wonderful tour of all the sights San Francisco offers. Twin Peaks, Seal Rocks, Cliff House, Top O' The Mark to name but a few.

The next day the Pan Am jet whisks them high over the Pacific to Honolulu and that wonderful Aloha greeting. With the wonderful smell of that most fragrant blossom, the Plumeria, rising from their beautiful leis, they are transferred to the Hilton Hawaiian Village and their rooms in the Village Tower.

As they step out on their lanai, the view that greets them is breathtaking. On one side, homes dot the mountainsides like small jewels. On the other, stretches a broad white sand beach with the incredibly blue Pacific lapping at its shores. They will have a terrific urge to do everything at once but just looking and relaxing is such fun too.

THEN IT IS that they will truly believe they are in this most beautiful of all the island groups, Hawaii. Anticipation will still be great. Yet to see are such things as the miles and miles of pineapple and sugar cane, renowned Pearl Harbor and the sunken Arizona, the Royal Mausoleum, the International Market, the Spouting Horn, Mauna Loa and the Volcano House. Yet to do are such things as swimming in the ocean, eating at the Japanese Tea House, riding in a pink Jeep, walking through a lava tube.

Members of the tour will also know that there will be plenty of time for getting a glowing suntan, strolling through the shops and just relaxing in a climate where the temperature varies from a balmy 75 degrees to an even balmier 85.

For further details and a brochure of the tour write, "Hawaiian Holiday, c/o Paddock Publications, 217 W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights, Ill. (A14

Elk Grove Paces Area's Building

Elk Grove township paced Cook county in October in the number of building permits issued for unincorporated areas with 82, the county department of building disclosed this week.

Maine township, however, topped unincorporated areas in the amount of estimated valuation resulting from the issuance of permits with $2,240,300 figured for 67 permits.

Elk Grove township was second in valuation, with $1,344,200 the anticipated cost figured from the 82 permits.

OTHER townships in the northwest suburban area took this position according to number of permits issued and their worth: Wheeling, 36 permits, $560,500; Palatine, 19 permits, $413,350; Schaumburg, one permit, $27,400.

Altogether, the building department issued 561 permits in October for construction estimated at $11,339,460 for unincorporated areas of the county.

Included among the larger items is a golf course to be built for an estimated $100,000 by Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises at Rohlwing rd. and Euclid ave. in Palatine township.

THE DEPARTMENT also reported that it issued six permits for fallout shelters in October. The permits are issued free of charge. Included were one in Palatine township, $1,000 estimated value; one in Northfield township for $4,500 and two two others for $1,600 each; one in Lyons and one in Bremen $2,000 each.

Apartment building projects in the unincorporated area reached a high point for the year in October with 39 permits issued for 144 living units estimated to cost $1,818,000.

All 39 apartment buildings are to be built in Maine township, which has led the county in this type of construction.

Including those permits issued in October, the 10-month total of apartment permits is 130, of which 86 were granted for Maine township, the building department noted. (B8

Repeal Paving Project Action

An ordinance repealing a previous ordinance was passed Monday night by the Arlington Heights village board.

The ordinance repealed authorized the Douglas, Hickory, Beverly paving project, and had been passed March 6, 1961. Repeal was necessary since Hawthorne, between Beverly and Dryden, is to be included in the project, and a new ordinance will have to be passed to this effect. (A STUDENT NURSES OF LUTHERAN General and Deaconess hospitals are busy practicing for their annual Christmas concert set for Monday, Dec. 11, at 8 p. m. in Maine East high school auditorium, Dempster st., Park Ridge. Under the direction of Thomas Daniels, music instructor at the high school, the 70-voice choir will sing old religious favorites as well as newer carols. One of the soloists will be Margaret Cammelot, 6N 187 Garden, Roselle. Donations of $1 may be made at the door on concert night.

Tausch Is Named Finance Chairman

WILLIAM TAUSCH

William J. Tausch, 404 N. Gibbons, Arlington Heights, has been named finance campaign chairman for the coming Scout drive in Blackhawk district of the Northwest Suburban council.

In this capacity Tausch will be responsible for the overall campaign in Arlington Heights and Prospect Heights Annual Appeal in recruiting workers.

TAUSCH, an account executive with Marsteller Inc., an advertising company in Chicago, served as vice chairman of the Arlington Heights residential campaign last year in what is acknowledged to be the most successful residential drive the Scout organization has ever held in Arlington Heights.

Tausch announced that in cooperation with Thomas H. Stewart, 1011 N. Gibbons, Arlington Heights, the community campaign chairmen are now being recruited and that committees are being organized to handle prospect rating, advanced gifts, general solicitation, arrangements and audit.

Stewart is the vice chairman of the Blackhawk district in charge of all finance.

THE DRIVE will kick off in both villages at a combined meeting to be held on Sunday, Jan. 21. Anyone interested in participating is encouraged to contact Tausch at Cl 9-4377.

The Northwest Suburban council is an active, participating member of the Des Plaines, Schiller Park, Niles, and Suburban Community Chests; the United Funds of Barrington and Park Ridge; Combined Appeal of Mount Prospect and the Annual Appeal of Prospect Heights. (B8

ANTENNA IMPORTANCE

by ED LANDWEHR

Most folks don't give much thought to their television antenna unless the wind blows it down. And then, they will register surprise at the clear and sharp picture they receive with new antenna equipment.

The reason is that antennas have improved greatly in the past five years. Also, many antennas move out of position over the years and become weather worn to a point that very weak signals come through to the TV receiver.

If your antenna is five or more years old, you could improve your television receiving by antenna service. Phone CLearbrook 5-0700 and let LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, evaluate your antenna. We do many insurance jobs after windstorms, too, and would like to give you estimates for guaranteed, satisfied replacement.

Hospital Emergency Room

Exploding Tire, Ink Drink, Cat Bite Are Typical Cases

Richard Good, 18, of 55 S. Clyde, Palatine, was treated in Northwest Community hospital last week when a tire he was working on exploded, fracturing his hand.

The same day Tracy Baldaccini, 16 months, of 902 E. Wildwood, Prospect Heights, had his stomach washed after he drank a quantity of white ink.

A day later Eugene Korn, 120 Ash st., Palatine was treated for a cat bite.

And so went another week in the emergency room as over 45 cases, ranging from automobile injuries to unorthodox trips downstairs registered their complaints with the hospital staff.

AUTO ACCIDENTS prevailed.

Mrs. Loretta Doederlein, 1701 N. Mason, Chicago, was treated for bruises, examined, and released following a traffic accident at Broadway and Northwest hwy. in Des Plaines. Mrs. Margaret Ages, 3412 Montrose, Chicago, was admitted with a fractured left leg and left wrist after an accident in Mt. Prospect.

Harold Dunn, 33 N. Rammer, Arlington Heights, was examined, X-rayed, and released following an accident at Busse and Greenleaf rds., Elk Grove Village.

Five persons were checked after an accident at Golf and Meacham rds. Mrs. Virginia Hansen, 237 Milan ln., Roselle, was admitted with bruises and remained in the hospital for observation. She was released over the weekend. Her son, Frank, 9, was examined, X-rayed, and released. Her daughter, Diane, 4, was examined, treated for chin bruises, and released.

Mrs. Rose Toepfer, 588 Wilton, Schaumburg Center, was examined, treated for bruises, and released. Blair Tinkle, one month, of 249 Milan ln., Roselle, was examined and released.

Steven, Robert, and Richard Miller, 1307 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, were examined and treated after an accident at Miner and Douglas sts. in the village. Steven was treated for bruises and released. Robert was kept in the hospital for observation and treatment of a knee cut before being released. Richard's condition was reported as good after he was treated for a fractured jaw and concussion.

IN ANOTHER accident, Michael Pecorelli, 640 Walnut ln., Elk Grove Village, was treated for lacerations of the right leg after a truck he was driving overturned.

Lynn and Lesley Czerney, 1605 W. Fremont st., Arlington Heights, were examined and released following an accident at Higgins and Landmeier rds., Elk Grove.

Mrs. Molly Heaney, 488 Lilac ln., Elk Grove Village, was examined, X-rayed, and released after an accident on Golf rd.

Shelia Dedick, 5, of 150 N. Grifford, Elgin, involved in another accident at Golf and Meacham rds., was examined and released. Michael Napoli, 15 N. Wille, Mt. Prospect, was admitted with a neck and back pain following an accident at Golf and Mt. Prospect rds.

Kermit Olsen, 3139 Newland, Chicago, was examined, X-rayed, and released after an accident on Landmeier rd. near route 83.

Bone fractures brought six victims to the emergency room.

Russell Gifford, 13, of 933 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights, is wearing a long arm cast after he fell and fractured his left wrist.

MRS. LILLIAN Prest, 1015 Timberlane, Park Ridge, who also fell and fractured her left wrist, is sporting a short arm cast.

John Anderson, 15, of 228 S. Greeley, Palatine, landed the wrong way on a trampoline, and won a short cast for his fractured right arm. Mike Schwinn, 16, of 109 W. Euclid, Mt. Prospect, gained a possible reprieve when a bandage only was applied to his left wrist after a basketball spill.

Aloysius Stauter, 501 Catalpa, Round Lake, was admitted for surgical repair of a severe laceration and fracture of his left foot suffered while riding a go-cart. His condition is reported as good.

Joseph Mankowich, 4, of 321 Ambleside, Des Plaines, was admitted for surgical repair of a fractured right elbow.

AND THEN there were lacerations.

Lawrence Rubo, 1409 Greenleaf, Evanston, lacerated his left hand on a steel wire at work. The wound was cleaned, sutured, and dressed, and Rubo was given a tetanus shot.

John Michelson, 607 Brynhaven, Elk Grove Village, also was treated and given a shot for an on-the-job hand injury.

Louis Meyer, 11 months, of 3811 Bobwhite ln., Rolling Meadows, was treated for a cut eyebrow. Carl Swann, 2201 Grouse, Rolling Meadows, was treated and given a shot after he cut his left hand on a heater fan. Joyce Wolters, 13, of 821 N. Wilshire, Arlington Heights, was treated for a laceration of her right index finger suffered in school.

Charles Kramer, 2701 School dr., Rolling Meadows, was X-rayed and treated after he bruised and cut himself while moving an oil drum.

Robert Schwankoff, 217 N. Brockway, Palatine, was treated for a cut left hand sustained while he was handling a piece of sheet metal.

MRS. JANE Broten, 601 Walnut, Elk Grove Village, received treatment after she cut her hand while working in the kitchen of her home.

Roland Player, 4800 Springfield, Chicago, was treated after he cut his hand on a piece of tin.

In other emergency cases:

Ray Kennebeck, 1711 N. Riverside dr., McHenry, was admitted to the hospital after he suffered internal injuries in a fall from a scaffold.

The little finger of Richard Rybak, 6, of 3705 Wilke rd., Rolling Meadows, was X-rayed and bandaged after he sprained it on a school playground. A sprained right foot suffered by Nancy Bista, 8, of route 3, Palatine, was strapped with adhesive plaster. Marvin Hattendorf, 14, of 154 N. Fremont, Palatine, is wearing a splint following an ankle sprain.

Scott Bresnahan, 3304 Wren ln., Rolling Meadows, was examined and released following a fall on school grounds.

HENRY BROWN, 3501 Bay, Waukegan, was treated for an injured nose. Thomas Kennedy, 19 months, of 1 N. Edward, Mt. Prospect, had his stomach washed after he drank some bleach.

And Mrs. Stella Duda, 1907 Dorsell, Palatine, spent a night in the hospital after she fell down her basement stairs.

File Reply To Lawsuit Over Novel

An answer to a Federal court suit in which L. W. Calderwood, Arlington Heights police chief, is a defendant has been filed, it was reported at the village board meeting Monday night by Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel.

Siegel said he has learned that in a Superior court suit of a similar nature, the plaintiffs seek to add Chicago, Wilmette and Maywood to the list of defendants, which already includes ten northwest suburbs.

Both suits charge the villages with violating the plaintiffs' constitutional rights by suppressing sale of the novel, "Tropic of Cancer." The Federal suit is brought by the author and publisher, the Superior suit by a professor and a housewife. (A

Answers Emergencies

To Helicopter Crew, All in a Day's Work

It's all in a day's work for the crew of an Army helicopter. At the 45th Artillery Brigade (Air Defense) Air Section, Arlington Heights, the air crew recently put in a week's work which amply illustrated the various activities and uses of the helicopter.

On Friday, Oct. 27, in answer to a request from the Naval installations at Glenview and Great Lakes, the brigade's H-21 helicopter, piloted by Major Willie H. Casper and Chief Warrant Officer Mervin R. Miller, with Crew Chief Specialist Five Thomas Campbell, transported Admiral George Anderson, chief of naval operations, to several scheduled appointments in the Chicago area.

TRAVELING BY helicopter, Admiral Anderson reviewed the graduating class of the Great Lakes Naval Training center, spoke before the Chicago Press club conference, and was guest of the Chicago council of the Navy League for a Navy Day banquet.

The following Monday, Oct. 30, an emergency was answered by the 45th Brigade Air Section when a workman fell inside of the Mt. Prospect water tower which he had been cleaning.

The helicopter, again piloted by Major Casper and CWO Miller, was requested to attempt to lift the man out of the tower through a hole in the top. High, blustery winds, however, prevented using the helicopter to lift the man. Instead, equipment was taken from the plane and used to lower him gently down the inside of the tower intake pipe.

THE MAN, suffering from an injured back, was safely removed from the tower. Crew Chiefs on the rescue flight were Specialist Six Paul Rhoads and Specialist Five Campbell.

Next day, Tuesday, Oct. 31, the H-21 flew under the command of Major Willie Casper and 1st Lieutenant Jerry T. Steele to Peoria, where they airlifted a paralyzed sergeant from a civilian hospital to an Army medical facility. Specialist Five Ronald Darby served as crew chief on this flight.

Later in the week, the small H-23 helicopter was called on to help the police of Rolling Meadows shoot aerial photographs of their town for use in a Civil Defense planning and preparation program. The city police will use the aerial map to plan evacuation routes from Rolling Meadows. Captain Velma F. Parker piloted the aircraft.

ON SATURDAY, Nov. 4, the 45th Brigade Air Section was called upon to help the Navy again. With Lt. Steele and CWO Miller at the controls and Sp5 Campbell as Crew Chief, the H-21 transported a doctor and safety team to the site of a Navy jet crash near Elkhorn, Wis. The pilot of the jet had bailed out and was unhurt.

It may be all in a day's work for the members of the 45th Brigade Air Section, but the fine services rendered by these dedicated men are not regarded lightly by those who have had occasion to call upon them. (B8 INTENTLY WATCHING a television program, these tots were left in the care of a registered nurse while mothers did their Christmas shopping in Rolling Meadows stores. The free baby-sitting service in the lower level room of the Bank of Rolling Meadows is offered through the courtesy of the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce. The television set was loaned by W. T. Grant's, and toys, games and coloring books add to the entertainment, leaving parents free to shop at ease. The nurse is in attendance Mondays through Fridays from 10 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. All shoppers in downtown Rolling Meadows are invited to use the service. (B8

Consumer Frauds Can Flourish in Suburbia

Kearney Says Law Overhaul to Help

by DAN PRIBILSKI

"Why do you have a vacuum cleaner?" asked a friend of a Puerto Rican family living near Roosevelt rd. in Chicago. "You have no rugs."

"That's not a vacuum cleaner. It's an air purifier," was the reply.

After being repeatedly told and shown a demonstration that the family had inded bought a vacuum cleaner, the Puetro Rican father became angry. He became more angry a week later when he found that part of his wages were garnisheed to pay for the machine.

The Puerto Rican went to see John Kearney, director of the Catholic Friendship House in Chicago. Friendship House is a social agency to promote better race relations and protect minority rights.

Kearney was told that the salesman of the vacuum cleaner told the Puerto Rican family that it was an air purifier.

"Don't you know," the salesman asked, "that in this climate you need an air puifier? Otherwise your children will become ill and die."

THE PUERTO Rican father asked Kearney if something could not be done to stop the wage garnishment.

Unfortunately, Kearney said, nothing could be done for the Puerto Rican.

This incident occurred in 1957.

Kearney told of the incident at a November 29 Altar and Rosary Society meeting at Queen of the Rosary church in Elk Grove Village.

He said that there should have been a law. This incident spurred him to become one of the major proponents and drafters of the recently passed credit laws in Illinois. The laws are designed to protect the consumer from unethical businessmen and their unscrupulous use of wage assignments and wage garnishments.

Kearney said that since the new laws were passed, wage garnishments are down 50 per cent in the state and wage assignments almost non-existent today.

But in 1957, passage of laws to protect people from unethical businessmen was next to impossible.

"I began to contact state legislators in 1957," Kearney said. "But no law came about. There were many people interested in the status quo."

BETWEEN 1957 and 1961, Kearney made a study of Illinois wage laws and the effect unscruplous con-merchants had upon society.

"The whole fabric of society was involved and not just the uneducated, lower economic classes," he said.

"In 1957, there was an estimated $36 million worth of wage garnishments in the state."

Kearney emphasized, "What works for brown America can also work for white America."

He meant that the upper income groups were duped by con-merchants just as the lower economic classes.

The Negro and Puerto Rican, because they live in more disreputable neighborhoods, "run the risk of contact with many more shady operators."

BECAUSE OF "skin taxing," the prejudice against dark skinned peoples, the Negro or Puerto Rican must pay 25 per cent more for housing than a white person, Kearney commented. This extra 25 per cent "tax" applies to many other things the dark skinned peoples buy.

The 1959 Illinois General Assembly came and went without any new protective laws on the books.

Then, in 1960, the promoters for protective legislation were helped by a dramatic event which was played up in the Chicago daily press.

JOHN KEARNEY

William Rodriguez, a Puerto Rican employed by Sears-Roebuck and company killed himself. He killed himself because of debts incurred from sales by con-merchants.

The night before Rodriguez committted suicide, a worker with Kearney mentioned at a meeting, "We'd be helped if we had another suicide." There had been several suicides already because of debts.

How did Rodriguez get into the debt predicament he did?

KEARNEY EXPLAINED that Rodriguez was not a recent arrival to Chicago. He was literate and spoke English as well as most Americans. He had finished high school.

He had to live near Roosevelt rd., a dark skinned ghetto, because he was very dark.

One day while walking along Roosevelt rd., he spied a religious gold medal and he purchased it for $5. He thought that was his last payment.

But he had signed a sales slip which committed him to pay $30 more. He did not know this until his wage was garnisheed.

(Under the new law, a person must be informed that there is pending court action for garnishment. Prior to this law, a court could hold a hearing in behalf of the debtor without the debtee knowing of it or being officially informed.)

Some time later, Rodriguez saw a television he liked in a store near Roosevelt rd. The merchant said he could take it home, give it a one week trial, and if he didn't like it, could return it. Rodriguez signed nothing and made no promise of payment.

The next day after the television was in the Rodriguez home, it stopped working. The store would not take it back.

And a week later Rodriquez's wages were garnished.

THREE MONTHS before, he had signed a credit slip at the store. His signature under the old law was enough and he had to pay for the broken television.

Shortly after the TV incident, a salesman showed up at the Rodriquez apartment. He said he had a bed spread for the woman upstairs but that she was not in. Could Mrs. Rodriquez take it?

Mrs. Rodriguez took the bedspread and signed what she thought was a receipt. It was a sales slip. Again there was a wages garnishment.

Rodriquez's employer warned him that he was having his wages garnisheed too often.

Fearing he would lose his job, and knowing that he had a company $10,000 life insurance policy, Rodriquez took rat poison. He hoped to help his family.

A sidelight to the story, Kearney said, was that Rodriquez could have been saved. His stomach could have been pumped. But because of his dark skin, he was not admitted to the hospital he was first taken to. By the time he was gotten to the county hospital, he was dead.

Kearney reiterated to his Elk Grove Village audience that they, too, could be victimized by con-merchants. He cited frauds such as a knitting machine fraud and a bomb shelter fraud that occurred along the North Shore.

LAWS ARE PASSED which are sufficient to protect wage earners if—

And the big "if" which Kearney mentioned was active participation of all people in seeing that they are enforced and acted upon.

"The people must act," he said. If they receive notice of a pending wage garnishment, they must appear at court, and if they feel they have a defense, contest the garnishment.

Also, he said, "fraudulent business practices will be in the suburbs one year from now if people don't take a general interest in other human beings."

Community pressure must be brought on merchants whether in Chicago or the suburbs.

When a person runs into an unethical practice, he should notify the company or management. "In a corporate society it is easy for things to go wrong."

Also, persons should notify the Better Business Bureau if the company offers no satisfaction.

AND PERSONS must actively exercise their rights in the courts under the new garnishment and wage assignment laws.

It is wise, Kearney said, to read a reputable consumer magazine like Consumer's Report, but "beware of good conduct seals given by women's magazines."

"And if you find yourself in financial straits," he commented, "perhaps you need to examine your standard of living. It might be too high."

800 Attend St. Viator Card Party

The first social event at the new St. Viator Catholic boys' high school for parents and community residents was termed a "huge success" by William Demmert of Mount Prospect, president of the school's Booster club.

The "Get Acquainted" card party sponsored by the Boosters group was attended by almost 800. Funds raised by the club will be used to help provide athletic equipment for the school.

In addition to cards, guests were permitted to inspect the facilities of the new school, completed this fall at a cost of more than $3 million.

INCLUDED in the program for the evening were the "Four Hoarsemen," a barbershop quartet from the Arlington SPEBSQA chapter.

The social event was organized by Mr. and Mrs. William Bolash of Arlington Heights, who were in charge of the party. Active in the planning was Frank Haley of Palatine, chairman of the program committee.

The next meeting of the Booster club is set for Wednesday, Dec. 13, at 8 p.m.

St. Viator high school serves Catholic boys from the entire northwest suburban area, with enrollment ranging from Morton Grove to Crystal Lake. (B8

The Lutherans

Use symbols.

Symbols are an aid in worship, a tool in Christian education.

Symbols portray graphically and quickly where words often fail or become weak.

Symbols have been used by the church from its earliest days.

The cross... the crown of thorns... the fish... the three nails... all communicate vividly and quickly.

The Lutherans find symbols helpful in worship and helpful in relating faith to life.

Your nearby Lutheran church invites you to worship next Sunday.

TEEN PROMENADERS

The second annual reunion for past members of the Teen Promenaders is slated for Friday night, Dec. 30, at 8 o'clock in Recreation park field house, Arlington Heights. Most ex-Promenaders are away at college and the dance is scheduled so that everyone home for the holiday vacation will be able to come out for a swingy reunion with old friends and former partners.

The maestro himself, Harry Ryan, will call the turns and turn the calls for the expected bumper crop of "old timers" and current members. A special invitation is extended to parents of the teens now in the Promenaders membership.

The club has recently elected new officers for the coming year and Ross Paterson takes over as president, Marilyn Smith as vice president and Carol Retzke as secretary. Promenaders meet every Monday night in the Ryan home and membership is limited only because space is limited in the house at 1134 N. Chestnut, Arlington Heights.

Right now there are a few openings and any high schoolers interested in filling the gaps may call either Miss Smith, CL 3-7543 or Miss Retzke, CL 3-8667.

Parents and friends of Promenaders alumni are urged to remind the former members of the coming reunion so that they may reserve December 30 now, before their holiday-at-home schedule is filled.

MELODY SQUARES

The Thanksgiving weekend dance brought several old timers as well as some beginners to Pioneer Park field house in Arlington Heights where the Melody Squares dance the second and fourth Fridays each month. Over "coffee and. . ." during the social hour coming events were discussed among veterans, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dargatz, the Leroy Straubs, Martin Quarnstroms, Chuck O'Briens and Donn Leusslers and newcomers Mr. and Mrs. Bob Markus, the Jack Conways and Joe Orlicks.

The double trio of beginners who are members of the current high school class conducted by Walter and Vera Meier danced well to the calls of Walter Meier and club members express a hope they'll all be back again. Starting in January the Meiers will teach two classes in Arlington high school. A Monday evening class will be for those who wish to brush up on existing know-how in order to be ready for participation in the advanced level of club dancing. A Tuesday evening class will be for beginners.

December 22 the Melody Squares will have their annual Christmas party, complete with grab bag and potluck supper. In the grab bag will be 50 cent gifts marked "His" and "Hers" and in the after-dancing potluck supper will be just enough calories to replace worn-out ones. New and current rounds will be taught from 8 until 8:30 when caller Meier squares 'em up. An open invitation is extended to all square dancers for this and all other Melody Squares dances. Information about the club may be had by calling VA 4-4286.

WEST PARK SQUARES

This Des Plaines group, meeting the first and third Saturday nights of every month invites all square dancers to join them December 16 for their annual Christmas party. Dancing to the calls of Walter Meier starts at 8:30 p.m. in West Park lodge, Wolf at Greenview in Des Plaines and free refreshments with a holiday flavor will be had throughout the evening.

Area dancers are always welcomed by the West Park squares. Information about the club may be had by calling VA 4-4286.

WOOD DALE SQUARES

In the Highland school on N. Wood Dale rd., Squares for Fun meet the second Friday of every month to dance at what they like to call the "comfortable" level. Everybody's always welcome and the fun dancers extend a special invitation to new square dancers who'll find caller Frank Walker a comfortable guy to follow. Dancing starts at 8 o'clock.

Squares for Fun will be enjoying their annual Christmas dance tomorrow night and urge area dancers to join them. Club information may be had by calling PO 6-4707.

PALATINE SQUARES

Art Mathews squares 'em up at 8:30 Saturday night for the Palatine Squares and all their guests in Paddock school, Palatine, where everybody's welcome to join the fun.

Club officers remind everyone to set aside the December 23 date when the Palatiners hold their annual Christmas dance. Guests are welcome as always.

A bulletin from the club announces that all New Year's eve tickets are gone, consoling the ticketless with the reminder there'll be another chance in 1962 to "get 'em while they're hot."

ARLINGTON SQUARES

Tomorrow night's the night of the Arlington Squares annual Christmas party. It's also the club's regular dance night, "regular" applying only to the time, 8:30 p.m. For this occasion the place is South junior high school, Arlington Heights, and on this night only, Santa Claus will be among the guests.

Another happy irregularity will be the appearance of caller "Doc" Heimbach and his wife, Irene, who customarily fill in for club regular, Bill Clarke, and his wife at the Christmas dance. This year both Bill and "Doc," with Mrs. Bill and Mrs. "Doc," will be able to attend.

The red-suited ho-ho-ho man will be there to distribute the grab bag packages that each couple is to bring, a 50 cent gift for maw; a 50 cent gift for paw. To top off the evening there will be coffee, sandwiches and cake.

The club committee hopes that all regular members of the Arlington Squares will be able to attend this gala dance. Any other experienced square dancers in the area who would like to join the fun are asked to call the Edelblutes, CL 3-0291; the Simans, KI 5-9315 or the Lichtenhelds, MA 7-4187.

CALLERS SPECIAL

Sunday, Dec. 10, the northern district of Illinois Square Dance Callers association takes over Recreation Park field house, 500 E. Miner in Arlington Heights. There'll be a workshop in the afternoon from 2 o'clock to five with four top callers of the area in charge, among them the top woman caller of the district, Velma Larsen. It is hoped that Velma's "Calico Kids," a widely-known group of young show-stoppers, will be with her but at this writing nothing definite could be stated. Other callers working the afternoon will be Don Finfrock, Bob Kim and Bing Bengson.

After a supper break, the quartet will be back for the 3-hour session of open dancing to which everyone is welcome. Don, Bob, Bing and Velma will be sharing the mikes with other callers who'll be coming from 100 miles around to attend the association meeting. It all adds up to a square dancer's dream come true.

The open dancing in the evening will begin at 7 o'clock and last until 10. (A-13

Issue Teachers' 'Bill of Rights'

A bill of rights for teachers was proclaimed at a dinner meeting of Illinois Education association representatives honoring members of the press.

The press dinner was held at the Sherman hotel November 27.

Eric F. Rhodes of the National Education association listed four "rights" teachers should have:

—THE RIGHT to quality schools,

—The right to a workable assignment, including a maximum of 30 pupils per class for elementary teachers and 120 students per day for high school teachers,

—the right to a professional salary ranging from $6,000 for a beginning teacher to $14,000 for an experienced teacher, —and the right to professional self-direction.

Also speaking at the meeting sponsored by the five metropolitan divisions of the IEA and attended by 49 persons including ten representatives of the press and radio, were Dr. Claude Vick of the state superintendent's office and L. Goebel Patton, public relations associate for the IEA.

TEACHING has been a profession for centuries, Vick remarked, and teachers themselves have done more than they have received credit for in upgrading requirements of the profession.

Professional organizations such as IEA and NEA have helped determine what colleges should be accredited for teacher education, he said.

Vick ended with a note of caution, pointing out the profession has an obligation to weed out undesirables as well as to recruit desirable people to a teaching career. (A14

Order Curb On Traffic

Village Manager L. A. Hanson was directed Monday night by the Arlington Heights village board to prepare a report detailing efforts of the police department to enforce traffic regulations with respect to the Redi-Mix operation on W. Northwest hwy.

Trustee Eugene Schlickman asked that the report be ready at the next meeting, scheduled for Dec. 11. Trustee William Moore said he has received a half-dozen reports that the traffic regulations are not being strictly enforced, although Trustee Norval Stephens said his information indicates the contrary is true.

Some trustees have termed the Redi-Mix operation a traffic hazard because of trucks pulling onto the highway in front of oncoming cars, and parking with portions of the truck extending onto the highway. (A

Trustees Turn Down Apartment Rezoning

A petition requesting rezoning of the northeast corner of Wing st. and Ridge ave. from R-3 single family residential to R-5 multiple family residential was turned down by 4-0 vote Monday night by the Arlington Heights village board.

The refusal was made upon recommendation of both the plan commission and a special committee of the village board. The committee was composed of Trustees Eugene Schlickman (chairman), William Moore and Sam Wit.

BOTH THE committee report, and comments made Monday night by trustee Norval Stephens, indicated the board might, at some future date, view the proposal more favorably.

It was noted that the property is immediately south of R-5 zoning and across the street east of the village water station and its large water tanks.

Also, Ridge ave. is designated in the master plan as a secondary thoroughfare, which might allow for development of the land on a multiple family basis, and the site is designated as medium density.

It was pointed out, however, that Ridge is not presently serving as a secondary thoroughfare and has been extended to Northwest hwy. In addition, the area currently has a bad flooding problem which would be aggravated by construction of an apartment house on the site.

THEREFORE, THE committee concluded, since developments envisioned in the master plan have not yet been realized, the matter of rezoning the site is, at the least, premature.

The petitiCn for rezoning was submitted by the LaSalle National bank under a trust. Trustees William Moore and William Sauer were detained and did not arrive at the meeting in time to vote on the matter, although Moore's views were recorded through the committee report. (A

CLearbrook 5-2936

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Ed Ehlen, 437 S. Gibbons, who was rushed to Northwest Community hospital Thanksgiving morning and underwent surgery last week. Mr. Ehlen expects to be home this week.

Press of business prevented Jack Curtin, 420 S. Forrest, from taking his annual vacation sooner, but he and his wife, Isabelle, are enjoying it this month. Last week they drove to Champaign to visit their daughter, Mrs. Ed Ford, who lives there with her husband and daughter, Laura. Curtins are back home now and plan to spend the balance of his vacation just taking it easy.

Mr .and Mrs. Don Slusser, 516 S. Prindle, drove to Green Bay the Tuesday before Thanksgiving to spend the holiday with Don's mother, Mrs. Lydia Slusser. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. Roger Holz, former neighbors and old friends.

THANKSGIVING day saw the Ray Chappell family, 440 S. Forrest, in Lansing, Mich., visiting Mr. and Mrs. Don Baker, long time friends.

Best wishes go with the Greg Perry family, who left yesterday for their new home in Palo Alto, Cal. They formerly lived at 412 S. Forrest, with their children, Robbie, Rachel and Mathew.

Since Mr. Perry was unable to return here for Thanksgiving, Mrs. Perry and the children spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Howard, on a ranch near Cleburne, Texas.

Happy birthday wishes go to John Lynch, 433 S. Forrest, whose birthday was November 29.

Another birthday being celebrated is that of Mrs. Leo M. Smolinski, 2105 E. Grove, who was feted yesterday by members of the birthday club to which she belongs. The party was held in the home of Mrs. Richard Pulling, 429 S. Phelps.

Guests at the Howard Richardson home, 520 S. Phelps, during Thanksgiving week were an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Murdock Morrison of Franklin, Mich. Both families spent Thanksgiving in Chicago as guests of Mrs. Richardson's sister.

CONGRATULATIONS on his 15th birthday go to Doug Stoehr who celebrated the day with a family dinner November 30. Doug is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stoehr, 441 S. Prindle.

Darrell McGuire had so many parties to celebrate his first birthday that it took the whole of last weekend. He was guest of honor at a dinner Saturday attended by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zalud, of Milwaukee, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis McGuire of Broadview. Sunday there was a buffet supper for other members of the family. Darrell is the son of the F. D. McGuires, 409 S. Gibbons.

Mr .and Mrs. Lynn Lemons, 504 S. Prindle, do their entertaining in a big way. House guests from Thursday to Monday were Mrs. Lemons' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Huddlestun of Olmste. Friday the Lemons welcomed weekend guests from Detroit, an aunt, Mrs. Helen Miller and daughter, Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Boyd, an aunt and uncle, and Mrs. Lemons' grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Huddlestun. A family dinner was held Sunday which Mrs. Lemons reports was like a delayed Thanksgiving meal.

MR. AND MRS. Joseph Schaber, 405 S. Gibbons, have just returned from spending a few days in Toledo, a combination business and pleasure trip.

November 19 the Schabers entertained as dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. David Singers and daughter Suzanne, and Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Glausen, all of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Schaber's mother, Mrs. Elsie Glausen, also of Milwaukee, who plans on spending Christmas with her daughter.

The Schabers' son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. James Schaber, Mary Ann and Michael James, drove from Peoria the weekend after Thanksgiving to spend a few days. A guest for dinner that Sunday was a brother of the younger Mrs. Schaber, Rev. Father Joseph Heyd of Chicago.

Southminster Sets Family Night Here

Dr. and Mrs. L. K. Anderson, who have spent more than a quarter-century in the Cameroun in West Africa, will be special guests at the first Family Night program of the Southminster Prebyterian church tomorrow, Friday, night.

The Southminster church, which began its program of services early in October, meets temporarily at Dryden school, Arlington Heights. The Rev. William T. Jones is pastor.

DR. ANDERSON, who is central area director of the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations of the United Presbyterian church, with offices in Chicago, will address the adult and young people's group, and Mrs. Anderson will speak to the children.

The public is invited to the program, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. In charge of the social and fellowship hour following the program are Mrs. Carl Bowen, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. N. M. Lattof, Barrington.

PTA News

St. Peter PTL will hold its monthly meeting and Christmas party Friday, Dec. 8, when a film will be shown on Wheat Ridge, the Lutheran Tuberculosis foundation.

The film will deal with the benefits derived from proceeds of the Wheat Ridge seals.

Ruth Gosch, December chairman, Elsie Sorensen, social chairman, and their committees have been preparing decorations and entertainment for the meeting.

There will be a $1 gift exchange with Santa on hand to help with the deliveries. (A

Peruvians Volunteer Ideas for Exchange

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolfo Vizcarra, formerly of Lima, Peru, were guests at a meeting Monday night at Arlington high school of the Arlington Heights Inter-American Friendship Program steering committee, where two new courses of action were initiated.

Arrangements were made to contact a Catholic priest in Pampa de Comas, our village's sister suburb in Peru, to request he and Protestant clergy form a council to help Arlington Heights with distribution and coordination.

IN ANOTHER area, it was decided to request samples as soon as practical of handiwork of the residents of Pampa de Comas, with the possibility that they could be displayed in Arlington Heights, and orders taken from our village residents.

A PERUVIAN COUPLE, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolfo Vizcarra, were guest speakers Monday night at a meeting of the Arlington Heights Inter-American Friendship organization. Prior to the couple's discussion of conditions in Arlington Heights' sister suburb, Pampa de Comas, the structure of the local organization was explained by Wayne Brennan (left), chairman of the steering committee, and Don Rice, Arlington Acres representative.

Wayne Brennan, chairman of the steering committee, said a letter received Monday from the League of American Municipalities in Washington, which has helped advise the committee, stressed one point.

"The letter cautioned us against forming an affiliation based on a one-way assistance program," Brennan said. "This type of affiliation would not be on a sound basis. We were advised to always request something in return for what we give. This lets them know that we are true partners, and they are not just recipients of charity."

Mrs. Vizcarra told the group that our village could do a great deal to help the destitute residents of Pampa de Comas, about 68 per cent of whom are under 25 years of age.

She suggested the Arlington Heights group work through religious organizations there, and this received group approval as long as the Peruvian group is [illegible]denominational.

The Arlington Heights group made plans to organize on a [illegible]e formal basis, with a constitution and by-laws, and appointed Don Rice, representative from Arlington Acres Civic association, to head this phase of the project.

Two new organizations were represented at the meeting Monday night, the American Legion and the Parent-Teachers association. Any village organization interested in supporting the project is asked to have a representative at the next meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. Jan. 8 in Room 108, Arlington high school.

CHARLES JONES, chairman of the committee seeking tools large and small to help equip a technical school under construction in Pampa de Comas, reported several contacts for donation of tools already have been made.

He said it is hoped local manufacturers of tools will join in the project and donate some equipment for the school.

Another phase of the project involving securing used buses to provide transportation from Pampa de Comas to Lima for the men able to find work there also was discussed.

It was reported that some companies dealing in used buses charge $200, $250 and $350 for the buses, depending upon their condition. Brennan said he hoped one of the area bus companies might donate a bus or two, which the Arlington Hts. group would then restore.

BRENNAN indicated the group still is in need of someone to help type letters and take care of some of the correspondence involved in the program. He also reported that the used clothing drive was a great success, with perhaps a couple of tons of clothing collected. The clothes are in the process of being cleaned in preparation for shipment.

As the program progresses, handiwork of the people in Pampa de Comas — slippers, ponchos, blankets, sweaters — will be requested, and it is within the realm of possibility that a local market for them may be found, providing work for some Peruvians. (A

Village to Fight Suit

Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel has filed an appearance with the court concerning a suit brought by owners of four lots at the corner of St. James and Belmont, Arlington Heights, and naming the village as defendant.

Plaintiffs, represented by R. Franzen, charge that the zoning ordinance classifying their property as single family residential should be set aside. They state the property is located in an area where there are a number of non-conforming uses, and suitable for multiple dwelling.

On behalf of the village, Siegel will resist the suit, as directed Monday night by the village board. (A

Arlington Sales Tax Share Is Falling Off

Outlying shopping centers and discount stores are cited as prime reasons for a steady decline over the past two years of Arlington Heights' share of money spent on goods in the northwest suburbs.

A report made to the village board of trustees by village Finance Director Tom DeRiemer showed that from Nov. 1, 1959, to Oct. 31, 1961, the village's share of the total sales tax collected in this area has declined from 48.8 per cent to 41.35 per cent.

VILLAGES INCLUDED in the comparison report were Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows, Mt. Prospect, Palatine and Elk Grove. From the beginning of the period covered, Arlington Heights and to a much lesser extent Palatine have suffered decreases.

Rolling Meadows shows a 4.56 per cent increase, Mt. Prospect a 3.5 per cent increase, and Elk Grove Village a 1.07 per cent increase. Palatine decreased 1.68 per cent, Arlington Heights 7.45 per cent.

A graph showing month-by-month collections in sales taxes in the various villages ilustrates the impact of shopping centers, with the village in which such a center is built registering an increase when it opens.

While Arlington Heights still retains the major share of sales taxes collected in this area, its "share of the pie" is diminishing, and new construction outside the village limits will have further effects.

THIS IS important to the village since sales taxes are a major source of revenue. What it means is that the village probably will have to lean more heavily on other revenue sources for funds.

"This is something we just have to live with," DeRiemer said. (A

Christmas Party Planned by GOP

A Christmas party will be the main order of business for members of the Wheeling Township Regular Republican club tomorrow, Friday, Dec. 8, at the club's monthly meeting at 8 p.m. in the Arlington Heights VFW hall, Northwest hwy. and Yale ave.

The club regularly meets on the third Thursday of the month, but because of the proximity to Christmas this month, the meeting was arranged for Dec. 8.

Mrs. Frank Kolerus, Walter Johnson and Franklin Friday, all of Mt. Prospect and members of the Christmas program committee, this week asked members to bring wrapped "white elephants" which may be distributed by Santa Claus.

Included in the program will be a series of seasonal songs presented by a group of girls from Arlington high school. Refreshments will be served after the meeting. (ACM

HOW MUCH IS YOUR DRUGGISTS SERVICE WORTH

A druggist is more than a merchant, confidant and respected neighbor. He is a professional man who has put in 8 to 10 years in specialized education and training. The pharmacist lives by a code of ethics with honor and integrity. Just as bankers safeguard their deposits a pharmacist helps safeguard the health of his patrons.

You see your Doctor, but the prescription is still reviewed by the pharmacist and just to be doubly sure he will ask, "Who is it for?" This seems to be a simple question, but he is checking the dosage just to be sure. He has a personal interest. You should know him personally.

Recently mail order houses have sprung up who will cut the price, but if you should need that prescription filled at 10:00 o'clock at night, or on Sunday or a holiday, what will you do then?

Everyone wants his moneys worth, but there is a question, if you get your moneys worth by sendin to Kansas City for your drugs, or if you seek a price from cut rate stores. When one has seen a Doctor he wants the Doctor's orders followed with the highest standards and not necessarily at lowest prices. One cannot afford to sacrifice the high standards of a profession for a low price.

WE OFFER THE LOWEST PRESCRIPTION PRICES PLUS HIGHEST STANDARDS OF QUALITY

VIRGINIA TERRACE

The Kunstman family, Ray and Lorraine, along with daughters Cassandra and "Chipper," returned recently from a 2-week business and fun trip through the south, with lForida as their ultimate destination. After spending a few days in Nashville, Tenn., and Clemson, S.C., they proceeded to Orlando, where the girls had their first ocean swim on the trip.

Arriving in Miami Beach in time to celebrate Thanksgiving, they spent several days sightseeing, boating and enhancing their souvenir quota with the addition of autographs from Judy Garland and Lenny Dee. Lorraine reports they particularly enjoyed their stay in Tampa, where they visited friends and saw the exotic bird farm at Busch's Gardens. St. Augustine was their last stop in Florida, where they were all fascinated with touring the historic forts. The Kunstmans live at 1309 N. Chicago.

MONDAY afternoon Jeri, daughter of Sydelle and Leonard Goodman, 1107 N. Wilke, celebrated her fifth birthday. Celebrants surrounding the birthday cake fashioned into a doll, included brother, Philip, and sister, Laurie, in addition to Lisa Yates, Laura Jacobs, Pam DeRiemer, Kay Lowell, Marie Sottung and Kathy Galloway.

The Birthday club met last Wednesday noon at the home of Isabel Nottoli, 1227 N. Race, with Dorothy Ballard as the guest of honor. Luncheon guests included members Margay Wilmot, Marilou Crouch, Mazie Sikorski and Pauline Noerenberg.

Sheri, daughter of Don and Aileen Sanberg, 1258 N. Yale, celebrated her fifth birthday last Saturday. The afternoon party was attended by her sister, Lynn, and Janet and Cindy Pendelton, Kurt Lichtblau, Kay and Reid Lowell, Cathy Zare and Gary Gabel.

Parents of the Gopher Little League team held a winter get-together last Saturday night. After a session at the bowling lanes, the Bill Rosses, George Lillys, Bill Cardinells and the Bob Beuchners adjourned to the Lillys', 1426 N. Race, for a late snack.

AN AFTERNOON party was held Sunday in honor of Virginia, daughter of Dorothy and Chuck Catlin, 1609 W. Olive, on the occasion of her eighth birthday. Guests included her sister, Susan, Shirley Rozdalovsky, Adele Thompson, Cindy Ross, Cheri Clarkson, Sue Ann Shelkop and June Giuliani. Susie Shields was unable to attend.

Robert and Ronald, twin sons of Charles and Connie Dolejs, 1200 N. Race, recently celebrated their 10th birthday with dinner out and a trip to the Chicago Stadium to see a hockey game.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Geno, son of Gene and Ann Mardarino, 1264 N. Race, who will be undergoing surgery this week in Northwest Community hospital.

A 2-part birthday celebration was held last week for John, son of Eleanore and John Blomquist, 1248 N. Illinois. Last Wednesday night John was honored at a family supper party with his sister, Elaine, brother, Bobby, and school friend, James Keane. Later in the evening they were joined for birthday cake and coffee by his aunt, Mrs. George Von Open, and cousins, Sharon and Eileen, of Des Plaines.

The following Saturday the Blomquists traveled to Chicago, where John, who was 14, was co-guest of honor with his cousin, John, who was 15, at a family party held at the home of his aunt, Mrs. J. Spalding.

LAST FRIDAY was moving day for Bill and Jerri Rix, formerly of 1244 N. Chicago, and friends and neighbors are happy to learn the Rixes are not leaving Arlington Heights. They will be apartment dwellers temporarily, while waiting for their new home near Palatine rd. to be completed.

Jackie, daughter of Mary and Ray Funk, 1401 Clarendon, was honored at a family dinner November 28, with sister, Teri, and friend, Sue Ann Herbert, attending. The following Saturday Jackie invited school friends, Linda Wieditz, Laurie Nelson, Karen Anderson, Margie Phillips, Kristen Reeves, Kathy Schmidt and Kathy Wood, to join her for party fun, as she extinguished the eight candles on her cake.

Hugh and Phyllis Bredenbeck and sons, Fritz and Bill, recently returned home to 1706 W. Oakton, from a 10-day business and pleasure trip to Linstrom, Minn., where they stayed with Phyllis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson. Since their trip covered the Thanksgiving holiday, the Bredenbecks enjoyed celebrating with family and friends they hadn't seen in many months.

A LUNCHEON and movie party was held Saturday afternoon to celebrate the 10th birthday of Tommy, son of Don and Corrine Green, 1330 N. Race. Guests included Ronnie and Steve Mitchell, Briggs Blackburn and John Garland.

Last Friday night the Birthday club met at the home of Doris Koser, 1327 N. Illinois, to honor Mary Kale. Guests included Shirlee Pircher, Addie Fairchild, Jo Lamposona, Helen Marineau and Barbara Bade.

Last Thursday night Briggs, son of Warren and Joan Blackburn, 1326 N. Race, was honored on the occasion of his 11th birthday at a family party. Guests included his sisters, Alison and Kris, and cousins, Holly, Robin, Keith and Dale Anderson from Palatine, and his great-aunt, Mrs. Joseph Heizer of Fox Lake. The following night Briggs had as his overnight guests Tom Green and Ronnie Mitchell.

Lori, daughter of Jack and Helen Martin, 1337 N. Chicago, celebrated her fifth birthday Thursday afternoon with a party for Donna Kirstein, Kathy Koser, Donna Murphy, Judy Lindholm, Cathy Cocker and her brother, Douglas, and sister, Elizabeth.

Saturday evening Vaneta and Ray Kellogg, 1341 N. Wilke, joined three other couples, all of whom have known each other since Ray's college days at Northwestern, for a buffet dinner at the Drake hotel in Chicago. The occasion was a farewell party for one couple that is moving to Detroit.

Sunday night a family party was held in honor of Tommy, son of Virginia and Lyle Miller, 1200 N. Chicago, who was 6.

LAST WEEK Martin and Mag Corley, 1326 N. Chicago, were called upon to act as a host and hostess for the National 4-H Club Congress dinner, given by Martin's employer, Coates & Clark, for the national and state winners of sewing achievement, and held at the Mayfair Room of the Blackstone hotel, Chicago. Later in the evening the Corleys accompanied the youngsters to the Aragon ballroom, which had been reserved for the evening, to chaperone them for several hours of square and round dancing.

Last Sunday night Carol, daughter of Dick and Ruth Randle, 1448 N. Yale, celebrated her fourth birthday with a family dinner at home with one set of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Woods of Chicago. The following evening Carol was the celebrant at a party with her other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Randle of Chicago, attending.

Robert and Rae Martin, 1614 Oakton, and children Sara Ann and Brian, recently returned from a 10-day visit with Robert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Martin in Des Moines. In addition to being able to be with their family over the Thanksgiving holiday, another high point of the holiday was to travel to the Iowa-Notre Dame football game in a private football railway car and attend a pregame cocktail party given by the Iowa athletic director.

A couple of shiny, new years for two 7-year-olds, Scott Edwards, 1612 Ridge, and Jo Anne Jarecki, 1537 Fernandez. Jo Anne served her birthday cake and ice cream to brother Michael, Dee Nielsen, Colleen Croghan, Pat Raabe, Cheryl Petersen and her cousin, Danny, on Saturday.

"C' mon to my house" said Scott, and Steve McGee, Mark Bartkowiak, Johnny Andejeski, Jeff Caplinger, Colleen Croghan and Michelle Atwood accepted his invitation for a funday, Sunday. Brother, Bruce, also played an active part in the celebrating. Incidentally, Barbara and Jack, and the boys were in Madison, Wis., for a Thanksgiving with Jack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Cox of Sacramento, Cal., who stayed a week with son and daughter-in-law, Bill and Deloris Cox, and their children Patty and Doug, in October, and then went on to tour Illinois, returned to spend a few days with them again just before Thanksgiving.

JO ANN RUGGERI was hostess at a baby shower, Sunday for Ann Lowe. Additional guests were Carol McCullagh, Carol Kendall, Loretta Skiera, Mary Grant, Gayle Pustaver, Maryl Anderson and Marlene Hajek.

Vince and Louise Beuder, 1525 Ridge ave., enjoyed a day of Christmas shopping and shoving in Chicago last Saturday. One of the things Louise brought home was a cold.

Bob and Beryl Wittemore, 1720 Fernandez, are back after two weeks in Clearwater Fla., were they were the guests of Beryl's sister and her husband, Bonnie and Wes Leline. Since Beryl's parents, grandmother, an aunt and uncle, as well as some cousins, were also there, it was quite a family reunion.

The Cliff Hartreys, George Cokers, Herb Herbecks and the Edwards all helped Jack and Margareet Barney to observe their 22nd wedding anniversary at a pizza party Saturday, in their home at 1730 Ridge ave.

Everythings okay with Kaye. It's good to hear that Herbert Kaye, 1529 N. Patton, has almost completely recovered from his losing bout with a commuter train some weeks ago and is able to be back at his bridge-teaching job at Palatine high school.

December 6 was a special day at 811 Lynwood—a birthday for Jack Peck. (A SERIOUSLY INJURED when his motorcycle collided with an auto at the corner of Euclid and Northwest hwy. in Arlington Heights early Monday night was David Keller, 19, of 1016 N. Kennicott. He was listed in fair condition at Northwest Community hospital with both legs fractured, possible internal injuries, and chin lacerations. The car was driven by Delores J. Perry of Park Ridge, who was not reported injured. (A

Arlington Greens

December games of the Arlington Greens round robin bridge tournament were played last Friday evening. Hosting for the month were the Thomas McCooks, William Lebsocks, George Robys, Howard Wolfmyers, Walt Browns and the Howard Schicks. The three top scores to date are Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Recht, 11,460; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Tomaso, 10,910; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wolfmeyer, 10,290.

Kick-off event of the holiday season was the Christmas dance held at the VFW hall last Saturday evening. Sixty-five Greens couples and their guests attended the annual affair.

Hosting cocktail parties before the dance were the Ben Lockharts, Paul Hoods, John Cowards, John Mundells, Don Petersons and the Ken Woehlcks. The Angelo Pettenuzzos and John Delaneys were among the early breakfast hosts afterwards.

Mrs. Kay Warman, 1115 N. State rd., held a get-acquainted coffee for newcomer Mrs. Mathew Weber on Monday of last week. Fifteen neighborhood ladies attended the morning gathering, also observing the birthday of Evelyn Jahnke.

MR. AND MRS. Charles Anderson, 1117 N. Douglas, spent the Thanksgiving weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Bell in McKeesport, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and daughter, Linda, of 1134 N. Dryden, motored to Cedar Rapids for a weekend visit with grandmother, Mrs. Henry L. Davis. They arrived home on Sunday.

The Al Kargos, 618 E. Clarendon, jetted home last weekend from Miami Beach, ending their 9-day vacation. Sunning, swimming and the deep sea fishing stories made facinating listening for their daughters, Ellen and Jeane, who remained at home with visiting grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Kargol of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Epsky, 913 E. Olive, hosted a preholiday gathering of sewing club members and their husbands last Saturday evening. Attending the buffet supper were the Amos Kalkhoffs, Karl Buttstads, Fred Dargatzes, Richard Evens, George Mahoneys and the Denny Herberschoffs of Palatine.

AMONG THE youngsters celebrating birthdays last week were 4-year-old John Lockhart, 606 E. Clarendon, who celebrated the occasion last Friday afternoon with Lisa Schlack, Paul Tyrell, Steven Danna and Bobby Tomaso.

Seven-year-old Sandra Jahnke, 1116 N. Belmont, hosted an after school party Friday for 11 classmates and neighborhood friends.

Also turning seven was Connie Johnson, 709 E. Olive, who observed the occasion Saturday. Attending her afternoon party were Nancy Peterson, Margie and Linda Gildemeister, Barbara Langhenry and Sharon Schick.

Julie Ravas, 1102 N. Beverly, celebrated her sixth birthday Saturday afternoon with Joan and Gayle Zimmer, Chris Miller, Carol Haldeman and Barbara Lindsey as guests. (A we'll deliver

any Gas appliance and install before Christmas for as little as $5 down, 36 months to pay!

This Christmas give Mom the delight of a new gas appliance. Automatic convenience features save her time, make her work lighter. Northern Illinois Gas will deliver your gift gas appliance and install before Christmas if you give reasonable notice. Our price includes delivery, normal installation, and service for a year.

Gas Range offers "walk-away" cooking. Mom just sets the automatic timer, puts the food in the oven and walks away. When dinner is cooked, heat automatically shuts off. Amazing burner-with-a-brain ends pot watching. And only gas has smokeless, "closed door" broiling.

Gas Dryer gives instant heat. No bone-dry baking action—just gentle warmth. Clothes come out fresh and sweet smelling. Operates for one-fifth the cost of other dryers.

Gas Refrigerator for constant cold —no temperature fluctuation due to noisy on-off cycling. (Big gas benefit.) 10-year warranty period on refrigeration system. No defrosting ever. Fully automatic ice cube maker, too. No fill, no spill.

VYING FOR PLACES on the two-member debate team to appear on WBBM-TV Saturday, Dec. 9, are four members of the Prospect high school debating group—Chris Hanks (at the rostrum), 4605 Forest View, Northbrook; Bill Rush, 303 N. Drury, Arlington Heights; Dick Jorgansen, 105 N. Phelps, Arlington Heights; and Jim Hardt, 522 N. Elm, Mount Prospect. The two members of the Prospect team will oppose a team from New Trier high school on the television "Rebuttal" series featuring teams from Chicago-area high schools. Subject of the Saturday debate will be "Resolved that both the governments of Communist and Nationalist China should be represented in the United Nations" with the Prospect debaters taking the negative argument. The high school was selected to appear on the debate series through an elimination competition in September, with 32 schools appearing in the first-round debates. If successful Saturday, Prospect will appear in a second round of debates which begins in late February. (ACM

A LIVE NATIVITY SCENE will highlight the Christmas season at Granny's Griddlecakes, Wilke and Campbell, Arlington Heights. Actors, singers and live animals will take the place of the traditional cardboard cutouts. Above are Sharon McKay as Mary, Guy Perna as Joseph, and George Palmer as the shepherd. The scene may be seen from 5:30 to 8 p. m. tonight through Dec. 23. (A

New Civic Association Holds Meet

The first general membership meeting of the Southwest Civic Association of Arlington Heights was held last week, with about 65 residents attending.

Village President John G. Woods welcomed the new association into the framework of the Arlington Heights community. Richard Glantz, village trustee, showed slides and answered questions on the Dec. 9 storm sewer referendum.

Police Chief L. W. Calderwood, guest speaker, explained recent developments in law enforcement and discussed his own legal problems connected with suppression of the novel "Tropic of Cancer."

DURING THE business session, members were appointed to various activity committees. Paul Marx will coordinate the work of the committees.

The membership drive is continuing under the direction of Chet Gawlik, and anyone interested in joining the association should contact Gawlik or one of the other officers or directors.

The association serves the area bounded by Euclid, Wilke and Fernandez. (A

Yule Program For Mr.-Mrs. Club Friday

The Mr. and Mrs. club of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights will hold its next monthly meeting on Friday, Dec. 8.

The Christmas program, held after a potluck dinner and business meeting at 6:45 p.m., will feature the Mellotones, a girls' vocal group from Prospect high school. Susan Johnson and Robert Blair, who won second place in the fox trot contest at the Harvest Moon Festival in Chicago, will present a dance exhibition. A white elephant game will complete the evening with each person attending bringing a white elephant article to be used as a prize. (A

'Live' Nativity Staged at Eatery

Something unusual - a live nativity scene - will attempt to recreate the true spirit of Christmas beginning tonight (Thursday) at Granny's Griddlecakes, Campbell and Wilke, Arlington Heights.

Actors and singers, instead of lifeless statues or cardboard cutouts, will recreate Christ's birth and sing some of the lesser known as well as the traditional Christmas carols.

Sharon McKay will portray Mary, Guy Perna will portray Joseph, and George Palmer will take the part of the shepherd in the nativity scene.

ON ALTERNATE nights, Charlie Martin and Mike Plant will enact a scenario called "The Littlest Angel."

Live animals will add the final touch to the meaningful manger scene, recapturing the sentiment of long ago.

The nativity scene can be seen in the field next to Granny's parking lot every night between 5:30 and 8 p.m. beginning tonight and extending through Dec. 23. (A

'Y' Women's Group Sells Fruit Cakes

Holiday fruit cakes in gaily decorated 2-pound tins are being sold by the Women's auxiliary of Northwest Suburban YMCA. The fruit cakes are baked by Manor Baking company and have an enclosed greeting card for holiday giving.

The auxiliary suggests these as ideal gifts for "someone who has everything" or for that person whose preferences in personal gifts are a big question mark.

THEY MAY be purchased at $3.70 per fruit cake at the main desk of the 'Y' or by calling Mrs. Earl Ogier at Cl 3-5791.

Proceeds of the sale will help to pay the pledge of $5,000 made by the auxiliary to the YMCA's snack bar. (AME

The Couples club of the Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church is having its annual Christmas banquet, "Twilight and Tinsel," at the John Evans restaurant, Evanston, at 7 p.m. December 16.

An evening of Christmas music will be furnished by Bill Pierce and Dick Anthony, nationally known gospel musicians who perform regularly over radio station WMBI. Bill Pierce will be featured on the trombone as will Dick Anthony on the piano and both will perform vocally in solo and duet. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. John Holt at CL 3-2482.

Library News

By BETTY AINSLIE

The Christmas season belongs to children or adults young in heart. A time for many things, like reading aloud all the favorite stories that may have become a tradition in your home.

Arlington Heights public library's children's department is bursting at the seams with Christmas books old and new—books just right for bedtime reading.

The gift of reading aloud to your children is a precious thing only you can give and will help to acquaint even the youngest with the joy of books.

SOME OF the newer Christmas books at the library are, "The Noble Doll" by Coatsworth, "It's Time for Christmas" by Sechrist, "Deck the Stable" by Eastwick, "Bitzli and the Big Bad Wolf" by Weil, "The Year of the Christmas Dragon" by Sawyer, "Christmas Stories from Many Lands" by Wernecke, "The Christmas Donkey" by Swedberg, "Kaatje and the Christmas Compass" by Seymour.

You might also try out some of the following gift suggestion books before you actually decide to add them to your child's book shelf:

"James and the Giant Peach" by Buckert, "The Happy Lion's Quest" by Fatio, "Safety Can Be Fun" by Leaf, "Little Bear's Visit" by Minarik, "Tasha Tudor Book of Fairy Tales" by Tudor, "Madeline in London" by Bemelmans, "Hubert the Traveling Hippopotamus" by Lindop.

BOOKS THAT might appeal to the older child are: "Fancy Free" by Cavanna, "The Glorious Conspiracy" by Williamson, "Race to the Golden Spike" by Wellman, "Powder Boy on the Monitor" by Shirreffs, "The Luck of Daphne Tolliver" by Friermood, "The Bronze Bow" by Speare, "Poor Felicity" by Watson.

"Galileo and the Scientific Revolution" by Fermi, "Lincoln's Secret Weapon" by Wise, "Occupation Adventure" by Jim Thorne, "African Encounter" by Collis, "Mystery of the Haunted Pool" by Whitney, and "The Star-Spangled Rooster" by Grant.

Snow on the ground, fire in the fireplace and busy youngters. You can hold some of the holiday excitement in check by gathering your pajama-clad children around you for a longer story hour these evenings. So make reading aloud a part of pre-Christmas fun for your whole family. A

to HAWAII

MARCH 9 through MARCH 25, 1962

Join your friends and neighbors in the most glorious, fun-filled vacation of a lifetime and come with us to the Pleasure Playland of the Pacific

These are the gentle islands of the Pacific, beloved by travelers since time began as the loveliest and most delightful haven in the world. A trip to Hawaii is a dream come true. The beauty of the islands, the year round perfection of the climate, its easy, carefree atmosphere accented by strange Polynesian pageantry, romantic music and dances, its unbelievable profusion of flowers are the background for a holiday planned with glorious Hawaiian leisureness and hospitality.

You will enjoy the 20-acre beachside estate of the luxurious Hilton Hawaiian Village with rolling surf, a private lagoon and five pools. There's swimming, surf riding, skin diving, water skiing and sailing. You'll be royally entertained by the traditional Luau fest and savor exotic Oriental foods.

No trip to Hawaii is complete without a hop over to the neighboring islands:

Kauai, the Garden Isle with its lush tropical beauty, the breath taking Waimea Canyon, "Spouting Horn," a noisy salt water geyser erupting near shore, Lalalau lookout with a breathtaking view, a 4,000 foot drop to the fertile valley bounded by razor sharp cliffs, a memorable visit to Fern Grotto, a fantastic scene with thousands of ferns growing downward from the roof of an enormous cavern.

Hawaii, the largest island of them all, the primitive island with towering active volcanoes, black sand beaches, fern grottos, palm lined shores, millions of orchids and tropical plants.

Kona, where sportsmen go for some of the most exciting deep-sea fishing in the world. You'll meet and love the unspoiled people in these neighbor islands and take back with you some of their carefree spirit, their kindness, and their deep satisfaction in life.

A Stop-over in San Francisco

Something new and exciting has been added for our second annual Hawaiian Holiday—fly jet from O'Hare in midmorning and land in San Francisco about noon. We spend the rest of the day in a grand tour of one of America's most interesting cities. Your trip includes cocktails at the famous "Top O' The Mark" and an unforgettable view of the city, a gourmet dinner at Fisherman's Wharf, and Chinatown at night. After a restful sleep at the New Hilton Inn, we board another jet the next morning and we are whisked over the Pacific to Honolulu, with the rest of the day to get settled in our twin-bedded rooms in the Village Tower of the Hawaiian Village Hotel.

Clip this coupon and write for your folder on the complete details of Paddock's Hawaiian Holiday. Christmas may not be "around the corner" yet, but start saving now for the once-in-a-lifetime vacation, a respite from the cold and the snow at just the right time. Mail to PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Please send me your folder on the Paddock's Hawaiian Holiday tour in March, 1962.

Northwest Suburbs Study

Planner Reports on College Survey Goal

Main speaker at a joint meeting of the curriculum and population subcommittees of the North Suburban Regional college survey last week was Dr. Ray Mills of the Northeast Metropolitan Planning commission.

For the area currently under study, a population growth to 2 million can be expected within 10 years, Dr. Mills stated. He pointed out that between 1950 and 1960 the population of the survey area has increased by 309,000, more than a 100 per cent growth. Projections for the next 10 years indicate an increase of population of 316,000, with the same actual increase projected for 1970-1980.

THE REGIONAL college survey includes the general northnorthwest suburban area of nine high school districts — New Trier, Arlington-Prospect, Palatine - Schaumburg, Niles, Glenbrook, Ridgewood, Highland Park, Maine and Evanston.

The survey, a legal prerequisite to the establishment of a public junior college district, will determine whether the local area qualifies under state laws for such a college, what types of educational programs are needed, if present buildings can be used to house the proposed college and if the area can support financially and by enrollment such a thirteenth and fourteenth grade school.

FINAL DECISION on the establishment of a junior college district will be determined by voters in a special referendum if the survey indicates the requirements for the school can be met.

Addressing the joint subcommittees last week, Dr. Mills stressed that determining the needs of any specific area in terms of growth it is necessary to measure births, deaths and migration as well as the number and types of job opportunities.

Dr. Mills further indicated the greatest employment growth is shown in the semi-professional fields including decision-making jobs in research, advertising, law, educational positions, and personal contact jobs such as selling, adjudication and government.

The speed of change is difficult to evaluate but there are definite implications for the type of educational opportunities needed, according to Dr. Mills. He cautioned those responsible for educational planning to constantly evaluate changing trends so that the program will reflect local, state and national needs.

A SECOND speaker at the meeting was Dr. John Speer, chairman of the curriculum committee. He stated it would be almost impossible to provide too much education, especially at the professional and semi-professional levels. There has been a sharp decline, he said, in the unskilled fields and very little growth in semi-skilled needs.

He pointed out a high proportion of the unemployed today are people in the unskilled labor market. According to Dr. Speer, this indicates a general need for a higher degree of training at the post high school level. (B-8

WILL THIS BE THE YEAR?

Many worldly wise men have warned us that this might be the year when civilization will destroy itself. If so, the message of Christ and the Church is the only offer of Peace and Eternal Safety.
Live this year as though it were your last—in Church.

Forest View News

Saturday night the C. Wade Backeys, S. Busse rd., entertained the Chris Hilgemans and the Dennis Kays for cocktails and late dinner.

Mrs. Gerturde Brodner of Chicago was a weekend guest of the Edward Smalenbergers, S. Arlington Heights rd.

Miss Patricia Mitchell, presently in the Navy, was a recent house guest of the Dennis J. Kays, S. Busse rd., until November 25 when she was married to Mrs. Kay's brother, James Lazowski. The wedding took place in St. Raymond church, Mount Prospect, and Father Doyle officiated at the nuptial mass.

Miss Mitchell's brothers, Lynn and Gordon, sister, Karen, and aunt, Mrs. Grace De Velder, came from Rochester, N. Y., to attend the wedding. James' brother, Bud, was best man and his sister, Marion Kay, was matron of honor.

An afternoon dinner and reception was hosted by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Lazowski of Antioch, for friends and relatives at an inn in Wheeling.

The couple returned to Santa Ana, Cal., where Pat is stationed and where they will make their home.

AFTER THE reception for James and Pat on the 25th, friends and relatives gathered at the Kay home to celebrate the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lazowski, Marion's parents.

Jimmy Homer, Golf terr., was 5 December 2 and celebrated with an excursion to Santa's Village. Guests were Mike Dunsmore of Elk Grove and Scotty Dornan, Golf rd.

Diane Turner is home recouperating from the measles.

Thanksgiving was spent in Chicago by the Otto Gorgius family, S. Busse rd., with Otto's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willy Gorgius. Tuesday Loraine and Mrs. Elise Himmelberg spent the day shopping with Mrs. Himmelberg, having dinner with the Gorgiuses later.

Sunday afternoon guests of Eunice Hutchings, S. Arlington Heights rd., were Mrs. H. Spatz and Mrs. Elizabeth Kenney of Oak Lawn.

Monday Mrs. Hutchings had a birthday luncheon for Shirley Smital and Myrtle Jevne. Other guests were Ruth Grismer, Doris Larson, Julia Luczak, Goldy Baldassari, Marge Gorr, Virginia Brodnan and "Scoop" Larson.

THE CARROLL Carter family, formerly of Council trail, have moved into their new home at 4807 El Caminito pl., La Crescenta, Cal.

Lawrence De Lucchio returned to his home on Lake Briarwood Saturday morning, after undergoing minor surgery in Elmhurst hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuhl Jr. of Morton Grove were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holfeld, Briarwood dr.

Rex Leathers of Fort Worth, Texas, was a Sunday dinner guest of the W. E. Teskes, Briarwood dr.

The Roger Bardwells of Lake Briarwood had as recent guests the C. M. Bardwells of Denver and R. W. Bardwell Sr., of Madison, Wis.

A WELCOME IS extended to new residents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Vander Ziel and five children, 1535 S. Arlington Heights rd., formerly from Minnesota. Also to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vyleta, 1706 Martha lane, Colonial Heights, and their three children.

Sunday evening visitors in the Leslie Kijak home, W. Algonquin rd., were the Louis Behrens family of Huntley.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rossberg, Jay and Cheryl, W. Golf rd., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Dome in Chicago. The Domes were celebrating their 20th anniversary and their daughter, Roberta's 15th birthday.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Bernard Olson and Janet, Elk Grove rd., enjoyed hearing "The Messiah" at East Maine high school.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Hanke, S. Douglas ave., had as weekend house guests Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Brunner and daughter of Medford, Wis. Saturday evening the Hankes also entertained the William Schaffers and the Ralph Von Helms. Sunday the Hnakes and the Brunners were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Grotz of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pine, S. Belmont ave., entertained the John Dyes, Everett Pines, Mrs. Clara Johnson and Mrs. Hilda Scheiler for Thanksgiving dinner.

The Russell Andersons, Noyes ave., entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner for 13 relatives.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wulff, S. Douglas, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Henry Litkea of Des Plaines.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Louis, Golf rd., entertained Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glewicz and son for Thanksgiving dinner.

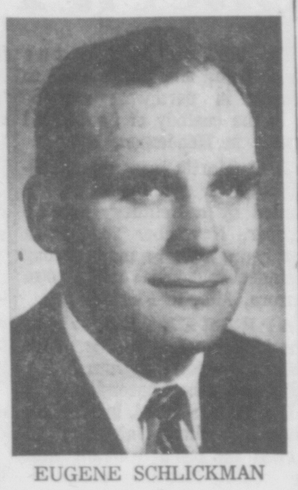
Schlickman Named To Bar Committee

Appointment of Eugene F. Schlickman, 712 N. Fernandez, Arlington Heights, to the committee on intergovernmental relations of the American Bar association's local governmental division was made last week.

Schlickman, a village trustee, is the only Illinois attorney on the committee.

A member of the Arlington Heights village board since 1959, Schlickman currently is chairman of its legal and legislative committee. In 1960 he was recipient of the Jaycees' distinguished service award as "young man of the year."



EUGENE SCHLICKMAN

SCHLICKMAN, in addition to his village government activity, has been a scoutmaster and an instructor on foreign policy. He was graduated from Georgetown Law Center, Washington, D.C., and subsequently was admitted to the practice of law in the federal district court for the District of Columbia and Illinois.

Schlickman and his wife, Margaret, are both active in local Republican organizations. They and their four children have lived in Arlington Heights since 1956. (A

Prospect High

Christmas Concert to Have 260-Voice Choir

Christmas music, with the depth of sound from 260 young voices and a 91-piece symphonic band, will ring from the Prospect high school field house Sunday, Dec. 10, at 3 p.m.

The annual Christmas concert of the high school is presented as a school and community event with no admission charge.

A candlelight processional to the strains of "O Come All Ye Faithful" will open the program.

AN EQUALLY symbolic closing will feature "Silent Night" with the gradual dimming of house lights until only the candlelight is visible.

Other Christmas carols included in the program are "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem, with the newer "Carol of the Drum" listed on the program as well.

Band numbers will feature Leroy Anderson's "Sleigh Ride," the overture to the Messiah by Handel, "Ring Those Christmas Bells" and "Two Chorale Preludes." The band is under the direction of Edward Volz.

One of the program highlights will be the "Song of Christmas" by Fred Waring, featuring the chorus and soloists under the direction of Sterling Mische. Soloists for the number will be Judy Seegers, Betty Janssen, Bob Bowker, Dick Gay, John Metsig, with Mrs. Michele Johns at the organ and pianists Helen Stavros and Gayle Travers.

SPEAKING parts for the number will be narrated by members of the school speech department under the direction of Lee Hollenbeck. The narrators will be Lynn Carroll, Jenny Joern, Newell Krogman, John Robbins and Dale Vivrito.

WITH EXPERT HELP from Mrs. Michele Johns and Sterling Mische of the Prospect high school music department, soloists Bob Bowker, Dick Gay, Judy Seegers and Betty Janseen obviously are enjoying their work in preparation for the Christmas Concert set for Sunday, Dec. 10, at 3 p.m. in the high school fieldhouse. Participating in the concert will be the 91-piece symphonic band and a 260-voice chorus. (ACM

Film, Lecture on Spain Is Slated

Karl Robinson's "Story of Spain" will be featured in the Travel and Adventure series sponsored by High School District 214's evening adult education program.

The film-lecture, scheduled for Prospect high school's Little Theater at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 12, will feature what has been calld "the finest portrayal of the Spanish people and their country."

Included in the film is Madrid, its university, Prado art treasures. Botin's 250 year old restaurant, the unusual Grassy clock collection, and the early evening sidewalk cafes.

MARKET DAY at Toledo, the sleepy village of Segovia, Sevilla's cathedral and Moorish tower, the Alhambra in Granada, and the gypsies and their caves are other features.

The color film also visits the country's north coast, a gay street festival in Pamplona, Barcelona, and Costa Brava.

Antigone Cast Is Selected

Included in the 10-member cast are Charles Vlcek, chorus; Sue Allison, Antigone; Ray Voelker, Haemon; Richard Keslinke, Creon; Diane Orzechowski, Ismene; Toni Marsala, nurse.

Charles King, messenger; Scott Banks, third guard; Linda Hosek, Eurydice; and Allan Massie, page.

LYOVONNE TRAD will direct the play, which is scheduled for the Little Theater February 15 and 16.

A cutting from the presentation will be used as the school's entry in the district speech contest February 17.

Student assistants to the director are Gerry De Zonna and Rita Klabe. Dan Carlsen will design the settings while Robert Johnston is in charge of lighting. (ACM

Five Prospect Girls Possible AFS Pupils

Five girls from Prospect high school are potential foreign exchange students under the American Field Service program.

The five candidates were selected after investigation by a panel of teachers and student council members from the high school.

The names of the five girls have been sent to the New York headquarters of AFS where the final selection will be made.

THE PROSPECT students are Merrikay Borman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Borman Jr., 303 E. Willow, Prospect Heights; Ceinwin Klepper, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert F. Klepper, 404 N. Elmhurst, Prospect Heights; Mary Pinatti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Primo Pinatti, 1717 Wood, Prospect Heights; Betsy Morse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Morse, 200 S. Maple, Prospect Heights; and Carol Bertoglio, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Bertoglio, 402 MacArthur, Mount Prospect.

Students selected to participate in the AFS foreign exchange program will live with a family in a foreign land and attend the local school. Successful candidates will have a chice of the geographic area to which they will be sent.

During the 1961-62 school year Prospect high school student Tom Gewecke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Gewecke, 507 Na-Wa-Ta, Mount Prospect, is spending the year at Solothurn, Switzerland.

A student from Arlington high school, Craig Quackenbush, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Quackenbush, 545 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, spent last year in Finland as an AFS foreign exchange student.

THIS YEAR Prospect high school is host to a foreign-exchange student from Karachi, Pakistan — Asad Ullah Khawaja. Last year the school had a girl exchange student from Madrid, Spain.

At Arlington high school this year a girl from France is the foreign student. Other foreign exchange students at Arlington high school have included a girl from Argentina and two boys from Germany.

Selection of the five candidates from Prospect high school came after potential exchange students had submitted essays. The academic records were reviewed by the selection panel and the candidates were interviewed.

Chairman of the Prospect high school American Field Service selection committee is John E. McGaughey, mathematics instructor at the school. (ACM

Propose New CD Advisory Board

Village Manager L. A. Hanson was directed by the Arlington Heights village board Monday night to confer with village Civil Defense Director Wallace Daughtry and determine the need for and possible function of a CD advisory board, which Daughtry had asked be appointed.

It was suggested the present CD organization might be capable of assuming such activities as were planned for the advisory board. (A

NORTH MOUNT PROSPECT

Troop 471 held a court of awards recently during which 14 girls received badges. Five-year pins were awarded to Donna Gitzke, Bron Gustafson, Sandy Logan, Carole Medal, Barbara Rohan, Janet Rohner, Alice Thompson and Leslie Vinon. Activities of the troop this fall have included horseback riding, a roller skating party and a Halloween party. Troop leader is Mrs. Medal.

Three Brownie troops visited the Mars Candy company in Chicago last month. Leaders accompanying the group included Mrs. Dahlquist, Mrs. Gafford and Mrs. Koeder. The girls received sample candy bars to munch on the bus trip home. The troops participating were, 293, 105 and 100.

SOUTH ARLINGTON

Intermediate troop 131, Mrs. Hogenback, Mrs. Christopherson and Mrs. Stark, leaders, entertained another troop to fulfill the homemaking requirement for second class rank. The girls made their own refreshments. Brownie troop 115 were the guests and were taught some Girl Scout singing games by the older girls. Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Jensen are the Brownie leaders.

SOUTH MOUNT PROSPECT

When troop 559 held a court of awards recently, badges were presented as follows: adventure, Pam Baker, Cynthia Bertrand, Cynthia Boddy, Claire Chelotti, Kathleen Halstead, Janet Hesness, Karen McCartney, Pam Peterson, Joyce Rezny, Linda Rich, Becky Rink, Jan Selli, Elle Smeltzer and Robin Starck; outdoor cook, Terry Jewell and Susan McDade; child care, Kathleen Halstead.

Troop 179 used new American and Girl Scout flags at investiture ceremonies for Susan Cermel and Cynthia Mayer. Mrs. Eugene Gallup, neighborhood chairman, and several mothers were present and also saw 15 second class badges presented in a court of awards. Star year pins were distributed.

Intermediate troop 142, Mrs. Jack Buyers, leader, has completed the binding of a book incorporating the various subjects included in second class requirements.

Brownies under the leadership of Mrs. Grant Disbrow made paper corsages to be given to their mothers at the December 4 investiture. Two Brownies from troop 708, with leaders Mrs. Henry Prochaska and Mrs. Philip Rives, were on hand to help.

Brownies of troop 743, Mrs. Richard Howe, leader, held investment ceremonies for Billie Lou Rodely. Brownies of troop 703, with Mrs. Alfred H. Moldenhauer as leader, have made Christmas gift tags from used Christmas cards.

Brownie troop 139 has Mrs. Paul E. Dempsey Jr., as its leader and Mrs. Eugene Grewe as co-leader. Mrs. Tony Crnich is the new troop committee chairman. (B9

Capture Third Check Forger

The third member of the check fraud ring which tried to operate in northwest suburbs is in the custody of federal agents in Henderson, Ky.

J. C. Martin was apprehended by a federal agent accompanied by a Kentucky state trooper, November 28, just a few hours after he made a long distance telephone call from Aurora, Mo., to Florida.

APPARENTLY, he was checking the fate of one of his colleagues, Mrs. Jo Ann Bates, with whom he absconded from a Des Plaines motel, leaving her husband, Allan Bates, to be picked up on a warrant held by Rolling Meadows police.

Martin and Mrs. Bates fled to Florida, but upon learning that Bates had been sentenced, Martin hurriedly left for Las Vegas. Working his way back eastward, he made several long distance phone calls which marked his route.

A road block was set up covering St. Louis, Cincinnati and Louisville, and Martin's 1957 Cadillac was located. When arrested, he had a loaded gun in the glove compartment, and still had 58 Illinois Owens Glass company payroll checks in his possession.

HE ADMITTED cashing an estimated $6,000 worth of the checks.

Mrs. Bates is still being held in Florida. She and Martin will both be returned to Chicago for indictment. (AKP

High Schools Slate Survey For Fallout

A survey of school buildings to determine the amount of fallout protection provided has been authorized by the school board of Arlington-Prospect high school district 214.

The survey, to be conducted without cost to the school district, will be a part of the general nation-wide survey recently authorized by the federal government. The national survey will cost more than $90 million.

A discussion of survey plans for Illinois was held last Saturday in Chicago with the Army Engineer corps heading the meeting.

ATTENDING for the high school was Edward Gilbert, assistant to the superintendent. The Arlington Heights group was headed by Wallace Daughtry, civil defense director.

The survey, to be conducted by private engineering and architectural firms under contract, will determine which buildings in various areas offer the greatest fallout protection.

After such buildings are located, owners will be asked to grant permission for use as fallout shelters in an emergency.

The buildings will be marked and food, water and other emergency supplies would be stockpiled.

IN APPROVING a survey of high school facilities, school board members expressed awareness of the need for such a survey to aid in providing the best protection for students.

The vote at the meeting Monday was limited to approval of the survey, with actual approval of the buildings as fallout shelters to be discussed on completion of the survey. (ACM

December 14 Foreign Trade Talks Slated

A teacher and a businessman will discuss facts about and effects of foreign trade agreements at a free public meeting at 8 p.m. in Pioneer park fieldhouse, north room, Thursday, Dec. 14, sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights.

Speakers will be Allan Otto, teacher, and Charles Hoffstetter, businessman.

HOFFSTETTER is an executive of Ace Fastener company and past president of the International Trade Organization, and has appeared before the House and Senate committees on foreign trade to testify about the effects of various trade programs.

He will speak next Thursday on the effects on business of the reciprocal trade acts, and discuss President Kennedy's proposed trade agreements act currently under discussion in Washington.

He also will give his views on what can and should be done to help industries injured by competition from other nations.

OTTO, A resident of Arlington Heights, is a member of the Prospect high school staff, and teaches social science. He will present the theory and laws applied to foreign trade agreements and the effect of the European economic blocks on the United States economy.

There will be an opportunity for questions and discussion following the talks, and the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights will provide coffee and refreshments. (A

To Open Two Gymnasiums In Arlington

As "Mr Basketball" comes into full swing the demand for playing facilities increases.

To help fill the demand, the Arlington Heights Park District is opening two additional gyms. Starting this Saturday, Dec. 9, the Arlington Heights high school girls gym and the South Jr. high gym will be open for play from 1:00—4:00 p.m.

The gym at the high school will be limited to play by high schoolers and the South gym will be open to grade school and Jr. high students.

Play at the two locations will be open every Saturday, starting Dec. 9 through Feb. 24. The courts will also be open during the holidays Dec. 26, 27, 28, and 29) 1:00—4:00 p.m.

Cooperating with the park district to put on the program are the High school and Public school administrations, and the Arlington Heights Little League.

BOARD OF LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILLINOIS

Advertisement for Bids

The board of Local Improvements, Arlington Heights, Illinois, will receive sealed proposals for the construction of paving improvements in Miner Street from Douglas Avenue to Derbyshire Lane as provided in Special Assessment No. 149 (also known as Motor Fuel Tax Section 20-CS) until 8:00 P.M. on the 4th day of January 1962 at the office of the Village Clerk at the Village Hall, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

All Proposals received will be publicly opened and read aloud in the Village Hall at Arlington Heights, Illinois, at 8:00 P.M. on January 4, 1962.

The Contract Documents, including plans and specifications are on file and available for inspection at the office of the Village Clerk of the Village of Arlington Heights, at the Village Hall.

Copies of documents, including plans and specifications required for review for bidding purposes, may be obtained only from the Village Clerk by depositing $5.00 with the Village Clerk for each set of documents so obtained.

The full amount of the deposit for one set of documents and one-half of the deposit for any additional sets of documents will be refunded to each Bidder who submits a formal proposal to the Board of Local Improvements and who also returns the plans (and specifications on additional sets) in good condition to the Village Clerk within ten (10) days after his bid security has been returned to him.

Cash or certified check drawn on a solvent bank in the State of Illinois, payable without condition to the President of the Board of Local Improvements, Arlington Heights, Illinois, in an amount not less than (10%) of the bid shall be submitted with each Proposal.

No bid shall be withdrawn after the opening of Proposals without the consent of the Board of Local Improvements for a period of thirty (30) days after the scheduled time for closing bids.

The Board of Local Improvements reserves the right to reject any or all Proposals and to waive any technicalities.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory performance bond in the sum of the full amount of the Contract.

In general, the improvement on which Proposals are requested will require the installation, complete, of approximately 2170 tons of waterbound macadam base course, 854 tons of bituminous concrete binder and surface courses, 3185 lineal feet of concrete curb and gutter and 15,533 square feet of 5" concrete sidewalks and appurtenant construction.

Prospective bidders are hereby advised that a total of $32,-194.69 of the total project cost will be paid from Public Benefit Assessments which will be retired with Motor Fuel Tax funds.

Plans and specifications for this project were prepared by Consoer, Townsend and Associates, Consulting Engineers, 360 East Grand Avenue, Chicago 11, Illinois.

Payment will be made in Special Assessment Bonds and Vouchers bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum.

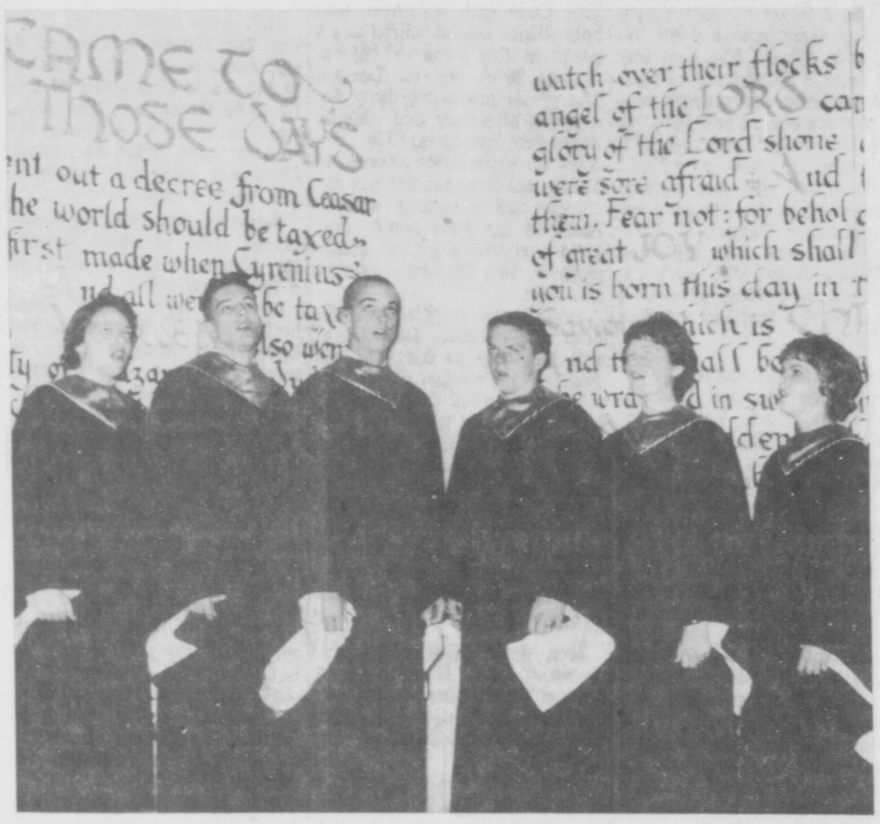
Arlington Presenting Annual Yule Concert



PART OF Arlington high's senior choir tune up for Sunday's Christmas concert scheduled in the boys' gym at 3 p.m. Over 450 students will participate in the impressive program.

Arlington high school's music department will deliver its annual Christmas present to the community Sunday afternoon in a "beautifully wrapped" concert at 3 p.m. in the boys' gym.

The young musicians will deliver their tidings vocally and instrumentally with some 450 participating. The concert annually draws a full house.

Included in the program are both traditional carols and modern compositions. Religious and festive backgrounds will enhance the setting, according to Frederick Schmoyer, music department head.

THE SENIOR choir's selections will include "Fanfare for Christmas," by Martin Shaw; and "The Song of Christmas," by Roy Ringwald; the latter will tell the story of the Nativity in Christmas songs, carols, and Biblical verses.

The concert band will play "Overture to the Messiah," by Handel; "Christmas Festival," by Leroy Anderson; "Sleigh Ride," by Leroy Anderson; and "Holiday," by Clare Grundman.

"There's a Song in the Air," by Hawley Ades; and "Bring a Torch, Jeannette Isabella," an old French carol, will be sung by the freshman girls' chorus, accompanied by Suzanne Anderson.

THE FRESHMAN boys' chorus, accompanied by Nancy Bohac, will offer "Lo! How a Rose E'er Blooming," Praetorius; and the traditional "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

F. M. Shumaker's "Christ Child Divine," and W. H. Neidlinger's "The Birthday of a King" will be sung by the treble clef chorus, accompanied by Patricia Faust.

The allegro chorus will present "No Candle Was There and No Fire," Lehman; and "Patapan," a Bergundian carol. Accompanists are Carolyn Smith and Ellen Everhart.

A HARP will accompany the girls' glee club's "There Is No Rose," "This Little Babe," and "Deo Gracias," all from Benjamin Britten's "The Ceremony of Carols." Mrs. Betty Dixon will play the harp while Nancy Bohac and Susan Braasch accompany with the piano.

The audience will participate in the singing of traditional carols.

Robert Wolff and Vincent Ahnquist are directing vocal music for the concert. (ACM

Re-Register To Vote in Communities

Wheeling township residents who have not re-registered to vote may do so now at the offices of their respective village clerks or at the township office, 1818 E. Northwest hwy.

According to Dorothy Hauff, township clerk, residents of Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Wheeling and Buffalo Grove may register with their village clerks.

THOSE LIVING in unincorporated areas may register at the township office.

Previous voting records were destroyed in September to permit elimination of names of persons dead or no longer residing in the township. Since then, two registration days have been held in local polling places. (ACM

Church Dedication Held in Arlington

Special services last week marking the beginning of the Advent season were highlighted by dedication of the church parsonage and reception of 27 new members by Lutheran Church of the Cross, Arlington Heights.

The parsonage, at 1029 S. Pine ave., was dedicated by the Rev. Bruce K. Benander, pastor, during the congregation's first Advent tea and open house Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. Mr. Benander said the church board of administration met this week for a final report on the church's recent Every Member visitation program and to begin work on next year's budget, which will be proposed at the annual congregational meeting in January.

MONDAY NIGHT, Dec. 11, the board will meet with the Rev. Lavern Anderson of Chicago, regional director of the Board of American Missions, Augustana Lutheran church, to complete work on the budget.

A special congregational meeting has been called for Sunday, Dec. 10, in Pioneer park fieldhouse, immediately after the worship service, also in the fieldhouse, at 9:30 a.m.

Christmas Rush Permits only 'Necessary' Entertaining

Sidelights
Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

The first week is past of the customary two in December when almost everybody is so busy getting ready for Christmas that there's no time to entertain and the ones who are ready can't find anyone with time to be entertained. Always-necessary birthday and anniversary celebrations and a few belated Thanksgiving reports keep the Sidelights from being sidetracked at this time of year.

The Jack Guilfoil family, 801 S. Chestnut, returned early last week from a Thanksgiving weekend visit in Minneapolis at the home of Mrs. Guilfoil's cousin, Mrs. C. M. Williams.

An annual Thanksgiving vacation for the Leon Websters, 5 W. Olive, traditionally includes a week of deer hunting in Michigan in addition to the holiday celebration in Hastings with Mr. Webster's parents. Last year they returned without their buck; this year Webster reports many excellent shots. With a camera.

He and his wife had their rifles loaded, too, but the deer in northern Michigan apparently can read the papers and had evacuated before the season opened. The Websters have some beautiful pictures, though.

CHRISTOPHER Carstens was 6 years old Sunday, a just-right date to see the Village Theatre's "Grandmother Slyboots" presentation in Prospect high school. Christopher had the vital cake 'n' icecream part of his birthday with 12 local friends at a pre-show party in his home, 1014 N. Evergreen, then hosted them to the exciting play. He took Mom along, too.

The Howard Dawsons, 114 N. Forrest, returned Monday afternoon, still a little bit hoarse from cheering Navy on to victory over the Army team classic. Their son, Richard, a midshipman at Annapolis, is also among the many voiceless. Admittedly, all the wear and tear on the Dawsons' larynges did not happen at the game. The family had three talkative days together.

Steve Chase, 1007 N. Dunton, recently celebrated his ninth birthday with a dinner-and-games party. His guest list suffered a cut-back through the illness of a couple of friends, but with him for the fun were hale and hearty Andy Kehe, John Morrow and Eddie Chin, plus small-sized brother, Jeff.

THE CARL Crumrines, 110 S. Kennicott, belatedly celebrated their 24th wedding anniversary Monday night in the company of local friends, the Earl Pellands. The quartet attended the evening's presentation of "Bye, Bye Birdie" at the Erlanger theatre.

The November 25 wedding anniversary dates of the Robert Pomeroys, 103 E. Orchard, and the Don Armstrongs, 907 S. Dunton, were lost in the Thanksgiving shuffle as far as celebrating was concerned. A belated celebration being better than none at all, the double duo marked the occasion Saturday night with dinner at the Martinique and the evening performance of "Over 21" in Drury Lane theatre. The Pomeroys observed their 13th anniversary and the Armstrongs, their 11th.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pagliai, 905 S. Evergreen, returned Sunday night from a 9-day vacation in Miami, Fla. that was the belated celebration of their 15th wedding anniversary early in November. They jetted to and fro, rested and relaxed, marvelled at the perfect weather and did just a little sightseeing in the Miami area. Grandmother Pagliai of Chicago was here with the five Pagliai children who can't understand why Mom needed a vacation. She just had one five years ago.

ALSO NEWLY home from Florida are Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Varney, 850 S. Vail. They motored, enjoying a leisurely three weeks that was a perfect and complete recuperation for Mr. Varney, a recent pneumonia victim. Pompano Beach was their haven and ideal weather reigns, not rains, there, too. Adding to their total pleasure were visits with ex-Arlington Heighters and former neighbors of the Varneys, Mr. and Mrs. George Kohler, who sent back greetings to other local friends.

Johnny Kramer had a birthday November 26 and half his intended party guests had out-of-town Thanksgiving visits at the same time. Hardly anybody 8 years old has much trouble deciding whether to cancel or just postpone a birthday celebration and last Saturday was a fine day for a slightly postponed party.

There was a festive luncheon at 919 S. Evergreen and then more fun at the Saturday matinee in the local theatre for Johnny and his guests, Brooks Bauske, Bruce Starek, Tom Sayre, Tom Sward, Craig Diviney, Ray Genevich and Mark Pomeroy.

MRS. EDWIN Baumann, 416 E. Euclid, returned early last week from an impromptu flying trip to Billings, Mont. for a post-holiday visit with her daughter and son-in-law, the Richard Haines. They enjoyed a day-after-Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings and a long weekend visit together.

Mrs. Andrew Horcher, 623 N. State, spent last Wednesday at the home of a longtime friend, Mrs. LaVerne Pepper of Cary. Monday she was among 11 Chit Chat club members who held their annual Christmas party in the home of Mrs. George Held, 706 N. Dunton. The group meets regularly for a social afternoon and their December get-tgether is always an extra-festive occasion. There was a secret pal gift exchange and a holiday atmosphere in the Held home that gave everyone a happy, gentle push in the Christmas-spirit direction.

Friends and neighbors of William O. Bechman, 1422 Grove, will be sorry to learn of the death of his mother, Mrs. Marie Bechman of Chicago, who died November 25 in the Bee Dozier Maple Hill Nursing home. Sympathies are extended to the family.

MR. AND MRS. Fred A. Shefte of La Jolla, Cal., spent two weeks in Arlington Heights visiting their son and family, the Robert Sheftes, 122 S. Brighton.

Mrs. Josie Wisehart of Hagerstown, Ind., is spending several weeks here visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baker, 115 S. Brighton.

Out-of-town weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bohlkin, 124 S. Brighton, were her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Max Lievsay, and her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Shinestine, and their two sons, Louis and Edward, of Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Means, Jr., 1101 Mayfair, and their son, Skipper, spent a week in Council Bluffs, Iowa, visiting her mother, Mrs. R. S. Burdick.

MR. AND MRS. Eldred Koenig, 1312 Woodford, attended a Christmas dinner party Friday at the Yacht club given by the La Salle Street club. The club, which is made up of young insurance men, holds an annual Christmas party for members and their wives.

Saturday, the Koenigs celebrated their youngest daughter, Kate's, second birthday at a family gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pemberton, 314 S. Windsor, returned last Monday from a weeks's stay at their summer home in Popinabee, Mich. They were joined by friends from Bloomfield Hills, Mich., the William L. Martins, who have a neighboring summer home. While unusually mild weather curtailed some of their winter sports, both families chose and cut their own Christmas trees which they brought back to use during the holidays.

Mrs. W. T. Hines, 216 Drury, spent the past month in Los Altos, Cal., visiting her sister and family, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Behling. While in California, Mrs. Hines also visited former Stonegate residents, the Charles Stewarts.

MR. AND MRS. Stephen Jurco, 217 S. Windsor, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Schinke of Arlington Heights, attended the Counter Intelligence Christmas dinner party at the Sunny Italy in Chicago Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bredehoft, 201 S. Wilshire, entertained at a dinner party Saturday for their out-of-town guest, Carl Fisher, who is here from his home in Palm Beach, Fla., to attend the Savings and Loan association convention.

During the Thanksgiving holidays, the Bredehofts were hosts to two Northwestern university students, Miss Debby Gunther of Easton, Md., and George Hubbard of Louisville.

Bill Bredehoft, eldest son of the Bredehofts, recently spent three days camping with 14 explorer scouts in Laquvita, Ill.

Mrs. R. E. Miller, 1301 Woodford, gave a birthday luncheon Wednesday for her mother, Mrs. J. Lewis of Des Plaines.

MRS. EARL E. Diehl, 413 S. Lincoln, arrived home last week from Phoenix, where she spent three weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. Paul Shlafly of St. Louis.

Mrs. George Haben and Mrs. Harold Rose will give a farewell coffee December 11 at the Haben home, 616 S. Belmont, for Mrs. Gerald Beckman. The Beckmans plan to move to Kalamazoo around the first of the year.

Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Keys, 526 S. Pine, have their two young grandchildren, Kathy and Amy, daughters of their son and daughter-in-law, the Peter Keys of Indianapolis, with them for a week.

MR. AND MRS. Larry Kussow, 815 Burton, celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary at a large dinner party November 11 at the Brookwood country club.

Guests included Mrs. Kussow's father, Rudolph Vetter of De Pere, Wis. their daughter and son-in-law, the Ronald Petersons of West Islip, N. Y., and their three young children, her sister, Mrs. Robert Demske of De Pere and two aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Schultz of Neenah and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Eiler of De Pere.

Last weekend, the Kussows had as their houseguest, the former's sister and brother-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Lemke and their daughter, Ruth of Williamston, Mich., who came to attend the graduation of their son, Kenneth, from Great Lakes training school. Kenneth will return home with his parents and after a 2-week furlough, will go to Boston where he is assigned to the Wasp.

Paul Rodig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rodig, 737 S. Beverly, celebrated his fifth birthday Monday at a birthday party for four playmates.

NEWCOMERS TO Scarsdale are Mr. and Mrs. Garwin Dawley and their 2-year-old son, Michael, who moved to 905 Mayfair last Wednesday. The Dawleys lived in Arlington for two years and their former home was in Naperville. Mr. Dawley is associated with the advertising department of Charles Bruning company.

Mrs. Quentin Semotan of Steamboat Springs, Col., recently spent a week in Arlington Heights visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Graham, 508 S. Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Ferry, 637 Bristol, will entertain at an open house Sunday from 5 to 9 for clients and business associates of Mr. Ferry's. (A

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM SHERWOOD

Amy and Paul Fellingham, 1145 N. Patton, consider themselves quite fortunate that their second grandchild is a girl. Deborah Ann was born Saturday to Carol (nee Fellingham) and Bob Redeker who are rejoicing, too, since their first-born is a boy, Kenny, one.

After spending the holiday with her parents, Wendy went back to Western Illinois university for her finals before coming back for a few days between quarters. She brought her roommate, Millie Campbell of Rushville, home with her and the girls have been taking advantage of their short vacation by doing a little shopping in Chicago.

FROM RIDGE PARK

Sunday was the day Dr. and Mrs. George Oliver, 705 N. Kennicott, chose for the christening of their infant daughter, Donna Sue, in St. James church. Dr. and Mrs. Tom Linnik of Hillside served as godparents. Two sets of grandparents, the godparents and their four pre-schoolers joined the Olivers for dinner afterward.

When the Baron Zoellicks, 912 N. Kaspar, joined 14 friends for dinner at George Diamond's in Antioch last Saturday there was a good bit of reminiscing done. This group dates back to their high school days and belonging to the same church group. They finished off the evening in Antioch at the home of one of the group.

Grandma Barnak came from Chicago to see 5-year-old Donnie play a solo—"My Favorite Polka"—on the accordian during a recital in Prospect high school recently. The son of the Walter Barnaks, 916 N. Fernandez, was the youngest on the program.

The R. A. Beckmans, 812 N. Fernandez, had Thanksgiving with their daughter and her family, the Bob Soderborgs, and then parted company for awhile, she staying with the Soderborgs while he made a flying trip to Nashville, where he represented his company in the purchase of a factory. Sunday they were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Wilburt Childress and their family. They began the day by attending services at the Palatine Methodist church, where Rev. Childress is pastor, and then had dinner with the family. These are friends of long standing.

SYMPATHY IS extended to Mrs. John Strong, 800 N. Kaspar, whose husband died in Great Lakes Naval hospital just before Thanksgiving. Burial was in Tennessee.

Friends and former neighbors of Charles O'Dor will be glad to know that he has been released from Northwest Community hospital and is recuperating at home.

It was a big table that seated the George Callahans, 1014 N. Ridge, and their relatives Thanksgiving. Mrs. George Mailfold, George and Jayne were there, as well as Anthony Callahan, Mrs. Pat Bolin, Patty and Tommy and Mrs. Joan Peterson and her two daughters.

Although Paul Hoster was 5 Monday, his party was held Sunday so his grandparents, the Al Hostlers of Chicago, and good friends, the Tom O'Niells, could help him celebrate. He is the son of Lu and Ralph Hostler, 927 N. Kennicott.

Along with the many chores of moving into another house, several Ridge Parkers have been busy going to farewell parties given by friends who hate to see them leave, but wish them well just the same. Among such are Doris and Bob Walker, who lived at 1106 W. Elm before moving to Mount Prospect last Friday. Lil Lurtz had an evening party for them, Helen Rathsam hosted a luncheon for Doris, and Lorraine Cummings entertained their bridge group at which time they also presented Doris with a housewarming gift.

THERE WERE many farewell parties for Marge and Gordon Johnson, too. The Johnsons, who formerly lived at 929 N. Harvard, moved to Yardley, Pa., last Wednesday as a result of a promotion for him. Their friends and neighbors also hated to see them leave the neighborhood.

The Edward Donelans' move was rather sudden. After having lived at 821 N. Princeton for only a few months, they found a home in Skokie that met their needs much better and moved to 8201 N. Tripp last Saturday. They are already missed in the neighborhood.

Get well wishes go to Larry, son of the Bob Kays, 1008 N. Kaspar, who had his tonsils and adenoids removed in Lutheran General hospital last Friday. His mother reports that he is making a speedy recovery.

Don Holmes is back at work after having undergone surgery in Swedish Covenant hospital the day after Thanksgiving. Don and his family live at 823 N. Salem.

The Bill Cokashes, 906 N. Illinois, got plenty of Christmas spirit when they took their three children to the loop Sunday afternoon to see the Christmas decorations.

The Chris Andersens came from Madison, Wis., Saturday morning to visit their daughter and her family, the Dick Kesseniches, 1005 N. Illinois. In the evening the adults sat down to a real Norwegian dinner of lutefisk and lefsa which the Andersens had brought with them.

Fay Machas was 5 Sunday and 30 relatives came for a buffet supper in her honor. To quote her mother: "There were lots of cousins to help her celebrate." She is the daughter of the Stafford Machases, 1019 N. Salem.

TWO OF THE dinner guests of the Gene Barneses, 1016 N. Kaspar, Monday night were from south of the border, in fact as far south as Lima, Peru. They were Rodolfo and Dora Vizcarra, who gave a talk that night for the Arlington Heights International Friendship Program, explaining conditions in Peru, what the people are like and how they live. Wayne Brennan was also a dinner guest.

Terrence Platt celebrated his seventh birthday November 18 with a party to which he invited Gary Braunsreuter, Johnny Stevens, Michael Topp, David Mills and Tom Nuremburg. Highlight of the party was when the boys were presented model airplanes to make. They also made Thanksgiving favors before settling down to ice cream sodas and cake. Terrence is the son of Ruth and Dick Platt, 806 N. Kennicott.

Waive $15 Fee For Jaycee Sale

The Arlington Heights Jaycees will not have to pay a $15 fee to the village for a permit to sell Christmas trees. The village board Monday night waived the fee after Frank Kams, chairman of the Jaycee project, explained that all proceeds will be used to further community projects.

The trees go on sale beginning Saturday next to the Schneller furniture store in Arlington Market. (A

Christmas Musicale Set For Woman's Study Group

The first meeting of the music study group of Arlington Heights Woman's club will be held Thursday, Dec. 14, at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John W. Schaff, 515 E. Rockwell, Arlington Heights.

The only individual study group to meet in December, members will be entertained at this Christmas festive musicale by Miss Nancy Sychowski, piano soloist, and Vincent Ahnquist, tenor soloist, who will be accompanied by Lois Schaff. He will include such favorites as "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," 'O Holy Night" and "Silent Night," in addition to songs by Handel, Mahler and Brahms.

Mr. Ahnquist has studied voice for 18 years with Beecher Burton, Walter Allen Stults, Henry Veld, Andre White and Hermanns Baer. He attended Northwestern university and received a bachelor of music education degree from Augustana college and a master of music education degree from Drake university.

AS A BOY soprano he sang with the Chicago Sunday Evening club of five occasions and appeared with the Apollo Choral society as the "youth" in Mendelssohn's "Elijah." For two years he recieved the Presser foundation scholarship at Augustana and at Drake and was elected to the Phi Kappa Lambda honorary music fraternity.

In addition to extensive solo work he is currently director of music for the South Community Baptist church of Mt. Prospect and is a member of Arlington high school music faculty.

MISS SYCHOWSKI will play piano solos by Debussey and Liszt in addition to "Waltz in C Sharp Minor," "Bercuse" and "Waltz in E Flat Major" all by Chopin. Miss Sychowski, a student of Rudolph Ganz of the Chicago Musical College of Roosevelt university, will receive her music degree this June. She attended the University of Illinois and studied with Soulina Stavinsky and is now in her second year of teaching at the Candelaria Music studios in Arlington Heights.

For reservations those planning to attend may call any of the following co-hostesses:

Mrs. Carl Ewert Cl 3-2196, Mrs. Wendell Prunty, Cl 3-5725, or Mrs. Joseph Svoboda Cl 3-0859. (A

WE GOT A PREVIEW OF A GREAT YEAR AHEAD

The dividend scale for the coming year is announced in November. The news we got is better for our morale than the most optimistic sort of prediction because we know now that many New England Life policyholders will be getting a really big increase in 1962—especially those with substantial cash value life insurance. Not only will our policyholders be well pleased; we have a strong additional sales point for the sale of life insurance as a way of financial life. Consider also that only two years ago New England Life made some important refinements in a policy contract already noted for its liberality. If you'd like to send some dollars ahead, there's no time like the present; and no company like New England Life. We shall be delighted to be of service.

News Of Prospect Meadows

Timmy, son of Joyce and Arnold Jacobson, 607 Bob-o-link rd., celebrated his third birthday Friday. Those attending his party included Jeannie Incinelli, Mark Walston, Cathy, Patty, Marcy and Jimmy Coopmans.

Sunday morning Jeffrey Jacobson was christened in Grace Lutheran church, Prospect Heights, after which Joyce and Arnold were hosts to a combined birthday and christening party. Guests attending the dinner party included the Kent Nelsons, Hoffman Estates, Howard Kamalhs, Arlington Heigths; Walter Becks, Chicago; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beck Jr., Mount Prospect.

Saturday evening Peggy and Frank Czech, 420 Larkdale, had dinner and cocktails at Quinns Lounge, Skokie.

Wednesday afternoon Connie Vogel, 404 Bob-o-link rd., was host to her luncheon club. Attending were Rita Durec, Pat Wrath, Joyce Ruther, Joyce Hoglund, Gertrude Derning, Wilma Canfield, Jean Kamps, Mary Ellen Messner, Lee Abbinanti, Ruby Polly and Marge Murdock, Arlington Heights.

Betty Halabrin's aunt and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Desatoff, Whittier, Cal., spent Friday with the Halabrin family, 616 Oriole lane. Sunday evening the Halabrins were the dinner guests of Betty's brother and his family, the junior Edward Chants in Marengo. Betty's mother, Mrs. Edward Chant Sr., Chicago, and sister, Mrs. Peggy Miller, Northbrook, spent Monday with Betty and Dick.

SATURDAY evening Pat and John Wrath, 405 Bob-o-link rd., entertained the George Ecks, Des Plaines, and the Hank Prochaskas, Mount Prospect, for an evening of cards.

The grandmothers' club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Helena Woodruff, 612 Larkdale. Included were Mrs. Martha Melvin, Mrs. Pearl Jost, Mrs. Hattie Walz and Mrs. Myrtle Stickrod.

Sunday evening Carol, Roy and Sherry Schaetzlein, 423 Oriole lane, had dinner at Landa's restaurant, Chicago and then took a tour of the Christmas window displays on State st., Chicago.

Wednesday evening present and former Meadowites who had dinner at O'Hare Inn, Chicago were Kay Rateike, Rosemary Vosburgh, Charlene Hampe, Joan McCamant, Diane O'Connor, Marge Reynolds, Ruth Larsen, Mary Jane Schmitt, Lois Hearl and Fern Waldron, Arlington Heights.

Lynn and Dick Coopmans, 600 Bob-o-link rd., were Sunday dinner guests of Dick's mother and her husband, Mrs. and Mrs. Primo Mucci, Evanston. (AM

Auto Fee Hiked $1

The Arlington Heights village board Monday night approved four ordinances providing for new fees for various village permits and licenses, among them an ordinance authorizing a $7 basic fee for autos. This is $1 increase from the 1961 fee.

Trustee Richard Glantz, chairman of the board's finance committee, explained the increase was deemed necessary because more money is needed to help provide traffic regulation and control by the police department, and because the auto fee was too low in relation to truck fees.

The auto fee will be $7 if paid in January, $8 the next month, $9 in March, and $10 in April. (A

Trustees Approve

Woods Vetoes Board Action

The veto power—a power rarely used by village presidents—was used Monday night by Arlington Heights Village President John G. Woods, but it was used with the full approval of the village board even though it negated a board action.

The veto was a result of some difficulties concerning title to portions of Davis st. in the village hall area. As part of the sale of the village hall site, Davis st. adjacent to it was to be vacated, but the purchaser has raised some objections concerning original dedication of some of the street.

THE BOARD already had passed the ordinance vacating the street and the veto was adjudged the only way to stop the ordinance from taking effect. Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel said he foresees no difficulty in clearing the title, but wanted passage of the ordinance delayed until this was done.

So, according to proper procedure, a motion was made and passed for reconsideration of the original ordinance.

Then, still according to proper procedure, Trustee William Moore made a motion that the board adopt the ordinance over the president's veto. Richard Glantz seconded the motion, then both joined the other trustees in defeating the motion.

The board could override a veto by a vote of two-thirds of the trustees. (A

Businessman Passes Away

Charles H. Hollenbach, 82, president and operator of the Hollenbach Seed Store Inc., 1407 Algonquin, Arlington Heights, died last Thursday of a stroke in West Suburban hospital, Oak Park.

Hollenbach, of River Forest, had been associated with the firm founded by his father, Peter, for 68 years. It formerly was located in Chicago.

Survivors include twin daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Juengling and Mrs. Marie Menking. Services were held in River Forest Saturday. (A

Absent Planners Concern of Board

Absenteeism of members of the Arlington Heights plan commission, as well as in regard to members of other related boards, was a subject of concern Monday night at the meeting of the village board.

Trustee Eugene Schlickman raised the question, but was quick to point out that it was not in criticism because he was well aware of the time and effort devoted to village problems by plan commission members.

However, often it is difficult to arrange a session at a time when all or most of the members can be present. Thus many times a petitioner will present his case before some members of the commission, then at a later date present it again to the same body but this time to defferent members.

THERE WAS some indication that at least some members of the village board believe the plan commission might be more effective with less members.

Also concerning the plan commission, Village Atty. Jack Siegel said it is illegal for the plan commission to distribute minutes of a meeting to absent members, then allow them to mail in their vote on particular petitions discussed at the meeting. (A

Our Saviour Women Plan Yule Lunch

The women of Our Saviour Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will have their annual Christmas luncheon at the church Saturday, Dec. 9, at 12:45 p.m. Mrs. William Stueber and her committee of eight will prepare the food and members of the Luther league will serve.

Mrs. Gust Hermanson has made favors and there will be a Christmas centerpiece on each table. The centerpieces, Christmas trees made from tooth picks and sprinkled with glitter, were made by members of circle 5, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Witt and Mrs. Carl Zehner.

Mrs. Jerome Downing will sing Christmas music, and the other part of the program will feature Mrs. Delores Haugh, columnist for Paddock Publications. Mrs. Haugh's theme will be "Christmas Out Of the Waste Basket," and she will give ideas for holiday decorating using scrap materials people would normally discard as useless. (A

Supply and Demand

The western world produces about 200 million ounces of silver annually, but consumes over 300 million ounces.

Board Okays Street Work

The contract with Milburn Bros. for improvements to the west half of Dryden st. from Euclid north was approved Monday night by the Arlington Heights village board. It previously had been reviewed and approved by Village Atty, Jack M. Siegel.

The improvements actually are being paid for by residents along the street who have paid the necessary money to the village, which placed it in escrow. The village will assume the public benefit portion of the cost.

By handling the matter in this way, i.e., through action initiated by the residents of the area, it is estimated they saved themselves about 30 per cent additional cost which would have resulted from a special assessment method. (A

Village Zoning Control Topic Of Niles Meet

State legislation which puts in doubt a village's power to control development of areas within one and one-half miles of its borders will be discussed at a meeting tonight (Thursday) in Niles, which will be attended by Arlington Heights Village Atty. Jack M. Siegel and Trustee Eugene Schlickman.

Siegel stated Monday night at a meeting of the village board that he does not agree with an opinion rendered by an assistant state's attorney, which says villages do not have the right to control peripheral developments.

It was brought out that in one instance recently, a building permit was issued by the county for construction within the mile and one-half limit near Glenview, without the approval of Glenview.

Siegel's official opinion is that villages still retain control over developments within the customary limits. (A

Children to Tell Christmas Story

Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will again present the Christmas story in a series of children's programs. The first of these will be Sunday, Dec. 10, at 4 p.m., featuring song and pageantry by the 3, 4, and 5-year-old Sunday school children.

The descriptive title for this year's program is "Children Tell of Christmas." It will feature a manger scene, with a youthful cast portraying Mary, Joseph, two shepherds and two wise men. There will also be a special children's choir, a group of 38 3-year-olds in a special dialogue number, and the familiar carols and recitations. A narrator, Miss Jean Stephen, will give continuity to the program.

SPEAKERS FOR the program will be Rev. Edgar H. Behrens, pastor of the church, and Henry Schroeder, superintendent of Faith Sunday school. The program is produced and directed by the combined nursery and beginner department staffs, headed by Leona Kieck, Shirley McDougall, Ruth Windheim, Corinne Spinks, Stella Junkunc and Lynae Townsend.

Resident Praises Forestry Program

The reforestation plans of the Arlington Heights village board and the village administration were highly praised last week in a letter from a village resident to village board President John G. Woods.

"The program is most necessary at this time and I am thankful you gentlemen recognized your responsibility to the community," wrote Bill Johnson, 707 E. Euclid.

"A good forestry program will benefit Arlington Heights in many ways for all the years to come. I'm afraid too few people realize what an important contribution our tree population makes to our sense of well being, to say nothing of increased property values."

THE VILLAGE administration recently completed a tree survey of the village, in which all trees were catalogued as to location, type and condition. This will form the basis for a forestation and reforestation program next spring.

Impetus to the program was given by Trustee Norval Stephens, and its implementation is largely the responsibility of Village Manager L. A. Hanson, who had done preliminary work on the program. (A

Gets Apartment Zoning

Approve Doctor's Rezoning Request

Rezoning of property of Dr. Morris Virnig and Lorraine A. Virnig at 114 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, from R-3 single family residential to R-4 multiple family was approved Monday night by the village board, as recommended by the plan commission.

The building on the site houses the doctor's facilities, and living quarters. He asked the rezoning so that he could continue to maintain his office there, even though it is a nonconforming use, and to rent out the living quarters.

A SIMILAR petition from Dr. Gordon Ward for rezoning of his property at 502 S. State rd., had been denied at the previous meeting of the village board, and Trustee Norval Stephens said action in the Virnig petition should parallel action taken on the Ward petition.

Trustee Eugene Schlickman said there was a difference in the two petitions, and argued that each should be considered on its own merit.

The two petitions seek to allow continued use of the buildings as doctor's or professional person's offices, under a special use permit. However, under present zoning ordinances, special use as professional offices is not allowed in R-3 zoning.

AN ORDINANCE providing for such special use has been prepared by the village attorney and Monday night was sent to the plan commission for a hearing. If and when it is passed, it will provide means by which the two doctors can achieve their ultimate goal, and will allow other professional people in the same situation to apply for special use permits.

Such permits would allow them to, at some future date, sell their property to a buyer who wanted to use it for the same purpose as it had been used. Currently, the use is nonconforming and cannot be passed on to the purchaser. (A

Eastwood Events

When Mrs. Donna Drake's mother, Mrs. Polly Wagner, came from the Wisconsin Dells for a shopping trip little did she think her visit would be extended, but a fall resulted in a broken ankle and the "lady who came to shop" stayed a while longer. While Mrs. Wagner's ankle will have to be in a cast for six weeks, fortunately, it is the left foot and since her car has automatic she was able to drive home Wednesday.

Also plagued with a fall and a turned ankle was Mrs. Irene Anderson of N. Beverly ave. For the past two months she has been on crutches, but is recuperating very well now, and expects to be ready to enjoy the holidays.

The William Stueber family of N. Beverly, spent Thanksgiving week end with Grandma and Grandpa Stueber in Horicon, Wis., and since then they have been anticipating the coming Christmas festivities. Last Saturday Mrs. Stueber took Karen and Kurt to Field's for an early morning breakfast under the Christmas tree. Since they arrived at 8:30 they delighted in being in the store before it was opened to the shoppers.

This past week Mrs. Stueber has been busy planning the annual Christmas luncheon at Our Saviour's Lutheran church. Besides lunch a short program "How to make Christmas gifts out of the Wastebasket" is planned.

BIRTHDAYS ARE the big news in the Steven Bartolone family of 408 N. Hickory. Three of their children celebrated within the past 10 days. For Stevie's sixth birthday he entertained his playmates with games and supper on Monday. Julie Audette, Leigh Thornton, Mary Jo Jockims, Jimmy Cassidy, Kurt Stueber, Cliff Narquis, Scott Tollstam, Stevie Wilford and John Haack were all present for Stevie's second celebration — his first one being on Sunday when his grandparents and aunts and uncles came for a family party.

Since Billy Bartolone was a Thanksgiving Eve baby and sister Susan was born on Thanksgiving Day, Billy's third birthday on November 26 and Susan's first on November 24 were both celebrated this Thanksgiving Day with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Waldmueller of Chicago, and aunts and uncles and cousins.

Big brother Michael, was the only Bartolone not being honored, but he celebrated his fourth birthday all alone last August.

As a respite from birthday parties Mr. and Mrs. Bartolone, along with two other couples, toured Rush st. last Friday night in honor of their wedding anniversary. Bourbon st. and the Gaslight club were several of the night spots they visited.

Since Mrs. Bartolone's mother was spending the weekend here, they decided to take advantage of her services as a baby sitter and visit with friends at Bavarian lodge Saturday. The pea soup fog prevented their coming home, and they ended up spending the night at the lodge in Wheeling — along with many other fog-bound people.

RECENT VISITORS of Mr. and Mrs. Adwalt Hartwig were Mr. and Mrs. Stig Hallberg of Staket (near Stockholm) Sweden. Mr. Hallberg is a brother of Mrs. Ryd, who was formerly the Hartwig's next-door neighbor, and who now lives in New Jersey.

The Hallbergs, who were just married, a short time ago, are spending a 6-months honeymoon traveling through the United States. After visiting with the Ryds, they are making their way west to California and then will tour the South and on up the east coast back to New York, before sailing for home. This is the Hallbergs' first visit here and they report they are well pleased with everything they have seen and can find no fault with the United States.

Wishes for a speedy recovery are sent to Mrs. Barbara Hanner who underwent major surgery Tuesday at Northwest Community hospital. (A

Ptak Land Compromise Draws Near

The long-standing disagreement between the Stanley Ptak family and the Village of Arlington Heights is nearing a compromise solution, Trustee Norval Stephens told fellow board members Monday night.

The Ptaks, who farm their one-acre tract at 1338 N. Dunton, have resisted efforts of the village and Carroll-McHugh Builders to run utilities and extend a street through the property.

After long and sometimes exhausting negotiations aimed at eliminating need for condemnation proceedings, the Ptaks, through attorney Donald Norman, agreed to sell the land to the village subject to agreement on price.

The village has had the land appraised but the appraised value falls short of what the Ptaks and Norman seek. However, Stephens said the Ptaks have decided to hire an appraiser of their own, and on the basis of the two appraisals, it is believed a compromise can be worked out in the foreseeable future. (A

DECEMBER, 1961
A Message from George Harris
"Your Pharmacist"
PREPARE NOW TO ENJOY CHRISTMAS.
This month you will probably tire yourself with all the busy activities and gift shopping needed to properly celebrate the Holidays.
HOW TO HAVE A HEALTHIER CHRISTMAS.
Of course we will be available to supply any needed medicines Christmas week and every other week, but we know you will have more fun buying gifts than medicines. So . . .
GIVE YOURSELF THIS GIFT NOW.
Let your physician check your body to make certain it can withstand any invading virus or sickness attack. And . . . if he suggests your taking any medication or vitamins for additional energy, follow his advice.
1961 WILL SOON BE OVER
Please accept our grateful thanks for your friendship and patronage. We will never forget that our pharmacy's chief purpose is to dependably provide the medicines, health-aids and sickroom needs to guard your health.
MAY YOU ENJOY THE HOLIDAYS.
And . . . be sure to visit the Church of your choice . . . where you will receive the spiritual help we all need to truly be happy the coming New Year.

Open a Savings Account for Every Member of the Family
Children learn best by doing. So, the best way to teach thrift is to open small savings accounts for each of your youngsters. Encourage them to save part of their allowances or after-school earnings, and you develop the important habit of saving.
Bring John and Mary along when you transact your own savings business at our office. They'll feel proud and important with savings accounts all their own—and we'll make them feel most welcome.
A convenient amount opens an insured savings account here. Earnings at a better-than-average rate make savings grow faster.

Car Hits Tree

Barrington Woman Is Killed in Accident

Death on the highway struck down one in the Northwest suburban area—on Route 59, about two tenths of a mile south of Route 72.

The victim was Marjorie Jolly, 54, of 123 Harbor dr., Barrington. The accident occurred at 10:21 p.m. on Nov. 29. She was pronounced "dead on arrival" at the Sherman hospital, Elgin.

State police report that she was northbound on Route 59, when her car crossed over onto the west side of the roadway and struck a tree on the west side of the road.

DAMAGE to her car was reported as $400.

Her car was struck by another driven by Rose San Filippo, 56, of 335 Seymour, Mundelein.

Injured were both drivers, and passengers in the second car, Elizabeth Lanti, 75, and Michael Lanti, 83, both of Libertyville. They were all taken to the Holy Family hospital in Des Plaines.

Damage to the first car was $800; to the second, $500. The second driver was charged with driving too fast for conditions. The accident occurred at 2:35 p.m. on Nov. 29.

A FOUR-CAR accident occurred on Illinois 58 at Potter road at 7:15 a.m. on Nov. 30.

Clarence A. Hoebing, 32 of 223 E. Cypress, Streamwood, was headed west on Illinois 58 when his vehicle struck another driven by Pablo Garcia, 37, of 2700 Shermer, Northbrook, in the rear.

The car of Garcia, which had been stopped preparatory to making a left turn, was pushed forward. Hoebing's car swerved into the east lane, striking head on a car driven by August H. Olson, 61, of RR 2 Healy, Dundee.

Olson's car, after the impact, swerved and was struck on the right rear side by a fourth car, also eastbound, driven by William T. Link, 39, of 300 Elm, Prospect Heights.

Injured were Hoebing and Olson, and a passenger in Garcia's car, Elvira Garcia, 37. Yolenda Garcia, 14, was unhurt. The injured were taken to Holy Family hospital.

Damage to the first car was listed as $700; to the second, $250; the third, $650, and the fourth, $150.

Hoebing was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

On River road and Touhy, at 1:30 a.m. on Dec. 3, two cars collided.

The car of Dale A. Diezil, 26, of 17 W 66 White Pines, Bensenville, headed west, was struck in the left rear and side by another vehicle, driven by Joseph R. De Vito, 49, of 7 N. Western ave., Park Ridge when De Vito's car failed to stop for a red light, state police said.

Both drivers were injured and a passenger in the second car, Vida De Vito, 44, also was hurt. They were taken to Lutheran General hospital.

Damage to the first car was $300; to the second, $350.

DE VITO was charged with disobeying a traffic signal.

On Dec. 3, when Rita T. Rados, 28, of 1516 S. 61st st., Chicago, was northbound on U.S. 45 at Lake-Euclid, and was making a left turn into a gas station, her car was struck by a second vehicle driven by Laura M. Trudeau, 260 Scott, Winetka.

Both the first driver and a passenger, Danny Rados, two months old, were injured and taken to Holy Family hospital.

Damage to the first car was $300; to the second, $175.

The first driver was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Victims in another accident were injured at 8 a.m. on Dec. 3 on Palatine road at Quentin.

Jay M. Kulp, 30, of 839 Monroe, Carpentersville, was headed east on Palatine. Walter J. Ksiazek, 49 of 5620 N. Overhill, Chicago, was headed south on Quintens. Ksiazek stopped for a stop sign, then pulled out onto the intersection and his car was struck by the other vehicle.

INJURED was a passenger in the second car, Sophie Ksiazek, 48. Not hurt were both drivers and a second passenger in the same car, Phyllis Ksiazek, 16. The injured passenger was taken to Northwest Community hospital.

Damage to the first car was $400; Kup was charged with having an expired driver's license and Ksiazek with failure to yield the right of way. (-14

THE Golden Years

By THOMAS COLLINS

The year is ending ,and across the country many people are packing or planning for retirement—to a nice little city in the sunshine.

That's what Charles Brown did in 1957—he retired to a nice little city of just under 20,000 population. In the four years since, he has learned a few lessons. Anybody planning to retire can profit from listening to him:

"I would retire to a small sunshine city again, if I had to do it over," he says. "Not only from New Hampshire, Minnesota or Oregon, but from anywhere that has a winter. Why should anybody stay lost in a big city or have to buy fuel on a pension in order to keep warm? Why should anybody past 65 have to hole up for two months or five months of the year and miss the association with nature that adds so much to the later years of life? . . .

"But in retiring to a nice little city there are a couple of hard-boiled facts a pensioner should know. The first is that you don't blow in as the president of U. S. Steel. You're another nice man named Clarence. The Mayor doesn't call on you. Nobody does, as a rule . . ."

The second thing a person should know is that he has no credit and no references in this new town. "Maybe you had them back home," says Mr. Brown, "but you finally realize that you had a job back home. Now you have a pension. The new town will presume you are honest, but it will be something of a shock to you to be asked to give some evidence of it . . ."

Once these two psychological hurdles are handled, says Mr. Brown, there are some positive steps to take:

"The newcomer, of course should have rented—not bought—his living quarters when he first arrived in town. In four years I haven't seen anybody who was satisfied for long with any real estate they bought too quickly. If the person is able to buy, having sold his former home, he should contact a good local bank, put part of his money in a checking account and the rest in a savings account for the time being. This will help establish his credit.

"Then he should rent a safety deposit box in the bank, even if he doesn't have securities to put in it. It will help his status, and won't cost much."

Mr. Brown says that once the newcomer has settled his money matters, he should open a charge account at one of the better stores in town, find a doctor who will make house calls, decide on a dentist, become chummy with at least one good druggist, subscribe to the local paper, call on the Chamber of Commerce to see if he can find the names of anybody else from his home city who has retired here, affiliate with a church, and start telling all the neighbors what a wonderful little city this is.

Postmaster Urges Early Yule Mail

With Thanksgiving a recent memory, suburban postmasters said this week, "It's Christmas every day in the post office from now on."

They offered these helpful hints on how to mail your Christmas cards and gifts to insure prompt and safe delivery before December 25:

Use four cents postage on your Christmas cards. Sent by first class mail, they are sorted and delivered first, and if you include your return address on each envelope, they will be forwarded in the event of a change of address, or if they are undeliverable, they will be returned to you.

Also, you can write a personal message on the Christmas cards sent by first class mail; whereas, only your signature is authorized on cards third class rate.

AVOID CARELESS packing of your gifts. Use strong cartons, wrap in heavy paper, and tie with sturdy cord. Mark packages containing breakable gifts, "Fragile" - "Handle With Care." Put an extra label carrying the recipients and senders name and address inside every package.

The postmasters added, "By taking a little extra care with your Christmas mailings right now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones.

"The post office is fully prepared for the big Christmas mail rush, but through your cooperation in mailing early and often, as suggested by the National Improved Mail Service program, there'll be less danger of some Christmas cards and packages not being delivered before Christmas."

Lessons In English

OFTEN MISUSED

Avoid these common errors in everyday speech: "Where did he go to?" and, "Where's he at?" Instead, say, "Where did he go?" "Where is he?"

Do not say, "The bird lit gracefully on the branch of the tree." Say, "The bird LIGHTED."

When using the abbreviations "A.D." and "B.C." in the dates, it is important to remember that "A.D." is always used before the year, and "B.C." after the year. Say, "A.D. 1961," and "250 B.C."

Do not say, "This machine is no use to me." Say, "is OF no use to me."

Do not say, "Neither he or she have any plans." Say, "Neither he NOR she HAS any plans."

Do not say, "Is it snowing outside?" The word "outside" is superfluous, and should be omitted.

Absolutely. Accet FIRST syllable, not the second; and pronounce the third syllable as "lyu," and not as "loo."

Day of Infamy...Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941

Navy Nurse at Pearl Harbor

by JOHN REDDY

Twenty years ago today, December 7, it was Sunday.

Navy Nurse Elsie L. Christiensen had been to a dance the night before and was sleeping late in the room she shared with Frances Sonsalla, who rose early and was attending mass.

She was roused shortly before 8 a.m. by a racket and vibrations that she thought were caused by practice alert drills.

She ran to the window and peered through the bamboo screen. The sky was dotted with planes.

The sight of bombs plummeting earthward from the planes shocked the realization that this was no drill. Fear mounted in the next split second as a low-flying plane roared from beyond a roof top of an adjoining building.

IN ONE HORRIBLE thought it all made sense. She saw large red circles painted on the plane's wings. Through a haze of dust she could see a slip hanging on a clothesline. It was tattered by bullets.

Elsie Christensen was witnessing one of the most horrendous events in modern history—the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japanese navy, which struck a crippling blow to the U. S. Pacific fleet and plunged the United States into the second major war of the century.

Today, when Elsie Christiensen sleeps late, she is in a two-story residence at 261 N. Bothwell st., Palatine, where she is better known as Mrs. James Owen, housewife and the mother of daughters Janet, 12, and Jean, 10.

"I recall it as if it happened yesterday," said Mrs. Owen, who speaks of the attack so seldom that during the course of the interview her husband said he learned of incidents she never before mentioned.

"As soon as I saw what was happening I got dressed. I was so excited I put on a dress and high heels," she recalled with a smile.

A NURSE CAME through the halls of the barracks dormitory, making the sign of the cross and telling everyone "The Japs are attacking. Everybody in uniform."

As she fumbled with the buttons of her uniform, Mrs. Owen recalls, "I saw dust coming through the window, the pictures of my folks rattled on the bureau top across the room. I was so scared that I wished I was back on the farm in Iowa, the only time I ever wished that."

When the nurses had dressed they made a dash to the hospital, at Hospital Point, about a block from the harbor.

To her right, Mrs. Owen saw flame and smoke pouring from a battleship that had pulled away from the famed battleship row (It was the USS Nevada, the only ship to get under way after the attack.)

"I saw smoke and explosions on Ford Island."

As she dashed for the hospital, situated directly across the street from the barracks, she was nicked slightly near her right eye by a sliver of flying debris.

SHE SPENT the next 12 hours in the operating room, helping treat the flood of casualties.

After that she helped out in the over-crowded wards, blacking out windows, treating injuries, filling tubs and available containers with water in event the water mains were broken.

Late that night she caught a couple hours of sleep under the hospital corridor, waking to a schedule that saw her working 4 hours on and four hours off for the next 48 hours.

After that, she recalls, "we had most everything fairly well under control."

The most difficult thing, Mrs. Owen recalls, was to see the wounded, mostly young boys, who were so cheered by the prospect of getting aid that they often would joke jovially.

ONE, SHE SAID, was carried in on a stretcher, greeting the nurses with "Hi, It's kinda rough out there." He was checked by the doctor, given half a grain of morphine and put into a room to die.

"There were so many we could do nothing for."

Mrs. Owen was reared on a farm 15 miles outside Sioux City, Iowa, where she graduated from St. Vincent's school of nursing.

She met her husband while a student nurse, keeping in touch with him through the war. She entered the Navy in September of 1939 and went to Pearl Harbor several months prior to the attack.

After the U. S. began to recover from the initial blow, Mrs. Owen served on a troop ship ferrying families to the mainland and troops to Hawaii.

She later served in New Caladonia and the Fiji islands, working on ships that carried her to other South Pacific islands many will recall as being the sites of famous World War II battles.

SHE EARNED the American Defense Service Medal with one bronze star, the Asiatic Pacific ribbon, with a bronze star, and a presidential citation for her work during and after the attack.

Owen and his wife saw each other on Nov. 11, 1940, meeting again Easter Sunday, 1946. He had been a salesman after leaving his home in Nyack, N. Y., and served in the Army during the war as an artilleryman.

After the war they were married and lived in Palo Alto, Calif., until 1956, when Mr. Owen, who is a sales manager for Ayerst Laboratories, was transferred to the midwest and they settled in Palatine.

Mrs. Owen occasionally hears from her roommate, Frances Sonsella. Her car was struck by bullets from a straffing plane as she rushed to the hospital from church during the attack. Miss Sonsella recently retired from the Navy.

MRS. OWEN does not recall that any of the nurses on the staff suffered fatal injuries.

December 7 is a day for reflection at 261 N. Bothwell st., Palatine.

"TWENTY YEARS IS A LONG TIME, but I remember it just like it was yesterday." Mrs. James Owen, recalling December 7 attack against U. S. Fleet at Pearl Harbor, shows piece of Jap plane to her daughters Janet, left, Jean, and husband. The plane crashe dinto the hospital building where she, as Navy nurse, was helping wounded in surgery.

Ask Employers' Curb Of Office Parties

Employers are urged by the National Safety Council to free themselves of a burden of responsibility — the drinking driver, chief product of the "wet" Christmas office party.

In its fourth annual effort to reduce the traditionally huge traffic accident toll during the Christmas season, the Council asks its 8,000 business, industrial and government members to dry up holiday parties or eliminate them if necessary.

STATISTICS show that most accidents occur during the early hours of the holiday, and many can be traced back to the alcoholic punch bowl.

"While not legally responsible for employees after they leave the office or plant, the employer is certainly morally responsible for mishaps occurring because of a company-sponsored event," said George C. Stewart, NCS vice president.

"If liquor is served, however, the employer should assume the responsibility of providing safe transportation home for each celebrator, such as by chartered bus or taxi cab. We also urge hosts of home holiday parties to take this safety precaution," added Stewart.

The attempt to eliminate the drinking driver hazard on the highways is a major aspect of the Council's annual Christmas Campaign, which begins December 1, and continues through New Year's day, emphasizing the theme, "Keep Christmas in Your Driving."

IN ADDITION to business and industry, religious leaders of all faiths, public officials, civic groups and traffic police are being asked to lend support in the united effort to reduce the usual upward trend of traffic accidents during the holiday season.

"The Christmas season is the time of year when the practice of religious precepts becomes most meaningful — a time of good will and brotherly love among all men, which should be as evident on our highways as it is in the home," said Arthur B. Langlie, chairman of the NSC's National Committee of Religious Leaders for Safety.

"The acceptance of individual moral responsibility, as well as extra care and courtesy on the road will do much to make this the safest Holy Season on record," said Langlie.

Coburn Announces He's a Candidate

Maurice W. Coburn of Springfield, a 34-year-old attorney, this week announced his candidacy for state treasurer in the Republican primary election next April.

Currently serving as state chairman of the Republican Veterans League, Coburn is general legal counsel for the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce. For five years he served as an assistant to former Illinois Governor William G. Stratton.

In a prepared statement, he challenged the Republican party to a "total and unrelenting effort in recapturing the imagination and support" of Illinois voters.

MAURICE COBURN

"IT IS NOT enough to have qualified candidates and a good program," Coburn said. "We must have an enthusiastic and up-todate selling job."

Styling himself a "dynamic conservative," Coburn promised a vigorous campaign in each of the state's 102 counties. He is a graduate of Northwestern university and has been active as a precinct committeeman and in Young Republican circles.

Local support committees are being formed in conjunction with Coburn's campaign. The candidate is single. (A14

'WAY BACK WHEN'

Compiled by Mrs. G. Rex Volz — Phone CLearbrook 5-9078

60 YEARS AGO—

Nov. 30, 1901

Arlington Heights: Come to the Spinsters' convention and see the old maids transformed into beautiful young maidens before your own eyes at Arlington Hall, Dec. 13, 1901. Best local talent to participate . . . The work being done in the park does not cost the village a cent. Klehm's nursery donate the shrubbery, Dr. Best the guano and the C&NW Ry. pay for the labor. Those in charge knowing the effect, will patiently await the verdict of the people next season . . . The fire and water committee made an official test of the village well Monday. They had a sewer pump that threw one gallon of water to each stroke, in operation 3½ hours and only lowered the water 7 inches. The test showed that this well will furnish 20,000 gallons of pure water per day and probably the flow would be increased by use . . . Fredrich Redeker, Sr., General Merchandise, advertises: "If you want to be happy yourself, lend happiness to others." . . . Henry Moehling is building an up-todate brick smoke house, where he can cure enough hams and sausage to last a whole year . . . Fred Kehe now has the best family carriage around the Heights. He bought it from J. C. Moehling, the farm implement dealer at Mt. Prospect . . . Tim Kellogg, after seven years' service with Levi Wayman, has bought a farm in York State, and will move there Dec. 1. His brother, William, a competent man, has contracted to fill his place in charge of the well machine and traction engine.

50 YEARS AGO—

Dec. 1, 1911

Arlington Heights: The graduates of the high school met at the home of W. W. Guild Friday, Dec. 1. The meeting was characterized by the keen interest shown by all members for alumni work and the building up of the organization. A. H. High School Alumni Association was the name under which they are to work . . . A keen interest was displayed in the work going on toward renting and equipping the old Presbyterian church for a gymnasium. A gym is a most necessary factor in building up a live and progressive school. The Alumni Association now consists of the following active members: Esther G. Stangor, Pres., Paul N. Davis, V. P., Hester T. Guild, sec'y., Warren K. Parker, Treas., David A. Paddock, George C. Klehm, Jr., Wm. F. Meyer, Jr. Honorary members: Prof. D. W. Gamble, Miss R. G. Dale, Miss S. F. Perkins.

Palatine: Miss Alta Witt, daughter of John Witt, was married Thanksgiving eve to Mr. Herman Wente. It was a beautiful ceremony, followed by a sumptuous turkey dinner to which 125 guests sat down at the Wente home south of Palatine . . . Mr. Charlie Baumgarten and Miss Ida Helfogt were married in the Lutheran church at the same hour and date as the Witt-Wente marriage. Following the ceremony the hundred guests gathered at Knigge's hall where they enjoyed the wedding supper.

Thanksgiving evening at the Bierman place south of Palatine, occurred a pretty home wedding when the bride, Miss Clara Theis and Mr. Frank Brown, a Chicago young man who has now become a Palatine citizen, became Mr. and Mrs.

A beautiful display of Hand Painted China, suitable Christmas presents, can be seen in J. H. Toynton's window. The exhibit is worth looking at; the prospective buyers are welcomed to examine the pieces. They can be purchased at the store or word can be left with Mrs. J. Umbdenstock.

Bensenville: The Northwestern RR has finished her span bridge across the CM/St. Paul tracks, which weighs nearly 600 tons complete.

Bensenville was aroused by a so-called explosion in Albert Raack's saloon. It did considerable damage. The fire was seen by Walter Koeker who came home on the midnight train.

40 Years Ago—Dec. 2, 1921

Arlington Heights: The Arlington Heights Woman's Club has secured a Lecture Course of four entertainments to start in January. This is the second year that the club has undertaken the responsibility to supply entertainment for Arlington Heights in the winter time. Their program material is distinctive and will long be remembered as a most happy event. Season tickets $1.50 and may be obtained from any member of the club.

Palatine: Heise's honey is on sale at Schoppes.

Fred Glade has purchased a Chalmers limousine.

Holiday sale of Monarch coffee on at Herman Devermann's —1 lb. 35 cents, 3 lbs. 95 cents.

Patent rights were received by Herman Haemker and N. F. Mersh this week upon their "bottle delivery" machine which they have perfected and which the local Bowman Dairy plant will try out today before an official from the head office.

Dec. 4, 1931—30 Years Ago.

Arlington Heights: The Citizens' committee and the Arlington Heights village board met Monday night and considered the last audit of the general funds which was made by E. F. Laurin at the request of the committee. The audit is dated Nov. 16, 1931. Liabilities $60,000, available cash $1,600. The report can be easily understood by any taxpayer. It is interesting to note that there are $20,000 unpaid 1828 and 1929 taxes due the village; which, with the unpaid 1930 taxes of $35,000 totals $57,000. Unpaid licenses are $642 and unpaid water bills are $2,242.00. Receipts since May 1 have totaled $21,000, of which tax receipts were $9,000 and water $7,000.

High School's cash is gone—teachers paid with tax warrants —public to be asked for help. High school board of Dist. 214 met Monday evening and found themselves facing the question of payroll due Dec. 1. With less than $1,000 in cash on hand, the board could see no way of paying the teachers without resorting to time warrants, despite the fact that the financial condition of the district is really good. The 1930 levy for Dist. 214 was spread for $100,000.00, but the board of education desiring to do everything possible to help reduce local taxes, cut the levy by $20,000 or down to $80,000.00 at the request of the various taxing bodies. To date they have issued only about $35,000.00 in warrants against the 1930 levy. This leaves them at least $25,000.00 which they can legally draw warrants against and still be within the 75 per cent allowed by law. Present financial conditions made it impractical for the banks to loan any material sum to one organization. The board faced the question of what to do in the payment of salaries. It was finally decided to give each employee a check for $25.00 and pay the balance with time warrants drawn against the 1930 taxes. The board next week will publish an exact statement of the amount issued against 1930 taxes and to ask citizens who have available funds to purchase warrants in order that the salaries of teachers, janitors and secretary may be met.

Chevrolet for 1932 out December 5th, priced as low as $475, f.o.b. Flint, Mich.

Wheeling: The Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring a dance to be held at Union Hall, Dec. 5, 8 p.m. The entire proceeds are to be used for local relief work.

On Thanksgiving Sunday the congregation responded generously at the Presbyterian church to the suggestion of a practical demonstrations of Thanksgiving, and three truck loads of food stuffs were attractively displayed on tables in the church Sunday.

20 Years Ago — Nov. 28, 1941

Arlington Heights: Mr. Gilbert Klehm, relief supervisor for Wheeling township is placing in the mail this week, letters to all organizations in the village regarding the spreading of Christmas cheer among the needy in town. Mr. Klehm plans that the Christmas basket committee will be composed of representatives from all organizations in town, which will meet and plan for distribution. Collection and distribution of toys will be handled by the Parent Teacher Assn. this year. Mrs. Walter Schimmel is this committee's chairman, assisted by Mrs. Lattof, Mrs. Oden and Mrs. Engel, and Mr. Vanderbeek. They will also be aided by room mothers and other volunteer workers.

Prospect Heights: The Lions Club will award "Prospect Home" Saturday Dec. 20, or the sum of $6500.00. The Lions are making a last minute whirlwind campaign to interest the general public in this event, and ticket donations can be obtained from any of our businessmen or residents. The award will take place at Des Plaines Theatre starting at 11:45 p.m.

The unusual rain this fall has caused some inconvenience because of poor drainage in one or two spots in Prospect Heights and surrounding farms. Although this is a problem that cannot be eliminated over night this community is taking a realistic viewpoint and is meeting this problem with tangible cooperation and labor.

Palatine: "With the Palatine firemen working like beavers on the job, tearing down the old village hall, it won't be long until the ground is cleared and ready for Palatine's new fire station." The boys are also ready to start that new station with a rush, with the cash in the bank and the plans all drawn. Wesley Comfort Jr., proving he is a coming architect, has drawn the plans for a building of colonial type, which on the main floor will house the three fire trucks and provide a storeroom for the firemen's carnival equipment. The second floor will hold a fine meeting room and firemen's club room combined with fireplace, stove, counter and even a brass pole to slide down in case an alarm comes while they're in their club room. The building will be constructed through the cooperative efforts of the firemen themselves. Firemen who are plumbers, electricians, painters, and so on will do their particular job and so on throughout the entire construction. With the buying arrangements the boys have and the skilled workmen available they will be able to put up about twice as much building for their money as if they had to contract the entire job. From the Chief down to the rawest apprentice recruit, the boys are all proud and enthusiastic about their new cooperative fire station and when it is completed there is no question but that Palatine will be proud of it too — a gift of their firemen.

The passing of Charles B. Morris last week brought an end to the life of a man who not only was born in the town in which he lived most of his life, but the passing of the second generation of a pioneer family which arrived in Palatine shortly after Northwest Cook County was opened by the government to settlers. The descendant was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Morris who came from New York in 1845. The Morris homestead on Dundee Rd., on which Charles B. Morris spent the greater part of his life, was acquired in 1848 and remained in the family until a few years ago. He was born March 2, 1860. Married Miss Maude Garmsey Nov. 11, 1905; four children were born to them — James E. of Arizona; Seth E. of New York; George C. and Edith (Mrs. Keith Chidley) of Palatine. Mr. and Morris moved to the village of Palatine in 1925. Death came to him Dec. 18; funeral was held Friday with interment in Hillside Cemetery, Palatine. Mr. Morris served his school district as a board member several years, and also the township board of education, of which he was president several terms.

Lohman Plans Win Approval

The veteran Illinois campaigner, former State Treasurer Joseph D. Lohman, has chalked up another "victory."

Lohman, who resigned his treasurer's post to become dean of the University of California's school of criminology, has won support of the school's advisory council, made up of state and local agencies for curriculum revisions and research programs he has proposed.

The curriculum put forth by Lohman, former sheriff of Cook county and lecturer at the University of Chicago, will provide a broad theoretical base for students aiming at professional careers in the study, control and suppression of crime and treatment of criminals, according to Richard A. McGee, council chairman and administrator of California's Youth and Adult Corrections agency.

BUILT ON this theoretical base will be opportunity for specialization in five general fields: crimina llaw, criminalistics, law enforcement, juvenile and adult correctional work and the prevention of crime and delinquency.

McGee said the 18-member advisory council acted on Nov. 18 at its first meeting on the Berkeley campus since Lohman's appointment, and also pledged to provide students with opportunities for internships, research and jobs after graduation.

The council also urged the school to assume leadership as fast as possible in "developing new knowledge about crime and criminals through scientific research." (A14

Motorists Cautioned To Avoid Accidents

Warning Issued By Club

The Christmas holiday season is one of the happiest times of the year for most people, but the Chicago Motor Club cautions that it also is a time when traffic accidents increase sharply.

The rush and excitement of shopping, plus the hazards of winter weather, combine to create extra dangers for pedestrians and motorists alike, according to the motor club's safety and traffic engineering department.

THE CLUB offers these suggestions for avoiding traffic accidents during this festive period:

—Don't try to window shop and drive at the same time.

—Don't put packages on the front seat of your car where they may topple and distract the driver, nor on the back window ledge of the car where they may impair your vision.

—Be patient. There will be many delays during the holiday activity.

—NEVER cross the street in the middle of the block. Never carry so many packages while crossing streets that your vision is obstructed.

—Take it easy, whether you are driving, shopping or walking. There's more danger of an accident when you're tired or excited. Also, snow and ice can hinder both walking and driving and contribute to an accident, especially if you are in a hurry.

—If you take the Christmas tree home in your car, make certain it is not blocking the driver's vision. If you have placed the tree in the trunk, don't drive with the trunk lid up.

Be courteous.

—KEEP CAR windows and windshield clean.

—If roads and streets are slippery allow yourself more time to get to and from your destination. (A14

TUMBLING PACKAGES. The Chicago Motor Club reminds motorists that it is imperative that they give their undivided attention to their driving. Here, an unwise motorist has piled the results of an entire day's Christmas shopping on the front seat. When packages tumble to the floor, she is distracted and momentarily diverts her attention from the road—always a dangerous practice.

NOT FROM THIS SIDE. Never enter or leave an automobile from the street side, warns the Chicago Motor Club. This obviously is a dangerous practice and can cause injuries to others in addition to yourself. In this picture a motorist has just turned a corner when he is suddenly confronted with an open car door. If he cannot stop in time, he must either smash into the open door or swerve into oncoming traffic to avoid the collision. It is much safer to enter your car from the curb side.

TOO MANY PACKAGES. Crossing the street in the middle of the block is dangerous at any time. It is especially hazardous if your visibility is obstructed by an arm load of Christmas packages. The Chicago Motor Club cautions pedestrians to cross only at intersections to carry only as many packages as they can comfortably manage without hindering their ability to cope with traffic. (A-14

BRINGING HOME THE TREE. This motorist has placed his Christmas tree in his trunk without regard to his rear vision. With his trunk lid up he must lean out of the open door to see clearly behind him. Even with a rear view mirror mounted on the side of the car only part of his rear vision is unobstructed. It is a good idea to bind the tree before placing it in the trunk so that the lid can be lowered enough to allow a clear view through the rear window. Another solution is to secure the tree to the roof or side of the car.

Dems to Hold 'Convention'

A "Mock Convention" cosponsored by the Evanston Democratic club and the Northern Illinois Council of Democratic clubs, will be held Sunday evening, Dec. 10, 7:30 p.m., in the main auditorium of the Unitarian church, 1330 Ridge ave., Evanston.

During the "Convention" the names of eight men, prominently mentioned as candidates for U. S. Senator from Illinois, will be placed in nomination by leading members in each club. Possible candidates to be nominated are:

Draper Daniels, Mel Price, Irving Dilliard, Paul Simon, Arnold Maremont, Adlai Stevenson, Paul Powell, and Sidney Yates.

NOMINATIONS from the floor will also be entertained. At the conclusions of the nominating speeches, members of each club will be given an opportunity to vote for their favorite candidate.

The "Mock Convention" will precede the meeting of the State Central Committee which slates its choice for U. S. Senator.

The atmosphere of a real political convention will be created by posters and banners in the auditorium, and by the active campaigning preceding the nominating speeches.

William Brackett, 911 Forest ave., is president of the Evanston Democratic club. Ben Diamond, 721 Brown ave., Evanston, heads up the Northern Illinois Council of Democratic clubs. The council consists of Democratic clubs in Cook, Kane and DuPage counties. Invitations to the convention will go to the Evanston Democratic club membership list and the more than 1100 members in the council. (A14

Northwest Hospital Marking Second Birthday This Week

by HELENE BRISTOL

Sandra Sallak and Northwest Community hospital are two years old.

To mark their mutual birthday, Sandy and the hospital held a birthday party Monday, with all hospital employees participating.

Sandy not only shares a birthday with the hospital — to the hospital she is one of the most important little girls in the area.

Sandy was the first baby born in the newly-opened institution December 2, 1959, arriving only a few hours after the hospitally officially opened its doors.

The young miss set the pace for the hospital maternity floor, with almost 3,000 babies delivered in two years. The official count of new babies on the second anniversary was 2,890.

The latest birth at the hospital on the anniversary weekend was a baby girl born to the 15,000th patient admitted to the hospital, Mrs. Ronald Henrichsen of 1046 S. Vail, Arlington Heights. The new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henrichsen can claim a birth weight of more than seven pounds but cannot yet claim a name since the Henrichsens "were expecting a boy."

THE LITTLE girl will join two sisters—Ronda, 6½, and Laura, 3½—and a brother, Rodney, 17 months, who also was born at Northwest Community hospital.

Conditions on the maternity floor for young Miss Henrichsen, delivered by Dr. Frank J. Peifer, differed in great degree from those found by Sandy Sallak when Dr. Edward J. Jacobs officiated at her birth.

While Mrs. Henrichsen and her baby daughter have ample company in the widely-used maternity floor, Mrs. John O. Sallak and Sandy were all alone for much of their stay. There were only five other mothers on the floor when Sandy and her mother went home to 38 W. Comfort st., Palatine.

AT HOME waiting to greet Sandy were two older sisters, Deberah, now 7, and Cheryl Ann, 5—both students at Immanuel Lutheran school, Palatine.

The family has lived in Palatine for almost six years, and are now confirmed suburban residents. Sandy's father is a complete suburbanite, working at the suburban industrial plant of Fastron in Bensenville.

One of the highlights of the birthday celebration for Sandy at the hospital was the presentation of a mechanical dog and twin baby dolls by Mrs. James McCartney, director of hospital volunteers.

WITH HER "doggy" and "babies" and the birthday cake, all thought of solid food for lunch was lost on Sandy, who proceeded to walk around the cafeteria to each table and back into the kitchen to say hello to the cafeteria staff.

In marking its second anniversary the hospital listed an impressive list of statistics in addition to the 2,890 babies and 15,000 patients. During the first two years of operation the hospital emergency room served 12,368 patients. There have been 5,620 surgical procedures performed and 6,246 physical therapy treatments.

A total of 72,578 laboratory examinations were performed, with 34,914 X-ray examinations. There have been 3,844 electrocardiograms and basal metabolism rate examinations.

VOLUNTEERS have given 54,111½ hours of work to the new hospital.

Washing machines were kept busy in the two year period with 1,003,040 pounds of laundry amounting to 1,587,026 separate pieces.

Regular patient diets have kept the cafeteria busy preparing 95,744 meals, with 84,423 special diet meals served. Meals served in the employee cafeteria add another 167,621—a total of 347,788 meals from the hospital kitchens.

TODAY THERE are 93 doctors on the hospital medical staff. In addition there are 128 registered nurses employed, 17 technicians and five house physicians. The hospital lists a total of 381 employees, with 210 full-time workers and 171 part-time employees.

Direction of general hospital policy and expansion plans rests with a 40-member board of directors, with members coming from the entire area served by the hospital.

Chairman of the board for 1961 is A. C. Buehler, who succeeded Nicholas Lattof, chairman of the board during the final fund-raising effort and the opening of the hospital. The late Charles J. Walters served as the first chairman of the hospital board.

The $2,700,000 hospital contains 110 beds. The need for additional beds is acute, with the entire hospital ranging to more than 90 per cent occupancy at all times and temporary beds in the lounges used frequently to provide for overflow patients.

PLANS FOR expansion of facilities are sidetracked at present until the original hospital construction financial obligations are reduced.

The hospital design and basic structure is planned for the addition of wings to the north and south of the existing four-floor patient building. Each proposed wing would add another 100-bed capacity, bringing the total hospital potential to more than 300 beds. (A14

TWO CANDLES BURN brightly on Sandra Sallak's birthday cake during her joint birthday celebration with Northwest Community hospital last Monday. Both the hospital and Sandra, the first baby born there, marked their second birthday Saturday, Dec. 2. With a special cake and birthday gifts, and cake for all employees, the hospital held a noontime birthday party for the first of the almost 3,000 babies born at the institution. Helping Sandy blow out the candles were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Sallak of Palatine, and Alan Campbell, hospital administrator. (A14

New Radio Series Exposes City Need

A special 13-week series of documentary broadcasts on "The Face of Inner City" will be introduced Wednesday, Dec. 13 on WBBM radio.

The dramatic series will be a feature of WBBM's regular half-hour program, "Spectrum," heard Wednesdays at 9 p. m.

THE FIRST of the series will include a report on urban poverty by Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, and co-author of the award-winning newspaper series, "The Poor of Illinois."

Also participating in the initial broadcast are Tom Wilson and Dr. Raphael Martinez, staff members of the Chicago City Missionary Society, a Protestant agency concerned with church and community life in the "inner city."

Script for "The Face of Inner City" is by Stephen Rose and George Ralph, who also serves as narrator.

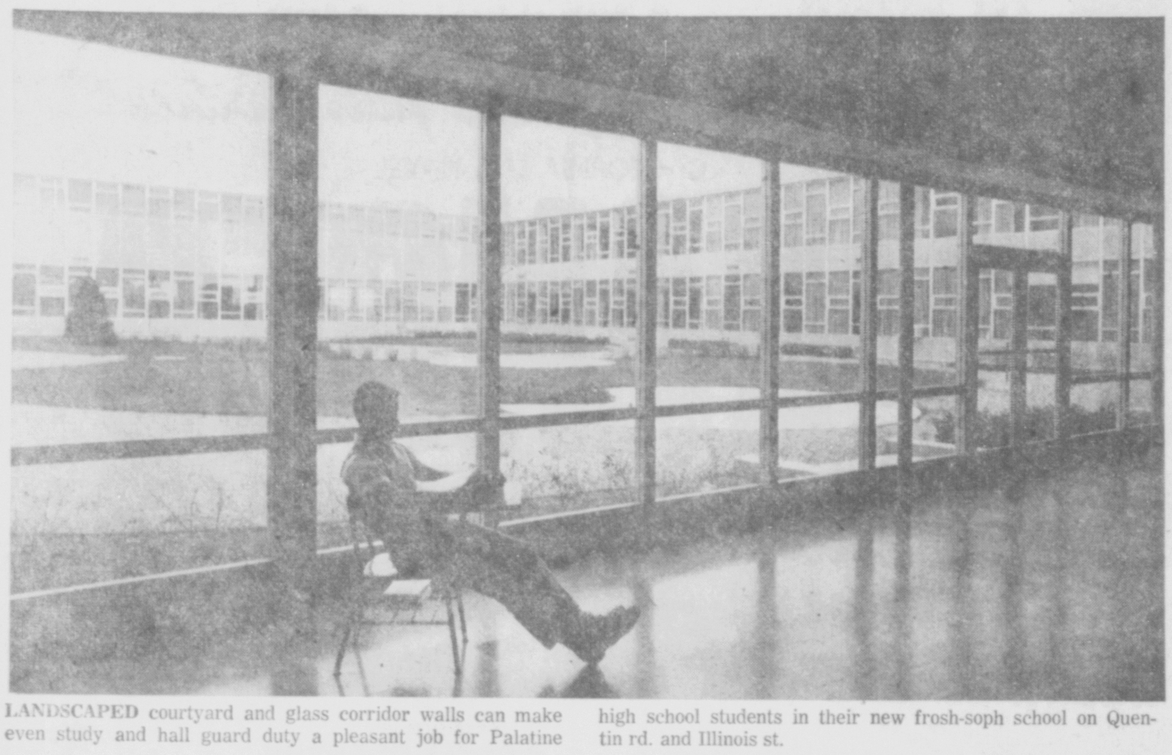
Palatine's High School 'Comes of Age'



LANDSCAPED courtyard and glass corridor walls can make even study and hall guard duty a pleasant job for Palatine high school students in their new frosh-soph school on Quentin rd. and Illinois st.

by HELENE BRISTOL

After 87 years of secondary education, Palatine high school has graduated to a two-school status.

It took 54 years for the high school to achieve a building devoted exclusively to high-school education. When the school moved into the Wood st. building in 1928 it seemed like the "last word" in high school facilities.

Today the old Wood st. school has been enlarged and enlarged again, bringing a capacity of 1,200 students. New subdivisions, new homes and the high post-war birth rate made even 1,200 look small. Last year, while the new south high school was under construction, the Wood st. school was crammed with almost 1,600 students.

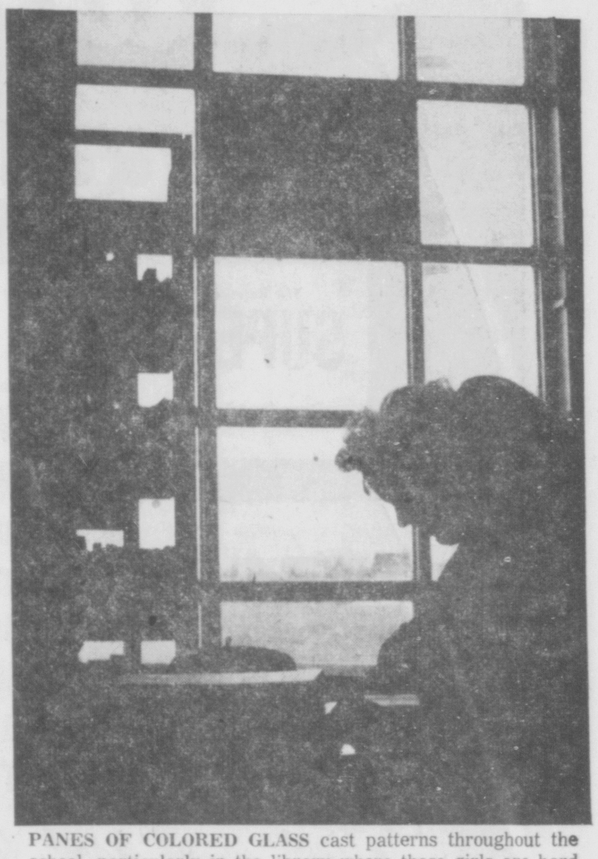
THE HIGH school has breathing room again with the opening of the new south high school on Quentin rd. and Illinois st. on the far southwest village limits of Palatine. The building has a student capacity of 1,600 and basic facilities for expansion to 2,500 students.

The spacious, efficient and modern new south high school was designed by Nicol and Nicol, architects, and built at a total cost of $2,800,000 including land and utilities.

The low-cost building incorporates some of the latest features in educational facilities including language laboratory, specially-designed science, vocational, home economics, music and art rooms and a double-tiered gymnasium.

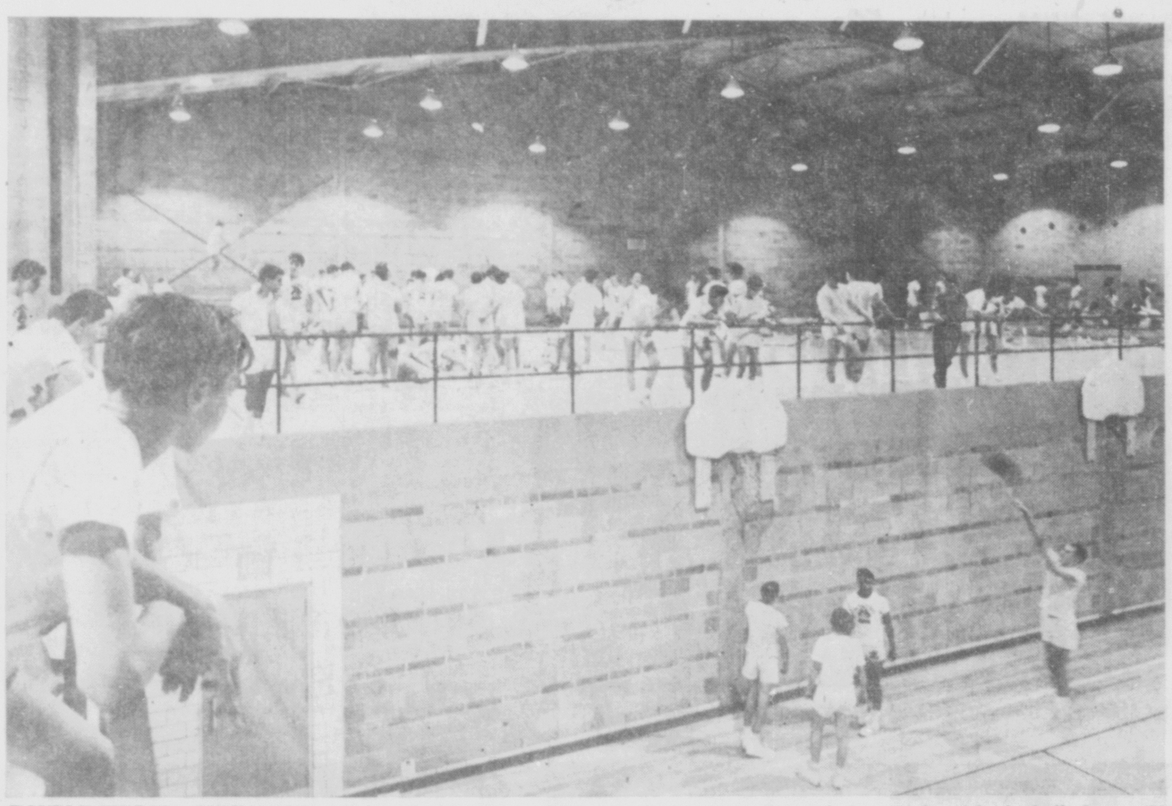
A MODERN cafeteria with glass walls overlooks surrounding farms and landscaped central courtyard.

From upper floor rooms in the small wooden Palatine village school 87 years ago, the high school has "come of age" with facilities and program to match educational advances.



PANES OF COLORED GLASS cast patterns throughout the school, particularly in the library where these girls are hard at work on research and reading projects.

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS Principal Leonard Newendorp and Business Manager Kenneth Carroll, relaxing for a few minutes in the faculty lounge, are eager to explain the advantages of new facilities on the education program.



DOUBLE-TIERED GYMNASIUM, giving double-use to the area above the locker rooms, is well used by student classes and athletic teams. While one group of boys undergoes physical fitness tests a second class works on basketball play on the main gymnasium floor.

HIGH IN THE SKY a workman changes an electric bulb in the powerful parking lot multi-sided light pole — lights doubly necessary because of the dark, country area where the new school is located.

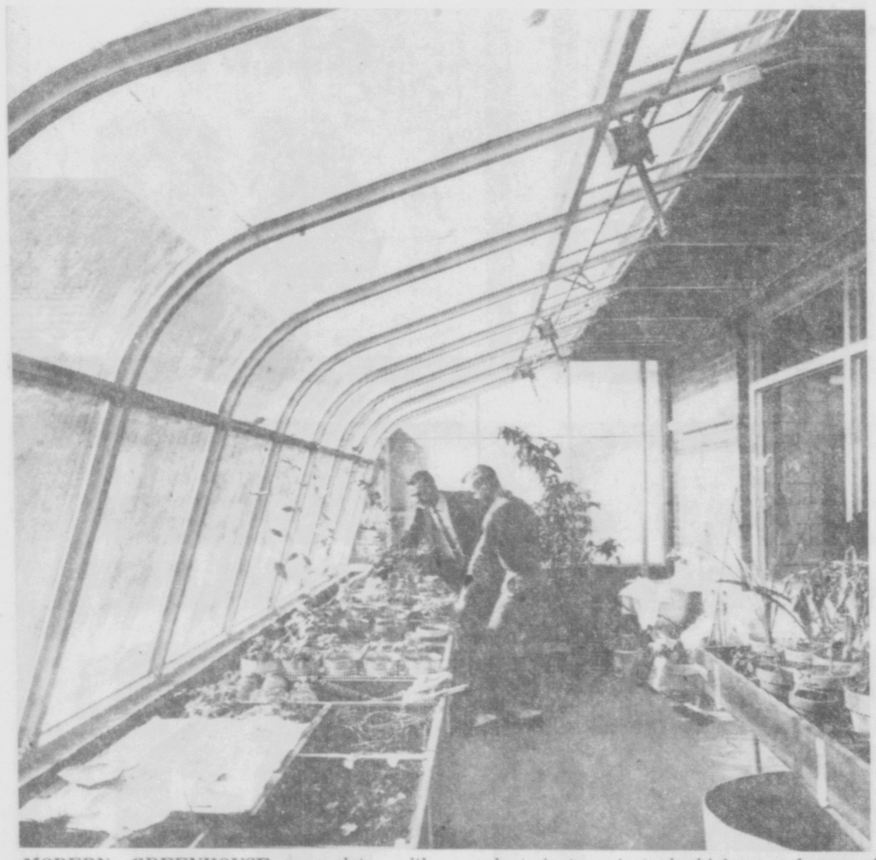
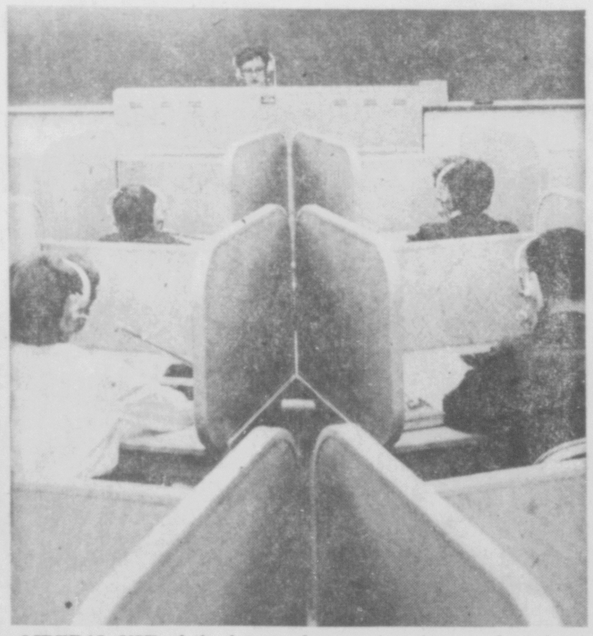
ALL CLASSROOMS, including several largé study halls as pictured above, have massive glass window walls with attractive draperies opening to the landscaped inner court or the rolling farm countryside around the school.



MODERN GREENHOUSE, complete with electrically operated windows, is proving ground and research center for both faculty and student projects in biology and general science classes.

UNIQUE USE FOR tiered lecture class rooms comes at test time when two sets of questions, given to alternating rows, makes copying almost impossible and eliminates all distraction for concentrating students.

WARM WOOD PANELED walls, with light-wood-tone modern furniture, give the school library a spacious and relaxing atmosphere for study.



LIBERAL USE of the latest advances in science, adapted to teaching methods, is included in the new school such as this language laboratory where students can listen, record, play back or talk to the teacher without disturbing other students in the class.

EYE-CATCHING FRONT view of the Palatine district 211 new south high school, varied with glass, colored translucent panels and stone, is in sharp contrast to the surrounding fields, woods and farm houses in the area at the edge of the Palatine village limits.

Robert Vogeler Appointed To New Meissner Position

Robert B. Vogeler, 3505 Kingfisher, Rolling Meadows, has been named director of the newly organized computation center for Meissner Engineers, Inc.

He will be responsible for directing the application of a new IBM 1620 computer complex to engineering and scientific problems, data processing and accounting procedures, according to company president Robert C. Meissner. He will also work with industrial and chemical engineers on automation and control projects.

VOGELER WAS formerly supervisor of the mathematical analysis section of Automatic Electric Laboratories, Northlake. A registered professional engineer of Illinois, he is a graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology with a B. S. degree in electrical engineering. He is currently pursuing graduate work in mathematics and engineering at Northwestern university.

Previously he was a member of Bell and Howell's research laboratories staff, where he was engaged in the development of a special purpose navigational computer for the air force, and later headed a section working on advanced electro-photography development. As a project engineer for Cook Research Laboratories and senior engineer for Philco corporation, he worked on a number of classified projects for the armed forces, including the development of sonar systems, missiles, missile tracking systems, airborne radar evaluation at Whitesands Proving Grounds.

VOGELER IS A member of the Institute of Radio Engineers, the Association for Computing Machinery and the Operations Research Society of America. He is also midwest regional secretary-treasurer of the 1620 Users Group, a group of engineers and scientists who are using the IBM 1620 computer in their work.

Vogeler and his wife, Ruth, have three children: Susan, 12; Sandra, 8, and Sherry Lynn, 4.

S & H RAMBLER, 500 Northwest Highway, Palatine, is displaying the new Triumph "TR-4," a new model with many new features. A newly-restyled body, roll-up windows, wider track, larger displacement engine; new steering improvements, increased trunk capacity, and forward-hinged hood design. Syncromesh gears are used in all four forward speeds. The TR-4 is also available with additional optional features including hard-top and other accessories.

Chambers Executive Named, Moving to Rolling Meadows

M. A. Compton Jr., Corpus Christi, Texas, has been elected vice president in charge of sales for Chambers Corp. The announcement was made by Fred Flato, president of the manufacturer of built-in appliances and ranges. Compton will headquarter at the executive offices of the company in Rolling Meadows.

A native of El Paso, Texas, Compton has been associated with the Chambers firm, first as general manager for Edwin Flato Co., a distributor of Chambers appliances in Houston, and later as southwest regional sales manager. He will head a staff of regional and district managers who direct Chambers sales through more than 200 distributors. His war experience includes four years with U. S. Air Force combat intelligence, partly in south China.

United Air Lines to Move To New Executive Offices

United Air Lines executive offices, part of the Midway airport scene since 1938, will move to northwest suburban Mount Prospect during the weekend of December 8 through December 11.

Personnel now working in the cluster of buildings surrounding the 5959 S. Cicero headquarters will leave their south side offices to work in a brand new $7,000,000 building located on a 51-acre tract of land extending from the junction of Dempster and Linneman rds. to Algonquin rd., south of Mount Prospect.

TO ALLAY any suspicion that the entire move was completed by magic wand-waving, Will W. Jorden, United's office manager and move coordinator, said the physical move had been in the planning stage for over a year.

Jorden said more than 30 moving vans and 230 trained movers would work around the clock until the job is completed. Hugh Owens, vice president of Trans-American Van Service, Inc., whose crew will handle the bulk of the moving, said he thought the job would be completed by mid-afternoon Sunday.

Jorden said 65,000 pieces of furniture and equipment would make the 31-mile trek between the old and new buildings.

Jorden said 1,300 United employees will be working at the new offices. That number will swell to 2,100 by July 1, when other key company personnel in the areas of transportation services, flight operations and operations planning move from the present operating base in Denver.

The new headquarters building will have 373,000 square feet of usable space immediately available. Further construction, already under way, will provide an additional 100,000 square feet.

Located immediately adjacent to the new headquarters is the company's management and stewardess training center. The first class of stewardesses graduated November 16.

United has placed the 5959 S. Cicero headquarters building, the adjoining finance building and various warehouses in the Cicero complex on sale through the John C. Bowers company, realtors. (BB

Payments Must Be Identified

The Internal Revenue service receives hundreds of payments that are placed in the suspense account because they cannot be identified with any tax account or taxpayer. Three thousand unidentified payments totaling over one and a half million dollars are now deposited in the suspense account, Harold R. All, director of internal revenue of Chicago district announced.

The district office makes every effort to identify these payments or locate the senders. However, the payment remains in the suspense account until it is properly identified.

All had this advice to taxpayers sending in checks or money orders in payment of taxes: "Attach the bill or notice to your payment. "If you do not have a bill or notice, attach a note stating what the payment is for, the year of tax, the type of tax, and include your name and address.

"And remember to keep your money order stubs or cancelled checks for your records as evidence of payment."

Illinois Bell Promotes Arlington Hts. Man

Paul L. Doherty, 734 S. Mitchell st., Arlington Heights, has been appointed district sales manager for the Indiana area of Illinois Bell Telephone. He began his telephone career in June, 1945, in the plant department at Rockford.

SINCE 1957, he has served in sales at Rockford and Chicago, and in February, 1960, he was named sales manager in the Bellwood district.

Doherty, who was born and reared in Rockford, where his parents still live, is on the board of the Clearbrook School for Retarded Children. He served three years in the air force during World War II.

Mrs. Kramer Attends Nursing Home Meet

Mrs. Jeannette R. Kramer of the Plum Grove Nursing home, Palatine, was elected secretary of the Illinois Nursing Home association at their annual convention in Springfield, November 13, 14, 15. Mrs. Kramer was program chairman for the convention.

OTHERS PRESENT at the convention were Layde Gilbert of Palatine, Paul Ellingsen of Arlington Heights and Lorraine Himel of Des Plaines.

Mrs. Kramer was invited to the White House Regional conference in Chicago at the Sheraton hotel November 7 and 8. She will also be a guest at the Second National Conference of the Joint Council to Improve the Health Care of the Aged at the Edgewater Beach hotel December 15 and 16. (BB

Chicken Carry-Out Service Is Slated

Brown's Fried Chicken Carry-Out Service will open its fourth store, located in the Rolling Meadows shopping plaza, in two weeks.

The 12-year-old business began at 8028 S. Harlem ave. The other two successful operations are in the Villa-DuPage Shopping Plaza in Villa Park, and at 2644 W. 147th st. in Posen.

"There are three reasons why we are regarded as 'Cock of the Roost' in the preparation of our chicken," states Brown's. "The poultry is delivered and cut fresh daily. It is prepared by experts who use only top quality products. It is not pre-cooked, and the french fries that go with the dinner are not frozen, or ready prepared, but peeled, sliced, and cooked fresh daily."

Brown's Fried Chicken will not be a restaurant; it is a carry-out service with hours of 11 a. m. to 11 p. m. six days a week, including Sunday. They will be closed on Monday.

Magic Kitchen

'Push Button' Dining In Des Plaines Debut

The restaurant of the future is opening on Dec. 15 in the Chicago area in the Market Place Shopping center, Elmhurst and Golf rds., Des Plaines.

The new restaurant, "Magic Kitchen," promises to be a new experience in dining-out for the people of Chicagoland. Operated by Thomas Anderson, and designed by Robert O. Burton, designer of O'Hare Inn Restaurant, this is a completely self-service restaurant, where the customers will not only pick out their own dinners and desserts but cook them as well.

OCCUPYING 2500 square feet, the restaurant will be a brightly lighted, colorfully decorated room; wood-panelling set off by pastel blues, greens, yellows, plus colored vinyl-tiled floors with teak wood topped tables and chairs in decorator colors.

Once inside the restaurant, customers are greeted by a hostess and a Maitre-D costumed in chef's hat. These are the only two employees in the restaurant. They welcome the guests and explain the entire operation step-by-step. The hostess ushers customers to precooked refrigerated Vendo food venders, indicates the selector buttons and coin inserts and helps the customers select their favorites on the menu.

If there is a need for coins, N. R. I. currency change machines, accepting up to $5 bills, are only two steps away.

The selected food package is then carried to the Raytheon (or General Electric) Microwave Oven. Each packet has a colored plastic wrapper matching the color of a range button which sets the correct heating time for that particular food. (The wrapper is removed before placing food in the oven.)

Cooking time is anywhere from six seconds for rolls to 90 seconds for a complete dinner plate. When the oven door is closed a light goes on. After a few seconds, the light goes off, the customer opens the oven, takes out his heated and well-cooked meal. He does this without burning his fingers. The cooking is done by microwave energy, and not gas or electricity. The meal is piping hot, but the containers remain cool.

CUSTOMERS can then choose their beverages and desserts from coffee, milk, soft drink, ice cream, cake, and candy vending machines. After completion of the meal, all refuse is placed in a litter bag (which is furnished with the tray), and the customer then deposits litter bag, tray, knife, spoon, fork, etc., in the handy disposal. There are no dishes to be washed, no orders to be given to waitresses, no tips, no cashiers, and, most important, no long wait.

Initially, the customer will have his choice of around 40 different food items, including meat entrees, casseroles, coffee, tea, hot chocolate, coca cola, and hot or cold sandwiches.

The prices will range from 25 cents for sandwiches up to 75 cents for dinners. Full meals, including meat course, salad, dessert and coffee will cost about $1.25.

Magic Kitchen has arranged for famous nutrition experts to prepare the dinners found in their vending machines. Swift and Co., Sara Lee, Campbell, Maxwell House, all of these manufacturers are cooperating in this experiment in restaurant operation.

MENUS ARE made up on a weekly basis, and the order for prepackaged frozen items is placed with the various suppliers. Meals are placed in frozen storage at Magic Kitchen in a 819 cubic foot freezer. Each afternoon the meals for the following day are removed from the freezer and put into a refrigerator which gradually defrosts them to 38 to 40 degrees temperature. They are placed in the various vendors at 40 degrees and held at that temperature until selected by the customer. Because the food is sealed in air-tight packages and held frozen or refrigerated until opened by the customer there is greatly reduced exposure to contamination of any kind.

With the electronic food service system, late-comers get the same quality food as that available at the beginning of the luncheon or dinner period. Because food is preserved under refrigeration until a minute or two before it is consumed, the original quality of the prepared items is retained.

Accident Policyholders Urged to Note Renewal

Here is a situation where that old saying "hindsight is better than foresight" does not hold true.

It's the story of the family who failed to renew its insurance when due. They no longer felt the need for such protection. What happened? The policy had no sooner expired when suddenly a loss developed.

The result? Expenses that could have been largely offset through a small investment. This happens frequently but fortunately not to the majority of folks who wisely realize the value of insurance protection.

THIS SITUATION is offered as a reminder to those holders of Paddock Publications Emergency Protection Personal Accident Policy to renew their policy promptly when it becomes due.

Such notice is mailed approximately 30 days in advance of the due date by Old Republic Life Insurance Company of Chicago, through which organization this newspaper makes available to subscribers and their family household members this vitally necessary public service.

Proof of the merit and value of this helpful service has already been established by many claim payments to date.

Wheeling Ekco-Alcoa Co. Announces Appointments

William Didriksen, president of Ekco-Alcoa Containers Inc., Wheeling, has announced the election of two new vice presidents: John W. Carlile as vice president-marketing, and Jack B. Blane as vice president-engineering.

Carlile joined Ekco-Alcoa in 1960 as general manager, marketing services. After serving in this capacity for approximately eight months, he assumed overall responsibility for both line sales and the marketing staff as director of marketing. Previously, Carlile was associated with the Plax Corp., Hartford, Conn., and has over 20 years experience in retail merchandising and the packaging industry.

JOHN W. CARLILE

Blane has been manager of Ekco-Alcoa's engineering department since the company was formed in 1955. He has been responsible for the company's foil container tooling and engineering design.

JACK B. BLANE

Ekco-Alcoa produces aluminum foil packaging, foil unit containers, and a line of package filling and sealing equipment. (BB

Bucket Seats Featured in New Mercury Meteor S-33

The new Mercury Meteor has been on sale only a week but already a new model with bucket seats is being readied for addition to the line in February.

Ben D. Mills, general manager of Lincoln-Mercury division and a vice president of Ford Motor Co., announced today that the new addition to the line will be designated the Mercury Meteor S 33. The special two-door model will have individually contoured front seats separated by a console storage compartment, he said.

"INTRODUCTION of the S-33 will be followed sometime in 1962 by production of the one millionth bucket seat car produced in the United States since this style trend first started in 1954.

"With the fast increasing popularity of individual-type seats, a half-million automobiles equipped with bucket seats probably will be produced in the 1962 model year, compared with 330,000 made in the 1961 model year," Mills stated.

The S-33 bucket seats will adjust individually and will be all-vinyl upholstered. The console between the seats serves as a personal package compartment convenient to both driver and passengers.

LIKE THE two-door and four-door sedans currently offered in the Meteor and Meteor custom series, the S-33 will be available with either a six-cylinder or V-8 engine. Standard or automatic transmission is available with both engines, and overdrive is offered with the 145-horsepower V-8.

The S-33 also will offer power steering, power brakes, air conditioning and many other options and accessories.

Production of the S-33 will begin at the company's Dearborn, Mich., and Kansas City, Mo., assembly plants in mid-January. (BB METEOR JOINS bucket brigade — The Mercury Meteor, a completely new-sized car, was introduced only a week ago. However, Lincoln-Mercury division already has announced a planned addition to the line — the Mercury Meteor S-33. The S-33 will feature contoured bucket seats. The S-33 is being readied for showings in February when it will join the four other models in the Meteor line. The Meteor S-33 will have a package compartment console between the individually adjustable front seats, special door panel trim, distinctive wheel covers and exterior emblems. (BB

Fred Gillies Retires From Acme Steel Co.

Retirement of Fred M. Gillies from Acme Steel company, as senior consultant four weeks ago, has given a lift to Republican spirits.

The reason? Gillies has the needed additional time to devote to the presidency of the United Republican Fund.

Already at Fund Headquarters at 80 East Jackson, Chicago, and among party leaders throughout Illinois, there is the comfortable feeling that comes to a home with a competent breadwinner who has time to give to the job.

BILLS WILL BE paid. New needs will be budgeted for and met promptly. Plans will be put into action to insure money toward Republican victory in 1962.

Retirement comes to Fred Gillies after 40 years in the steel industry. For many of the past 40 years, politics with Gillies has been a strong interest.

He has served as a Republican volunteer precinct worker, as ward committeeman, on many important party committees, and as a party money raiser.

AS THE non-salaried president of Illinois' URF, Gillies must provide adequate funds for the 1962 elections on the local, state, and national levels. Raising money in an off-election year presents special problems — and special challenges — particularly when the party is out of power both in Washington and in Springfield, as the GOP now is.

Old Fund memberships must be renewed, and new ones obtained, in order to reinvigorate party organization, attract able candidates, and dispel voter apathy.

How is this to be done? First, as Fred Gillies sees it, party contributors and potential contributors must be made to believe that it is worth doing. Then, Gillies says, it's a matter of team play.

SINCE HIS days at Cornell where he was named All-American football tackle, Fred has been a consistent and a strong believer in team play. He has practiced and taught this sense of pulling together, both as player for the Chicago Cardinals, and as a business executive.

It was Gillies' team spirit which led Red Grange, the Illini galloping star, to say of him, "I have found him to be a great team player who respects everyone's opinion and who has the ability to form any group of players into a working and winning team."

C. J. Sharp, now retired, Gillies' former superior at Acme Steel, commented, "Fred looks upon his associates as part of a team that he is playing with and, when necessary, is perfectly willing to run interference for them."

THOSE WHO have known Gillies as athlete, as industrial leader, or in any one of the numerous civic roles he has taken, are confident that Fred's team spirit is just what the URF needs.

Another winning team, a Republican one, should result, they say, from Fred Gillies' presidency of the Fund. (BB

License Plates on Sale At Counters, By Mail

Over-the-counter sale of 1962 motor vehicle license plates in Springfield and Chicago and mailing of plates began December 1, according to Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier.

February 15 will again be the deadline for displaying current plates, Carpentier said. He emphasized that that date is a deadline for having the plates displayed on the vehicles, not merely a deadline for submitting applications.

MOTORISTS applying by mail should have their applications in his office by February 1 to be assured of having their plates in time for the deadline, Secretary Carpentier said.

Plates will be mailed, at the rate of about 35,000 sets a day, in numerical and alphabetical sequence, a procedure made necessary by space limitations which prevent having a large number of plates on hand at any particular time, Mr. Carpentier said.

Motorists who requested reassignment of numbers with letter prefixes in which the first letter is in the middle of the alphabet will not receive them until those letters are reached in the sequence, but they will all receive them in time for the display deadline, Mr. Carpentier said. (BB

H. Anderson Speaks At Industrial Seminar

Harold Anderson, 63 Pleasant Hill, Palatine, Construction Editor of Plant Engineering magazine, will be the dinner guest speaker Thursday, Dec. 7, in Maurice's Towne club, Madison, Wis., during a two-day seminar pertaining to industrial plant maintenance, sponsored by the engineering institute of the University of Wisconsin.

ANDERSON will talk about the new materials and techniques in new plant construction, pointing up how these materials can be used to simplify the maintenance of industrial plants.

This seminar will be attended by plant engineers from companies all over Wisconsin and several neighboring states. Anderson's work as Construction Editor for Plant Engineering magazine has given him the opportunity to visit many different types of old, new, rebuilt and enlarged plants all over the country. (BB

Consumers Mart to Open in Palatine

After becoming the world's largest membership department store chain, the two Consumers Mart of America stores in Chicago at 4701 N. Harlem and 5100 W. 111th st. will open their doors to the general public. CMA will open its newest outlet along Northwest highway, Palatine, early in 1962.

The idea of a limited membership department store began in Chicago in November 1959, when CMA built its first store on Harlem ave. Patterned after the government post exchange, the store was a complete shopping center under one roof.

A 25,000 SQUARE foot grocery supermarket containing fresh produce and meat; jewelry, optics, insurance, and an automotive service center, as well as clothing, hardware, etc., are all part of the store that was designed to suit needs for home, family, or car. The stores have parking space for 1,500 cars and take in an area of 15 acres.

According to J. A. Kielly, president, the reason for limiting membership to government and public service employees, and more recently to veterans, was to obtain the greatest saving for customers through buying and merchandising methods that can cater to one economic group of active customers.

Since then, CMA has opened six more stores across the country, and more are under construction. All but the two Chicagoland stores are open to the general public to test CMA's original theory.

EVEN THOUGH the Chicago stores have been very successful, according to Kielly, "The other stores have enabled us to buy on a much larger scale, and we have found that we can better serve an area by operating under an open door policy, mainly for much the same reasons that we started in Chicago on a membership basis."

Al Lamm, general manager for the Chicago stores, has written the current members informing them that they will be credited for their membership dues already paid, on a pro-rated basis, accredited to their next purchase. (BB

Dinner Marks NW Suburban PE Anniversary

The Northwest Suburban chapter, Illinois Society of Professional Engineers, feted the ladies, Thursday evening, November 30. A smorgasbord followed by dancing was given at Nielsen's restaurant, south of Des Plaines. The dinner also marked the third anniversary of the chapter's founding.

CONCERNED over the growing confusion surrounding the effects of nuclear attack, the chapter is studying the role of the professional engineer in furthering a greater understanding of the problem. Several chapter members have completed the U.S. Government's course on nuclear warfare and are competent to assess the merits of blast and fallout protection.

Charles Erickson, PE and Melvin Fisher, PE, both of Mount Prospect, recently evaluated the St. Paul Lutheran church and school in that town. This study was made at the request of Martin Hasz, school superintendent. (BB

Warren G. VanderVoort Launches Career System

Inland Life Insurance company, chartered in September, 1960, initiated the development of a career general agency system November 1, with the appointment of Warren G. 'There Must Be a Better Way Than the Arbitrament of the Sword'

Dirksen Urges 'Faith' for Peace

Warns of Red Power Plans

by BOB CUMMINS

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois Republican, holds fast to hopes for peace, although he believes that the Soviet Union aims for the domination of Europe.

"Peter the Great, asked for 'a window on the Baltic,'" the Senator said, and Khrushchev is seeking 'a window on the Atlantic.'"

But when he was asked if he agreed with a recent statement by Senator Paul Douglas, his Illinois colleague, that "it would be a miracle if war is averted," Senator Dirksen replied: "If I agreed, I am afraid that I would be confessing a lack of faith in the Christian idea."

HE RECALLED his days as a soldier in World War I, and said that at the end of that war, he resolved that there should be a better way than fighting and guns to settle international problems.

"Oh, I was full of idealism then!" he declared. "But, without blinking the harsh realities, I still believe there must be a better way than the arbitrament of the sword."

"If there has been enough human ingenuity to find the smallest of things—the atom—and to split it, isn't there to be enough human ingenuity to find a moral and spiritual atom, and fracture it and lay it bare, to find the way to peace?" he asked.

THE VETERAN Illinois legislator spoke to Paddock Publications editors for more than an hour Thursday afternoon. He will seek his third term in the Senate at next November's election.

Between puffs on cigarettes and sips of black coffee, the senator answered questions on local, national and international affairs, in the baritone voice which has become familiar to a nation, and caused a listener to say that "his tonsils must have been marinated in honey."

Senator Dirksen gave the impression that he prefers the carrot to the club, that he is a seeker after points of agreement rather than of disagreement, and that malice is foreign to his nature. It seems that 30 years in the political mainstream in Washington have smoothed away angularities and jagged edges. All of which might help to explain his position as Republican leader in the Senate.

SENATOR Dirksen said "I do not know" when asked if negotiations can settle the Berlin crisis. "Berlin is only one pawn in the Russian chess game," he explained. "The aim is to isolate Germany, destroy NATO, and get the window on the Atlantic. In addition to the pressure on Berlin, Russia hopes to outflank Germany on the north, through Finland and Norway and Denmark, and in southern Europe as well."

The Senator was asked to compare the performance of President Kennedy with that of General Eisenhower in the office of Presidency.

"General Eisenhower brought a great fund of administrative experience to that office. He brought age, and great maturity of judgment gained in dealing with momentous war-time matters," he replied.

"PRESIDENT Kennedy (like myself) has a legislative background. He has had to grow into the job, but I do feel he is doing just that very firmly," the senator declared.

Senator Dirksen said he favored United States aid to Latin America under the program called Alliance for Progress.

"It was under the Eisenhower administration that the first $500 million for this purpose was authorized," he noted.

The senator agreed that aid should be related to the progress made by Latin American countries in freeing their political life from domination by the big landowners and the military.

"THE PEOPLE in general must feel the results of this aid," he said. "If everything remains in the hands of the few, with nothing for the many, then we shall always have a revolutionary ferment, and our money will be thrown away," he declared.

The veteran Republican, in reply to a question on the decline of Republican fortunes in Chicago and Cook county, said the remedy was to be found in organization and hard work.

He recalled past successes in his previous Senatorial campaigns in Chicago where fellow party workers had told him the situation was hopeless and campaigning a lost cause."

DIRKSEN CARRIED Cook county in his first Senatorial campaign.

"True, you cannot get everyone to agree with you," he said in regard to Chicago, "but you must give them a chance to see you and hear you and to respect your opinion. Both sides of every question should always be heard."

The senator deplores the burgeoning sums of money being spent in election campaigns, and called it an "unwholesome thing."

He listed the many advertising expenses of campaigning — billboards, newspaper advertisements, personal cards, television. And then he mentioned campaign workers.

"WHY, I CAN remember," he said, "when a very capable lady would get out the vote in her area on election day, and be pleased to get $5 for her troubles. Nowadays, you can't look at a precinct worker for less than $50."

"It has been suggested that the government give the parties so many millions for their campaigns, but I am afraid that would not be a solution — the other expenditures would just be piled on top of it.

"The only answer is to energize the voter — get him to the polls himself on his own volition. Make him feel that he must exercise his civic duty without having to be prompted, reminded and romanced. Get him to go himself — under any circumstances. Get to the people.

That will be the answer to the expenditure problem. The greatest campaigner that ever lived had only 12 men working for Him, and that is never to be forgotten."

About the John Birch society, Senator Dirksen said he had not encountered it in Illinois and has paid little attention to it. But he added: "I feel that this is in the area of extremism."

IN RESPONSE to a question about the demotion of General Edwin Walker, Birch Society member accused of telling his troops how to vote, Senator Dirksen said a public hearing will be held in January and then, "when the entire case and facts are presented, we will know."

Senator Dirksen said he thought tax reform is needed in Illinois. But he put his emphasis on the consolidation of the many taxing districts, and upon pruning waste from government, and made no mention of shifting the weight of the tax burden by means of increased corporation taxes or some sort of state income tax.

He said: "Real property taxes have just about doubled in recent years, judging by what I pay on my home in Pekin. Obviously, the people are concerned and this is a matter that will have to be dealt with."

Dirksen said he would have gone along with Governor Kerner's nominations of Earl Dickerson and Ralph Helstein to the newly-created state Fair Employment Practices Commission.

THE TWO MEN were rejected by the Republican majority in the state Senate, despite the support given them by some prominent GOP leaders in Cook county.

"The Governor would be held responsible by the people for his appointments," the senator noted.

"A MASS FEAR would be something new for this country, something we have never known in all our history. We can't afford to have a country so strong that they will be dealing from strength and we from weakness."

Senator Makes Plea For Budget Reforms

"If you had the power to ensure the passage of two or three pieces of legislation at the next session of Congress, what would they be?"

That was one of the questions asked Senator Everett M. Dirksen at his interview last Thursday with Paddock Publications editors.

Senator Dirksen was prompt with half of the answer. He mentioned first, and with great conviction, his desire to see a consolidated budget presented to Congress.

FOR THE SECOND spot he chose the setting up of a study commission of experts, most of them from outside government ranks, to make a thorough study of the foreign trade picture.

The senator described with distaste the present budget procedure. "When it is presented, it looks similar to a mail order house catalog, filled with cryptic figures," he said. "And it is submitted in separate bills — sometimes as many as 12 or 13.

"Senator Byrd (D-Va.) has worked for a consolidated budget for years. His idea is to present everything at once — together. This would give an overall picture of the budget. If it needed cutting, or adjusting, it could be done much more easily. And if more taxes are needed to balance the budget, the Congress would have to face the hard reality and vote them at the time it approved the budget."

IN REGARD to a foreign trade study group, Dirksen said, "Put people on the committee who are connected with the problem. Put business men on it, put farmers on it, put labor leaders on it, but don't put a majority of government people on it. Then give them ample powers to get the facts."

Senator Dirksen foresaw serious trade troubles ahead for the United States. He cited, as one example, the wood screw industry, which is concentrated in Illinois, and which has lost most of its market to the Japanese. He noted that Western European automobile factories have a capacity of 10½ million units annually, whereas the United States capacity is less than 10 million, and production runs well below capacity.

In commenting on proposals for trade alliances and sweeping tariff reductions, Dirksen said, "I will not venture a solution. I would not want to eat my words later on. When the House ways and means committee gets this particular problem there will be quite a session. It will probably last for months."

HE RECALLED the original Reciprocal Trade Agreement passed in 1934. He voted against it.

"Cordell Hull, then secretary of state, told us that the agreement would guarantee peace," the Senator recalled with some irony.

"However, I must say," he continued, "that since then I have voted for extensions of the agreement."

In discussing compensation to industries which might suffer heavily as a result of tariff reductions made to protect the United States position in world markets, Senator Dirksen suggested the possible establishment of a special court to hear claims, comparable to the present federal tax courts.

Highlights

Here are highlights of the interview which Sen. Everett M. Dirksen gave to Paddock Publications editors last Thursday afternoon:

BERLIN CRISIS—Berlin is a pawn in a bigger game by which the Soviet Union aims for European domination.

NUCLEAR TESTING—Favors immediate resumption of atmospheric testing by the United States. "We cannot afford to fall behind."

FOREIGN AID—Favors the Alliance for Progress program of aid to Latin America, which is an extension of an Eisenhower administration program.

FOREIGN TRADE—A major problem. A thorough study should be made by a committee representing business, labor, agriculture and government.

TAXES—A consolidated budget should replace the piecemeal method now used in Washington. In Illinois, many local taxing bodies can be consolidated to save money.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY—He is "growing in his job."

FALLOUT SHELTERS—The people must be given better answers to the problem.

JOHN BIRCH SOCIETY—"It is in the area of extremism."

Fallout 'Fear' Is Threat to Security

Senator Dirksen is skeptical about America's fallout shelter program.

He doubts the effectiveness of family fallout shelters. He feels many important questions on fallout protection have not been answered.

He is dismayed as he senses the spread of fear in the United States.

And he advocates immediate resumption of nuclear testing in the atmosphere by the United States, in response to Russia's testing of more than 30 atom weapons in October.

"WE CAN'T afford to have a country so strong that they will be dealing from strength and we from weakness," he stated. "They have never retreated and we can't afford to.

"As far as the atmosphere being polluted," he continued, "why there is not sufficient evidence to verify that tests will dangerously affect the atmosphere, and I don't consider that a problem."

The senator said he sensed the development of a "mass fear" over the country in connection with the fallout shelter discussion.

"A mass fear would be something new for this country," he said, "something we have never known in all our history."

SENATOR DIRKSEN told of seeing family fallout shelters which he believed "were not worth the price."

"I would not want shelters for the sake of having something until they were proved adequate and effective," he said. "If we in government advocate them, and they don't do the job, the people will rise in their wrath and sweep us away."

"And what about fallout clothing? Should this be the primary issue?" he asked. "And what about pollution of the air, the water, the food? No sure answers have come from the government on these matters. The people must be given these answers."

The senator said, with some emphasis, that he does not intend to build a fallout shelter at his home.

He recalled being told by one concerned man that General Eisenhower had a fallout shelter, but reported that in his most recent visit to Ike, he found out that the former general does not have one.

Stage Fright Grips Flower Girl at Sue Smith's Wedding

Last minute stage fright left Sue Ellen Smith's bridal party with one less attendant Saturday, Nov. 4, when she became the bride of Grant Jay Verhulst Jr. But aside from this unpredicted catastrophe, the 3 o'clock ceremony continued without further misfortune.

The calamity occurred when 4-year-old Jennie Sue David of Palos Heights, all dressed up in her peau de soie over ivory satin gown with topaz sash for her role as flower girl, suffered from "cold feet" and refused to walk down the aisle of Evanston's First Methodist church chapel.

Unaffected by the change in arrangements was the 4-year-old ring bearer, Jimmy Hochschild of Mt. Prospect.

The bride is the daughter of the Charles C. Smiths, 20 S. Busse rd., Mt. Prospect, and the groom is the son of the senior Grant Verhulsts of Evanston.

DR. HAROLD A. Bosley, pastor of the church, officiated at the doublering, candlelight service during which Dr. Austin C. Lovelace served as organist. Soloist was Mrs. W. W. Grimm of Peoria. The chapel altar was decorated with palms, floor candelabras and bouquets of white pompons and fuji mums.

White ribbon bows with greens were tied on the pews to mark the aisle as the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. She chose a silk-faced peau de soie gown over ivory satin fashioned with scoop neckline, three-quarter sleeves and full skirt with side drape and chapel train. A pearl-studded crown held her 3-tier ballerina veil of french illusion and she carried a bouquet of spider mums and stephanotis.

MISS ANN SMITH served as her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were the groom's sister, Miss Margaret V. Verhulst of San Francisco, Miss Betty Claassen of Peoria and Miss Nancy Hochschild of Mt. Prospect.

All wore identical gowns of topaz satin with scoop necklines, short sleeves and bell-shaped skirts. Bronze fuji mums with wheat sprigs and oak leaves made up their bouquets.

Alfred Reed of Chicago was the groom's best man while William R. Tauber, also of Chicago, and Charles Smith Jr., brother of the bride, were ushers. Junior usher was the bride's younger brother, Craig Smith.

The service was followed by a reception for 175 guests in Glenna hall of the church where Mrs. Smith received in a moss green brocade sheath dress with jacket and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Verhulst chose a deep beige brocade sheath with jacket and her corsage was also an orchid. Guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Erva J. Smith of Champaign and the groom's 95-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Hattie E. Verhulst of Blue Island.

FOLLOWING THE reception, the Smiths entertained out-of-town friends and relatives at a buffet supper in their home. Guests were present from Wisconsin, North Carolina, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, New York and downstate.

Mr. Verhulst took his bride on a 2-week wedding trip to the Grand Canyon and after November 22 the couple will be at home in Des Plaines. The bride was graduated from Shorewood, Wis. high school and William Woods college, Mo. She is now employed at Mount Prospect State bank. Mr. Verhulst was graduated from Evanston township high school and attended Kendall college. He is now with the Underwood Corp. (Stuart-Rogers Photo

Western Honeymoon For Wheeling Bride

A panoramic view of the Grand Canyon was one of the highlights of the 2-week wedding trip taken by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willney following their October 21 wedding in St. Joseph the Worker church. Also included in the trip were Tucson and Phoenix and a visit with the groom's sister in Texas.

The bride is the former Lorraine Tonn, daughter of the Harvey Tonns, 29 W. Hintz rd., Wheeling, and the groom is the son of the Joseph Willneys of Glenview.

Fr. Raymond P. Nugent officiated at the 11:30 a.m. nuptials amid a setting of white mums. Miss Marion Vivireto was soloist for the double ring service.

THE BRIDE, escorted by her father, approached the altar wearing an unembossed satin gown with lace neckline and lace appliques. The same appliques also trimmed her chapel train. Her 3-yard veil was held in place with a headpiece of two white roses and a V on the forehead and white roses with ivy made up her bridal bouquet.

Miss Carole Tock of Mt. Prospect was the bride's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Marie Grandt of Wheeling, Jean Tonn of Prospect Heights and Linda Willney of Glenview. Their gowns, all identical, were of moss green satin taffeta fashioned with strapless bodices, bell skirts and matching lace jackets.

Also in the wedding party was a 5-year-old flower girl, Cathy Black of Prospect Heights. Her gown was also of the moss green satin, but made with a full skirt. Cathy carried a basket with red rose petals.

THE BRIDE'S mother chose a cocoa brown sheath dress with matching coat and a yellow and brown orchid. A beige brocade sheath with matching jacket was the choice of the groom's mother, who also wore a yellow brown orchid.

A Glenview man, Mack Honeman, was best man to the bridegroom and ushers were Jim Raupp of Buffalo Grove, Jim Van Atta of Glenview and Ralph Tonn of Wheeling.

The reception, at which 300 guests greeted the bridal couple, was held in Wellers Elbow room where a buffet was served.

THE BRIDE was graduated from Arlington high school and attended Marquette university. She is now employed by Ekco-Alcoa, Wheeling. Mr. Willney was graduated from Maine high school and is now employed by Bob Kuntsen in Deerfield. The newlyweds are now residing in Wheeling at 110 N. Wolf rd.(S (Jenart Studio

Season Here Again

Seven Steps to Ease For Yule Shopping

by BETTY AINSLIE

That wonderful season is here again. The time of fun and frolic and furrows in your forehead as you try to decide on presents for that ever-expanding Christmas list.

Remember the footsore miles you walked last year hunting for the right color, style or size? Shop early? Heck that isn't any fun — who has the Christmas spirit in September? Besides, you'd miss out on all the hustle and bustle and stores sparkling with color, music and excitement.

Sure you could stay snug indoors, with all your neatly wrapped packages tucked away on the shelf, but unless you are very firm indeed you'll decide to buy another present or two for dad at the last minute and the children have all changed their minds about what they wanted from way back in the fall.. So you'll be out there with the rest of us anyway.

BUT THERE is an art to shopping and a way to avoid the last minute frantic rush which leaves you wan and worn without an ounce of energy to enjoy the big day. These few hints might help you to retain the glow of the season.

1. Get your wrappings and ribbons, cards and scotch tape—the general trappings to bedeck your presents first. Keep them in a large box along with brown paper for the mailing of packages.

Keep scissors, pen and parcel post stickers in the box too, have it all handy on your closet shelf out of the reach of little fingers who love to help.

2. MAKE YOUR LIST leaving plenty of space under each name so on your shopping trips you can write in the gift you ended up buying for each person. Keep the list in your billfold so it is bound to be with you most of the time and you can pick up a present when you see it.

Jot size or color preference beside the name and be sure you write in the gift as you buy it—don't wait until you get home—memories have a way of slipping during this busy season.

3. When you buy a present wrap it as soon as you get home. Put a tie card on the package or write the name on the outside and with the gift noted on your list you'll know what is in the wrapped boxes.

YOU'LL HAVE more time to make prettier packages and really enjoy being fancy.

4. Things for out of town can be wrapped in the brown paper and addressed. On an early morning in December you can avoid the big line at the post office and be singing "jingle bells" instead of taking tranquilizers.

5. It helps to jot down the price of each gift too so that with either cash or credit you know just how much you are spending.

6. On Christmas morning have someone play santa. As the gifts are opened, jot down the giver, the gift and who sent to, so you can make your thank you notes more personal and not just a general "thank you for all our nice gifts" types.

7. MOST OF ALL relax—daily your list will be smaller as all the wrapped gifts will testify. You'll have time to enjoy the beauty of the stores, listen to the carols, take the youngsters to see Santa, and even add some extra notes to your Christmas cards.

This year you can have a truly Merry Christmas because shopping has been fun.

Here's How to Test Fabric Colorfastness

Garments that lack colorfastness to crocking will not dry clean satisfactorily, points out Marjorie Mead, University of Illinois extension textiles and clothing specialist.

Recently some Dacron dresses have caused special problems because of crocking. In crocking, the dye rubs off, causing loss of color.

To foretell whether dry cleaning will be satisfactory, first re-check the care recommendations on the hang tags. If the label does not tell whether the garment can be dry cleaned or you have lost the tags, you may check colorfastness by one of the following tests:

SATURATE a piece of white cheesecloth with water or dry cleaning solvent and rub the fabric. Note whether any color is transferred from the fabric to the cheesecloth. If it is, you can be certain that the flexing action necessary to clean the garment will cause removal of the colored pigments. The color will become lighter or less intense than the original color.

Or, with the left hand, hold the fabric tightly over the edge of thin, stiff cardboard, as on the back of a writing pad. With a piece of cheesecloth over the forefinger of the right hand, rub back and forth firmly over the edge, about 10 strokes.

A white line will show clearly where the color has rubbed off. This is the same thing that happens in cleaning. This line will not appear on a fabric that can be cleaned satisfactorily. (S

Arlington Bride Designs Her Own Wedding Dress

Wearing a dress of her own design and made by her mother, Miss Ann A. Pietrolonardo, daughter of the Frank Pietrolonardos, 1600 N. Rand rd., Arlington Heights, became the bride of a Palatine man, Driscoll P. Drew of 118 E. Norman dr. Mr. Drew's parents are the Millard Grubbs of Sheffield, Ill.

The couple's marriage took place in a double ring service October 28 in St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights, with Rev. Lane officiating. Four altar bouquets of white mums and glads formed the background for the 11:30 a.m. nuptials during which Mr. Pietrolonardo gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride's gown was designed of white bridal satin with scalloped chantilly lace bodice, box pleated skirt and 3-foot detachable train. Her 3-tiered fingertip veil was held in place with a seed pearl crown and she carried a bouquet of amazon lilies and stephanotis.

MISS MARY Pietrolonardo was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Kunzweiler, aunt of the groom with whom he made his home, Miss Annamarie Pietrolonardo of Arlington Heights, cousin of the bride and Karen Drew, sister of the groom from Santa Monica, Cal. All wore street-length dresses of romance blue satin with jewel necklines, short sleeves and tulip skirts. They carried bouquets of yellow fuji mums.

Richard Kunzweiler of Palatine was best man to the groom while Wendell Smith of Rolling Meadows, Jack Gentry of Wheaton and John Kinsella of Wyoming, Ill. were ushers.

The service was followed by a wedding breakfast in the Wheeling Amvet hall for the bridal party and immediate members of the families. Later, a reception for 275 guests was held in the Union hotel, Wheeling.

THE BRIDE'S mother received the guests in a beige brocade dress while the groom's mother chose a cocoa brown costume suit. Both mothers wore corsages of green cymbidiums to complement their ensembles.

Mr. Drew and his bride, anxious to get settled in their home at 1210 Center lane, Arlington Heights, expect to take a belated wedding trip.

The new Mrs. Drew graduated from Arlington high school and is employed by Advance Garage Builders. Mr. Drew was graduated from Northern Illinois university and is self employed.

A Look at Talent

Dear Peg:

As I left one of the galleries in Chicago featuring the new work of an established artist, I thought, "What will I write about? I made the trip into town just to see this group of paintings and now that I've seen them I can't think of a thing to say! The brochure insisted that the artist had made a refreshing transition from realism to abstract, so I suppose I was expecting something new—even something experimental. But, here I am. I've seen them. They are fine paintings—well designed—soft inobtrusive colors and look like the work of a dozen other artists.

This wasn't the only show I'd agreed to see over the weekend. A good friend of mine had asked me to drive out to Mundelein to see a private showing, hoping that we would see something that would make a suitable Christmas gift. I viewed this as a dismal prospect. I'm a "Sunday painter" and I don't like the work of other "Sunday painters" any more than I do my own—particularly if I have to drive a distance to see it! However, I had promised, so late Sunday afternoon I left the family and started for Mundelein, assuring the family that I'd be back in an hour—it couldn't take any more than a few minutes to see that there would be no possibility of a gift there.

J. Ellen Wilhelm is no "Sunday painter!" She is a professional whose fine work shows the promise of even greater things to come. Although her exhibit was depleted by the many sales she had made in the past two days, the 15 or 20 paintings she had left were unquestionable evidence of an unusual talent. In the county fair last year, she entered ten paintings and took nine of the prizes, but admitted, before I had a chance to make the observation, that the competition was hardly fair—in that her standard of painting has gone far beyond this class of art.

Her sea and landscapes are brilliant, moving canvasses combining the sparkle of surface sea and sand with the subdued colors of boulders or tree trunks. The same motion that brings these paintings to life is evident in her pictures of children. One in particular of a little blonde girl swinging around a tree, with her hair and dress caught by the wind has a Renoir-like quality about it.

J. Ellen Wilhelm is also experimental—a necessary quality for a growing artist. "The Day After Labor Day" is a departure from her more apparent style. Almost a primitive, this canvass is of well-defined houses and boats along a channel.

I didn't get home within an hour. In fact, I found it difficult to leave the Wilhelms after I'd visited with them for much too long a time. But pleasant surprises are so few in the world of art—either you know what you're going to see or you're expecting something that doesn't happen. Mrs. Wilhelm was more than a pleasant surprise, she was a discovery! Watch for her name because you'll be seeing it.

My love,
Patty

Floral Prize Highlights Darlene Baumet's Wedding

The winner of a drawing at Arlington Florist for prospective brides put her prize to good use on October 7, her wedding day. Darlene Dianne Baumet of Arlington Heights won the prize last June at the florist's open house and was furnished with church decorations, bridal and attendants' bouquets, mothers' corsages and reception floral arrangements for her wedding in St. James Catholic church of Arlington Heights.

Darlene became the bride of Dennis Peat, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman of Chicago, in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. John Lane. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Baumet of 102 S. Derbyshire lane.

ENTERING THE sanctuary, which was decorated with baskets of yellow and bronze mums, the bride wore a full length gown of taffeta and chantilly lace, the bodice and sleeves trimmed with sequins and seed pearls.

For "something borrowed" she wore a fingertip veil from her sister, Mrs. Patricia Wells of Lake Villa, who served as her matron of honor. Also borrowed was a rosary which her mother and sister had carried on their wedding day. With the rosary she carried a cascade bouquet of white fugi mums, stephanotis and camellia leaves.

Mrs. Wells wore a beige taffeta dress with brown velvet trim and brown accessories. She carried a bouquet of yellow and bronze pompons tied with wheat and brown velvet ribbon.

THE BRIDESMAIDS, attired identically to the matron of honor, were Kay Hagg of Arlington Heights and Christine and Linda Murawski of Chicago, cousins of the bride.

Phillip Wilson of Elmhurst was best man and Michael Peat, the bridegroom's brother, was his other attendant.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Baumet wore a brown suit with matching accessories and a cymbidium corsage. Mrs. Freeman wore a beige suit for the ceremony and also had a cymbidium corsage.

IN HONOR OF the occasion a 7 o'clock dinner was served to 250 guests in the Arlington Heights VFW hall.

The couple spent two weeks in Palm Beach, Fla., and are now at home at 4210 N. Albany ave., Chicago. The bride, a graduate of Arlington high school, works for Kraft Foods in Chicago. The bridegroom spent three years in the Marine Corps and is now working for Jewel Tea.(Community Camera

Mrs. Barilow Is President Of Twin Club

Mrs. Donald Barilow of Palatine was elected president of the newly-formed Mothers of Twins club at the group's last meeting. Vice president of the group is Mrs. Donald Nellessen of Arlington Heights while secretary and treasurer are Mrs. Bernie Presto of Rolling Meadows and Mrs. John Pugsley of Arlington Heights.

Membership in the club now totals 37 mothers, all with twins under 6 years old.

A CANCER program is scheduled for the group's December 12 meeting and will include movies and a discussion led by an area doctor. The meeting, to which members may bring guests, will be held in the Lauterburg and Oehler meeting room at 8 p.m.

The January meeting will feature Dr. F. Hesser an obstetrician and himself a twin.

A children's clothing store in Arlington Heights and a shoe store in Arlington Heights and a shoestore in Mt. Prospect are giving discounts to families of club members. Any mother of twins under 6 may obtain further information about the club by calling Mrs. Barilow at FL 9-0205. (S

Dear Sue

A TEENAGER'S POINT OF VIEW
BY SUE McDONALD

Dear Sue—

Now that you've turned your calendar page, it won't be long until Christmas. I haven't bought a single gift; have you? Since original gifts are always a problem, I'm going to give you a few suggestions this month.

This week, let's make a list for the family. We usually end up giving mother perfume or earrings. Why not be different this year.

ANY ONE of the numerous types of jewelry boxes in leather, satin or suede make a practical, as well as pretty, gift. A fancy lipstick case, bed jacket, carry-alls for cosmetics, when traveling, or fine soaps are a few more suggestions.

I still think that Dad secretly hated that tie I picked out last year. Let's don't risk it again. To make him a picture of masculine contentment, we could give him slippers. There's a wide variety, ranging from wool slipper-socks to leather scuffs.

A wallet, cuff links, leather boxes for studs and cuff links, desk or closet accessories or a good book are sure to please the head of your household.

BOOKS AND games are always appropriate if we consult the age-group information when buying. Records, music boxes, banks, beanbags, caps or mittens and traditional toys such as kites, tops, marbles, pick-up sticks, and balls will please almost all children.

Next week we'll talk about gifts for that special boy or girl. Now let's look at your problems.

DEAR SUE

My problem may sound ridiculous, but please don't laugh. I am 21 years old and have fallen in love with a 17-year-old boy in my astronomy class. He is a freshman and I am a senior. He has a very high IQ and is mature for his age. Do you think there is any hope for us-

Geri

Dear Geri,

While I don't think that the age difference makes things impossible for you, remember that you will graduate this year and he will have three years before he finishes college. Are you willing to wait that long to marry or to work and support the two of you while he finishes? You didn't mention how he feels. Most boys aren't ready to settle down at 17 and most girls are more than ready at 21.

Sue

Dear Sue,

This is a switch. I have been dating a boy for two months and he hasn't tried to kiss me yet. I like him a lot and am beginning to worry. Any suggestions?

Margie

Dear Margie,

Maybe you have spinach between your front teeth or, perhaps, "your best friend won't tell you."

Seriously, I admit that this is a switch. At least you know that he goes out with you because he enjoys your company and sincerely likes you rather than for some ulterior purpose.

The next time he brings you to the door, smile and look up expectantly at him . . . if this doesn't work, console yourself. Kissing spreads germs, it has been stated.

Sue

Mt. Prospect Senior Citizens Observe First Anniversary

Quite Contrary by Mary

Anarchy in the Home?

I'M FINDING IT INCREASINGLY DIFFICULT to know how to be a good parent. Some advocate togetherness. Others say that a good parent is one who fosters independence of spirit in the child. Let him be able to stand on his own two feet and all that sort of thing.

As a consequence of some pretty conflicting advice to parents, I shuttle back and forth. Part of the time I huddle the young under my motherly wings. Other times, I attempt to forget that I even have them. The first is uncomfortable. The second is impossible. They won't let me forget, that's why.

We are now approaching the holiday season. This is the season of great family togetherness but somewhere along the line, I fear that my mob has lost the thread. As I understand it, they should be making little things for each other. And, I should be whipping out pincushions and lapel pins made from scraps. We should all be stringing popcorn and cranberries to decorate the tree.

Maybe we should. But we aren't. One of the married young expressed a desire for money. Toward a trip they plan to take. I'm not too hot at engraving and, anyway, the government is awfully jealous about who makes money. The teenagers, ah, the teenagers. I can just picture their little faces if I should present them with a pincushion. With them, if it can't be worn, skip it. They not only don't want any little goodies whipped up for them, they are most specific about what they do want, where to buy it, and just how much it is supposed to cost.

The sixth grader is a trifle more easily satisfied. She just wants clothes, Barbie doll stuff, every game that the Milton Bradley company has come up with, clothes, new bedroom furniture. Just a few tidbits like that.

I honestly expected the three year old son to be the most amenable of all. I mean he's pretty young and dumb. He can't read. He hates clothes to the point where many days find him in his sleepers from get up to go to bed. I reckoned without that old debbil, television. And, those monster toy-makers who do the advertising.

What with that evil looking robot that rolls its eyes and shoots off its head, whole armies with tanks and such, racing cars and not an article for sale under fifteen dollars, life around here is nightmarish. Just think, in three hours on Saturday morning, he mentally spent about ten thousand dollars and never batted an eyelash. Bah, and I might add, humburg.

Crowning of a king and queen climaxed the first anniversary meeting of the Mt. Prospect Senior Citizens group held November 20. Crowned were the club's oldest members, Mrs. Olevia Cawthorne and George Knox.

The group, which is co-sponsored by Mt. Prospect Junior Woman's club and the park board, was started in November 1960 under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Smith, who continues to direct this activity. Assisting Mrs. Smith at the anniversary celebration was Mrs. Kenneth Odmark, president of the Juniors. Piano selections and colored slides taken in Turkey provided the entertainment for the meeting.

THE GROUP meets the third Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in Lions Park field house Mt. Prospect, and everyone 60 or over from the Mt. Prospect area is welcome to attend these get-togethers. The evening offers entertainment, refreshments and opportunities for new friendships with people in their age group.

The next meeting will be on Monday evening, Dec. 18, but instead of the usual meeting place the group will meet at Gunnell's restaurant for a Christmas dinner. Anyone interested in attending the dinner may call Mrs. William Smith at CLearbrook 3-7740 for details.

Rev. Peter J. Powell of St. Timothy Episcopal church, Chicago, will talk on American Indians at the December 13 meeting of the Mt. Prospect Juniors. The Rev. Mr. Powell has had 20 years of experience in working with Indians both on reservations and in cities, and he has just completed a Rockefeller foundation grant for a social study of the Cheyenne Indians.

CLUB MEMBERS will bring donations of clothing, food and toys to this meeting, which the Rev. Mr. Powell will distribute to needy Indian families for Christmas. In addition, the American Citizenship department of the club is collecting food and clothing for a needy migrant worker family to be delivered for Christmas.

Mt. Prospect Junior Woman's Club is a member of the seventh district of the Illinois Federation of Womens clubs and holds its meetings the second Wednesday of each month at 8:30 p.m. at the Northwest Suburban YMCA Anyone interested in joining the club may call Mrs. Robert Nitch, CLearbrook 3-3083, for further information. Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

Bake, Wrap Swap Party

by DOLORES HAUGH

That's quite a title, isn't it? Let me explain. This is a morning coffee for your friends. Little preparation, little menu, little time but big fun. Here is what you do. Send out or call on the telephone and set a date for a morning or afternoon coffee and have each gal bring along a package that she would like to wrap "Extra Special." She is also to bring her own gift wrapping, some cookies, about two dozen, and the recipe, and also one really good decorating idea.

INVITATIONS

Holly wreaths cut from double fold construction paper in bright green, open to reveal the following verse:

Deck the halls with boughs of holly
'Tis the season to be jolly
Goes the merrry Christmas song
And the calendar is saying
Christmas will be here before too long.
So bake some cookies, bring a gift
You want to wrap with care,
Tuck a new decorating idea in your Busy Brain somewhere.
Then run over Monday morning.
Coffee's on and there'll be fun
Tis' the season to be jolly
And that's true for everyone.

Tie the wreath together with a piece of red ribbon and you can dot it with tiny red holly berries. Just be sure it fits a standard envelope. Get the invitations out as soon as possible but don't worry, most women welcome a break even in these busiest times.

Be sure to repeat the cookies and recipe, gift box and wrappings, and idea.

PREPARATION

A buffet with steaming coffee and some date bars and cookies are all the preparation you will need. A paper Christmas tablecloth and napkins of paper and a large plate and cup which limits dishwashing will keep your time to a minimum. You don't even have to bake the cookies. Your guests will bring one dozen to eat and sample and one dozen to have with coffee.

The recipes may be taped to a mirror or wall or stapled on red ribbon over the buffet. Cards and pencils should be available for happy copiers. Let the guests busy themselves with their gift wrappings 'till all arrive. Provide a large floor or table area for this with extra scissors and tape.

You may want to have some pretty paper and seals, too, in case someone forgets. As the guests arrive give them each a number and after coffee as the numbers are called the decorating idea is given.

ENTERTAINMENT

Cocktail Party Nibblers Made With Cheese Pastry

HOLIDAY ENTERTAINING calls for hot hors d' oeuvres. Cheese pastry, zipped up with Tabasco, is shaped and baked in triangles and crescents, while a meat filling is heaped on rounds or stuffed into tiny turnovers. (SH

Making plans and reviewing recipes now for the holiday entertaining you'll be doing during the coming weeks? If you're readying invitations for a formal cocktail party, remember that guests love to nibble as they imbibe and hot hors d'oeuvres are welcomed and appreciated.

There's something universally appealing about cheese—everybody loves it—and hors d'oeuvres made with Tabasco-flavored cheese pastry may prove to be the topic of conversation!

IN THIS RECIPE sharp processed cheese is blended with butter and flour and given the added zest of Tabasco, the peppery red liquid spice, to make a basic maxture which is then rolled and cut into sticks, crescents or whatever shape your imagination can conjure up.

Sprinkle these with sesame seeds, bake, and pile into serving bowls strategically placed so guests may help themselves. Make hot hors d'oeuvres with a meat filling stuffed into the same pastry mixture that you can keep coming fresh from the oven as needed.

Ground beef flavored with parsley, mustard, nutmeg and Tabasco makes the filling to tuck into squares or triangles or heap on rounds of the dough.

TABASCO-CHEESE HORS D'OEUVRES

¼ teaspoon Tabasco
¼ cup butter or margarine
2/3 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 3-ounce package sharp processed cheese, crumbled

All Tabasco to butter; cream well. Blend in flour and cheese. Chill mixture in refrigerator one hour. While mixture is chilling, prepare meat filling*.

Roll out about 2/3 of the pastry 1/8-inch thick on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Cut into 2½-inch squares, 3-inch triangles and 2-inch rounds.

Place ½ to one teaspoon of the meat filling on each pastry cutout. Gather corners of squares together and pinch to seal for tiny turnovers; roll up triangles starting with long side and ending with opposite tip; bake rounds open.

Place on an ungreased baking sheeet and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 12 minutes. For plain hors d'oeuvres, roll out remaining pastry and cut into sticks and crescents. Sprinkle with sesame seeds and bake. Yield: Approximately 2 dozen.

MEAT FILLING

½ pound ground beef
1/3 cup dry bread crumbs
1 small egg
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon dry mustard
1/16 teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly.

BARBARA WILSON

Barbara Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Wilson, 311 S. Kenilworth, Mt. Prospect, was elected one of the attendants to the Homecoming Queen at Greenville college, Greenville, Ill.

If your child shows signs of being left-handed, you'll be wise to accept it as part of his personality and not force him to be right-handed.

This is the opinion of Mrs. Margueritte Lynch, University of Illinois extension family life specialist.

Left-handedness is not a handicap. And most educators and psychologists feel that forcing a naturally left-handed youngster to become right-handed is apt to cause trouble.

Neuropsychiatrists say that upsetting this natural control system causes both parts of the brain to become confused. This confusion can cause a child to stutter or to have poor coordination or other motor or emotional problems.

The baby uses one hand and then the other, or both at once, and a few children become left-handed by accident. For example, when feeding himself, a child may have been allowed to use his left hand for convenience and may continue this practice by choice. This is known as psychological left-handedness.

If during the toddler years a child transfers from left to right hand without pressure from adults and without apparent strain or tension on his part, in all probability he is not structurally, but is psychologically, left-handed.

MRS. LYNCH points out that left-handedness is increasing among Americans. Just before World War II, a study found seven to eight per cent of our population to be left-handed. In 1960 the U. S. office of education indicated that perhaps more than 11 per cent of Americans were left-handed.

Special Christmas Gifts For Friends of All Ages

Homemade candies and foods have a special appeal as Christmas gifts. Each gift seems to carry a message of extra thoughtfulness from the giver.

Candies are always welcome, packed in an attractive container which can be a year-around reminder of the giver. Here are some tempting candy suggestions a bit out of the ordinary which will please the sweet tooth of friends of any age.

PEACH PECAN MARSHMALLOWS

2 3-ounce packages Royal Peach Gelatin
¾ cup boiling water
¾ cup light corn syrup
¼ cup chopped Planters Pecans
¼ cup corn starch
¼ cup confectioners' sugar

Pour boiling water over gelatin in small saucepan and stir well. Place over very low heat and stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. Pour corn syrup into large bowl of electric mixer.

Add gelatin and beat about 10 to 15 minutes on high speed or until mixture is thick, of marshmallow consistency. Add pecans.

COMBINE cornstarch and sugar and sprinkle bottom of a 9x9x2 inch pan generously. Pour marshmallow into pan and smooth top. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons of cornstarch mixture.

Let stand in a cool place (not in refrigerator) about one hour. Loosen around edges with a knife dipped in cold water. Turn out on a board sprinkled with half of remaining cornstarch mixture.

Cut into squares with a wet knife and sprinkle cut edges with cornstarch mixture. Makes about 1¼ pounds.

CANDIED GRAPEFRUIT PEEL

4 grapefruit
4 cups sugar
3¼ cups water
¼ teaspoon salt
1 package Royal Blackberry flavor gelatin
Sugar

Score grapefruit peel in quarters with point of knife; remove and cut in ¼-inch strips. Place in large pan; cover with water. Bring to boil and boil 15 to 20 minutes.

Drain; repeat twice with fresh water each time. Drain. Return peel to pan. Add sugar, water and salt. Cook over very low heat, stirring occasionally, one to two hours or until syrup is thick and peel is clear.

REMOVE FROM heat. Add gelatin; stir until dissolved. Let peel stand in syrup until cold. Drain. Roll pieces in sugar. Place on cake rack to dry for 24 hours to 48 hours.

Store in covered container in cool place. Makes 2½ pounds.

Week's Best Food Buys

Meat values range selectively across pork, beef and lamb lines, punctuated in more stores by lower quoting fryers that return to the bargain schedule on the weekly University of Illinois consumer service food survey.

Red meat retail prices and wholesale costs are generally steady when measured against basic competitive factors, except some pork and lamb cuts that quote lower market levels. When on promotion, however, meat items are shaded from the consensus market quotes.

EGGS CONTINUE to decline at wholesale, a cumulative 8 cents a dozen in three consecutive weeks. Retails hold a general 49-53 cent level for large size Grade A and 43 cents for mediums.

Produce quotes are generally lower, too, for the volume items noted on the U. of I. bargain list for the marketing period ending Dec. 9:

Poultry — fryers and large eggs; meat—pork chops, Boston roasts, ham, bacon, beef chuck, rib and rump roasts, round steaks, lamb chops and shoulder roasts; produce — grapes, bananas, tangerines, grapefruit, potatoes, tomatoes, lettuce, cabbage, sweetcorn and nuts.

FRYERS POSTED a 3/4 cent wholesale increase although retail quotes at a lower 25-33 cent range were prevalent in more stores. All turkeys except Beltsville were steady on limited demand, the latter a 1/4 cent higher at wholesale. Eggs are better supplied in large sizes, prompting the lower costs on moderate total supplies.

The shell egg storage deficit from year-ago levels is now only 20,000 cases and the frozen storage deficit 7,584,000 pounds, as supplies continue to move well in this direction.

One can really credit the International Live Stock show for setting up a smorgasbord of meat values this week.

LIVE CATTLE receipts, while the smallest since September and 3 per cent below year-ago totals, were up sharply on the Chicago market. Prices were steady against moderate demand.

At wholesale, this translated into good movement for ribs, rounds and chucks, with all classes quoting steady costs to the retailers who also held their tags unchanged, except for promotional fare.

Live hog costs were off 1/4 cent on 38 per cent greater Chicago receipts with the all-markets total being about even with year-ago. Pork loins fell another 2 cents on slow demand, as ribs and butts moved well at steady cost quotes. Again, retailers held mostly a steady price position.

LIVE LAMB prices were 1/2 cent lower on increased receipts locally, although the total is nearly 33 1/3 per cent below year-ago. Wholesale costs matched the 1/2 cent live decline initially, but firmed on a late-week pickup in demand. Retail tags were unmoved.

Produce items registering lower include lettuce, green beans, celery, cabbage, carrots, sweetcorn, peppers, potatoes and tomatoes. Onions cost more as do broccoli, yams, green onions and some greens.

Gems of Thought

Human life is a constant want and ought to be a constant prayer.

Festive Yule Loaf With Dates, Pecans

Dates and nuts are used lavishly in this Festive Fruit Bread. Tempting to look at and rich in flavor, the delicate sweet yeast-raised bread makes a fine addition to the menu for a holiday breakfast, brunch or buffet party.

Because time is at a premium during the busy holiday season, extra loaves may be made up in advance and stored in the freezer, where they will keep as long as three months.

THEY SHOULD be baked as directed and cooled completely, then wrapped closely in foil and frozen. They may be thawed, still wrapped, in about 2½ hours at room temperature or in a 375° F. oven.

If they are to be decorated, the frosting and nuts should be put on only after the loaves are thawed.

FESTIVE FRUIT BREAD
1 cup milk
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup Fleischmann's Margarine
¼ cup very warm water
2 packages or cakes Fleischmann's yeast, active dry or compressed
5 cups sifted flour or 4½ cups unsifted flour (about)
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup chopped Royal pecans

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and margarine; cool to lukewarm. Measure very warm water into a large mixing bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in Fleischmann's Yeast, stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture.

Add half the flour and the cinnamon; beat until smooth. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 60 minutes. Stir in remaining flour to make soft dough.

TURN OUT ON lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Punch down dough.

Cut off 1/3 of the dough. Knead dates and nuts into it and form into a narrow loaf about 12 inches long. Roll remaining dough into a rectangle 8½x12 inches. Put the fruit loaf in the center and cover it completely with the sheet of dough.

PINCH THE EDGES together to seal. Place on a greased baking sheet. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, about 45 minutes, or until doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 50 minutes.

If desired, frost with confectioners' sugar frosting and garnish with chopped pecans. Makes one large loaf.

Stuffed Peppers Nestle Spaghetti, Meat Balls

Canned spaghetti and meat balls baked in colorful green pepper rings makes fine family fall fare. Stuffed peppers, a long-time family favorite meal take on a new quick twist when convenience canned foods are used for the filling.

With so many new and long known well seasoned canned and packaged foods on the grocery shelves, cooking tecrniques for convenience foods are in the flux of change.

NOW YOU CAN prepare foods more quickly, easily and interestingly with the right combination of handy, partially or fully-cooked convenience foods.

As a suggested menu, serve the spaghetti and meat balls filled pepper rings with red and white slaw, buttered carrot strips, rye rolls and canned fruits and cookies. Here is a menu ready for serving in just 25 minutes.

SPAGHETTI PEPPER RINGS
4 small green peppers
2 (15½ oz.) cans Chef Boy-Ar-Dee Spaghetti and Meat Balls*
3 tablespoons grated cheese

Cut top and bottom ends off peppers. Remove membrane and seeds. Place pepper rings in boiling salted water. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Drain.

Place on baking sheet. Fill each pepper ring with half can of spaghetti and meat balls, allowing 2 meat balls per serving. Sprinkle grated cheese over top.

Bake 400° F. for 15 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

*Generic term: 2 (15½ oz.) cans spaghetti and meat balls.

Scandinavian Cookies Brighten Family's Yule Smorgasbord

Tradition plays an important role in many homes during the Christmas season.

Swedish customs prevail in the Arlington Heights household of Roy H. Nelson when the family congregates on Christmas Eve for their traditional Swedish smorgasbord.

Many interesting and delicious dishes are served at this feast and later in the evening there is hot coffee accompanied by coffee cake and cookies.

Such delicacies as Smorbakelser, Pepparkakor and Fattigmand cookies are served for this evening snack and these are the recipes which are being featured this week.

"SMORBAKELSER are fancy Swedish Christmas tarts," said Mrs. Nelson, "made in individual fluted tart tins. In Swedish homes they are always served as a cookie on Christmas Eve, but they may be filled with jam and whipped cream and served as a dessert for a Christmas or New Year's dinner."

"They take time to make," said this good cook, "as each tart is individually molded. But they are well worth the effort."

Rich and delicate, these dainty pastries have a tablespoon of bourbon in the dough which contributes to their shortness and they are flavored with almond extract.

"THESE TARTS are very fragile and must be treated tenderly," said Mrs. Nelson. "They can be made a few weeks in advance and will keep well stored in a covered tin. I have to hide mine though, she smilingly continued, or they will be eaten before Christmas!"

When this capable homemaker does her holiday baking, she prepares all of the dough for the various cookies on one day and bakes them all the next. Thus all of the bowls and beaters are out of the way when the fun of baking begins.

Pepparkakors or ginger cookies are another of her family's favorites. "This is a very tender dough and must be refrigerated overnight to facilitate handling," she commented.

The dough is rolled out and cut with cookie cutters. Ginger, cinnamon and cloves contribute to the spicy flavor of these appealing cookies, which are very thin, crisp and delicate.

MRS. NELSON'S family likes all of their Christmas cookies to be small and dainty, and even her Fattigmand cookies are made to these specifications.

These cookies, which are Norwegian in origin, also have a bit of bourbon in the batter. After being refrigerated overnight, the dough is rolled out, cut into diamond shapes with a pastry wheel, slit, formed into a partial knot and fried in deep fat until golden brown.

Dusted with powdered sugar, these tempting morsels are often served with glug to holiday callers, or they can be served with an assortment of Christmas cookies.

SCANDINAVIANS are noted for their delightful Christmas cookies, and all of Mrs. Nelson's excellent recipes are certain to bring interest and enjoyment to your holiday baking venture.

All of these cookies are great favorites with the Nelsons' two children: Linda, 17, and Douglas, 14. The family lives at 1313 N. Rand rd. and are members of the Prospect Heights Community church.

PLAID AND solid fashion plans for the young set are illustrated by solid bolero, plaid pleated skirt. In American woolen, by College Town.

SMORBAKELSER
(Swedish Christmas Tarts)

½ pound butter
Scant cup sugar
York of 1 egg
1 tablespoon bourbon
2 teaspoons almond extract
2 cups flour

Cream butter and sugar. Beat in Yolk of egg. Add bourbon and almond extract and beat in flour. Refrigerate dough overnight.

The next day take a teaspoon of dough at a time and form into a ball. Press with thumb into buttered Swedish tart tins, molding dough on the bottom and around the sides. Dough should be ⅛ to ¼ inch thick all around the tins.

Bake in a 375 degree oven for about 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Store in covered tin until ready to use. Yield: approximately 4 dozen tarts.

The Smorbakelser may be eaten as is or filled with jam (such as strawberry) and whipped cream and served as a dessert.

PEPPARKAKOR
(Ginger Cookies)

½ pound butter
1½ cups sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
2 teaspoons ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 teaspoons cloves
2 teaspoons soda dissolved in 1 tablespoon hot water
2½ cups flour

Cream butter and sugar. Beat in egg and corn syrup. Add spices and soda and lastly beat in the flour. Refrigerate dough overnight.

The next day roll out the dough on a cloth sprinkled with flour, using a cloth covered and floured rolling pin. Roll out a handful of dough at a time, keeping the remainder in the refrigerator.

Use as little flour as possible and roll very thin, about 1/6 to 1/8 thick.

Cut out dough with cookie cutters and bake in a moderate oven, 350 to 375 degrees, until light brown, about 10 minutes.

Keep working the left-over pieces until gone before taking more dough out of the refrigerator to roll. Store in covered tins until used.

FATTIGMAND COOKIES
(Norwegian)

6 egg yolks
6 tablespoons sugar
6 tablespoons cream
2 tablespoons bourbon
2 cups flour (approximately)

Beat egg yolks and sugar until thick and lemon-colored. Blend in cream and bourbon and add flour until dough gets to rolling consistency. Place in refrigerator overnight.

Roll out a small amount of dough at a time until very thin, using a floured cloth and floured rolling pin.

Using a pastry wheel, cut dough into diamond-shaped pieces. They can be made as large or small as desired. Cut a slit a bit off center and turn the tip partially through the hole like a partial knot.

Fry in deep fat until golden brown and drain on absorbent paper towels. Sprinkle when cool with powdered sugar. Store in covered tins until used. (SH

Vegetable Chowder

Another gourmet recipe from "The New Antoinette Pope School Cookbook" is Corn Tomato Chowder, a tangy vegetable concoction certain to bring raves when served as a side dish for fish, meat or fowl.

It is the second of eight recipes which have been released by the book's publishers, the McMillan Co. In subsequent weeks other fine cuisine will be featured including Sauce Amandine and Veal Chops Provincial.

CORN TOMATO CHOWDER

2 ounces salt pork or bacon diced
1 small bay leaf
1 17-ounce can cream-style corn
1½ cups boiling water
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup diced onions
1 16-ounce can tomatoes
1 cup diced raw potatoes
1 cup hot milk
Salt and pepper to taste

Fry salt pork or bacon until brown, add diced onions and cook until tender. Add bay leaf, tomatoes, corn, diced potatoes and water. Cook slowly uncovered until potatoes are tender.

Remove bay leaf. Slowly stir in hot milk and season with salt and pepper to taste. Serves 4.

VIBRANT COLORS

Family of pinks takes the lead in the spring fashion excitement over color. Many other lively shades share the news.

COLLARLESS LOOK

Many fashions abandon collars altogether; others have band or ring collars. For contrast, there are ultra-wide collars.

COATS, TWO WAYS

Coat fashion follows two predominant lines. One is slim, influenced by the side-slashed caftan; the other is sweeping, influenced by the cape.

Globe-Trotting Scots Are Going Home

Nursing Pair Plan Holiday

by HELENE BRISTOL

Christmas, 1961, will be a "holiday of a lifetime" for Michael and Sarah Leddy.

—The holiday season will mark the first Christmas "day off" in 18 years for the two Scotch-born nurses;

—After traveling around the world over the course of many years, this Christmas will be "back home" in Britain with their children and families;

—A new son-in-law waits for them in Britain, — with Christmas to mean Mr. and Mrs. Leddy's first introduction to their youngest daughter's husband for the first time;

—Most important, as grandparents everywhere will agree, will be their first sight of grandson Ross, 2, and their first revisit with grandson Mark, 6, since he was two years old.

Known to many northwest suburban residents, the Scotch nursing team has been a familiar fixture to the hundreds of patients on the surgical floor of Northwest Community hospital where Leddy was evening supervisor and Mrs. Leddy worked as a nurse.

After travels around the globe, living and working in many areas on every continent except South America, the Leddys are leaving Arlington Heights next Wednesday, Dec. 13, and will arrive in Liverpool, England, December 22.

PRAISING Arlington Heights as a community, Sarah Leddy stated "We have made more friends here than anywhere." Michael Leddy joined his wife's comment with "This is the nearest thing to home we have felt in 25 years and it is the only place in all our travels we have not cut our ties clean when we left — we are keeping our apartment here for the present — we may come back."

Happy as the prospect of Christmas back home appears to her, Sarah Leddy sadly commented, "Traveling as we do, stopping to live and work, you are bound to make good friends and when you leave you hate to leave your friends, for you must face the probability that you may never see them again."

Married shortly before their graduation from a five-year nursing course at Bellsdyke hospital in Scotland, the Leddys whole married life has been marked by two continuing passions — travel and service to others through their profession of nursing.

After graduation, Mr. and Mrs. Leddy moved to England where their trail of private-duty nursing positions took them on a small "Cook's tour" of the country — to London, Surrey, Middlesex, Bedford and other cities.

When their first daughter, Yvonne, was only six months old, the Leddys started their world-wide visits. In this first trip, India and Tanganyika were their living-nursing homes.

Why did they go, particularly with a small baby as a part of the family? Sarah Leddy expresses it as a heritage of their British island background — "People who live on an island always have their eyes on the sea and they always want to see what is going on over there."

How could they just "pull stakes" to see what is "over there"? Michael Leddy emphasizes "If you really want to do it, then you can do it — you can do anything!"

While in Africa, war came and the Leddys returned to England to offer their badly-needed nursing skills.

Assigned to an emergency hospital 20 miles south of London, the nurses and their two small daughters lived through the Battle of Britain, with bombings every day except Christmas for months on end. While Mrs. Leddy, with Yvonne and Moira, spent each night on a mattress in a 6 x 4 feet shelter space, Michael Leddy worked 12 hours a day at the hospital with extra duty for hospital roof fire-watching.

THE DAILY bombings would dictate household routine, Mrs. Leddy said. At the first siren in the afternoon she would rush the children to the shelter. At the all clear, she would leave for a short time to start supper cooking, returning to the shelter at the next alarm. At the next all-clear she would finish cooking, and the next breathing spell would mean suppertime. The routine rarely varied, she indicated. "The Germans are very methodical people; the 'Jerrys' always raided on schedule."

Despite all the tragedy, the fires, injuries and deaths around them, the Leddys agreed the continual bombing raids gave an insight into people and the great courage and stamina they could show. "Let me tell you," Michael Leddy emphasized, "bombing does not defeat people — it just makes them angry, and more angry!"

SUITCASES AND TRUNKS showing colorful label evidence of their globe-trotting, Sarah and Michael Leddy are busy packing for their return home to Britain to spend their first Christmas holiday "day off" in 18 years with their two married daughters and their families. The two Scotland-bred nurses are familiar faces to surgical patients at Northwest Community hospital where they worked while living in Arlington Heights, the latest of their many homes-away-from-home on every continent except South America.

He continued with the additional comment, "It is sometimes harder to be a civilian than a soldier because a civilian has nothing with which to fight back!"

AFTER THE London raids stopped, the Leddys went to Glasgow, Scotland; then back to Birkenhead in England and finally to Burnley, where they made their home for many years. The girls were enrolled in a private school, and now consider Burnley their permanent home.

Both Yvonne, now Mrs. John Gleeson, and Moira, now Mrs. Brian Oldfield, have bought homes in Burnley. There the Leddy's will spend Christmas, establish acquaintance with their grandsons and await the birth of daughter Moira's first child expected about January 25.

At Burnley, the Leddys were in charge of hospital units of 150 beds each. During their Burnley sojourn, the pair underwent extra schooling to gain further nursing skills. Before long, new places beckoned again, and the Leddys moved to Devon in the south of England. There Sarah Leddy acted as matron or director of nurses in a women's hospital section while Michael Leddy was male director of nurses for the men's section. Each unit contained 520 beds.

In England, these positions represented the "top" of the nursing profession, Sarah Leddy indicated. With nothing higher to strive for in their work, Mrs. Leddy indicated she and her husband felt new scenes and places might offer new interest and challenge.

During their long English "at home" Michael Leddy had traveled to New Zealand, returning with praise for the beauty of the land and the friendliness of the people. In 1955, he convinced Mrs. Leddy and young Moira that a move to New Zealand should be undertaken. Their daughter, Yvonne, now grown and working as an art designer, preferred to remain in England where she had both work and a fiance.

"New Zealand is the most beautiful country, has the most wonderful people and the greatest hospitality," Michael Leddy stressed. His wife agreed that New Zealand is the most beautiful country in the world. After living and working on both the north and south islands of the country, the Leddys were ready to see "over there" again.

Moving to Australia, the Scots lived in Melbourne, the second-largest city of the continent. Sarah Leddy smiled, "The women of Melbourne are the best dressed of any in the world —better than Paris, London or New York."

From Melbourne, the Leddys went to a "bush hospital" 600 miles away in the "out back" mountain country of New South Wales. At Cooma district general hospital they worked in the only area in Australia where snow falls. The district is varied with sheep farms, tourist facilities and ski lodges as well as mountain area construction camps working on a giant hydro-electric system of dams.

For many months Michael Leddy has charge of a nursing station at one of the construction camps with 700 people as potential patients. All types of emergencies, from serious accidents to maternity cases, faced the nurses at the station, with only a long mountain-road ambulance trip to Cooma hospital as a last resort for the most critical cases.

From the mountains, the Leddys went on to Perth in western Australia, "A remarkable area and a friendly people," Leddy emphasized. "And the most beautiful home in the city of Perth belongs to the local bookie," Sarah Leddy said. Both Mr. and Mrs. Leddy noted the passion of people in Australia and New Zealand for horse racing.

THE MAJOR phenomena of Perth is "The Doctor," a wind which comes up at 3 p.m. each day, eliminating the high humidity and acting as a medicinal tonic for residents.

In spite of their liking for Australia and New Zealand, the Leddys decided to visit the United States to see Mrs. Leddy's sister, Mrs. Joan Anderson, a nurse at Cook county hospital for the past 12 years. While in the Chicago area the Leddys worked at Sherman hospital, Elgin, finally deciding to return for a visit to their many friends in Australia. During this period Moira decided to fly back to England to see her sister and to start nurses' training herself.

Back from Australia, the Leddy's traveled by car from San Francisco to Illinois, seeing the western section of the United States at close range.

"It was so wonderful, particularly the beauty of the mountains," they agreed. "If we come back to America, there are even more things we still want to see—the Grand Canyon, New Orleans at Mardi Gras, Denver."

FROM their lifetime of travel, nursing service and friendships on an international basis, the Leddys express many strongly-felt ideas:—on people of different countries or races:

"There are no 'bad' people; people just want a decent living, decent clothing and a chance to give their children a better chance in life," Sarah Leddy says. "It is the desire of all people we have met to make things better, to create conditions to make their living system better for everyone—to give the new generation what the older generation did not have the opportunity to achieve," her husband emphasized.

—On service or work for fellow men: "If our efforts have brought comfort to anyone, then we have done our duty," according to Sarah. Michael Leddy was stronger in his statement, "If you do your best, if you do your duty, then you will achieve your life goal."

—On successful travel and living in a strange place: "You must adjust to what people there do, for you are the stranger and should learn their ways."

—On religion: "It does not make any difference what beliefs people have, whether it be God, nature or providence, we have been given this life and it is up to us to do whatever we can for others."

GOING HOME for Christmas, Michael and Sarah Leddy leave friends and a reputation of service here.

Moreover, for 28 years they have "done their best and done their duty" in nursing service. Both hastily agree money is not the reward of nursing; the joy of service and help to others is the goal.

As shown in many letters in hospital files, at least many of the Leddys former patients are sure they have achieved their life goal. (B8

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

YORK'S EFFORTLESS VICTORY over a highly-touted LaGrange quintet last Friday evening served as one of the most surprising outcomes of another busy weekend of schoolboy basketball.

Everyone has a high regard for the Elmhurst crew, but few people thought it would have such an easy time disposing of the rangy Lions, especially since the game was played in the LaGrange gym.

With this new-found respect from even their most faithful followers Coach Dick Johnson's Dukes will tackle another West Suburban power this Friday evening when they host Hinsdale's Red Devils. Following the Hinsdale tussle, York will host Glenbard West and then engage in two non-league affairs before the holiday break.

Add victories over Hinsdale and Glenbard to that 69-47 rout of LaGrange and York would be sitting pretty in the West Suburban title scramble. It appears unlikely that any club can go through this WSC compaign unbeaten and we wouldn't be surprised if the loop champion suffered two or even three setbacks in the 14-game card.

The West Suburban appears headed for one of its best seasons with more overall strength than has been evident in several years. Last year's cellar dweller, Arlington, outclassed last year's unbeaten champion, Maine East, in the first game as a case in point.

Arlington's victory over Maine served notice to the rest of the conference that the Cards aren't to be taken lightly this winter. Coach Norm Patberg doesn't have that polished big man in the important pivot slot, but this Arlington team still is going to afford a few surprises before the season terminates in March.

ALTHOUGH THREE QUINTETS are tied for the top slot in the 12-team Interim league, we still can't see anyone but Wheaton taking home the top prize in this hardwood division.

The Tigers dropped their season opener to Glenbard West (54-52) but have been picking up steam and are now playing the basketball that was expected of them.

In 6-6 Jack Hutchinson the Tigers boast one of the area's leading candidates for All-State honors and Coach Al Duhm has 6-4 Ken Lock, 6-4 Ray Ebelt, and 6-2 Steve Kimbell to give Hutch some adequate front-line assistance.

Working the backcourt for Wheaton have been Al Lang (5-11), Jim Crabtree (6-1) and Dick Kee (5-9). Crabtree, only a junior, has been a big surprise and currently ranks as the Tigers' third leading scorer.

The defending loop champions from Prospect high school already have suffered two setbacks but you can expect Coach Dick Kinneman's inexperienced cagers to be giving everyone trouble when they get a few more games behind them.

Top game in the Interim this week finds Wheaton journeying to Glenbrook Friday evening. Glenbrook dropped its first league game to Morton West by ten points but had three regulars missing from the lineup. Since that opener the Spartans have rolled up 155 points in routing West Leyden and Proviso West.

ARLINGTON HALFBACK JERRY TOTZKE will be eligible to play the entire 1962 football season as a result of a change in the Illinois High School association's 19-year-old rule.

By a 2 to 1 majority, high school principals approved the change when they voted in an IHSA poll.

If an athlete becomes 19 on or after Aug. 25, but before Dec. 11, he shall become ineligible Dec. 10. If his 19th birthday is on or after Dec. 11, but before April 11, he becomes ineligible April 10. If his 19th birthday occurs on or after April 11, he retains eligibility for the remainder of the school year.

Totzke, Arlington's second leading ground gainer this past fall, will be 19 on October 16, 1962 and thus will be able to complete the grid campaign.

PROSPECT HIGH'S BRUCE ANDRISE has been picking off several honors since the varsity football campaign concluded in early November.

The reliable fullback, who enjoyed a brilliant senior year with the Knights, was named to the All-Northern Illinois team by Chicago's American and earned Special Mention honors on three All-State squads.

In addition, Bruce was named to the All-Chicago area team by the Sun-Times and tabbed as the Interim league's finest football player for 1961.

The college that lands Andrise will be getting a fine scholar and gentleman in addition to a fine football player.

Knights Seek Second Win

Prospect Home Friday; Meets Elgin's Maroons on Saturday

Another busy weekend faces those Knights of Prospect high school.

The second of three straight weekend doubleheaders will find Coach Dick Kinneman's quintet hosting West Leyden Friday evening in an Interim league struggle and journeying to Elgin high school Saturday for a non-loop clash.

Last weekend the Foundry rd. Knights gained a split in Interim competition with a victory over Proviso West and loss to Morton West.

IN ANOTHER week the Prospect five will be involved in still another rough twin-bill with a road contest against the powerful Wheaton Tigers and a home game against Glenbard East.

All varsity encounters will be preceded by junior - varsity games at 7 p.m.

Prospect fans are urged NOT to make the Elgin trip Saturday unless they have tickets. The only tickets available may be obtained in the main office of the high school.

KINNEMAN'S Knights will be shooting for their second straight Interim league decision Friday when they host the West Leyden Knights of Northlake.

Prospect clubbed Proviso West last Saturday, 55-41, after suffering two straight league setbacks to Willowbrook and Morton West.

In the Proviso game the Knights canned their first 13 free throws, a display of marksmanship that unfortunately was missing in the first two games. In fact, some sharper work at the charity stripe against Willowbrook and Morton West could have been the difference between victory and defeat.

KINNEMAN FEELS his squad still needs to gain confidence if it's going to make any noise in the Interim league cage firing this winter.

The Knights have been getting the shots from the field but haven't been dropping them with any needed consistency. Prospect has taken more shots than its opponents but a 37 per cent accuracy mark against Proviso is the season best in that category.

The guards attempted 28 shots against Morton and dropped just four.

TOMMY THOMAS, 6-2 senior forward, continues to lead the unit in scoring with 64 points after three games and a 21.3 average. The sharpshooter was checked with 12 against Morton West but he checked in with 23 against Proviso.

Doing a yeoman job in the rebounding department for Prospect is senior Mike Francek. "Mike's been the only boy doing any consistent rebounding," Kinneman added. In addition, the 6-2 center chipped in with 14 points against Morton West and ranks as the squad's second leading scorer.

Kinneman plans to go with the same alignment against West Leyden with Thomas and Jim Hogarty at the forwards, Francek at center, and Ken Groh and Bob Gerrard at the guards.

GERRARD HAS been bothered by a sprained thumb but should be ready for the Interim league game in the Prospect fieldhouse.

In West Leyden's Knights Prospect will be meeting a club that has dropped its two Interim contests by nine and 24-point margins.

Coach Sid Gerenstein will open with four seniors and a junior Friday. He plans to use seniors Tommy Lundgren (6-0) and Jim Allen (6-0) at forwards, senior Ed Laube (6-3) at center, and senior Tom Bower (5-9) and junior Jim Playzk (5-6) at guards.

OTHER BOYS who should see action for the Northlake club are junior Len Breston (6-1) and soph Jim Nardiello (5-7).

Elgin's Maroons, Prospect's opponent on Saturday, stand 1-2 this season with one-point losses to Arlington and Proviso East and a one-point victory over Maine East.

Coach Bill Chesbrough has a capable club in Elgin which could be heard from before the season terminates. Heading the Maroons is a 6-0 guard who ranks with the finest in the state.

CHARLIE GORE canned 34 points against Arlington and 30 against Proviso and was counting on jump shots and driving layups. He's fast with a good pair of hands. He'll be the boy to watch Saturday.

Supplementing Gore in the Elgin alignment are Mike Boxberger (6-4), an outstanding junior; Jack Aley, a 6-5 senior; Chuck Hundley (6-0); Phil Kirk (5-9); and Buzz Geister (6-0).

Elgin faces a rough weekend with a road test Friday evening against the highly - regarded North Chicago Warhawks.

Big Weekend For Cardinals

by BOB FRISK

Two outstanding attractions are slated for the Arlington high school gymnasium this weekend as the varsity basketball Cardinals entertain Downers Grove's Trojans and the flashy Marshall Commandos of the Chicago Public league.

Capacity crowds are expected for both hardwood encounters with the Cards of Norm Patberg putting their four-game winning skein on the line before the home folks.

Downers Grove comes to town Friday for an important league clash and Marshall of Chicago, two-time state champ and third place finisher last winter, journeys to the gym on N. Ridge ave. Saturday.

Both varsity affairs will be preceded by frosh-soph tests with 7 p.m. starting times.

THANKS to an impressive 58-51 victory over Maine township East in the West Suburban opener, the varsity Cardinals are enjoying the school's longest winning streak since the 1959-60 quintet roared past six straight opponents.

Patberg's crew had little trouble disposing of the defending champs from Park Ridge although Maine did give the Cards and their fans some anxious moments in the final five minutes of play.

Arlington had piled up a 15-point lead in the final period but had that margin cut to four with two minutes remaining on a flurry of eleven straight Maine markers. The Cards pulled away to their final seven-point bulge on some clutch work at the free throw line by Don Kolstad and John Burgermeister.

BURGERMEISTER, a 6-3 senior who had been used as one of the top reserves prior to Friday's tussle, got a starting shot when illness shelved Ross Retterer and John responded with 14 points, eleven in the first half.

Junior Chuck Close gave Arlington one of his finest all-around performances as he canned 19 points and played a steady floor game. Close is the leading Arlington scorer after four contests with 56 counters and a 14-0 ppg average.

The Cards did a terrific job defending Maine East's highly-touted Steve Smith with the 6-5 pivotman collecting just ten points in the first three periods and finishing with 19, nine under his average, due to a revival in the final five minutes of play.

IN FRIDAY'S West Suburban contest Arlington will be meeting a club that is winless in four games but which is capable of erupting at any time.

Coach Guy Wellman doesn't have any lettermen back from the 1960-61 squad and it's taking these inexperienced performers a little time to work together into a capable unit.

WELLMAN plans to open with two juniors and three seniors Friday. Third-year performers expected to be in the opening alignment are forward Dale Sunnquist (6-1) and guard Glenn Wertinan (5-10). Seniors on the starting five are forward Bill Hartin (6-1), center Russ Doscotch (6-4), and guard Bill Duffy (6-0).

Arlington fans will get a chance to see one of the state's consistent basketball powers Saturday when the Marshall Commandos come to town.

COACH Harvey Hartenstein guided the powerful Public League entry to third place in the state last winter and Marshall has reached the coveted "Sweet 16" in five straight campaigns. The Commandos annexed the state championship in 1958 and 1960.

Marshall has picked off four straight city crowns and last year compiled an outstanding 26-5 record.

Hartenstein nas six lettermen back from that club but two of the standouts, 6-0 Eddie Jakes and 6-3 Lenwood Flint, will graduate in January.

OTHER monogram winners at Marshall are 6-7, 215-pound Lawrence Sharp; 5-9 Len Perry; 6-1 Ronnie Knight; and 5-6 Ben Lilly.

Lilly, a clever backcourt performer who is an excellent ball handler, engineers the Commandos' attack with Sharp the key man in the front-line.

HARTENSTEIN, starting his second year as head man of Marshall, admits that "this is going to be a different team in many ways."

"There is going to be a lot more emphasis on team play," he added, "and we're going to stay away from that free lancing of past teams. "We'll still use the fast break but there's going to be more pattern ball."

First Annual Program In PHS Little Theatre

Tonight's the night.

Paddock Publications' First Annual Sports Night will be held tonight (Thursday) in the Prospect high school Little Theatre.

Festivities will begin at 7:30 p. m. with a sound color film on the College All-America team for 1961, a panel discussion involving three leading football representatives, a question-and-answer period, and refreshments in the cafeteria.

Included on the panel with Wally Grace as moderator will be Murney Lazier, head coach of Evanston's perennial football power; Larry Onesti, All-Big Ten center at Northwestern University; and George Allen, defensive coach and player-talent scout of the Chicago Bears.

All coaches are asked to register and pick up their name tags at the desk just inside the west entrance of the building.

Admission is by ticket only and a few tickets will be available at the door.

Promptness is urged as the program will get under way at 7:30 p. m.

Stop Maine East

Cardinals Open Loop Action With Victory

by BOB FRISK

A varsity veteran and a varsity 'rookie" combined for 33 points last Friday evening to spark Arlington high's unbeaten Cardinals to an impressive 58-51 victory over the defending West Suburban conference basketball champions.

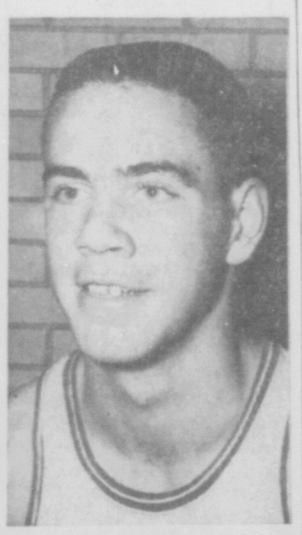
Chuck Close, a 6-1 junior who was a varsity regular as a soph, drilled 19 points and John Burgermeister, a 6-3 senior who gained his first starting assignment when veteran Ross Retterer was forced to the sidelines by illness, contributed 14 as Coach Norm Patberg's hustling Cards handled Steve Smith and company from Maine East.

Burgermeister was the key man in an explosive first half that saw the hosts from Arlington race off to a 30-18 lead. The lanky senior, a junior-varsity performer last winter, collected 11 points in those first sixteen minutes, nine in the first period.

CLOSE TOOK over in the second half after a modest seven-point output before the intermission. Playing possibly his finest all-around game in high school, Chuck rang up 12 points in the final two stanzas on four jump shots and a four-of-five effort from the charity line.

Although Close and Burgermeister headed the offensive attack, the victory over Maine was another team effort for Patberg's Cards. Reliable Don Kolstad reached double figures for the fourth straight game with ten markers and Vince Furlong, Gary Brodnan, and Rusty Blix all chipped in with some valuable assistance on both offense and defense.

The victory was Arlington's fourth straight of the 1961-62 varsity campaign, a winning skein that was last reached when the 1959-60 quintet gained the sectional tourney finale.



CHUCK CLOSE

THE LOSS WAS Maine's first in conference play since that 1959-60 campaign as the Blue Demons raced through 14 games without defeat in the WSC last winter.

Prospect's Frosh Fives Top Morton

Keith Bergen poured in 15 points to spark Prospect high school's frosh "A" basketball team to a 44-38 victory over Morton West last Saturday morning.

The triumph was the second in two outings for the young Knights of Ken Arneson and Lou Schairer.

Prospect recovered from a six-point deficit in the first period and gained a 19-16 halftime lead. The hosts increased that margin to 33-23 after three stanzas.

Backing Bergen in the point parade were Craig Thomas with 11, Wayne Kuklinski with nine, and Gregg Melzer with six.

Score by quarters:

Prospect	4	15	14	11	—44
Morton W.	10	6	7	15	—38

In the frosh "B" game Schairer's Knights racked up a 31-22 decision as Bill Reising registered 13 points on six baskets and a free throw.

Prospect's frosh "A" and "B" quintets will host West Leyden this Saturday, Dec. 9.

To Close Park Gym for Voting

Recreation park gym will be closed this Saturday, Dec. 9, to facilitate the Village referendum voting.

The gym will re-open next Saturday, but will be limited to grade school and Jr. high boys. All high school basketballers may play at the Arlington high school girls gym.

Mac Says

by G. A. McELROY

A NEW ATHLETIC ORGANIZATION recently formed in the suburban area is the Northeast Illinois Track Coaches Association. The area covered is composed of Kane, Lake, DuPage, McHenry, and Cook County outside Chicago. Co-Presidents are Rex Griep of Proviso West and Richard Ault of Highland Park with Gene Sackett of Glenbrook, secretary-treasurer. Their first event is a coaches' clinic to be held at Glenbrook High School on Saturday, December 16. Four topics will be covered at this all day session including "Organization of the practice work out," "Pole Vaulting techniques," "Treatment and prevention of injuries," and "Hurdling techniques." Moderators of these 4 sessions are Charles Peterson (Evanston), Richard Calisch (Riverside), Gene Laulunen (Palatine), and Richard Ault (Highland Park). In addition to a coaches panel on each subject Robert Shelton, director of physical therapy of the University of Illinois, and Tom Healion, Northwestern University trainer, will be on the program. This organization with its purpose of professional growth through sharing of ideas and techniques will help make the suburban area an even greater stronghold of track talent in Illinois and the nation.

THE CHAMPAIGN-NEWS GAZETTE deserves commendation on its method of selecting an All-State football team. We are not making this comment because Andy Merutka of Palatine was named to the All-State team but because of the logical and practical approach they have used in handling a problem which can never satisfy the majority. Long recognized as the official All-State team selections, the News Gazette made a realistic change in its method in view of the fact that boys who are named have many scholarships offered to them. The first move was an attempt to name the best 33 football players in Illinois to the team. They in some cases shifted players positions to those they might likely play in college for example, Palatine's Merutka who starred as a linebacker and blocker as well as a fullback was named at a guard, a position suited to his blocking, speed, and defensive ability. Secondly they picked only boys who they were sure could make the grade scholastically in most any college so that a football scholarship would be in a sense a scholastic one as well. No one was placed on the team unless he ranked in the upper third of his class. Actually few outstanding football players were left off the team on this count, proving the point that to be one of the best athletically one needs to be intelligent and dependable in the classroom as well. The day when boys attended high school just to play in sports is past in the middle west and particularly in the suburban area.

20 YEARS AGO (Thursday, December 4, 1941)

Palatine's green cage team opened defense of two straight championships by defeating Ela 29-19 while the lights also won 19-8. Palatine only shot 16% with Bob Howes, 6' 4" center, and Harold Schwolow, 6' 1" forward scoring 13 and 11 points respectively. Ken Birks was the defense standout . . . Bensenville downed Wauconda 29-25 and 30-15 to prove their rating as top contenders. Oswald of Wauconda was high scorer with 13 points . . . Arlington was whipped by Libertyville 39-28 as three regulars were lost on fouls and the Cards were outshot 30% to 14%. Huffman had 17 for Libertyville and Becker 10 for the Cards. "Mac Says" notes that Ken Zimmerman, former Warren and University of Illinois football great, has a son and wonders if he can apreach the athletic heights of his dad who is coach at Woodstock. (Note—Ken Zimmerman Junior was an all stater at West Aurora and is on the varsity football team this year, 1961, at Illinois.)

10 YEARS AGO (Thursday, December 7, 1951)

Arlington hopes to start use of their new gymnasium by February 1. The Cardinals lost to Maine 32-31 with Vawter of Arlington scoring 14 . . . Paul Schrage's 39 points set a Northwest Conference record and paced Palatine to a 75-53 win over Northbrook . . . Wauconda beat Bensenville twice, 49-48 and 38-38. Nolan scored 28 for Wauconda and Palm 22 for the Bisons. Barrington has a 3-0 record and Palatine 2-1 in the Northwest loop.

Prospect Captures Soph Tilt

Prospect's frosh-soph basketball team opened its 1961-62 schedule last Saturday morning with a 26-21 victory over a visiting Morton West quintet.

Coach Bob Hoese's Knights held the lead throughout the hardwood tussle in dumping a Morton team that was playing its fourth game.

Dan Sherman and Bob Gewecke sparked the Prospect five with 11 and 10 points respectively.

The frosh-soph Knights will host West Leyden this Saturday, Dec. 9, in their second game of the campaign.

Arlington JVs Fall In Opener

Following a tight first half Barrington's junior-varsity cagers gradually pulled away from a host Arlington team last Saturday morning and recorded a 49-34 decision.

The two clubs were deadlocked at 17-all at the intermission but Barrington outscored Coach Rog Steingraber's Cardinals by ten points in the third period.

Arlington's Ken Seeger was the high scorer for both teams with sixteen markers on seven baskets and two free throws. Ken Wessling, Bill Guilfoil, and Dave Berwanger each collected four points for the losers.

ARLINGTON'S junior-varsity squad will host Maine East this Saturday morning, Dec. 9, in a game immediately following the frosh "A" contest at 9:30.

Cardinals' Soph Gym Squad Wins

Coach Mike Karon's frosh-soph gymnasts at Arlington high school launched their campaign in impressive style Tuesday afternoon with an 82-44 rout of visiting Niles West.

The young Cardinals outscored Niles in five of the six events with their lone setback on the Trampoline.

Picking up the firsts for Karon's squad were Mel Peters on the side horse, Ron Harstad on the horizontal bar, Ulrich Geissler on the parallel bar, Reid Olson on rings, and Tom Ostermann in tumbling.

The summary:

Jim Hogarty (42) is trying to give his teammate some assistance while Morton's Al Beranek (30) also is in on the play. Looking on at right is Morton's Frank Tully (22). The visiting Falcans dumped the Knights, 57-47.

Morton West Wins

Prospect High Stops Vopicka, Still Bows

by TOM McSHANE

Prospect's Knights stopped Morton West's All-Stater Jim Vopicka Friday night.

They held the superb Berwyn flash to 13 points.

But they forgot the rest of the Falcon squad.

The rest of the Falcon squad scored 44 points, enough to spell defeat for Coach Dick Kinneman's five. The final read 57-47.

It was the second loss in a row for Prospect, the longest loss streak in the school's history. The 10-point defeat also was the worst a Prospect team has suffered.

MORTON REMAINED in a tie with Wheaton and Willowbrook for the Interim association lead. The Knights still were looking for their first win.

Morton was very hot Friday; Prospect very cold.

The Falcons started the game with a net-drilling exhibition by Vopicka and Bill Bohaboy that threatened never to stop. Vopicka hit two corner shots and a 20-footer in the first three minutes. Bohaboy chipped in two layups, and Frank Tully added another jump from the corner that made it 12-0 Morton with 4:45 left in the period.

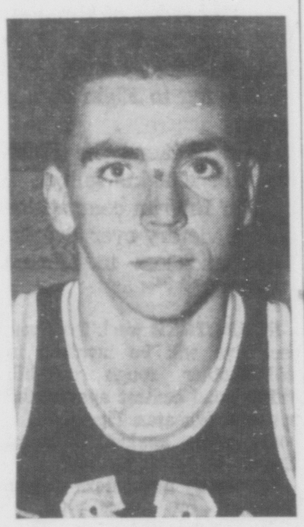
PROSPECT opened its scoring a few seconds later when Jim Hogarty made a free throw. The Knights then shifted from a man-to-man defense to a zone, and managed to outscore the Falcons 5-2 for the remainder of the quarter.

In the second period, Prospect closed to four points three times, but couldn't put together the punch to draw even. Morton kept drumming the nets from outside, hitting seven of eight baskets in this quarter from outside 20 feet. While Prospect's Tommy Thomas kept the clamps on Vopicka, Bohaboy and Tully wandered loose, hitting at will from long ranges.

The half ended 30-20. Hogarty, Thomas, and Mike Francek were carrying the load for Prospect.

THE SECOND half opened with quick baskets by Ken Groh, Thomas, and Hogarty putting Prospect back in the game. The Knights continued to push through most of this quarter, closing to 33-28, and 35-32. But the fine balance of the Morton squad paid off for the visitors. Tully, Bohaboy, and Vopicka didn't score heavily in this period. They got three points among them. But Center Carl Gatlin got three baskets and two free throws to take up the slack and keep his team on top.

Gatlin's efforts probably made the difference in the game. The lanky center broke Prospect's back. Morton entered the fourth period with its lead shaved to seven points, but the Knights were through for the evening. Vopicka and Tully quickly moved the Falcons ahead 48-35 in the first two minutes of the final quarter. Prospect could only get back three of those 13 points in the closing six minutes.



MIKE FRANCEK

ONCE AGAIN the Knights were off on their shooting. Guards Groh, Bob Gerrard, and Dennis Mitchell hit only four of 28 shots. Francek, who played a strong game under the boards despite a height disadvantage, was high man for Prospect with 14 points. Thomas added 12.

Bohaboy had 15, Tully 14, Vopicka hit 13, and Gatlin 12 as the Morton team hit 51 per cent of its shots.

Maine's Sophs Edge Cardinals In Loop Opener

Showing little resemblance to the team that rolled over three non-conference opponents, Arlington high's frosh-soph basketball squad dropped its opening league game last Friday evening.

Guilty of numerous floor errors in twenty-eight wild minutes of action, the young Cards dropped a one-point, 28-27 decision to the visiting Maine township East Blue Demons.

Despite the fact that Arlington collected only four baskets and went over 12 minutes without a field goal in the second half, the host Cardinals still had a chance to wrap up the victory in the waning moments of the West Suburban opener.

JEFF BECKMAN'S two free throws pulled the Cards within one with 1:09 remaining in the game but neither team could counter in the final seconds and the visitors went home with a 28-27 decision.

It was a game that is best forgotten by Coach Ken Schaller's Cards. The locals could drop just one basket in each of the first two periods, were blanked from the field in the third stanza, and then went over five minutes of the final quarter without a two-pointer. Arlington held a 15-14 halftime lead but surrendered that advantage in the opening minutes of the third period and could never again climb past Maine.

The visitors were blanked from the field in the final seven minutes and could pick up just two of eight free throws in the hectic fourth quarter.

JOE MUELLER and Beckman shared scoring honors for Arlington with nine points each. Joe picked up seven of his points from the charity line. Beckman was the only Cardinal able to register more than one basket.

Arlington's frosh-soph Cardinals will be seeking their first West Suburban conference victory this Friday evening when they host Downers Grove at 7 was touted as a battle of the Cards' balance and the Demon's one-man show, Smith.

Arlington High

Arlington's balance showed up again with at least three boys hitting double figures for the fourth straight game, but Smith, an All-State football end, was a picture of frustration throughout most of the contest.

ONLY A FLURRY in the final quarter pushed his offensive output to the "respectable" level. In the first three games this season Steve fired in 94 points. Last Friday the 6-5 senior was checked with six in the first half and was blanked in the second quarter as Arlington piled up its 12-point halftime advantage. Nine of Smith's points came in the final stanza.

Burgermeister sent Arlington off to a 2-0 lead early in the first period and after Maine tied the count on a brace of free throws, the Cards moved into the lead to stay. They never trailed during the remainder of the contest and held a 15-point lead in the final quarter before Maine rallied behind Smith's work from under the basket.

BURGERMEISTER popped in nine points and Close added five as the Cardinals moved out to a 20-13 advantage in the first quarter and although the pace slowed down in the second period, Arlington remained in a comfortable position and took a 30-18 lead at the buzzer.

The hosts owned only a slim five-point cushion in the opening seconds of the second period when they rammed home 10 straight markers. Close canned a 20-footer, Kolstad dropped one in from the side, Furlong followed with a layup, Blix netted a nifty hook, and Burgermeister hit from tne side. It was 30-15 with 1:58 remaining in the period and the Blue Demons collected the final three points of the first half.

The two teams traded points in the third quarter but Arlington picked up one more marker on Maine and moved into the final eight minutes of play with 43-30 lead. Close was the key figure on offense for the Cards in that third period with three long jump shots finding their mark.

WITH CLOSE popping in the first six points, the hosts piled up a 15-point advantage only to see Maine East finally come to life and almost catch the Cards in an exciting fourth quarter.

The Blue Demons counted eleven straight counters midway in the final stanza and were within four points (51-47) of Arlington with 2:11 remaining. The Cards won a parade to both free throw lines in the final two minutes and gradually pulled away for the seven-point decision.

'Pa's Bucket' At Stake in Mat Highlight

Arlington and Palatine will battle for "Pa's Bucket" this Saturday evening, Dec. 9, in the annual wrestling headliner.

Competition will begin at 7 p.m. in the Palatine gymnasium with both varsity and frosh-soph meets.

"Pa's Bucket" is an award that is symbolic of wrestling supremacy between the two arch-rivals. Palatine currently holds the tophy thanks to a 28-14 decision over Arlington last winter.

Arlington Frosh Claim Two Wins

Arlington high's two frosh basketball squads both opened with victories last Saturday morning in competition with Barrington of the North Suburban conference.

Coach Bob Rees' "A" squad dumped the visiting Bronchos, 31-27, and Brendan Flynn's "Bs" rolled up a 31-22 decision.

Rangy Bob Conner poured in 16 points, 14 in the first half, to spark Arlington's frosh "A" squad in its initial victory. Conner's offensive efforts sent the Cards off to a 21-11 halftime lead and they held on despite a Barrington rally in the final stanza.

MIKE FRASE backed Conner with ten points on five baskets but only two other boys could break into the scoring column. Tom Jasper pumped in a basket and free throw and Scott Somers registered one field goal.

An outstanding floor game by Jack McRae played a key role in checking the Bronchos in their fourth quarter surge.

Score by quarters:

Arlington	10	11	6	4—31
Barrington	5	6	6	10—27

IN THE FROSH "B" game Flynn's Cardinals piled up a 16-6 halftime lead and coasted in with the triumph.

Roberto Benavides and Jerry Fink shared scoring honors for Arlington with ten points each. Jeff Galyon chipped in with six.

Also scoring for Arlington were John Waligorski and Dick Hoppe with one basket each and Bob Prucha with a free throw.

Arlington's two frosh hardwood squads will host Maine East this Saturday morning, Dec. 9, at 9:30.

Klehm's Nursery Handles Tigers In Classic Loop

Play in the opening games of the Arlington Heights Park District "Classic" basketball league was a little rusty last week, as the teams began the 1961-62 season. Although the teams are still in early season form, all indications point to a close and highly competitive race for the top positions.

Last year's defending champions (Demons), now playing for Charles Klehm's Nursery, carried over an eleven game winning streak and defeated the Tigers 85-40 to make it 12 in a row. Scoring was led by Bob Phillips with 19, and Wayne Mueller, and Tom Holson who scored 14 each.

Garden Liquors continued their winning ways, after taking the summer classic softball championship, with a victory over the Teachers "63" to the score of 91-55. Top scorers were Ron Feiereisel and Larry Nomellini with 25 each and Joe Huske added 19 to the effort.

Last year's South league champion, now carrying the colors of the Pro-Sport Shop, came out on top of an overtime contest 40-39 over the Pederson's "66" outfit, who promises to be another tough club to deal with.

Other contests saw the 45th Artillery Brigade down Lynnwood 55-38, the 755th Radar Squadron defeated Hoffman Estates 47-33, and the Pure Oilers spilled Meyer's Dairy 57-45.

Individual Scorers:

Arlington Gymnasts Win, 91-41

Arlington's varsity gymnasts opened their 1961-62 schedule with a resounding 91-41 victory over an outmanned Niles West squad Tuesday afternoon as six different boys claimed the six individual firsts.

The Cards of Coach Gay Hughes recorded sweeps on the Trampoline, high bar, rings, and in tumbling in crushing the visitors from Skokie.

Picking up the individual firsts for the perennially powerful Arlington team were junior Clay Chrisman on the Tramp, senior Bill Berg on the side horse, senior Jerry Russelll on the horizontal bar, junior Ray Lindeman on the parallel bar, senior Len Witter on the rings, and senior Bob Cordaro in tumbling.

RUSSELL, THE squad's leading scorer and most valuable performer as a junior, topped the Cards in point production with 17 markers on his first, second on the side horse, and second on rings.

Cordaro racked up 12 points with his first in tumbling and second on the Tramp and Chrisman collected eleven with a third and first.

Arlington's varsity gymnasts will be idle now until Fri., Dec. 15, when they journey to Waukegan at 7:30 p.m.

IN THIS BATTLE for the rebound Prospect's Jim Hogarty (42) is vying for control with Morton West's Jim Evenhuis. Other Knight in the picture is Mike Francek (22). Morton West's Falcons won the Interim league contest, 57-47.

Prospect's Varsity Mat Squad Wins

Prospect high's determined Knights bounced back from a two-point setback on Friday and registered an impressive 24-18 varsity wrestling victory over Proviso West last Saturday afternoon.

The triumph was Prospect's second in three outings this season with the Foundry rd. grapplers slated to journey to West Leyden this Friday evening, Dec. 8.

Prospect fell behind after one bout Saturday, tied the count at 103, collected a draw at 112, then moved ahead to stay at 120 as Mike Phillips racked up an impressive 5-0 decision.

SOPH JOHNNY Schwan, working his second meet with the varsity, recorded Prospect's first win with a 6-0 victory at 103 and senior Bob McKinnon, one of four unbeaten varsity regulars, gained the draw with a scoreless battle at 112.

Following Phillips' win at 120, Wayne Zaehler picked up his third straight victory at 127, Doug Vaughan remained unbeated at 133, and Prospect held a 16-5 lead.

In the final six bouts the Foundry rd. wrestlers picked up a draw with Gary Jernberg at 154 and decisions with unbeaten Ron Aukamp at 165 and Mike Dawson at 180.

Prospect's varsity and junior-varsity wrestlers will journey to West Leyden this coming Friday, Dec. 8, for meets at 7 p.m.

Final preparations are being made for the big Prospect Christmas Invitational wrestling tourney slated for Thursday, Dec. 21, and Saturday, Dec. 23. Complete details will be included on these pages in the next two weeks.

Morton's JV Mat Unit Tips Knights

Coming from behind with two clutch victories in the final two bouts, Morton West's junior-varsity wrestling team spoiled Prospect's season opener last Friday with an exciting 24-20 decision.

The host Falcons trailed 20-18 heading into the 180-pound scuffle but found themselves up by four thanks to easy decisions in the two decisive bouts.

The meet was close throughout with neither team holding an advantage bigger than five points.

Picking up victories for Coach Hal Henson's Knights were Bill Carlisle at 95, Paul Wilson at 112, Jim Anderson at 138, and Tom Rogers at 154. Jay Hager and Dan Mitchell were involved in ties.

Knights Cop First Win Of Campaign

by TOM McSHANE

Prospect high school's varsity basketball team broke into the win column Saturday night with a solid 55-41 victory over Proviso West.

The win pulled the Knights out of the Interim association cellar, a spot they had never visited before, and moved them into a tie for seventh place with Glenbard East and Niles West.

The Knights powered over the Panthers in the second and fourth quarters to record their first victory of the year.

Coach Dick Kinneman's squad, paced by Center Tommy Thomas and Guard Bob Gerrard, outscored their hosts 16-8 and 15-6 in the even-numbered periods to build their winning edge.

THE GAME STARTED with Prospect taking a 6-2 lead on baskets by Jim Hogarty, Ken Groh, and Gerrard. Proviso tied the count at 8-all when Chuck Simons hit a layup with two minutes remaining. Both teams finished the quarter with five-point surges to enter the second period tied 13-13.

Baskets by Thomas and Gerrard gave the Knights four quick points in the opening minute of the new quarter. Proviso came back again, cutting the Prospect lead to 19-18 with 5:30 left in the half. Thomas then cut the Panthers down to size, scoring two baskets and four free throws to lead a Prospect rally that produced a 29-21 halftime lead.

THE PANTHERS shaved the Knight lead to five points in the third quarter by employing a full-court press. Simons and Les Worcester each contributed five points to the Proviso total during this period. Logan Dugaw laid in a drive shot in the closing minute to narrow the score to 40-35 at the quarter's end.

Thomas and Gerrard then took over the game. Thomas hit a 20-footer, Gerrard scored on a fast break, and Mike Francek made a layup to build the Knight lead to 46-35. A Panther basket by Simons was followed by 15-footers by Thomas and Gerrard. Another Simons basket brought a 20-footer from Thomas and a close-in jump from Gerrard as the game neared completion. Thomas scored Prospect's 55th point with :56 remaining. Simons gave Proviso 41 with seconds left.

THOMAS WAS high man for both teams with 23 points. Simons had 17 for the Panthers. Gerrard, playing his first good game of the season for the Knights, had 12.

Foul Line Dispute

Kahn Leads But By How Much? That's Question in Classic

S. M. Kahn Electrical Contractors of Chicago is in first place in the Paddock Classic Traveling League. Of this, there is no doubt, but how much is the question.

Is Kahn ahead of second place Nelson Realty by a half point or two points? The record shows it to be two points, but Kahn's opponent, Jeffery Lanes, is protesting.

The protest developed Saturday night at River-Rand Bowl in Des Plaines as to whether Bob Rogers of Des Plaines fouled or not on his final ball of the night, a strike, while rolling a 278 game—second high in league play this season.

The difference is 10 pins and these 10 pins represent the difference of a point and a half for both teams.

Rogers' 278 game, including the disputed 10 pins, paced Kahn to a 1054 game and a one pin victory over Jeffery. The 10 pins enabled Kahn to tie Jeffery for the high series point. Both teams had 2923.

AS IT NOW stands, Kahn has a two point lead over Nelson Realty with three weeks remaining in the first half. If the protest, which is now in the hands of the Paddock Classic Rules Committee, is allowed, Kahn's lead would be reduced to a half point. The point and a half also means a lot to Jeffery. The Wheeling team is now in sixth place, but another point and a half will enable Jeffery to tie for third place.

The match was close all the way. Jeffery took the opener by six pins thanks to a 204 by Ed Melton of Northbrook and a 200 by Chuck Gibson of Bensenville, offsetting a 203 by Don Christensen of Arlington Heights and a 200 by Wally Behm of Palatine. Kahn, bowling on its home River-Rand lanes, won the second game by five on a 208 by Tony Sasso of Des Plaines and a 204 by Behm.

Then came the disputed final game, Kahn winning 1054-1053. Rogers had a 278, Christensen 204 and Sasso 201 for the winners. This offset a 246 by Bill Harris of Wheeling, a 213 by Gibson and a 211 by Hec Healey of Northbrook. Rogers, besides having high game, also had high individual series, 642. Gibson was high for Jeffery with 607.

NELSON Realty, the Bowlway of Elgin representative, made a serious challenge by sweeping all four points from Martinetti's Restaurant of Crystal Lake. Behind a 3034 series, high Saturday, Nelson Realty had no trouble.

Casper Dewitz of Barrington paced Nelson in the opener with 220. In the second game, everybody hopped on the bandwagon. Warren Olson led the Realtors with a 217 followed by Buck Perkins of Barrington Woods with 215, LeRoy Papineau of Algonquin with 214 and Dewitz with 211. In the last game, Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods posted a 223 and Perkins 215 to give Nelson Realty four men with 600 series. Perkins had a 626 total, Dewitz, 621, Kouros 607 and Olson 605. Chris Pulos of Crystal Lake, thanks to a 226 final game, had a 614 series to pace Martinetti's.

Beverly Lanes of Arlington Heights had no trouble winning all four points from last place Wheeling Furniture. A 236 by Dick Nickol of Palatine, plus a 211 by Bill Radunz of Arlington Heights, gave Beverly the opener. Then a 216 by Warren Walter of Arlington Heights was enough to give Beverly the middle game, despite a 212 by Herb Engstrom of Elgin for Wheeling Furniture, which bowls out of Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine.

RADUNZ' 205 paced an evenly balanced Beverly scoring attack as the Arlington Heights team made a clean sweep even though Ted Zimmerman of Des Plaines had a 211 for Wheeling Furniture. Beverly had a pair of 600's, a 626 by Nickol and a 606 by Radunz.

In the final match, Pro Sport Center took all four points although neither team could muster a 600 series bowler. The opener was the best game for both Pro Sport Center of Mt. Prospect and Moyle Construction of Carpentersville. The Mt. Prospect team, which bowls at Gunnell's won on a 206 by Paul Zubak of Elk Grove Village, a 204 by John Ribando of Mt. Prospect and a 200 by Earl Fenimore of Arlington Heights.

Despite a 204 by George Sargent of Waukegan for Moyle, whose home base is at Country Lanes in Lake Zurich, Pro Sport Center won, 876-865. Pro Sport Center won the third game by 44 pins on a 201 by Fenimore, whose 595 series was high in the match.

Next Saturday, when action resumes at Country Lanes in Lake Zurich, challenging Beverly Lanes will try to stop rampaging Nelson Realty in the No. 1 match. League-leading S. M. Kahn will take on fifth place Moyle Construction.

The LITTLE BOWLER BY JOHNNY

"Now I know why they call 'em 'setters'!"

If you're in the habit of picking up a swollen thumb, perhaps something is wrong. Our friendly bowlwise attendants can probably spot a flaw in your game and offer helpful advice. We're happy to announce that the only thing that swells in our place are bowling averages.

St. Patrick Fives Bump St. Viator

St. Patrick's of Chicago fashioned a pair of basketball victories over St. Viator Monday afternoon in hardwood competition at the Arlington Heights school.

The visitor's junior-varsity quintet stopped the Lions' sophomores 54-43 and St. Pat's also took the frosh encounter, 49-42.

St. Viator's two hardwood entries, coached by Ron Feiereisel and Larry Nomellini, will journey to St. Joseph of Westchester this Friday, Dec. 8, for games at 6:30 p.m. Next Monday, Dec. 11, the Lions will travel to Immaculate Conception for 4:15 p.m. tests.

AFTER A CLOSE first period St. Pat's junior-varsity squad turned on the power and took a 27-15 halftime lead last Monday afternoon. The visitors increased that bulge to 43-24 after three periods and coasted in with the decision.

Jim Murray popped in 18 points to spark the Lions' sophomores, collecting seven baskets and four of 12 free throws. Backing Murray in the point parade were Chuck Heinrich with eleven, Jim Vidt with seven, Tom O'Keefe with five, and Jim Cullinan with two.

Ed Mueller sparked the winners from St. Patrick with 18 points.

Score by quarters:

St. Viator	9	6	9	19	—43
St. Patrick	11	16	16	11	—54

SEVEN BOYS scored for St. Viator in the frosh setback with Mike Hogan rimming 12 markers for Nomellini's plebes.

Also tallying for the Oakton st. Lions were Chuck Grandt with nine; Ron Bakalar with eight; John Kidd, Bob Hughes, and Rich Riordan with four each; and Jim Pendridge with one.

St. Patrick's Pat Shea whipped in 21 points to top both yearling quintets.

St. Viator's sophs now stand 1-2 for the season with the frosh aggregation still looking for that first victory after three outings.

Paddock Bowling

Two December Deadlines for Meet Entries

The December countdown is under way.

Only 16 days remain before the men's entries in the Paddock Publications' Inter-League Handicap bowling tourney will be determined.

Only 23 days remain before the gals' berths will be decided.

First place teams as of December 23 in all men's leagues within the area served by Paddock's will be eligible for the 1962 spectacular at Gunnell's Bowling Lanes in Mt. Prospect.

First place teams as of December 30 in all women's leagues will be eligible for the '62 tourney at Pioneer Lanes in Addison.

BOTH TOURNAMENTS will be held in January as the top bowling teams in the area vie for honors in the competition that has become a highlight of every kegling season.

Gunnell's will host the men on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 13-14, and Pioneer will entertain the gals on Sunday, Jan. 21. Approximately 160 teams will shoot for the two team trophies, individual awards, and prize money.

The defending champions are Geils Funeral Home in the women's firing and Abbinanti Insurance in the men's class.

GEILS CARRIED a 394 handicap into the tournament and came in with a big 2680 gross, eight pins on top of Rein Tile, Blanche Geils headed the champs with games of 141, 184, and 181 for a 506.

In the men's tourney Abbinanti Insurance turned in a 3085 gross in the first shift and that held up against the firing of the other entries. Heading the champs was Andy Steichman who rolled games of 242, 190, and 222.

Prospect's Frosh Mat Squad Wins

In a meet featured by seven pins Prospect high's frosh wrestling team opened its 1961-62 season with an impressive 30-22 victory over Proviso West last Saturday morning.

The first five bouts were decided by pins with the young Knights of Maurie Levy climbing off to a 20-5 lead.

Five boys registered pins for Prospect with Al Funk at 95, Curtin at 112, Todd Olsbn at 120, Bob Coon at 127, and Dennis Werkau at 180. The Knights picked up their other five points on a default at 138.

Battle On for 2nd In Women's Classic

The battle's now for second place in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League.

Steve's Restaurant of Wheeling whipped Moyle Construction of Carpentersville in three close ones Saturday night at Country Lanes in Lake Zurich to clinch at least a share of the first half crown with three weeks of play remaining.

As a result of Ridge Motors of Des Plaines handing Morton Pontiac of Arlington Heights two setbacks, the two teams are tied for second, and a loss by either, or a win by Steve's will give the title to the Wheeling team.

Steve's Restaurant will get its chance next Saturday at 6:30 p.m. when it faces Ridge Motors in a three-game series at Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights.

STEVE'S, BOWLING out of Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling, won by margins of 13, 11, and 32 pins as Moyle Construction, bowling on its home lanes, fell three games behind second.

A 210 by Janice Crovetti of Highwood paced Steve's to its opening win. Then Ann Neumann of Morton Grove, en route to a 567 series, fired a 202 game. In the last game, it was a team effort, only one game being below 181. Despite losing three games, Moyle Construction fired a creditable 2549 team series with Bonnie Kuhn of Mundelein leading the way with a 525 total.

Ridge Motors, paced by Doris Taylor of Waukegan with a 576 series and by Rosemary Babich of North Chicago with 567, took its series from Morton Pontiac after dropping the opener. A 213 by Shirley Nutschnig of Prospect Heights gave Morton Pontiac, representing Beverly Lanes, the first game, 892-864, even though Doris had 210 and Rosemary 202 for Ridge Motors, which calls Sims Bowl in Des Plaines home.

Ridge Motors evened the score in the second game, 829-810, and then came off with the match thanks to a 211 by Doris Taylor.

HOWEVER, WHEN it came to individual honors, Gloria Lucchesi of Winnetka set season's highs as she paced her tail-end Northfield Bowl team to a pair of triumphs over River-Rand Bowl of Des Plaines. After River-Rand had taken the opener, thanks to a 208 by Alice Ulrich of Chicago and a 200 by Connie Labo of Rolling Meadows, Northfield Bowl hit its stride.

Gloria Lucchesi was the main reason as she rolled a 643 series. Included was also the league's high individual game, 258. She then followed with a 211 final game. Meanwhile, Alice Ulrich wasn't doing badly either with a 574 series.

DRIVING IN FOR a layup is Prospect high school's Mike Francek in first half of the Knights' home basketball opener last Friday night. On defense for the visiting Morton West Falcons is Frank Tully (22). Morton won the Interim league contest, 57-47, and currently boasts a 3-0 loop standard.

Prospect's JVs Still Unbeaten

Prospect's junior varsity basketball team whipped Morton West and Proviso West last weekend to remain unbeaten and stay on top of the Interim league standings.

The junior Knights beat Morton's Falcons Friday night 47-40 on the strength of a big second quarter, then came on strong at the finish Saturday, outscoring Proviso 9-0 in the final period, to win 35-27.

In the Morton West game, Prospect started its big second period four points down at 10-6. Dave Gobeille's two free throws with a minute and a half gone put the Knights ahead 14-12. Coach Ted Wissen's squad then finished the half with a 10-point surge while holding the visitors to a single free throw to leave the floor with a 24-13 lead.

THE TWO TEAMS battled evenly through the third quarter, and Prospect held off a 14-point Morton rally in the final period to take the win.

Bob Hope paced the Knights with 17 points. Dick Beck had 12. Rench got 14 for the Falcons.

In the Proviso West game, it was Hope who carried the big closing rally that spelled the Prospect victory. The rangy center scored five points and picked up an assist in the nine-point closing quarter after the Knights blew an early game lead to find themselves trailing 27-26 after three periods.

Hope again led the Prospect scorers with eight points.

Elliott had 10 for the Panthers.

The junior Knights will put their 3-0 record on the block Friday night when they host West Leyden. Game time is 7 p. m.

Prospect High Matmen Edged By Morton W.

A strong Morton West team recovered from a seven-point deficit and handed Prospect high's varsity wrestlers their first setback of the 1961-62 campaign last Friday, 23-21.

The Falcons trailed 16-9 with five bouts remaining but passed the Knights and claimed the victory in the decisive heavyweight tussle.

Coach Dick Mudge's Prospect crew, an easy victor over Willowbrook in the season opener, fell behind by six points after two bouts Friday but senior Bob McKinnon racked up a tight 1-0 decision at 112 and the Knights cracked the scoring column.

SOPH MIKE Phillips, who wrestled at 120 after vying at 112 against Willowbrook, was bumped in his match but the Knights moved within one point as Wayne Kaehler fashioned an impressive pin in 1:37 of the 127-pound test.

Prospect moved ahead at 133 as reliable Doug Vaughan racked up a 4-0 victory, and Soph Greg Field's pin at 138 gave the Knights a 16-9 victory. Morton copped the next two bouts, one via a fall, and held a 17-16 lead with just three matches remaining.

At 165 Ron Aukamp pinned his opponent in 2:32 but Mike Dawson dropped his 180-pound encounter and the Prospect lead was cut to one point. That set the stage for the decisive heavyweight bout and Morton claimed a decision and the team victory.

Bison Triumph

Fenton Matmen Post 1st Win Over Hawks

Jim Rucker and Dale Greco scored pins in the final two bouts Friday evening to spark Fenton's varsity wrestling team to an upset 24-20 victory over North Chicago in a Tri-County Conference match at North Chicago.

The victory, in addition to being Fenton's first of the season, also marked the only occasion a group of Bison varsity wrestlers have ever beaten North Chicago.

The Hawks, by the way, romped to their second consecutive Tri-County Conference mat title last winter and then rolled on to capture third place honors at the IHSA state tournament in Champaign.

AFTER THE completion of Friday's initial 10 bouts, it appeared as though the Warhawks were well on their way to another victory over Fenton.

Trailing, 20-14, heading into those final contests, the Bisons came to life. Jim Rucker, recently re-instated by a change in the state code regarding age eligibility, took on Vic Sage in the 180 pound match and rapidly built up a 6-1 first period lead.

In 1:10 of the second period, Rucker put Sage away for keeps and the Bisons trailed by a slim point.

EVERYTHING now was riding on the final heavyweight battle between Dale Greco of Fenton and North Chicago's Herb Odum. Greco scored a takedown in the first period and then pinned his man in the second and the Bisons had pulled out a memorable victory.

Gary Olafson gave Fenton an early 3-0 lead by hammering out a 6-2 decision in the evening's first bout. But the Hawks surged ahead minutes later when Broomhead stopped Bob Headly in 3:58.

Bob Janis pinned Washington in 3:14 at 112 pounds and once again Fenton led, 8-5, only to see the Hawks tie it up as Pobodnik blanked Mark Koslowski, 9-0.

PARKER of North Chicago decisioned Dennis Laboda, 5-0, but Mike Shriver upset Fortner, 3-2, with a third period escape to once again knot the count.

A reverse and a near fall gave Ron Nytko a tight 7-5 victory over Pearson at 138 pounds before North Chicago tied together a string of three decisions to take that 20-14 advantage.

Jackson disposed of Fenton's Green, 8-2, while Henry Kapheim routed Ron Prier, 9-1, and Doug Clinscales topped Mike Franzen, 9-2.

But that was it for the Hawks.

Nuclear Attack?

Warhawks Massacre Bisons in Opener

by RON MILLER

The Fenton Bisons were soundly trounced by the North Chicago Warhawks Friday, 97-35. Warhawk fans were urging their favorites on as the final buzzer sounded, hoping to gain 100 points but the clock ran out.

It took the Warhawks 10 seconds to score, and they never gave up the lead. The Bisons couldn't hit field goals and made bad passes that are typical of early season ball games.

The Warhawks carried the Bisons with a zone press, alternating a 3-1-1 with a 2-1-2 and occasionally using a man-to-man press.

HOWEVER, the press didn't bother the Bisons as much as the Fenton inability to make a basket.

In the early minutes the Bisons would take the ball down court, shoot, miss and North Chicago would rebound, drive down and score. Keith Peterson scored the first Bison field goal with one minute to play in the period.

The Warhawks led, 20-5, at the end of the quarter.

NORTH CHICAGO kept its press on during much of the second period. The Bisons again could not buy a basket, scoring four points. The Warhawks led 53-9 at the half.

While North Chicago made many mistakes, the Bisons were unable to capitalize on them. After one Fenton shot, the Warhawks would rebound and drive down and score.

The Bisons drew first blood in the second half, Keith Peterson sinking a free throw after 20 seconds had elapsed.

HOWEVER, it was Lester Long of the Warhawks who was the outstanding scorer in the period. Long rebounded, hit a 25 foot set shot and hooked one in from the middle of the key in addition to sinking several rebounds.

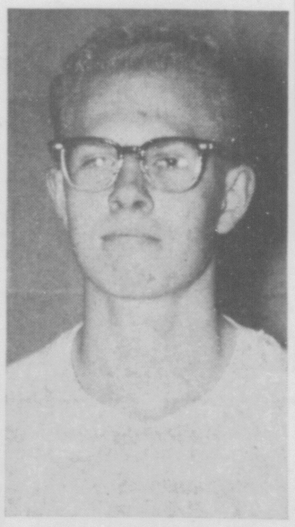
By the end of the period the Warhawks led, 76-23.

North Chicago again scored first in the final period and kept pulling ahead. Finally when the Warhawks enjoyed a 60 point lead Coach Ed Woods decided to give the subs a chance and pulled the regulars out.

He had played some of the subs toward the end of the first half for about a minute or two. North Chicago led 88-28. The second squad then went into a press much like the first squad was using.

Long set the Warhawk scoring pace with 37 points. Bill Liskey netted 16, Howard Schardt 12 and Jessie Bankston scored 10 for the winners.

Keith Peterson set the scoring pace for the Bisons with nine points, while Ted Tecza netted eight.



KEITH PETERSON

While the Warhawks made many mental errors, they had it all over the Bisons in experience, all five starters being back from last year. If they can improve throughout the season the Warhawks are going to be tough to beat at tournament time and it's going to be tough for any squad to do it now.

Prospect's Jayvee Mat Squad Rolls

Prospect high's junior-varsity wrestlers routed Proviso West last Saturday, 42-6, and picked up their first victory in two outings this season.

Coach Hal Henson's squad raced off to a 26-0 lead after six bouts and coasted in with the decision. Twenty of the Knights' points came via forfeits.

Recording actual decisions for Prospect were Jim Zaehler, Scott Campbell, Larry Hampton, Tom Rogers, Don Ross, and Al Runeman.

'Clean As It's Ever Been!'

The Way We See It

Reform Is Overdue For County Sheriff

"The county is as clean as it has ever been."

This remarkable statement by Cook county sheriff Frank G. Sain, offered as a defense of his record of law enforcement, says little for the sheriff's sense of perspective.

Historically, Cook county has never been clean. Having it as "clean" as it has ever been is another way of saying business as usual.

Business as usual in Cook county means the books continue to flourish; gambling of every description is widespread, and prostitution and payoffs are still a part of the practiced tradition.

The sheriff's remark came during the course of his arguing for passage of a curfew ordinance to curb the misbehavior of youthful offenders.

Commissioner Charles Chaplin (R., Northbrook) questioned the desirability of passing another law when the sheriff seems to have difficulty upholding those already in the statute books against gambling and other vices.

Sheriff Sain's suggested solution to the county's law enforcement problems was even more preposterous than his statement regarding the county's state of health. He said if the county board made provision for 500 or a 1,000 men or a metropolitan police force, he could accomplish more.

Perhaps Sain's force of 120 men to patrol 400 miles is inadequate to the task. But adding numerical strength would contribute little to the quality of law enforcement practiced by the sheriff's office.

For the sheriff fills his posts by patronage; civil service is non-existent in his office; he, in fact, holds an elective position. If we are to expect any degree of efficiency on the part of sheriff's deputies it will only come as a result of taking the office out of politics and delivering it to a professional, civil service system.

More laws and more men will do nothing to improve an already deplorable situation.

We are not suggesting that the sheriff should ignore the needs of youth, but we do think the prosecution of his duties could be pursued with a good deal more vigor and imagination than that which has marked past performances.

One reason the eradication of gambling should be sought is that organized crime takes its basic nourishment from this source. Gambling provides the revenue which allows the crime syndicate to launch other — often legitimate — businesses. An attack on gambling is an attack at the roots, not the branches, of a real problem for law enforcement.

Chicago's daily newspapers have practically drawn maps for the sheriff on how to get to various gaming enterprises scattered throughout the county, listing names, addresses and extent of personnel and equipment. Yet Mr. Sain persists in perpetuating the fiction that such conditions do not exist.

Sain's predecessor, Joseph D. Lohman, pleaded eloquently but unsuccessfully for the introduction of civil service. The sheriff's office is regarded as one of the plums in the political pie, and it seems doubtful that either party would want to relinquish the right to a dividing up of this patronage pastry.

But until the sheriff's office is removed from the influences which make it largely ineffective, the county will remain "as clean as it has ever been," and we will continue to have sheriffs as myopic as the nearsighted Mr. Sain.

Critic's Corner

'Neurotics' On the Road

by STEVE FRANZMEIER

(Steve Franzmeier is News Editor of the Roselle Register and Itasca Register).

There are a lot of abnormal people behind steering wheels today.

Unhealthy emotional attitudes — neuroses, if you will — are one of the little-noted but oft regretted causes of motor vehicle accidents. A current report speculates that about 60 per cent of all motor vehicle accidents are caused partially or only by drivers incited to rash acts by their neuroses.

"Damn the other guy, full speed ahead," seems to be the battle cry of the wild-eyed motorist.

WHAT ELSE besides neurosis could cause the perilous and insolent maneuvers followed by these thoughts flitting through motorists' minds: I'll teach you to cut ME off — I can beat your clunker any day — I've got to get home or we'll be late for the party — Listen, the day anybody thinks he can drive better than me . . . — I'll take my chances; the cops can't be everywhere at once.

FRANZMEIER

The famous Dr. Jekyll — Mr. Hyde split personality of pre-Freudian psychology describes so many drivers perfectly.

The same people who love dogs and babies, give their seats on commuter trains to old ladies, bring home gifts for their children and adore their wives—these same people will veer in front of innocent motorists and not even glance in their rear view mirrors to see if the guy climbed a tree.

THIS SPLIT personality theory reminds me of the poster I saw in a police department recently. Beneath a technicolor picture of the most ferocious human being you ever saw are the words: "We welcome your problems with enthusiasm."

The same person who is possessed of the insane competitiveness which incites him to speedway acceleration at traffic lights would be mortified if he noticed that the guy he beat away from the light and cut off at the narrowing of the road lives next door to him.

Why is this? Why is a person often intentionally less respectful to somebody who doesn't happen to live next door to him?

IT SEEMS logical that accident rates would drop if people realized that a person reveals his personality—including some of those innermost attitudes which self-respecting people wish to conceal — by his driving habits.

So, what are the consequences of the neurotically motivated driving habits of approximately 60 per cent of the driving public?

Well, people get killed and injured. Property damage accidents continue at a high level and insurance rates rise.

AND WHAT can be done about it? The days when mental disturbances were considered private—and somewhat shameful, problems are passing. They should end forever because mental attitude has tremendous affect upon every thread in the fabric of life.

We admit that the belief that mental disturbances play a role—a 60 per cent role—in motor vehicle accidents is a new one.

What can be done about it?

We can revoke drivers licenses after the first offense without exception. We can invoke the influence of those leaders who are opinion molders and of the communication media in building up sterner public disapproval of those who are completely oblivious of others' rights.

AND WE can try to treat these man - killing neuroses through social agencies and, primarily, the churches.

Of course, greater respect for the rights of others, established by parents and teachers in a person's mentality when he is a child, will help fend off those adult attitudes which cause accidents.

It's worth an effort to alter the attitudes of the significant proportion of the driving population who obviously are somewhat deranged by the feel of a steering wheel—there's so much room for improvement.

Curse of Specialization

The Doctor Business

by DICK HOFFMANN

I had just returned from the barber shop, where the discussion centered around how tradesmen today take little pride in their work, and are content with their pay, however inadequate their performance has been.

Someone commented that only among the older workers could be found those who measured their worth by their work as well as their paycheck.

The conscientious and the loafer, he accurately pointed out, are paid the same. This is a drawback of the trade unions, although without them even the most dedicated of craftsmen would probably be working without due compensation. (Those who do practice dedication usually are rewarded with year-round work when the laggards are laid off.)

HOFFMANN

Upon returning to the office, I read an address by the president of the American Medical association, and couldn't help feeling that all of his complaints over pending legislation are due to the attitude typified by the indifferent workman. Physicians seem to have become more interested in the stock market than in their patients.

AGAIN, IT IS usually only the older doctor who will bother with the inconvenience of a house call anymore. A physician's wife recently wrote an article assailing the prevailing mood of yawning indifference among the nation's medical practitioners. Her husband has suffered a heart attack, but she could not convince a fellow member of the profession to come to the house to examine him; he treated the matter as a case of mild indigestion.

It may be that telephone consultations are permitted by the advances in medical science or that the physician can do much more for the patient at his office, but there should be limits.

This criticism is becoming widespread. President Eisenhower, during his tenure of office, warned that the high cost of health was provoking an increasing chorus of protest. A recent news report noted that some medical schools were losing better students disillusioned by medical materialism. And at a recent AMA convention, internal criticism chided the practices of fee splitting, legal collusion in personal injury claims, and overcharging of patients.

PART OF this attitude among doctors, auto mechanics, carpenters, etc., is due to the direction we have taken toward specialization. Production line techniques have wiped out pride in craftsmanship; how do you feel creative about a product to which you have contributed only a small part. It's similar to sculptors dividing up a statue; one takes an arm, another the head.

Medical specialization has given us improved care, but is it commensurate with the spiraling costs which annually outdistance other costs of living increases by a sizable margin?

Our insistence on college training for all, as reflected by high school curriculums, has placed a stigma on manual work; many fine mechanics are probably languishing unhappily in white collar jobs.

I'M NOT CONVINCED that every doctor should be a stock market speculator either, but judging by the trend one can only anticipate the teaching of such a course in our medical schools.

The address I read by the AMA president, Dr. Leonard W. Larson, was concerned with the merits of the Kennedy administration-backed bill which would provide medical care for the aged through social security payments.

In debating specifics, Dr. Larson remained on fairly substantial ground. One good point I think he made was that "... young workers and their employers (will) pay for a federal program of health benefits for older people, millions of whom are self-reliant and solvent."

He said the AMA had urged liberalization of retirement policies in industry to permit continued productivity. At recent White House Regional conferences, one of which was held in Chicago, Kennedy administration officials were urging the same thing.

THERE PROBABLY are questionable features of the King-Anderson bill which could be improved or eliminated. The AMA supports the Kerr-Mills medical aid for the aged bill which, Dr. Larson says, "... is tailored to help those who need help." But I wonder if they would be for this bill if it were not for the presence of the King-Anderson proposal.

Dr. Larson lards his argument with many emotional appeals about the issue being one of "socialization versus voluntarism." Under ideal conditions, voluntarism is to be preferred to compulsion. If we were perfect, government would be unnecessary. Since we aren't, it is to insure the rights of all that governments (such as ours) are instituted.

I have heard the contention that doctors pressed into military service become indifferent and incompetent because incentives have been removed. This may be true of those doctors who lack dedication. But, again, I think it is more a question of attitude than circumstances.

OUR ORATIONS are determined more by the personal position we occupy than by principle. Businessmen preach free enterprise and clamor for more tariff restrictions against foreign competition.

As I understand it, theoretically physicians charge patients according to ability to pay (it almost sounds Marxist). If this worked out in practice, King-Anderson bills would be obsolete.

But as long as an increasing number of doctors look on their craft as a business rather than an art, criticism — and its consequences — will occur. This is true, as well, of callous indifference in all fields. The suffering consumer, a group of which we are all members, will begin to ask for new solutions to problems being inadequately answered.

Consumer Fraud Bureau Demonstrates Its Worth

A builder who attempted to develop 10 different subdivisions in the counties of Cook, DuPage, Lake, Kane and McHenry has been charged under the state's new consumer fraud act with securing over $2 million under false pretenses.

The builder, William Ruth, alias William Roth, is in reality a disbarred New York lawyer named Herbert Karp, according to the results of an investigation conducted by a Palatine attorney, David E. Bradshaw, a special assistant attorney general.

The reason Ruth, who resided in Mount Prospect at the time of his real estate manipulations, can be charged under the consumer fraud act is that real estate is classified as merchandise.

Since 1957, when Ruth began building homes near Northwest hwy. and Quentin rd. outside of Palatine as well as elsewhere, he was able to operate with impunity. He seemed to stay one step in front of his reputation until arrested on a bad check charge in May 1960 in Elgin.

This alerted New York authorities to Ruth's whereabouts, and he was returned to that state to answer indictments of grand larceny and jumping bail which were returned against him in 1946. Ruth pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of jumping bail, and the grand larceny counts were dropped. He then arranged to have his probationary three year sentence transferred to a Chicago probation office.

It is a matter of conjecture to speculate as to how long Ruth may have been permitted to continue his building career without it being challenged. The presence of a consumer fraud bureau, however, represented a last resort for home owners in Fordan Park, Ruth's subdivision in Aurora, when they brought the matter to the attention of this new agency of the Attorney General's office.

The petition filed in the Circuit court of Cook county against Ruth is a civil action. It asks the court to permanently enjoin the developer from engaging in business and to appoint a receiver to marshal his assets. This is the strength of the Illinois Bureau of Consumer Fraud; it strikes at the merchandising pirate's pocketbook.

The state alleges that Ruth substituted his name or the name of one of the 15 companies he organized to contractor's affidavits in the place of subcontractors who actually performed subdivision work in order to collect payment for these services rendered. The bureau has turned its lengthly disclosures on Ruth's dealings over the state's attorneys of the five counties in which he operated to establish if there are criminal violations involved.

But the fact that the consumer fraud act permits the Attorney General's office to patrol avenues often closed to other law enforcement agencies is the fact to be applauded. This fact was demonstrated in the first filing of a case under the new law.

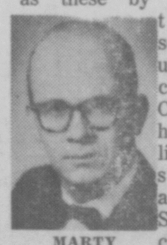
For Combating Hunger and Need

A Possibility for 1962

by MARTIN E. MARTY

"I have seen children fighting over a meal of roasted rat . . . I have watched men climb trees to get red ants to eat instead of chillies . . . Poverty is hunger, frustration, bereavement, futility. There is nothing beautiful about it."

Moved by comments such as these by observers of the Asian scene, an "ugly American," Dr. J. Calvitt Clarke, has given his life to doing something about need. Since it affects children most of all, Dr. Clarke has concentrated on orphans, particularly those left homeless first by Asiatic and later by European wars.



MARTY

His organization is the Christian Children's Fund, a Protestant-based group that serves all children. Over the past 50 years the clergyman-fund-raiser has gathered over $100,000,000 for the CCF, without — he says — asking for money. He only describes need. Many of his followers may disagree with aspects of his religious belief or political expression. But they are, as he is, moved by the vision of hunger and need. At present the CCF serves 36,000 children in hundreds of centers.

THE STORY of his mission is told in "Yankee Si!" (Morrow, $3.75). The book would be an excellent choice for a Christmas gift; my copy was given me and you can be sure it produced its desired effect. A friend autographed it, handed it to me, and began to tell about his adoption of a "bright little boy" in Taiwan. The cost? $10 a month. Hours later, our application was on the way for a similar service.

Organizations of this type abound, and provide an excellent means of expression in the face of the world's need. I often wish that some of the groups that generate needless steam proving what we already know, that Communism is bad and that Americans despise it, would invest more of their energy in the programs that serve to do something about the problem or about the conditions which make its growth possible. The CCF is a typical illustration. For those who feel that American governmental hand-outs cause resentment, here is a good "free enterprise" kind of outlet.

IT WOULD have been better had the story of Dr. Clarke been written by an objective bystander. "Yankee Si!" is by Edmund W. Janss of the CCF staff and is wholly uncritical. Movements are improved by careful external analysis. Thus here and there Dr. Clarke's political viewpoints are repeated without scrutiny.

An instance: "It has been a constant source of amazement to Dr. Clarke to find that . . . there are churchmen who feel that Communism has been 'good' to China."

A BIOGRAPHER with some detachment could have set this into context: it is pretty hard to think of churchmen who believe this (The Red Dean of Canterbury and a few other odd-balls would be the exceptions). What Clarke-Janss are no doubt referring to here is the fact that some churchmen believe that China, despite its evil, needs to be recognized. There is a difference.

These are small regrets and complaints about a wonderful man doing a deserving work. Think over CCF or one of its parallels as a possibility in 1962.

Gems of Thought

One of the first lessons to learn in life is that you can make some people deliriously happy simply by letting them alone.

A man is getting old when he waits in line to take the escalator to the basement floor.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Editor

Police Sergeant Earns Accolade

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank Sgt. Steven Bialo of the Rolling Meadows Police Department.

This morning my car stalled in the intersection of Meadow Lane and Grouse. When I saw the approaching squad car, panic set in! How many tickets could I get for blocking an intersection? Instead this policeman asked me what trouble I had and pushed me over to the side with his squad car. When I inquired if he would send a tow truck from the gas station to get me started, he personally checked the motor, found the trouble and got me on my way.

THIS SERVICE definitely was above and beyond the call of duty and I don't know who was the most appreciative, myself or my passenger — my eight month old daughter.

My vote for top policeman goes to Sgt. Bialo and congratulations to the Rolling Meadows Police Department for having such fine men on their force.

Fund Campaign Assistance Told

The members of Community Welfare for Mentally Retarded Children who operate the Bonaparte School in Bensenville are very grateful for the publicity your paper gave us in our recent fund drive during National Retarded Children's Week.

The work of parent groups for retarded children is always two-fold: to provide education and recreation where there is none for the retarded children, and to try and acquaint the public with the growing problem of retardation. Only when people are aware that, as President Kennedy pointed out recently, retardation now affects 5,000,000 people in this country and that if the present trends continue there will be 1,000,000 more by 1970, will there be the impetus to push research into causes of retardation, and to provide training for those afflicted now. The newspapers of the area we serve have always cooperated with us in this part of our job in a most encouraging way.

We want also to thank most sincerely the people who helped in the drive in Itasca, and all those who donated to our work. Anyone who would like to see where the money goes is welcome to visit the school at any time; it is located in the Lincoln building, Thorndale Road, Bensenville.

Indian Crafts Show Is Success

The Indian Affairs Study Group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club wishes to thank the people of Arlington Heights for the support given the Indian Arts and Craft Exposition held on November 17 and 18 in the Arlington Market Shoppi n g Center.

All proceeds of the benefit will go the the American Indian Center at 411 N. LaSalle street, Chicago. Winner of the door prize, a beautiful Navajo Indian rug, was Mrs. John Kehe of Arlington Heights.

Picking's Easy, Warns Citizen

Now why doesn't District Attorney William Bauer inform us ordinary citizens where and who are the hoodlums in our midst? I would like a list and also, more important, a list of all labor union men and women — that is, the Labor Party workers, business agents, organizers, due collectors, etc. Never mind if they are Democrats or Republicans; that is only a front they use.

They gain public positions and really work hard at convincing the voters they are good people, when they really are doing nothing. Oh, I forgot; they set up temporary sewer and water systems and work the suckers to pay for them. They see to it that progressive education is installed in our schools to make peasants of our working people. They cause deficit spending. They disregard the welfare as to ball diamonds and play areas. Three beauty spots for parks are made fun of. One volunteer library — three years old — didn't have a civic or patriotic book of any kind. Not even the free ones. Labor Party-controlled, of course. Naturally, the controlled PTA and garden clubs do nothing. Of course, they are good church members. They're even working on a merger with a European leftist-infiltrated church. Come on in, Kruchie! The picking's easy.

Yule 'Tepee' Is Cause of Dismay

In October, Arlington Heights had a 125th anniversary celebration, depicting its progress and growth in wealth, area and population. It is because of that, particularly, that I find it difficult to understand why we cannot have something better than the pseudo-Christmas tree which now stands in the downtown area. I understand that neither the Chamber of Commerce nor the village has funds to furnish something better than this.

The lighted "tepee" is an insult to our inheritance, a disgrace to our children, and is just another example of "small-town" lack of cooperation, especially where, in this case, there would be no monetary gain.

Incidentally, I have learned that the "tepee" is not on village property, but is located, without a permit, on Chicago and North Western railway land.

Suburb Woman's Integrity Cited

I'd like to express my thanks publicly to Mrs. Vera Payne of Mount Prospect for the honesty she displayed recently. Having left my purse in a shopping cart outside the Eagle Food Mart and returned to find it gone, I went inside to try to enlist the manager's help. He was holding my purse which Mrs. Payne, having seen it in the cart, had turned over to him to try to locate the owner. (Incidentally, my thanks also to him for the part he played, as he was about to phone me when I came up to him.)

It is certainly very gratifying to know that integrity is still a practiced virtue. Mrs. Payne is employed by the H. A. Dooley Co., Realtors, in Mount Prospect, and if my husband and I should ever have occasion to need the services of someone in this capacity we would certainly not hesitate to call on her.

Reader's Letter Is Clarified

In order to clarify incomplete statements appearing in last week's Fence Post letter from a Palatine Reader, "Urges Caution For Patriots," the following paragraphs re-appear.

"At the showing of 'Operation Abolition' for a meeting of the Palatine Junior Womens club, Mr. McArthur and Mr. Mugalian were invited to present the pros and cons.

"Mr. Mugalian, presenting the opposition, quoted from reliable sources: newspapers, civic and religious organizations, educational groups, and said that this type of propaganda is contrary to our democratic principles, that they serve to aid and abet the enemy because it is distorted to give the impression that a large majority of our youth in colleges is pro-communist.

"Mr. McArthur, in defense, said that there were only a couple of small discrepancies in the picture, etc.

"I would like to know, why were discrepancies allowed to penetrate anything that is being presented to the public as official document of the House Un-American Activities committee? I would also like to know how 'Small' is small, or rather, how 'Large' when the impact of such discrepancies can be so very potent. As Small and as Large as the little Atom, perhaps?"

Support Earns LWV Gratitude

The League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Paddock Publications for the support you have given us in conducting our 1961 finance drive.

Each year we ask public-spirited citizens to share in our efforts to inform voters and promote good government. The editorial and cartoon published in the September 21 edition of the Arlington Heights Herald were a major contribution to a very successful campaign.

Your continued good will and support is gratefully acknowledged.

President League of

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

OBTRUSIVE; disposed to thrust impertinently upon another. "A well-bred person will not make himself obtrusive."

ENDEMIC; peculiar to a particular locality or class of persons. (Pronounce ehn-dehmick, accent second syllable). "It is an endemic disease of that country."

ANOMALY; deviation from the common rule; irregularity. (Pronounce ah-nahm-a-li, accent second syllable). "An occasional anomaly makes life more interesting."

INEXPUNGABLE; impregnable; unconquerable. "Each of us should build within himself a fortress inexpungable to the darts of criticism."

MOLLIFY; to allay, as rage; allay the anger of. "The spokesman attempted to mollify the mob."

Welter (noun); confusion; turmoil. "In the welter of the incoming reports, he was unable to find any comfort."

A Reminder for 'Day of Infamy'

On this, the 20 anniversary of the Day of Infamy, I think it would be fitting to remind everyone to Buy American, Keep America Strong, and boycott all of these foreign made goods, especially that with the label Made in Japan. So was the first bomb to kill an American at Pearl Harbor.

Center Plans Talk on Methods of Framing

By LUCILE ERNST

On December 7, The Countryside Area Center will present Ed Ahmer of Arlington Heights. Mr. Ahmer will give a short talk on the art of proper framing of oil paintings, water colors, etchings, or any other kind of art work. The audience will be encouraged to ask questions after his talk.

There are millions of words written on the glory of creative art yet it is really downright difficult to obtain information about framing the creative art. It is seldom that framing is taught in art school and seldom is the subject discussed among the arty set.

MANY ARTISTS and Sunday painters have to somehow pick up the art of framing, which is easier said than done, or have their pictures framed by a commercial framer which is expensive. One shy little painter didn't want to admit that she was a bit awkward with a saw and so did all her paintings to fit the frame, so to speak.

After Mr. Ahrmer's discussion, two short movies will be presented. "Lascaux: Cradle of Man's Art" will be the first movie. It is in color and describes the discovery by two young boys of the cave paintings at Lascaux.

More than 500 paintings representing deer, bulls, and horses have been found. The meanings of symbols scattered among these drawings by Cro Magnon men are discussed. Some of the drawings show what may be the first attempts at three dimensional drawings.

"CONSPIRACY in Kyto," another color movie uses scenes from Japanses narrative scrolls of the 12th, 13th, and 14th Centuries to tell the story of an innocent man, unjustly accused of a capital crime, who wins his vindication. The spoken text is derived from authentic sources and original music provides the background.

The program will follow the regular business meeting of the Countryside Art Center at Arlington Heights Pioneer park at 8 p.m. The public is not only invited but urged to attend the meeting.

AT THE recent Christmas bazaar and Robbers Mart, sponsored by the Countryside Art Center, Mrs. J. Rockow, of Barrington, was the proud winner of the oil painting, "This is Susan," by Christl Hansen.

Some other lucky people who attended the affair are Mrs. Carol Komarek and Mrs. Julie Kehe, both of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Komarek now has the beautiful watercolor, "Autumn Landscape," by Irving Shapiro, gracing her home. Julie's attractive bedroom is being enhanced by the addition of the hand decorated jewelry box created by Mrs. Frieda Womeldorf.

I was really pleased to hear that the Christmas bazaar was so well attended. People came from all of the northwest suburbs as well as from Chicago.

THERE IS a good reason for the good attendance. Every member of the Countryside Art Center has done all they could to publicize their meetings, programs and special events.

I sincerely wish the other groups in our suburbs who are working in art, would let me in on their activities. I would like to tell about them in this column. After all, that is the purpose of this column, to keep all of us informed about what our artists are doing. (Bill

Modern Etiquette

Q. Just what should I do after I have completed the introduction of two other persons? I'm always at a loss in these circumstances?

A. You should try to act as a "moderator" for an ensuing conversation. It's always nice to bring up some subject you happen to know is of mutual interest to these two persons, and this usually stimulates the conversation.

Q. If a double-decker sandwich seems too big and unwieldy to handle with the fingers, isn't it all right to eat it with the knife and fork?

A. No; this type of sandwich must be picked up. Only on the "open-faced" type of sandwich do you use your knife and fork.

Q. If a male relative performs the rite of giving the bride away (her father being dead), does he then take his place in the front pew next to the bride's mother?

A. This is the usual procedure, although it is not absolutely necessary.

Village Theatre Wows 'Em

Yearly Tribute to Younger Set Is Topflight Success

by JIM PHILIPS

They packed 'em in Sunday afternoon. The wee ones, that is. And the big ones, too, for that matter. I'm talking about Village Theatre, Inc., and their yearly tribute to the younger set — a children's play, represented this time by the Charlotte Chorpenning version of "Little Red Riding Hood" (alias "Grandmother Slyboots").

In any other case, I'd find it unnecessary to tell about the story line, but this is an exception. The playwright has found it necessary to go to the extent of inserting an extra wolf (an aging female, at that!) and moralizing about how better it is for us to act like what we is instead of what we ain't. (It seems the junior wolf wants to act like a man — usually it's the other way around!).

At any rate, you could tell when there was too much philosophizing. The itchiness in the pants of the children got a little too itchy!

BUT, DESPITE the shortcomings of the play's structure, Village Theatre did its viewers justice by playing to them, not at them. The kids liked the singing, the antics of the wolves (John Lobenhofer and Carol Mooney), and the action brought about by some cute dancing and the well-staged chase scenes.

Mr. Lobenhofer and Miss Mooney were hampered by a technical problem throughout the play. Due to the wolves' rubberized masks, voices became muffled. This, no doubt, caused both "wolves" to strain their vocal chords in order to be heard. At certain spots, it was impossible to hear what they were talking about. (Certainly, there was too much high-falutin' philosophizing by the wolves in the first place — it's too bad the actors had to suffer because of the script).

BOB HAWLEY'S Nicholas was heroic and well-done, and Ann Hume was a sprightly Grandmother. Miss Hume does wonderful things with "crackly voices." Jean Marycki was an attractive mother and Jim Smith a satisfactory father, although at points his voice dropped too low to be heard.

Getting down to brass tacks, Barbara Lobenhofer was sharp as one. She was a pretty, light-footed Red Riding Hood. She has a lot of stage presence, this gal. Someone has played an important role in getting her off to a good start in theatre — I can think of three people right off the bat: her mother, her dad, and Director Harriet Smith.

AND WHILE we're on the subject of directors, Harriet can come in for a few bows. She did a fine job of getting her subjects to be "natural." This is important in children's theatre. Boys and girls of the "let's pretend" age don't care a hang about whether you're upstaging or whether you're delivering your lines in "tried and true" Goodman Theatre fashion. They want to see the show, laugh at the antics of their make-believers on stage, and in short, see something colorfully-delivered in the way of a story.

Director Smith helped her audience reach these goals. At times, there were instances where the actors insisted on speaking their lines "back to the audience." This was the only trouble I feel worth mentioning. After all, you have to hear the lines to know how the story is progressing.

The production of "Red Riding Hood" was smooth at the first performance. The songs were well sung by the little girls acting as "time killers" for scene changes — Kay Hawley's handling of her "Singalong with Kay" troupe (and the audience) was quite warm and very professional. She should replace some of those commercial clods we see on television much too often.

Sets for the play were beautifully done, and simple — after all, how can you hope to improve on a child's imagination? Colors were rich in the attractive set design, and well-painted. The lighting did the job it was supposed to do: add to the over-all color of the sets themselves.

AN ADDED thought. Make-up in children's plays is usually atrocious. For some crazy reason, production staffs of many theatre groups feel that all characters in a production for kids must look like something out of a department store doll counter.

Scotty Schinke's make-up committee broke away from this trap in their artistic, and tasteful use of eye pencil and rouge. Again, it's the simple things that count — even with two wolves! (Bill

Elk Grove Township

Announce Players in 'Red Shoes' Fantasy

The cast for the Elk Grove Masque and Staff's forthcoming production of "The Red Shoes" was announced this week.

Lead roles in this two-act children's fantasy, adapted from the story by Hans Christian Andersen, were assigned to John Harling, Liz Romero and Lee Ann Harling. Supporting roles will be played by Dick Hazlett, Jim Spahr and Marge Dykier.

Also featured, but in non-speaking parts, will be Ro Dunning, Bob Johnson, Arlene Nemecek, Harold Thompson, Bonnie Casey, Earl Marshall, Audrey Thompson, Virginia Burtt, Bob Brown, Lucy Waybright, Ed Waybright, Joan Hazlett and Pat Marshall.

THIS LATTER group will form the dancing chorus for the several production numbers included in the show.

"The Red Shoes," the first children's show attempted by the Masque and Staff, is a fantasy performed for young children by adults. It concerns a young orphan girl, aKren (played by Lee Ann Harling), who is tricked by an old gypsy mountebank, Reynardo Snogg (John Harling), into putting on a pair of magic red shoes to which he alone possesses the magic buttonhook.

The shoes compel her to dance endlessly, or until the spell is removed with the bottonhook, for the commercial gain of the evil gypsy, Snogg.

COMEDY relief is provided by the mute clown, Jemmo (played by Liz Romero). Jemmo is Snogg's travelling companion and servant, who at first helps his evil master in his scheme then, won over by Karen's innocence and charm, goes over to her side.

The Burgomaster (Dick Hazlett) is the mayor of the village in which Karen lives. He joins with Karen's Grandmother (Marge Dykier) and Nels (Karen's sweetheart, played by Jim Spahr) in their search for the kidnapped girl.

The show should not be confused with the art film of the same name, which was made some years ago and is a ballet interpretation of the story. The Masque and Staff version is definitely for children—with appropriate chase scenes and audience participation.

SHIRLEY Johnson, who has directed all of the group's productions to date, will repeat her directorial chores in the current show. Choreography will be handled by Liz Romero.

"The Red Shoes" is tentatively scheduled for sometime in February. Definite dates will be announced later. At least two matinees are planned to make it more convenient for youngsters to attend.

Among other activities of the Masque and Staff during the past week was a meeting to determine, finally, whether or not to repeat the group's recent hit, "The Gazebo." Despite the enthusiasm of the cast members for the idea, and the continuing requests for an encore performance, the group's executive board decided against it.

IT WAS felt that the closeness of the holiday season, with its extra financial burden on village residents—plus the difficulty in retrieving necessary props and stage furnishings—made the undertaking, while intriguing, not really practical.

The group's spokesman apologizes to those play-goers who will be disappointed in not being able to see the show. He invites them, however, to turn out for the children's show and other future productions. (Bill

Second Conference On Turfgrass Set

Golf course superintendents and other turfgrass men as well as home owners now have a fertilizer that feeds nitrogen as the plant needs it. But there are at least a couple of "ifs."

Research with urea-formaldehyde nitrogen fertilizers shows that they perform most effectively at about 60 degrees Fahrenheit. Ample rainfall is also necessary, says S. R. Aldrich University of Illinois agronomist.

Urea-form fertilizers release nitrogen more rapidly when the soil is slightly acid than when it is slightly alkaline or moderately acid, says Aldrich.

Since nitrogen from urea-form fertilizers is slowly available, Aldrich advises turfmen or home owners to fortify this fertilizer with readily available nitrogen fertilizers.

IN THIS WAY lawn grasses may draw their initial nitrogen supply from readily available nitrogen fertilizer. Then as urea-form fertilizers are used to situations requiring heavy nitrogen applications. Thelow solubility of this kind of fertilizer greatly reduces the burning that may occur when dry types are used.

to react to the soil and release nitrogen, this form supplies the grasses' needs.

Aldrich will report on "Urea-Formaldehyde Nitrogenous Fertilizers" at the Second Illinois Turfgrass Conference December 4 and 5 at the University of Illinois.

Turfmen interested in attending the conference should contact the Conference Supervisor, 116E Illini Hall, Champaign, Illinois, for more information. (FM

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

The stately Amaryllis provides a bright accent for the flower window in late winter. That is a time of the year when bright splashes of color are especially appreciated. The scant foliage and short blooming season are more than compensated for by the bright color of the 6 or 8-inch flowers, and by the easy culture.

Amaryllis bulbs should be plump and free of rot or mold and at least 2½ inches in diameter for good flowering the first year. Plant the bulb in a pot several inches larger in diameter than the bulg itself. Any good potting soil is satisfactory, however, the pot must be provided with good drainage. A layer of coarse gravel in the bottom of the pot is satisfactory. The bulb should be planted so that the upper ½ to 2/3 of the bulb is above the soil. Be sure to have the soil level about ¾ of an inch below the rim of the pot. Keep the soil on the dry side until growth appears and keep the bulb in a cool shaded place during this period. When growth begins, move the plant to a warm sunny window and water more freely.

INSECTS AND diseases are seldom a problem on these plants. If the bulbs do become diseased, it is wise to discard them immediately.

Magnificent flowers, brightly colored and supported on a tall stem will be the reward for proper care and only about eight weeks after potting.

Garden lilies, so delightful but often so expensive, can be easily propagated in the home without special training or complicated equipment. Where small bulbs are produced naturally in the leaf axils of the flower stalk, as in the Tiger Lily, they can be detached when mature and ready to fall, soaked in water for 48 hours, and planted in shallow flats. If protected from drying in summer and freezing in winter, they should produce a supply of bulbs.

In lilies that bloom in early summer, the bloom stalk may be pulled out of the growing bulb with a twisting upward pull after blooming and laid horizontally in a bed of moist sand. If the sand is kept moist, small bulbs will form along the stem at every node. These can then be grown to flowering size. Late blooming lilies will not have time to develop bulbs by this method out of doors, but they may be handled in the same way indoors.

ANOTHER sure-fire way to produce bulblets is by the process known as scaling. In this method a large bulb is pulled apart scale by scale. Care should be taken to get all of the scale because the important part is where it has been attached to the base of the bulb.

Put the detached scales between layers of moist sphagnum moss in a mason-type fruit jar. Wet the sphagnum moss thoroughly, and then wring as dry as possible with the bare hands. This will remove most of the excess moisture but will still leave the moss moist enough to keep a good humidity in the jar. Place a layer of sphagnum in the bottom of the jar, cover with a layer of lily scales, then a layer of sphagnum, etc., until the jar is filled. Leave the jar open for 48 hours; then put the cover on without an air-tight seal. If the jar is kept at ordinary house temperature, small bulbs will form at the base of the old bulb scales. These should be left in the jar for several months, then planted shallowly in a flat of light soil and grown for a full year before being placed in the garden.

While this may seem a long time to wait, a single mature bulb will produce from 30 to 50 bulblets. By this means, we can all afford even the very fine expensive lilies for our own garden. The bulbs will usually bloom in three years. (BB

Farmers' Outlook

Increase in Income 'Borrowed' from '62

By L. H. SIMERL

Reports from Washington officials tell us that U. S. farm income for this year will total about 12.7 billion dollars, or one billion dollars more than in 1960. These reports do not mention that most of this increase is really borrowed from 1962. Here is the picture:

Normally, most of the income from a corn crop comes to the farmer in the year after he produces and harvests the crop. Sales of corn are spread over all the months from October through the following September. Most of the income from corn that farmers place under price support loans is obtained after January 1, and most of the income from corn that is fed to livestock is realized in the calendar year after the crop is harvested.

THUS, NO matter how the crop is handled, most of the income from corn production normally comes the year after the crop is grown and harvested.

Under the government's feed grain program, however, farmers gave up income that they would have received in 1962 in exchange for immediate income in 1961. A total of about 768 million dollars was distributed this year under the 1961 feed grain program. This amount was paid to farmers as rental for acres left idle.

Farmers have no crops from these acres to sell in the next year. They have given up 1962 income in order to get more money in 1961. This is essentially a form of borrowing from the future.

THE FEED-grain program included two crops—corn and sorghum grain. But wheat growers, too, are borrowing income from next year. Wheat growers who wish to receive price support for their 1962 crop must reduce their acreage by at least 10 per cent. The acres not seeded to wheat must be kept idle. No crop can be harvested from them.

Farmers will receive rental payments for these idle acres. A large part of these payments will be made before the end of the year. They are being counted as farm income for 1961. The unused acres will produce no wheat for sale in 1962.

Here again farmers are giving up next year's income in order to get immediate cash. They are transferring income from 1962 to accounts for 1961.

WE DO NOT have an estimate of the amount of farm income shifted from 1962 to 1961 as a result of the wheat program. Taken together, however, the wheat and feed-grain programs apparently have shifted close to 900 million dollars from next year to this.

This shift, or borrowing from the future, is the primary reason that government statisticians can say that "farm income went up one billion dollars in 1961."

Farm income for next year may be not much different from 1961. The livestock situation is not expected to change much. Higher price supports for corn and wheat will tend to offset the smaller amounts available to be placed under price support or sold. And the feed-grain payments, again borrowing from the future, will be repeated. (FM

Guide for Feeding Dairy Stock Ready

The Illinois dairyman's most up-to-date feeding guide is the new University of Illinois leaflet, Dairy Feeding Suggestions."

The new booklet, wtitten by members of the U. OF I. Department of Dairy Science, gives the latest research-proved suggestions for feeding dairy cows.

MAIN THEME of the leaflet is that many modern dairy cows have outgrown the old rule of thumb calling for one pound of grain to four pounds of milk produced.

The scientists list a four-step program dairymen can use to check the "cow power" of their herds. These steps include a point-by-point program for determining whether cows will respond to extra grain feeding. It also gives a new listing of the amount of grain to feed each dairy breed to insure peak milk production.

U. of I. dairy scientist Leo Fryman says the booklet results in part from recent research which showed that heavy grain feeding stimulated some cows to give as much as 8,000 more pounds of milk per year.

THE FINAL half of "Dairy Feeding Suggestions" gives answers to the most common questions asked about dairy cattle feeding.

These questions cover such areas as feeding and udder edema, the latest on vitamin A deficiency, shelled vs. ear corn, pelleted and wafered hay, year-round stored feeding and many more.

Dairymen interested in the leaflet can get a copy from their county farm adviser. (FM

Discover Means to Reduce Water Loss

In observing the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Soil Science Society of America, University of Illinois agronomist M. B. Russell this week forecast the discovery of practical means of reducing water losses by surface evaporation.

In the next quarter-century it may also be possible to reduce transpiration losses, he added. The latter are moisture losses from the plant surfaces, primarily through the leaves.

However, before wide-scale use of evaporation-suppressing practices becomes a reality, scientists must find suitable ways to dispose of the extra solar energy normally carried off in the vaporization of water, Russell continued.

IN HUMID areas, such as the Corn Belt, Russell suggested that moisture might be conserved through increased penetration of water into the soil, reduction runoff from land surfaces, reduction of energy striking the soil surface used for water evaporation, and decreased movement of water to surfaces where it could evaporate.

Continued research on reducing water losses by transpiration and evaporation and other conservation methods will help solve water use problems as competition for water becomes more critical, Russell suggested.

The head of the University of Illinois agronomy department reported on "Water in the Ecosystem" at the American Society of Agronomy annual meeting held here today. (FM

Merry Teens Make Yule Gifts

Twenty members attended the Medinah Merry Teens meeting on November 27 held in Barbara Pingle's home, at which time the girls worked on Christmas projects for their mothers.

After a report on the Christmas tea by chairman, the hostess gave an illustrated talk on flower containers entitled "It's Satisfying To Own The Right Containers."

Jean Lesmeister discussed the "Three Rules For Better Barbeques" and following refreshments Judi Paluck adjourned the meeting. The group will meet again on December 11 in Donna White's home.

Stations to Have School Closing Data

With winter close at hand, Dr. Noble J. Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools, last week announced news announcements of school closings during severe storms and other emergencies occurring in suburban schools will be broadcast over five Chicago radio stations.

The radio stations are WMAQ, WBBM, WGN, WIND and WJJD, all of which will report the emergency closings in the mornings before classes are scheduled to start.

LOCAL SCHOOL authorities have been given special phone numbers for the stations and code numbers so that the emergencies may be relayed immediately, Puffer said.

The superintendent also urged all parents to tune in to one of these stations in case of bad weather to avoid unnecessary hazards for suburban school children.

by Robert E. Hood, Assistant Farm Adviser

FEED GRAIN SUPPLIES WILL BE LOWER than last year. This is the first reduction since 1952. The 1961 feed grain program must have been of some value in this reduction. In general, feed grain prices are a little higher this fall than a year ago and probably will average higher during the 1961-62 feeding year, according to economists. This idea is supported by higher price supports, reduction in feed grain production and a slight increase in cattle numbers.

The A. D. A. (American Dairy Association) now sponsors the last half of the Dinah Shore T. V. Show. They are making an attempt to encourage people to drink more milk. They hope to combat the recent reduction in the consumption of milk and milk products. Their aim is to inform the public of the truth concerning current fads and misinformation about substitute products. Their 1962 budget includes a large grant for research to further study the advantage of milk in the daily diet.

The Farmers Tax Guide, 1962 Edition is now available. Study of this booklet may save you some money in figuring your tax. This booklet discusses depreciation, capital gains, Social Security tax and many other important items.

M. RODEWALD & CO.
Vacant and waiting for your family to enjoy this very Christmas is a 3 bedroom ranch on a quiet street in Rolling Meadows. The big 2 car garage has a work area. Washer & dryer and aluminum storms & screens are included at $16,500.

Do you dream of stockings hanging over a real fireplace? Beautiful grounds with big trees? Built-ins too? 2 baths? Oh, and it has to be within 5 blocks of EVERYTHING? Did you say under $20,000? WELL, WE HAVE IT. Transferred owner has just dropped the price to $19,900.

Nestled in the Palatine countryside is the cutest bi-level we have seen in a long time. No crowding here! Plenty of chance to grow. Overlooking one of the choicest areas in the midwest, this charmer will repay its owner with dividends for any improvements made. A wonderful start for the discriminate young couple and you'll love the budget price of $20,500.

BARGAIN HUNTERS ATTENTION! PRICE SLASHED $5,000. The unfortunate owner can't afford to "wait till spring" for a better market. This is truly a once in a lifetime buy. Unusual 6 year ranch is located right in the heart of town. You'll be amazed at the size of the rooms, the lovely fireplace, huge garage, and all the deluxe features, but best of all you'll like the hidden nest egg. Let us tell you about it.

TIRED OF STARTING FROM SCRATCH, BUT STILL WANT A NEW HOME? Then have a look at this better than new bi-level with its all wool carpeting and custom drapes. The ceramic kitchen and bath, and the 2-year-old landscaping all ready to enjoy and RIGHT NOW. Nothing to do but move in. $29,400.

This is the ultimate in that hard to find 4 bedroom home. Only 5 years old, this spacious bi-level has a "home for Christmas" dining room with a beamed ceiling family room to catch the overflow around its open hearth. So spacious and with so many extras, you'll wonder how the owner can bear to sell. Let us show it to you.

Someone Took The Do out of Dooley in last week's ad . . . they goofed us up. Here's the way our ad should have read:

NO BUYERS?
NO LOOKERS?
NO TIME TO SELL?

NONSENSE!!

HERE ARE THE FACTS:

1. Recession recovery is here and buyers are serious now.
2. We've had our vacations and now we HAVE to sell homes to pay for them.
3. We won't track up your home with summer sightseers—just the winter-braving serious buyer.

IF YOU:

Have to sell, or want to sell, or might sell—we need your home. Call us and make us prove the facts.

College Graduates Offered Service Career Opportunities

College graduates this year are being offered career opportunities unparalleled in previous years. Outstanding among these opportunities is a career as an officer in the United States Air Force, according to Sgt. Frankie G. Akers, of Park Ridge, the local Air Force representative.

"A COLLEGE graduate today can earn a commission as a second Lieutenant in only three short months," said Sgt. Akers. The officer training school at Lackland Air Force base, located near San Antonio, Texas, is one of the shortest routes to a commission in military history.

"The air force will need many college graduates this year—both men and women. There are openings for degree-holding men and women in practically every career field," according to Sgt. Akers. "The air force offers young college graduates immediate, valuable executive experience in positions of leadership," he said.

Typical of the many career fields now open to college graduates are: engineering, personnel management, nursing, electronics, finance and accounting, medical specialties, and law.

"AN AIR FORCE career also offers college graduates continued educational advancement," said Sgt. Akers. The air force has many programs by which college graduates may increase their knowledge and skills in their fields, and earn advance degrees. "Opportunities for college graduates in the Air Force are practically unlimited."

Further information regarding the many opportunities for college graduates can be obtained by visiting Sgt. Akers at 100 Meacham ave., (upstairs over the Park Ridge fire dept.), Park Ridge, or call TAlcott 3-0180 for an appointment. Sgt. Akers can be contacted during the evening hours at home by calling 259-1139 (Rolling Meadows). Office hours are Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. (WUS

NEW UNIFORMS—Patricia Goodman of Prospect Heights (left) examines the Northern Illinois university shoulder patch on the uniform of Daisy Griffin of Chicago. The two were among 50 nursing education students wearing their new tiny blue and white pin-striped uniforms for the first time on a trip November 30 to Elgin State hospital. The students toured the hospital to learn the problems of both administrators and nurses.

Campus Capers

At Illinois

Joan Trude, 801 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, is among the University of Illinois students planning activities of International Week, December 1-10. The week is designed to promote better understanding, more communication and greater friendship among peoples of the world.

Joan is a member of the pageant committee.

At Duke

Charles Phelan, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Phelan of Mount Prospect, has been named to the Dean's List at Duke university this fall on the basis of high academic standing for the spring semester, 1961. (CC

At Fontbonne

Miss Marianne Bueltmann has been elected to the 1961-62 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." She is a senior at Fontbonne college, St. Louis, Mo.

Students are named to the annual directory on the basis of scholarship, leadership, participation in academic and extracurricular activities, and promise of future usefulness to society.

Miss Bueltmann, president of the Resident Students' Assn., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Bueltmann, 411 W. Willow rd., Prospect Heights.

At Missouri

Lorelei Sandvig, 927 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights, will be production assistant for the rollicking musical, "Destry Rides Again," which will be presented by the students of the University of Missouri, December 7, 8 and 9 in Jesse auditorium.

At Kendall

William John Haberichter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haberichter, 22 N. Kennicott, Gerrie Jean Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Olsen, 513 S. Lincoln lane and Scott Lee Strehlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Strehlow, 902 S. Vail, all of Arlington Heights, have enrolled for the fall term at Kendall college, Evanston. The three students are freshmen.

THE TWO-YEAR liberal arts college, where 80 per cent of the students earn part or all of their expenses under a special work-study program, reports the largest enrollment in the history of the school—330. This is an increase of 41 per cent over last fall.

The roster includes 17 students from overseas: Argentina, Iran, Cuba, Indonesia, Spain, Italy, Ecuador, Germany, Greece, Korea, Liberia, and Southern Rhodesia.

It also includes students from 15 states besides Illinois: Indiana, Wisconsin, Alaska, Ohio, Florida, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Arkansas, Iowa, and Michigan. (CC

At Indiana

Judy Schmoyer, 445 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, is among 260 juniors and seniors selected to the 1961-62 Indiana university student foundation committee. These students, all chosen because of their outstanding campus records, serve as the liaison group between the student body and the Indiana university foundation. They also handle the "Little 500" weekend in the spring.

At Parsons

Joyce Sebald, a sophomore at Parsons college, Fairfield, Iowa, has been selected by the faculty to membership in Monxhead, an honorary organization in which qualifications are scholarship, leadership and service to the college. Joyce is a member of Alpha Gamma sorority, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Sebald, 252 Brookdale, Palatine. (CC

I think the most important reason why more people buy Flameless Electric Dryers is: (check one)

- ☐ Electric Dryers are flameless
- ☐ Flameless Electric Dryers are fume free
- ☐ Flameless Electric Dryers have no pilot to light or go out
- ☐ Flameless Electric Dryers cost $30 to $50 less to buy
- ☐ Nothing dries clothes faster than a Flameless Electric Dryer

Relaxation Is A Holy Thing BY MacKINLAY KANTOR

The Family With A $10,000 Christmas Tree What Good Is A Boys' Club?

ON THE FIRST DAY OF CHRISTMAS MY TRUE LOVE GAVE TO ME A SMITH~CORONA ELECTRIC PORTABLE & A 10~DAY TOUCH TYPING COURSE

BY THE 10TH DAY OF CHRISTMAS, I WAS TYPING LIKE AN EXPERT!

Think now. What could be a nicer Christmas gift – for anybody in your family. Look at the new Smith-Corona Electric Portable. (World's only electric portable. In four decorator colors.) And look what its electric action lets you do: 1. You can type with the neat, even touch of an expert. No jumbled letters. No jumpy lines. No uneven spacing. 2. You can type as fast as you like. 3. You can make ten carbon copies. 4. You can underscore whole lines of words—automatically. Electrically. (Just flick down the key and hold it. Same goes for repeating dashes, spaces, periods and the letter X for crossing out.) Now look at Smith-Corona's 10-day touch-typing course: 5 LP records, easy instruction book, library slipcase. In only 10 days, you'll be typing faster than you can write. (Another reason why more people buy Smith-Corona than any other portable!) See your Smith-Corona dealer or look in the Yellow Pages.

Mr. Kantor Simmers Down . . . page 8

When the author of such strong reading matter as Andersonville and Spirit Lake takes a break from turning out half-million word books, what does he do to unwind and try to forget, for a few minutes, the grueling demands on his time? MacKinlay Kantor tells how he managed to drive all thoughts of the current book from his mind and finally go back to his typewriter with the new strength that makes relaxation, he says, a holy thing to him

Oh, Christmas Tree! . . . page 14

Every year, for two weeks during the Holiday Season, Mr. and Mrs. Gano Senter throw open their doors to more than 20,000 visitors from nearby Denver suburbs and other pleasant places all over the world and invite them to look at their Christmas Tree —eleven feet high, trimmed with 4,000 rare ornaments and 1,000 lights. Here it is, in color.

What Am I Going To Do All Day? . . page 16

The answer, for close to a million boys set adrift in the after-school and Saturday streets of our suburbs, is neither "nothing much" nor "get into trouble," but "go down and see what's doing at the Boys' Club." Here is the story of what the Boys' Clubs of America are doing to help turn out our next generation of leaders.

Santa Claus Guaranteed . . . page 22

Ask any child in Pasadena, California, if there is a Santa Claus and even sophisticated young citizens of ten or thereabouts will insist that the jolly, bearded gentleman not only exists but will be at his or her house this Christmas Eve. It's all part of a glorious conspiracy carried on by community leaders who encourage the children to write to Santa Claus and then make sure that every letter—more than 8,000 are received—is answered personally by a battery of court judges and physicians and storekeepers who play Santa once a year.

Laura Jean Allen

One of our favorite cover artists takes her clever palette and brush behind the scenes of a Christmas pageant in a Church Hall and finds the three wise men—each aged about five or six or so—struggling into the rich and brilliant costumes their loving mothers must have worked for weeks to put together.

GETTING AROUND

. . . to Our Pleasant Places and People

WE WONDER what six-year-old Marc Bonilla, of Walnut Creek, California, has up his sleeve for Santa Claus this year. Last year, when little Marc got to the head of the line of children waiting to see Santa, he had a small, slender package in his hand. Instead of having both hands open and beginning with, "I want . . ." Marc said, "Here's a present for you, Santa." It was an amber-colored beard comb.

Norman E. Hearn, of Bethesda, Maryland, tells about Peter, age four, whose favorite food was spaghetti. Only Peter never called it anything but "getty." It wasn't till he went visiting in Italy with his grandmother that he learned to call it spaghetti. Then, one day, when he and his Italian friends were talking about battles, Peter piped up and said, "Close to where I live in the United States, there's a big battlefield with lots of guns. It's called "Spaghettisburg."

In the "Signs of the Times" Department, Mrs. Mary Bertrand, who lives on Mistletoe Drive in Irving, Texas, says it's sad, but many people in her neighborhood have been getting their mail lately, addressed to Missiletoe Drive. We think so, too, Mrs. Bertrand.

From a De Kalb, Georgia, neighbor comes the story about a friend who went into a bookstore to buy a birthday gift. When she had made her selection and handed it to the clerk to be wrapped, she noticed that the book jacket was a bit soiled. "Isn't this one a little dirty?" she asked. "I don't know, lady," snapped back the clerk. "I haven't had time to read it yet."

The Albert Jacobs family, of Whitefish Bay, Wisconsin, were discussing Carla and Esther and other big storms, when Mr. Jacobs wondered out loud why they're always given women's names. "Well, that's easy," said the Jacobs' little girl Chris. "if they were given men's names, they'd be himicanes, wouldn't they?"

And, speaking of Christmas, a group of kids in Port Washington, New York, say "Merry Christmas" for months before the event—each time they finish the design of another Christmas card. This eager group of seven to sixteen-year-old friends make pen-and-ink drawings of what Christmas means to them, and their child's-eye view of the holiday season and its fun is then sold to neighbors. The proceeds go to help the North Shore Child Guidance Association.

We hear that some women around Beverly Hills, California, have formed an organization called "Charge Account Holders Anonymous," which works just like most Anonymous organizations. That is, whenever a member gets the urge to go out and buy something, she telephones another member who talks her out of doing it.

Thanks for the tip, Mrs. Kathleen McDowell, of Manhasset, New York. Mrs. McDowell saves all of her candle stubs throughout the year, from parties and festive dinners and birthdays, and melts them all down at Christmas time to make one large holiday candle with a few personal touches. She melts the stubs down in a double boiler over a very low flame and carefully removes all the old burnt wicks from the melted wax. Then, she lets it cool a little and pours the wax into an empty milk carton, although Mrs. McDowell says a mailing tube serves just as well, if you like a round shape. If you want a special color, shave in a wax crayon when you melt the old candles. For the wick, use heavy cotton cord, weighing it down with something (maybe a button) and tieing it to a pencil laid across the top of the mould to hold it straight. When the wax hardens, remove the mould and let your fancy roam with whatever decorations you think are appropriate and pretty, and "Merry Christmas."

It happened near Shrewsbury, Missouri. When Thomas Draeger got a notice from the draft board to report for examination, his father put him in a buggy and wheeled him to the draft-board office, where four-month-old Thomas got a lollipop and was sent home.

A reader noticed the following sign on an Arlington, Virginia, garbage truck. It read: "If Not Completely Satisfied, Double Your Trash Back."

The man who runs the Post Office in Olympia Fields, Illinois, is named Bill Stamper.

When you get around to opening your presents this Christmas, chuckle with us over the predicament confronting a Newberg, Oregon, husband a few weeks ago. He and his wife were at home one evening when their expected baby began to come in such a big hurry there wasn't enough time to get to the hospital. The husband, a former state police officer with some experience in this sort of emergency, took over till the ambulance came and did all right, except that he couldn't find any string to tie the cord, but finally improvised with colored ribbon from his wife's gift-wrapping box. Hospital attendants claim it's the only baby that ever got there gift wrapped.

V-M CORPORATION • BENTON HARBOR, MICHIGAN • KNOWN FOR THE FINEST IN RECORD CHANGERS, PHONOGRAPHS AND TAPE RECORDERS

BY MacKINLAY KANTOR, author of "The Voice of Bugle Ann," "Andersonville," and most recently, "Spirit Lake."

I needed to relax.

There were no games to play there on that sunny crest in Southern France—no people to play games with. But I could find a little chore to do, a minor challenge to resource and ingenuity. It might be an unguent for the pain of a task which often seemed unbearable: my half-million-word book requiring familiarity with a vanished language and mode of thought—the temper, speech, and attitude of outcast Dakota Indians.

. . . And all those other people: the hog breeder from Kentucky, the fledgling doctor, the poetess of the prairies, the little French boy who found a cave . . . a few of the swarming throng in a book called "Spirit Lake."

So I set myself to gathering faggots, as others had done through millennia on those slopes above the River Lot. Early spring mornings and evenings were raw and damp. Our fireplace could be a comfort, and Lucien, the gardener, provided plenty of firewood; but always he was shy on kindling. And how to find kindling, when lawns around that château were picked clean, swept to the limit of their clipped greenness?

I walked for an hour at a time among acacias, among chestnuts and cedars of Lebanon. I could explore the lowest branches and filch a few twigs dry enough to burn. Each splintery discovery was in itself a triumph. . . . Aha, here's one I missed this morning. . . . And two more I must have missed yesterday! I'd reach up and snap them off, binding them with strands of grass, lugging my hoard back with all the excitement of securing a precious booty.

"Look!" I'd cry to my wife. "Three bundles of kindling twigs!"

"Why, where did you find them?"

"Oh, here and there"—with pride.

(There was no need to tell Irene of other treasure: she knew the whole pretty pattern. Crumbling walls held together by centuries of tough lichens; the magpie or the wren; hint of the distant town of Cahors dreaming in its evening mist. Irene didn't ask: "Are you relaxed at last?" for my face must have shown that I was.)

Then we went on to England, and the demands of the book loomed just as insistent. There was the on-the-spot research to be done in Kent, the thousand or two thousand tentative words which must be set down each day if I was to sleep at night. Reference books bulked upon adjacent tables and across wide window sills. Mr. Noel Coward used to own the house which we had taken, and often I wondered if Coward had hunted kindling as still I hunted it. The old Elizabethan place was an ecstasy of soft bricks and mullioned windows; but we had five hungry fireplaces (summer nights can be cool in England), and Mr. Slomin, the milkman, fetched plenty of wood, but circumstance decreed that there'd be no kindling in the lot.

ONCE MORE I walked forth on my childish job, and once more the cares and demands of Dakota Indian phraseology, appropriate Biblical texts, the surgical techniques of the 1840s—these were eradicated.

Stately poplars at the foot of the avenue . . . yes, I had overlooked a few dry branches. Drag them home, break them into convenient bits, pile them in their box on the old stoop where wasps droned dangerously—descendants of the same wasps which had stung the Romans in their day when they were draining those Romney Marshes below our hill.

"How many words today, honey?"

"Twenty-two hundred."

"Wonderful! On what?"

"That scene where Inkpaduta remembers his boyhood, and the boys are throwing fireballs in the night. But come see the kindling I've got! Wonderful stuff—a whole boxful. It'll burn like tinder."

(And again, never a word about other benefits accruing: polished blackberries in the hedge, a green woodpecker which fought his elastic worm upon the lawn, low clouds planing in from the Channel.)

Then we were back home again, home on our Florida coast for the last long, grinding stint.

"My eyes hurt like hell. . . ."

"Darling, you've been in the library all day."

"Yes, I know. But I haven't finished this section."

"Your hands are shaking. You've got to stop."

"Well . . . how's the Gulf tide? Did you notice?"

"Still going out."

"Then we just might be able to find some blue crabs in the weed beds."

Slow prowling pace, with toes spread deep in submerged sand . . . hands gripping the net handle . . . dusky fleeting shape of a big crab ahead, sudden sweep of the net, yell of victory or snarl of defeat . . . and all the Indians were slunk away. So were the pioneers, so were red Dictaphone belts, clacking of typewriter keys, tiresome push of the blunt lead pencil. Eyeache and headache vanished . . . there might be another crab ahead! There. . . .

It's coming Christmas now. The book is no longer a mountain of tumbled chunks of copy paper held together by huge clips, soaked with the punishing graphite of corrections and alterations. It is a grown-up adult book; it has a shiny black jacket with colored type; and it is in the stores, and my agent calls to tell me that he has just put the British contract or the Spanish contract in the mails for me.

But still I need to relax, and I have a hard time doing so. For it is difficult to be released from a five-year ordeal: a night-and-day-seven-days-a-week ordeal.

There is the dog. Petting dogs, I think, is the most rewarding relaxation of all. It is so friendly a thing for your fingers to go into the bristly brown coat and rub against warm skin; and then the big bright eyes come up to meet your own gaze; and then the snort, the doggy laugh, as if Bill were to say, "Forget all about the book now. Wait until the next one."

And the next one is a dreamy way off. . . .

What would be a proper indolence for Christmas Eve? Shall I pet Bill again? I shall, if I'm with him. But if I'm far from him and he's far from me, then I shall sing softly, The Friendly Beasts, an old carol about an ox and a donkey, and a turtledove which cooed for the Christ Child so that He should not cry. . . . That will be relaxing and a holy thing; for relaxation is a holy thing to begin with.

Relaxation Is A Holy Thing

How Do You Relax?

■ It may come easy if, as MacKinlay Kantor says in his charming essay on the opposite page, you can go out on a Florida beach and chase crabs–but what of the commuter who has more (almost) than he can do to answer the alarm and climb into his business suit and get on with it? What about the cook-laundress-chauffeur-and-mother of four, who hasn't time for all the chores of the day, let alone relaxing?

The answer comes from Dr. Josephine Rathbone, an international consultant on the problem and author of "Teach Yourself To Relax" (Prentice-Hall). She has worked out some home procedures, the simplest kinds of aids for body and soul, calculated to revive the "holy" sense of power and tranquility and to make your energies soar. Read on (unhurriedly):

"To relax," says Dr. Rathbone, "I often recommend a combination of loose-swinging exercises and movements which stretch the joints. Plus sleep.

"First, the exercises to stretch tight tissues and release constricted joints. For the arms – (A) clench your fist – and swing one arm at a time in a free, loose circle. (B) Open your hands and cross your arms before you, now sweep them outward and upward, extending them loosely like wings, and let them fall through a giant circle to brush your hips as they return to their original crossed position. For the legs – (A) sit on a table with feet free and swing them alternately backward and forward, like kids on a circus bench. (B) Then swing them together from side to side, pivoting at the knee. (C) With your side close to a wall for balance, swing your free leg back and forth, loosely from the hip joint. Face the other direction and swing the other leg.

"For the trunk, with your back to the wall, lean your hips against it, feet 18 inches apart and four inches out. Bend forward at the waist, letting the head go loose, until you feel the pull on your hamstrings, back, and neck.

"Sleep is the perfect restorer. Inability to sleep is often the first sign of excessive tension. If this inability is repeated frequently, it becomes a habit, and the big problem is to break it. Here are several devices that will help.

"PREPARE FOR SLEEP by cutting down on the intensity of your thinking for half an hour or more before retiring. Go to bed only when your mind has been weaned from its problem; take plenty of time to get ready.

"If you read in bed, choose nonfiction and a "hard" book. Never stimulate your mind at bedtime, but force it to grapple with cumbersome facts. Do not entertain it. Bore it into unconditional surrender to sleep.

"If your mind clings to problems, substitute for them. Your mind cannot think of two things at once. A woman can plan a new wardrobe, choosing colors and styles. A man can replant a garden or replay a good round of golf.

"Arrange for your mind to hop from one idea to another. As you float toward unconsciousness, your thoughts always become disjointed and scattered. Try thinking this way consciously.

"Make the body comfortable. Find a position in which the muscles can relax completely. Breath deeply, imitating the slow, deep rhythms of sound sleep. Whatever trick you try, use it every night for at least ten days.

"When you live with strain, you must balance the strain with recuperation."

Table Scraps Can Short-Change Your Dog

Do right by the dog you love... balance each meal with GRO-PUP Ribbon

When you feed your dog table scraps, you can never be sure he's getting all the nutrients he needs. And yet, to stay fit and strong, he should have a well-balanced diet every day.

That's why thoughtful families are adding Gro-Pup Ribbon to every scrap meal they feed. Gro-Pup is an unusual kind of dog food. It contains an extra bonus of vital protein, important vitamins and minerals—far in excess of the minimum levels set by the National Research Council.

Even when fed with large amounts of "unbalanced" leftovers, the high nutrient level of Gro-Pup can safeguard against improper diet. When you feed Gro-Pup every day, you can enjoy the confidence that your dog is getting an abundance of the essentials he needs for a long and healthy life.

Why don't you start tomorrow?

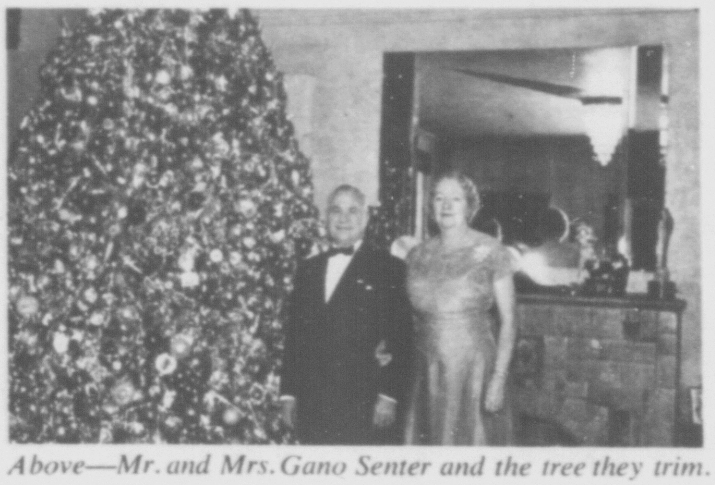
The $10,000 Family Tree



Above—Mr. and Mrs. Gano Senter and the tree they trim.

Every Christmas they begin trimming at the top, and four days later they reach the bottom

BY AGNES M. PHARO

EVERY CHRISTMAS season for the past 31 years, Mr. and Mrs. Gano Senter of Denver, Colorado, have opened their doors to young and old and have invited them all in to look at their fabulous Christmas tree. During the two weeks set aside for the showings, more than 20,000 people from as close-by as Littleton and Cherry Hills, and from as far away as India and Japan, file through the Senters' living room, sign their guest book, and gaze in awe at the dazzling spectacle.

Exchange students from many foreign countries have called as well as senators and governors from other states. Once an East Indian rajah was among those who came to marvel and exclaim.

Actually, "the tree" is sixteen trees wired firmly together, covered with 4,000 beautiful decorations collected by the Senters on many world tours. There are huge glass balls from Czechoslovakia, snow stars from Sweden, spun-glass birds, and trumpets and bells. Probably the most unusual of all is the tear-vial from Lebanon, reputed to be 3,000 years old. Similar vials were once used to catch the tears of mourners at a funeral, then sealed in the tomb. The floor-to-ceiling display—eleven feet—is estimated to weigh half a ton, and is illuminated by more than 1,000 little lights powered by seven transformers. Between Christmases, the decorations are kept in a room set aside for that special purpose.

A visit to see the tree usually starts at the end of a long line outside the house. But, it's pretty out in the crisp air, too. Bright-colored lights line the wrought-iron fence. The patient throng, many of whom have been coming back year after year since the tree was first displayed in 1930, is swept up in the spirit of the season. Neighbors greet each other, and many people join in the carols that fill the air.

Inside, there's the tree itself, and a 200-piece miniature village called Puddin' Lane that has grown up around the foot of the tree. It houses such celebrities as Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, the Old Woman who lived in a shoe, and Santa and his reindeer. The Big Rock Candy Mountain overshadows a tiny church whose chimes give forth with "Silent Night."

Inside, also, there are the Senters, who have turned a hobby into a wonderful tribute to the Christmas season, waiting to say "Merry Christmas" to their thousands of callers from all over the world.

ject even further when he told the Committee, "I would like to comment briefly on the so-called 'white-collar' delinquent—juveniles who lack the excuse of poverty, a poor home, the high confinement and compression of big-city slum life. Slum life has been an excuse, and still is, if there ever is an excuse—it is an explanation at least—and helps us to understand more completely the plight of many juvenile delinquents. But we now have a group that cannot be accounted for in this way. . . . Daily, somewhere in the United States, headlines tell the story of another serious incident involving children from backgrounds not normally associated with high juvenile crime rates."

To see what a Boys' Club can mean to a suburban boy who might be drifting into trouble, take the not-so-remarkable case of Frankie Stafford. That isn't his real name of course, and it is enough to say that he lives in a small, attractive California town near San Francisco.

WHAT GOOD IS A BOYS' CLUB?

And why are there so many of them now outside the big cities?

BY GEORGE WALTZ, JR.

BOYS WILL be boys—luckily—and that is every Boys' Club's reason for being, whether it is in a lovely little seaside town like Laguna Beach, or in a blighted Chicago slum. Every boy, no matter what his background and his home life, wants to belong to a group—call it a "gang" if you wish. He wants to have friends. He wants to be praised by his equals. He wants to be "one of the boys." And this goes for the youngster who lives in a suburb or small community as well as the boy who lives in a big-city slum.

If the "gang" has bad leadership, or no leadership at all, they find idle time on their hands and there the trouble begins. Where this is a problem, boys need a Club—boys in pleasant suburbs as much as boys cooped up in cities. They need their time gainfully employed—or else!

If they have comfortable homes and good schools and all outdoors to play in, it seems as if they might be able to keep out of harm's way by themselves. But they can't always.

All too often now we see headlines like these: "Youth Gang Goes On Robbery Spree," "Six Boys Held in Rape Case," "Teen-age Drinking On The Rise," and "Youths Rob Homes of $30,000 Just For 'Kicks'." These, and many other similar news stories are not from big-city or large-community newspapers. They are from suburban towns and small towns all over the country. Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Chairman of the Senate Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee recently quoted some startling statistics. "In rural (including suburban) areas," he said, "delinquents of both sexes comprised 15 percent of all police arrests. . . . Some 5.5 percent of all murders committed in suburban communities were committed by juveniles."

Senator Dodd went into the sub-thing to do and boys his own age to join him. Even if he has no one at home in the daytime, it doesn't matter so much now because he has a place of his own.

A Boys' Club can help a Frankie Stafford, obviously, but the majority of its members have no such serious problems. It would be sad and frightening to think they had, with 600 Boys' Clubs of America now in existence, and by far the largest number located in small communities!

In many of the western and mid-western Clubs—from Trenton, Michigan, on out to Santa Monica—most of the boys in town are members.

Unlike the large cities, where the sons of poor families living in crowded quarters are the typical members, only about 20% of the membership in a suburban Club is "low income," while 70% come from families of average income and 10% from families who are fairly well off. Aside from the advantage of being in a good gang, as noted earlier, what does a Club do for these "regular" boys?

A DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS of the Boys' Club of New Britain, Conn., puts it very plainly.

"At the Boys' Club I learned athletic skills," says Abraham Ribicoff, "which are most difficult to acquire in the course of haphazard, unsupervised play. At an early age I learned valuable lessons in fair play and sportsmanship. I also give the Boys' Club a large share of credit for introducing me to the wonderful world of reading. The Club must never be considered as merely an institution devoted to sports. Its cultural program, reaching boys in their formative years, is most important."

And this comes from our present Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare!

One last word for the Boys' Clubs, this time in skimpy boy's language:

One Saturday afternoon, a new member of a mid-western Club, a little tyke of 12, wanted to know what time the clubhouse opened the next day.

"Well, tomorrow is Sunday," the director pointed out.

"Okay. But when does the Club open?" repeated the boy.

"The clubhouse is closed on Sundays," the director answered.

A glum look spread over the youngster's face. "Ah, gee," he said, "what am I going to do all day?"

"All right then, how would you say it if you were the giant?"

What Is A Boy?

BY HERBERT HOOVER

Together with his sister, the boy is our most precious possession. But he presents not only joys and hopes but also paradoxes. He strains our nerves, yet he is a complex of cells teeming with affection. He is a periodic nuisance yet he is a joy forever. He is a part-time incarnation of destruction, yet he radiates sunlight to all the world. He gives evidence of being the child of iniquity, yet he makes a great nation. He is filled with curiosity as to every mortal thing; he is an illuminated interrogation point, yet he is the most entertaining animal that is.

The whole world is new to him. Therefore, his should be a life of adventure, of discovery, of great undertakings. He must spend much time, if he is to expand, in the land of make-believe. One of the sad things is that he must grow up into the land of realities.

He is endowed with a dynamic energy and an impelling desire to take exercise on all occasions. His primary instinct is to hunt in a pack and that multiplies his devices. He is a complete self-starter, and therefore, wisdom in dealing with him consists mostly in what to do next. He and his pack can go on this hunt for happiness either constructively or destructively. Our first problem is to find him constructive joy, instead of destructive glee.

A Boys' Club is the answer!

Stafford home fairly early in the morning and seldom get home much before dinner. They are tired from their day at the hotel and not particularly interested in little-boy troubles.

For the most part of the day, five days a week, Frank is on his own. Without supervision and guidance at home, he is left to his own devices and for a while his own devices started to lead him into trouble.

One Saturday, without really knowing why, he tried to see if he could break a window of a closed house with his baseball. It was quite tricky—breaking the window without losing the ball—and, all told, Frank managed to shatter three. He was found out, of course, but the owners were insured and were friends of his parents, so nothing much came of it. But in Frank's case this piece of vandalism might have led on to the next one, except that at this point he discovered that there was a Boys' Club in the community. He also discovered that the dues for belonging were about a penny a day. By doing a little work for neighbors, he was able to make enough for a year's membership. Frankie is no longer a drifter looking for something to do, some place to go after school or during the summer when school is closed. He goes to the Boys' Club. The doors of his Club—and he feels it is his Club because he pays dues—are always open during the day. He can go there and find some-

That funny-looking word means once-a-week in French. So? Well, in France, gasoline is very expensive. This is a dismaying fact for thrifty-souled French drivers. To please them, we aimed at making cars that used a minimum of fuel. A once-a-week fill 'er up was our goal; and we made it.

Even over here, with much cheaper gasoline, that once-a-week is a wonderful filling. You can go over 300 miles on a mere eight gallons. Trips into town, countless trips to the supermarket, comfortable, happy trips all over, all week. One tankful; one small gas purchase. (Take a trip to France with all the money you save. Show off that big word that's up there. Or even go to London and take a ride in a Dauphine taxi.)

Here are some other things you might like to know about us and our cars. We've been making them since 1898. We're now number 6 in auto production in the world. With each of our cars—the Dauphine, the Dauphine Deluxe, the more powerful Dauphine Gordini, the convertible Caravelle—we give a 12 month or 12,000 mile warranty. The Dauphine's suggested P.O.E. price starts at $1395. And that's probably the best car buy of this or any other week.

We wholeheartedly suggest that you visit one of our dealers as soon as possible. Thrift and love, said a Frenchman, are best unpostponed.
